It is my pleasure to introduce you to John Jay College of Criminal Justice, a unique and vibrant community of scholarship and commitment.

Educating for justice is our mission. We offer a rich, four-year liberal arts education, focusing on the themes of fairness, equity and justice. We encourage robust debate on the critical issues facing our society, promote rigorous thinking and writing, and foster deep understanding of the human condition.

Our 15,000 students, both undergraduates and graduate students, reflect the broad diversity of New York City and the world beyond. The students and the staff include different races, ethnic groups, ages, nationalities, religions and career interests. We consider John Jay a close-knit community, global in outlook and reach, located on the West Side of Manhattan. We celebrate the energy and commitment of our student body.

In this bulletin, you will learn about the 22 undergraduate majors we offer. Some are directly related to criminal justice. Others concentrate in the Liberal Arts. All these challenging programs meet the highest academic and professional standards and will prepare you for a wide range of careers including graduate studies or law school.

John Jay faculty members are recognized experts in their areas of scholarship with extensive real world experience. Many are world renowned; many are engaged in research around the world; all enjoy fostering the academic success of their students.

Through this unique combination of distinguished faculty and innovative curriculum, we endeavor to prepare you to become ethically and socially responsible leaders for the global community.

I thank you for your interest in John Jay and hope to see you on our campus.

Jeremy Travis
President
Although the College has made every effort to assure the accuracy of all information provided in the Bulletin, students should note that the policies, rules, regulations, requirements for graduation, course offerings, and other materials delineated in the Bulletin can change and that these changes may alter the information contained herein.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BACCALAUREATE DEGREES

John Jay College of Criminal Justice candidates for the baccalaureate degree (Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science) must complete at least 120 credits, composed of the general education requirements, a major and electives (no more than 4 credits of physical education activities courses may be applied in this last category). To receive a baccalaureate degree from John Jay College, students must complete at least 30 credits of coursework in residence and at least 50 percent of their majors at the College.

Any student may complete a dual major where such a major exists among departments and programs. Baccalaureate candidates may also complete an optional minor or one of the special programs offered by the College.

BACCALAUREATE DEGREE
GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

Exposure to the liberal arts and sciences helps to create well-rounded individuals who can communicate with people in different scholarly communities and can understand problems outside their specialized area of study. By promoting the integration, synthesis and application of knowledge, general education provides individuals with an awareness of their role in a diverse culture and highlights their responsibilities to the larger community.

Candidates for the baccalaureate degree must complete 44-60 credits in general education. The number of credits is dependent upon exemptions. Students are encouraged to complete the English, mathematics and speech requirements within the first 30 credits of coursework. Students who do not complete these requirements within the first 60 credits will not be permitted to register for further coursework until these requirements have been fulfilled.

Please note: In accordance with the CUNY Board of Trustees Transfer Policy, students who have earned an Associate of Arts degree (AA) or an Associate of Science degree (AS) from a CUNY college will be deemed to have automatically fulfilled the lower-division general education requirements for the baccalaureate degree. Students may, however, still be required to complete one additional course in a discipline required by John Jay College that was not part of the student’s associate degree program. Students who have earned an Associate of Applied Science degree (AAS) from a CUNY college will have their general education courses applied on a discipline-by-discipline basis to John Jay College’s lower-division general education requirements. Students must still fulfill all prerequisite requirements for courses.

Students are advised to complete the required courses in history, literature, philosophy, ethnic studies and the social sciences (several are prerequisites for certain majors) within the first 60 credits. All remaining general education requirements should be completed within the first 96 credits or by the conclusion of the student’s junior year.
I. Skills

Subtotal: 12-15

Eng 101
(This course is a prerequisite for all 200-level courses.)
Eng 201
(This course is a prerequisite for all 300-level or above courses.)
Spe 113
Mat 104, or 105 or exemption
Mat 108 or 141

II. Core Requirements

Subtotal: 15

Two of the following history courses: His 203, 204, 205
(Please note: students who have completed His 231, must take His 205)
Literature: Lit 230 or 231 and Lit 232 or 233
Philosophy: Phi 231

III. Distribution Requirements

Subtotal: 16-30

A. Cultural Studies

1. Foreign Languages
(Note: To take courses in Spanish or French, a placement test is required before registering. The tests are administered in the Foreign Language Laboratory in Room 7.64 nb.)

2. Ethnic Studies
Select one of the following three courses:
Eth 123 Race and American Society: The African-American Experience
Eth 124 Introduction to Latinas/os in the United States
Eth 125 Race and Ethnicity in America

B. Social Sciences

Select two of the following:
Ant 101
Eco 101 or 102
Pol 101 (formerly Gov 101)
Psy 101
Soc 101

Students should consult their major prerequisites before choosing their social science courses.

C. Natural Sciences

Select one of the following:
Env 108, Fos 108, or Phy 101
BIO 103 (or BIO 101 + BIO 102) or CHE 103 (or CHE 101 + CHE 102) (these courses are for students with a strong science background) or Phy 203 (calculus-based, for students with a strong math background)

D. Physical Education
Any course offered by the Department of Health and Physical Education except PED 172, for 1-3 credits or exemption

Total: 44-60
Students must enroll in ENG 101 in their first semester at the College. All students must pass ENG 101 before registering for ENG 201.

Exemption from the speech requirement is granted by the Department of Communication and Theatre Arts based on extensive job-related public or small group speaking experience. Apply at the department when classes are in session. Students who are not fluent in spoken English should enroll in the sections of SPE 113 designated for non-native speakers of English. Students who require speech therapy should also apply to the department chair for special placement before they register for SPE 113.

Placement in or exemption from a beginning mathematics course is determined by the student’s score on the CUNY Assessment Test in Mathematics and upon assessments by the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science. For information about the CUNY Assessment Tests, see Chapter 5, Admission and Registration. Students exempt from MAT 104 or 105 can fulfill the mathematics requirement with MAT 108, MAT 141 or MAT 241.

The foreign language requirement is a one-year sequence at the 100-level. It is strongly suggested that students seeking a bachelor’s degree complete the sequence within a three-semester period. Students who have completed three years of a language at the high school level, including a passing grade on a New York State Level III Regents Examination, are exempt from the foreign language requirement. Transfer students who can provide documentation showing they have successfully completed one year of a foreign language on the college level may have fulfilled the foreign language requirement. Students who take the placement test in Spanish, or French and place into the second half of the 100-level or higher can satisfy the general education requirement with one 3-credit course. Students who place into SPA 101 must complete the sequence by taking SPA 102. Students who take SPA 111 must complete the sequence by taking SPA 112 or a higher level course (upon the instructor’s recommendation) to satisfy the general education requirements.

Please note: Students who can provide documentation of a high school degree from a foreign country and whose primary language is not English are exempt from the foreign language requirement but are not awarded any credits for that language. Students who receive a grade of three or higher on the Advanced Placement Examination in high school are exempt from the foreign language requirement and will be awarded 6 credits, which may be applied toward a minor in a foreign language. Credit by examination (up to a maximum of 6 credits) or exemption by examination may be obtained by taking the CLEP examination. For additional information, see Chapter 5, Admission and Registration. In addition, American Sign Language shall be accepted on the same basis as all other languages in fulfillment of John Jay’s foreign language requirement for graduation.

Students who have completed three years of science in high school (9th-year general science plus two years of New York State Regents credit) are exempt from taking NSC 107 but are still required to take another laboratory-based science course. To confirm exemption, students must fill out the appropriate downloadable form found at the Jay Stop webpage at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. The completed form is submitted to the Jay Express Services Center. Students who have completed two years of science in high school (9th-year general science plus one year of Regents credit) must take NSC 107 and one additional laboratory-based science course. Students cannot take NSC 107 after they have taken any other science course at John Jay College.

Note: Students with a strong mathematics or science background without an exemption may satisfy the general education science requirement with two laboratory-based science courses such as BIO 103-104, CHE 103-104, PHY 101-102, PHY 203-204, or the equivalent, with permission of the Department of Sciences.

Students who have received physical education credit for their military training, or police, fire, or corrections academy, or other comparable agency training can use that credit to satisfy this requirement.
BACCALAUREATE MAJORS

Students select a major upon application to the College. Any student may complete a dual major where such a major exists among departments and programs. Majors may be changed at any time before graduation. To change a major, a student should fill out an electronic Undergraduate Declaration of Major Form on the Jay Stop webpage at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu/my_info.php.

John Jay College of Criminal Justice offers the following majors for baccalaureate degree candidates:

Computer Information Systems in Criminal Justice and Public Administration (BS)
Correctional Studies (BS) - Students are no longer being admitted to this program
Criminal Justice (Institutional Theory and Practice) (BS)
Criminal Justice (Research and Policy Analysis) (BA) Criminal Justice Management (BS)
Criminology (BA)
Culture and Deviance Studies (BA)
Economics (BS)
English (BA)
Fire and Emergency Service (BA)
Fire Science (BS)
Forensic Psychology (BA)
Forensic Science (BS)
Gender Studies (BA)
Global History (BA)
Humanities and Justice (BA)
International Criminal Justice (BA)
Law and Society (BA)
Legal Studies (BS) - Students are no longer being admitted to this program, see Law and Society above
Philosophy (BA)
Police Studies (BS)
Political Science (BA)

Public Administration (BS)
Security Management (BS)

Students are urged to consult with an academic advisor or major coordinator to plan their courses of study. Students may also consult DegreeWorks, an online tool, available through the CUNY Portal at www.cuny.edu. Prerequisites for beginning each major are listed in each major description. Be aware that individual courses may have their own prerequisites. Students are advised to read carefully all course descriptions in this bulletin and consult DegreeWorks when planning their schedules in addition to consulting with an advisor.

Please note: ENG 101 is a prerequisite for students wishing to enroll in 200-level courses, and ENG 102 (or ENG 201) is a prerequisite for students wishing to enroll in 300-level courses or above.

Courses previously designated as Government (GOV) are now listed as Political Science (POL). Students registering for a Political Science course should make certain that they have not previously taken the course under the Government designation.

COMPUTER INFORMATION SYSTEMS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

The major in Computer Information Systems in Criminal Justice and Public Administration focuses on software development, information systems design and the modeling of public systems, using the techniques of operations research. In addition to fulfilling basic requirements in computer science, operations research and mathematics, students must complete an applied specialization in computer applications in either criminal justice or public administration.

Prerequisites. MAT 141*, 204, and 241–242. MAT 141 fulfills the College’s general education requirements in mathematics.

In the Public Administration Specialization, any one of the following courses: ANT 101, ECO 101, POL 101 (or GOV 101), PSY 101, or SOC 101 is a prerequisite for PAD 240. (This prerequisite also partially fulfills the general education requirement in the social sciences.)

* Students with a strong high school mathematics background that includes trigonometry and pre-calculus may be exempt from MAT
In such cases, consultation with the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science is suggested.

Coordinator. Professor Shamik Sengupta, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science (212-237-8826, ssengupta@jjay.cuny.edu)

Advisors. Department of Mathematics and Computer Science Professors:
1. Spiridon Bakiras (212.484.1181, sbakiras@jjay.cuny.edu)

Select one
MAT 270/Security 270 Security of Computers and their Data
MAT 279 Data Communications and the Internet

Total: 42

* Required of all students unless they have sufficient experience with at least one computer language. Qualified individuals may substitute one computer course from Part Three with the approval of the chairperson of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

 Students with appropriate experience, such as individuals who are working with criminal justice agencies and already possess computer experience, may be exempt from the internship with the approval of the chairperson of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

CORRECTIONAL STUDIES

(BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

Please note: Students are no longer being admitted to this program. Students who are currently in this major will have the opportunity to complete the program as described in the 2010-11 Undergraduate Bulletin, available on the John Jay College website. Students who are interested in studying corrections, can consider the Criminal Justice (Institutional Theory and Practice) and/or Criminal Justice Management degree programs. The college will continue to offer a minor in Correctional Studies.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE (INSTITUTIONAL THEORY AND PRACTICE)

(BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

The major is intended for students who seek a career in criminal justice and would like to explore the field from a broad perspective. It is devoted to understanding criminal justice institutional theory and practice in the context of diverse multicultural societies. The major underscores the rule of law as the glue that holds together the arenas of police, courts, and corrections that along with other social institutions and the public, are the co-producers of justice.

Credits required. 36

Prerequisites. SOC 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101. Students are strongly urged to complete these courses during their first year in the College. These courses fulfill the College’s general education requirements in the social sciences. CJBS 101 is the required first course within the major and is a prerequisite for many subsequent courses in the major.

Other courses also have prerequisites beyond courses previously taken in the major. In Part Three, COR 201 is a prerequisite for COR 401, 415 and 430.

Coordinator. Professor Serguei Cheloukhine, Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration (212.237.8391, scheloukhine@jjay.cuny.edu)

Baccalaureate/Master’s Program in Criminal Justice. Qualified undergraduate students may enter the Baccalaureate/Master’s Program and thereby graduate with both a bachelor’s and a master’s degree in criminal justice. For additional information, contact Professor Chitra Raghavan, Department of Psychology (212.237.8417, bamadirector@jjay.cuny.edu).

Study abroad. Students in the College’s Study Abroad Program may use some of their study abroad credits to substitute for related courses in the major. With regard to particular courses, the student should consult with the coordinator for the major. For information about the College’s Study Abroad Program, contact Ms. Maureen Brady Coyle (212.484.1339, mcoyle@jjay.cuny.edu).
Additional requirement. As part of this major, at least two courses taken in Part Three: Categories A-C must be at the 300-level or above.

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College in September 2012 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE (RESEARCH AND POLICY ANALYSIS)
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The BA program in Criminal Justice views crime as a social problem and seeks to develop in its students the capacity to critically assess the normative structure of the existing criminal justice system with an aim to improving its condition and function. The emphasis of the major is on developing analytical skills, ethical reasoning, and a capacity for solving problems. It aspires to cultivate creative and original thinking about one of the most challenging social problems of our time.

CRIMINOLOGY
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)
Criminology is the study of crimes, criminals, crime victims, theories explaining illegal and/or deviant behavior, the social reaction to crime and criminals, the effectiveness of anti-crime policies and the broader political terrain of social control. The major contains courses in sociology, other social science disciplines and the humanities. Students who are planning to attend graduate or professional schools and students who are currently working in criminal justice or other public service fields as well as those planning to do so in the future will find this major of interest.

Credits required. 36

Prerequisites. SOC 101 and PSY 101. These courses fulfill the College’s general education requirements in the social sciences. Other courses also have prerequisites beyond courses previously taken in the major:
- In Part Three, any Economics course can be a prerequisite for ECO 360/SOC 360 Corporate and White-Collar Crime
- In Part Five, CRJ 101 or ICJ 101 is a prerequisite for PSC 216 Crime Mapping, AFR 110 or AFR 121 is a prerequisite for AFR 215 Police and the Ghetto, ECO 101 or ECO 170 is a prerequisite for ECO 315/PSC 315 An Economic Analysis of Crime, PSY 242 is a prerequisite for PSY 372 Psychology of Criminal Behavior

Honors Option. Students with a cumulative 3.5 grade point average when they have completed 75 credits are eligible for a Criminology Honors track. The Honors track requires completion of 6 additional credits in the form of a two-semester research internship (SOC 430-431) or a research independent study. Consult the major coordinator for further information.

Coordinator. Professor Douglas Thompkins, Department of Sociology (212.484.1118, dthompkins@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Certain courses are offered only in fall semesters and others only in spring semesters. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in Fall 2010 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose either the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

CULTURE AND DEVIANCE STUDIES
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The major in Culture and Deviance Studies is designed to provide students with a basic interdisciplinary understanding of deviance as a concept of difference and diversity within the framework of cross-cultural research, and how deviance has been related to important social problems and institutional responses to treat and control them. This foundation is enhanced by a comprehensive and critical understanding of cultural variation and macro- and micro-social and historical contexts, as these apply to human conflict. This major also teaches students the ethnographic and ethnological perspectives and skills used in professional field research, while maintaining strong interdisciplinary content. The Culture and Deviance Studies major prepares students to be professionally effective in diverse and challenging fields, including social services, protective and corrective services, probation, parole, community reintegration.
and treatment. The research, writing, and interdisciplinary theoretical training provide majors with the background necessary for graduate programs in social work, law, or the social sciences. The core requirements pertain to theory, ethnographic methods, cross-cultural research and analysis, while electives demonstrate applications of both theory and method to particular problems.

Credits required. 33

Prerequisites. ANT 101 and SOC 101. These courses fulfill the College's general education requirements in the social sciences.

PART THREE. THEMATIC CLUSTERS

Select four of the following courses. Only two may be at the 100-level. (Note: Students are encouraged, but not required, to take at least two courses in one of the clusters below).

The Culture and Deviance Studies major enables students to select thematic clusters both across disciplines and within disciplines. Thus students are advised to consult the College Bulletin course descriptions for specific prerequisite information for particular courses. For example, all GOV, POL, PSC, PSY, and SOC courses require a 101 prerequisite in their respective disciplines. Students are advised to plan their cluster course selections with this in mind. Likewise, some 200-, 300-, and 400-level courses are sequence-based, meaning that the topic and theme is continued at the upper-level, should students wish to pursue further study of a topic or subject. Students wishing to concentrate their courses beyond the anthropology core in psychology should be aware that, for example, PSY 331 requires PSY 266 and PSY 268 as prerequisites. PSY 350 requires PSY 266, PSY 268 as well as PSY 331 as prerequisites. Please note that some concentration courses do not require specific prerequisites beyond the basic 101-level but do require sophomore or junior standing or permission of the instructor.

ECONOMICS
(BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

Economics is the study of how people and societies make choices to accomplish individual and social purposes. In this major, students learn about individual, national and global economic behavior, and then apply theoretical insights and methods of analysis to contemporary challenges involving crime, social justice, and the investigation of fraud and corruption.

Credits required. 36 or more, depending upon the completion of prerequisites (if needed).

Prerequisites. ECO 101 is a prerequisite for required courses in the Economics major and also fulfills one of the College's general education requirements in the social sciences. Transfer students who have completed 18 credits or more in economics and/or accounting are waived from the ECO 101 prerequisite.

Students considering graduate programs in economics should consider additional mathematics and statistics courses as free electives, part of a minor, or as electives within Specialization A. Specialization A includes MAT 241 Calculus I and MAT 242 Calculus II as course options. MAT 241 requires MAT 141 as a prerequisite, which can fulfill general education requirements in mathematics. Students are strongly advised to discuss graduate school options early in their progression through the major.

Coordinators. Professor Jay Hamilton, Department of Economics (212.237.8093, jhamilton@jjay.cuny.edu) or for Forensic Financial Analysis specialization Professor Randall LaSalle, Department of Economics (212.484.1308, rlasalle@jjay.cuny.edu).

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in September 2012 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. ENGLISH
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

English majors read, discuss, and write about literature, film, popular culture and the law from a variety of perspectives. In doing so, they build skills in critical reading and analysis, verbal presentation, argumentation, and persuasive writing. In John Jay’s unique English curriculum, students acquire a comprehensive and varied foundation in literary study, and then choose either an optional concentration in Literature and the Law or pursue the field of Literature in greater depth. The major prepares students for a variety of careers and graduate work in law, public policy, business, education, writing, and government.

Credits required. 36

Prerequisites. ENG 102 or 201, and one general education Literature course: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232, LIT 233

Coordinator. Professor Caroline Reitz (646-557-4755, creitz@jjay.cuny.edu)

Honors Option. To receive Honors in Literature, a student must take both the Literature Seminar and an Independent Study that includes a research project, maintaining a GPA of 3.5 within the major. To receive Honors in Literature and the Law, a student must take both the Literature and the Law Seminar and an Independent Study that includes a research project, maintaining a GPA of 3.5 within the major.

Fire Service
- FIS 209 Analysis of Urban Hazardous Materials, Tactics and Strategy
- FIS 210 Fire Safety Administration
- FIS 230 Building Construction and Life Safety Systems I

Emergency Medical Services
Students must have taken and passed the New York State Department of Health certification examination for the AEMT-IV paramedic (or an equivalent certification from another jurisdiction as determined by the Program Coordinator). Nine transfer credits will be applied toward this specialization.

Emergency Management
- FIS 209 Analysis of Urban Hazardous Materials, Tactics and Strategy
- FIS 319 Hazard Identification and Mitigation
- SEC 101 Introduction to Security

FIRE SCIENCE

(BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

The Fire Science major prepares students for a fire service or fire protection career by providing an overall understanding of the scope, content and literature of fire science, and developing key skills necessary for effecting fire safety in the public and private sectors. Public sector career opportunities include working directly in federal, state and local fire organizations. Private sector career opportunities include working with architects in building code consulting, fire protection systems design (such as design of sprinkler and alarm systems), and other related areas.

Credits required. 42

Prerequisites. MAT 241 is the prerequisite for PHY 203. MAT 242 is a prerequisite or co-requisite for PHY 203. These courses will fulfill the mathematics general education requirements.

MAT 242 and PHY 203 are prerequisites for PHY 204.

The prerequisite for CHE 103 is placement into MAT 141 or higher; or placement into MAT 104 or MAT 105 and a score of 80% or higher in the New York State Chemistry Regents. Placement is determined by the CUNY Assessment Test in Mathematics. Students who did not take the New York State Chemistry Regents will need the permission of the Department of Sciences.

Coordinator. Professor Robert Till, Department of Security, Fire and Emergency Management (212.484.1379, rtill@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. This major requires completion of CHE 103 or CHE 101 and CHE 102, and one semester of physics. These courses fulfill the College's general education requirements in science.

Students who enrolled at the College or changed to this major for the first time in September 2011 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

FORENSIC PSYCHOLOGY

(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The Forensic Psychology major is designed for students who are interested in the relationship between psychology and the criminal justice system. The mission of the Forensic Psychology major is to enhance students’ understanding of individual behavior, in terms of its biological, cognitive, social and emotional components and their interaction, and its effects on the broader community. Students will learn to employ an empirical approach to understand human behavior. The major prepares students for a number of careers and graduate work in psychology, social work, law enforcement, or other criminal justice professions.

Prerequisite. PSY 101, which does not count toward the 40 credits required in the major. This course partially fulfills the College's general education requirements in the social sciences.

Coordinators. Professor Thomas Kucharski, Chair, Department of Psychology (212.237.8783, tkucharski@jjay.cuny.edu), Professor Daryl Wout, Deputy Chair for Advising (646.557.4652, dwout@jjay.cuny.edu)

Internship Program. Students can receive practical experience in forensic psychology by enrolling in PSY 378, which offers fieldwork placements in such settings as hospitals for emotionally disturbed offenders, prisons and agencies related to the family court or otherwise offering treatment services to youthful offenders.

Baccalaureate/Master's Program in Forensic Psychology. Qualified undergraduate students may enter the BA/MA Program and thereby graduate with both a bachelor's and a master's degree in forensic psychology. For additional information, contact Professor Chitra Raghavan, Department of Psychology (212.237.8417, bamadirector@jjay.cuny.edu).

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in September 2011 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose either the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

FORENSIC SCIENCE

(BACHELOR OF SCIENCE)

The major in Forensic Science is designed to provide academic and professional training for students seeking to work in forensic science laboratories, or who are planning to pursue careers as research scientists, teachers or medical professionals. The major draws primarily from chemistry (organic, analytical and physical) with courses in biology, physics and law. Students may specialize in one of three tracks: Criminalistics, Molecular Biology, or Toxicology.

Credits required. 73 or more, depending upon the completion of prerequisites (if needed).

Mathematics requirement. Two semesters of calculus (MAT 241 and MAT 242) are required as well as one semester of probability and statistics (MAT 301). It is recommended that the MAT 241-242 sequence is completed as soon as possible since MAT 241 is a prerequisite for PHY 203 and MAT 242 is a prerequisite for PHY 204. Physics is placed in the sophomore year of the three-year common core for all Forensic Science majors.

Coordinator. Professor Larry Kobilinsky, Department of Sciences (212.237.8884, lkobilinsky@jjay.cuny.edu). Referrals will be made to faculty in each of the tracks within the major.

Science Internship Directors. Peter Diaczuk for forensic science laboratory internships (212.484.1176, pdiaczuk@jjay.cuny.edu), Professor Ronald Pilette for research internships (212.237.8989, rpilette@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. An internship is required for the forensic science degree. This can be fulfilled by either FOS 401 or FOS 402 (see course descriptions in Chapter 2 of this bulletin). The internship requirement is to be completed after the junior year in the Forensic Science major progression. Certain courses are offered only in the fall semesters while others are offered only in the spring semesters. Consult the course descriptions in this bulletin or the designated coordinator for proper program planning. Please note that certain courses have specific prerequisites that must be taken for timely progression through the major. The chemistry or biology taken in the freshman year of the Forensic Science major fulfills the science component of the general education requirements.

Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in September 2009 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose either the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

Prerequisite information. To be placed into BIO 103, students must have an SAT Verbal score of 520 or higher; or completion of the New York State Biology Regents with a score of at least 80%. Students who have not taken the New York State Biology Regents will need departmental permission. Students not meeting these criteria must complete the BIO 101-102 sequence (or equivalent) in lieu of BIO 103.

To be placed into CHE 103, students must be eligible to take MAT 141 or higher; or be taking MAT 104 or MAT 105 and have earned a score of 80% or higher on the New York State Chemistry Regents. Placement will be determined by the CUNY Assessment Test in Mathematics. Students who did not take the New York State Chemistry Regents will need departmental permission. Students not meeting these criteria must complete the CHE 101-102 sequence (or equivalent) instead of CHE 103. For physics prerequisites, see mathematics requirement noted above.

Academic Standards/GPA requirement. Students must maintain a GPA of 2.0 or better in the science and mathematics courses of the major to qualify for progression to the sophomore- and junior-level courses in the major. Students not maintaining the necessary GPA will be dropped from the major. Students may request a waiver of this requirement by appealing to the department chairperson.

Please note: the majority of courses required for the degree in Forensic Science are not available in the evening.

PART FIVE. GENDER STUDIES AREA ELECTIVES

Subtotal: 15

Students select five electives from Gender Studies-designated courses and may substitute a semester-long internship in a gender-related field for one elective. To ensure that students are exposed to significant and significantly different approaches to thinking about gender and sexuality, students must take at least one course in each of the following categories:

Category A. U.S. and/or Global Ethnic/Racial, Gender, and Sexual Diversity

These courses focus on non-dominant U.S. constructions of gender and sexuality internationally and among diverse communities and cultures in the United States. Recognizing that gender and sexuality are defined as much by their positioning within global political, social and economic systems as by their individual racial, ethnic, religious, class or sexual identity, this cluster offers a comparative look at both the individual and the global aspects of gender and sexuality. Courses that satisfy this requirement will examine the diversity of histories, experiences and cultures within the United States or internationally.

GENDER STUDIES
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The Gender Studies major explores how gender and sexuality influence constructions of human identity historically and culturally, and how these in turn shape human development, behavior, and the processes of justice. Students in the major will learn to examine gender and sexuality from a broad variety of academic perspectives. As such, they become versatile thinkers with strong skills in critical problem solving, research, data collection, and writing. The Gender Studies major has been designed in the best tradition of liberal arts study: courses are structured to support independent inquiry, ethical reflection, and critical thought, and they culminate in a final research project that enables students to test their skills on a question of their own choosing. Students graduating with a BA in Gender Studies go on to a wide variety of careers and post-graduate study, including the arts, business, education, health care, media, politics, law, public policy and social work.

GLOBAL HISTORY
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The Global History major is derived from the discipline of global history, which emphasizes interactions and collisions between and among cultures. The major offers undergraduates the chance to become specialists in their chosen period of the history of the world, either prehistory – 500 CE, 500 – 1650, or 1650 – the present. After completing the required three-part survey in global history, students choose the period that most interests them and pursue electives and research topics from it. Electives cover a wide range of topics, but all of them embrace the principles of global history rather than producing students with a narrow and specialized geographic focus. The required skills courses introduce students to the major schools of historical thought, varied techniques and approaches to doing historical research, and provide them with the opportunity to do original research in their capstone seminars. Honors students will have the opportunity to produce a senior thesis over the course of their final year of study under the guidance of a faculty mentor.

HUMANITIES AND JUSTICE
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)
The Humanities and Justice major offers students the opportunity to explore fundamental questions about justice from a humanistic, interdisciplinary perspective. Rooted in history, literature and philosophy, Humanities and Justice prepares students for basic inquiry and advanced research into issues of justice that lie behind social policy and criminal justice as well as broader problems of social morality and equity. Its courses are designed to help students develop the skills of careful reading, critical thinking and clear writing that are necessary for the pursuit of any professional career. This major provides an excellent preparation for law school and other professional programs, for graduate school in the humanities, and for careers in law, education, public policy and criminal justice.
The Humanities and Justice curriculum involves a sequence of five interdisciplinary core courses in Humanities and Justice (designated with the HJS prefix); six courses from a list of humanities courses in history, literature, or philosophy (HIS, LIT, PHI), and a choice of one of two courses on theory.

Credits required. 36

Prerequisites. ENG 102 or ENG 201, one of the required general education courses in literature, history, or philosophy; one of the required general education courses in the social sciences, and upper-sophomore class standing.

Please note: GOV 101 or POL 101 is a prerequisite for POL 375 and LAW 203 or POL 301 is a prerequisite for LAW 301. Part III of the major requires either POL 375 (or GOV 375) or LAW 301.

Coordinator. Professor Margaret Tabb, Department of English (212.237.8578, mtabb@jjay.cuny.edu). Students must review their course of study with major faculty.

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in September 2008 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

Senior-level requirement. Students must complete HJS 410 Problems and Theory: Thesis Prospectus and HJS 415 Thesis in Humanities and Justice Studies.

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE
(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The major in International Criminal Justice introduces students to the nature and cause of crime at the international level and to the mechanisms for its prevention and control. Components of the criminal justice system as they apply to transnational and international crime are studied, as well as the impact of international law and human rights in addressing crimes against humanity. The major is intended to equip students with the knowledge and skills needed for careers in which the globalization of crime plays an important role. It also is designed to prepare students for advanced work in graduate or professional school.

Credits required. 39

Prerequisites. ECO 101, SOC 101 and GOV 101 or POL 101. Any two of these courses satisfy the 6-credit general education requirement in the social sciences.

LAW AND SOCIETY
(BACHELORS OF ARTS)

The Law and Society major offers an interdisciplinary approach to the study of law and legal institutions, their impact on society, and society’s impact on them. The major is organized around the central theme of understanding law as an instrument of political and social change and examines questions concerning how law matters in people’s lives; how law and law-like systems of rules empower and constrain individuals, groups, organizations and communities; and how the structures and values in social institutions shape and are shaped by law.

Credits required. 36

Prerequisites. POL 101 and SOC 101. Students are strongly urged to complete these two courses during their first year in the College. These courses will fulfill the College’s general education requirement in the social sciences. Additional prerequisites for individual courses include ANT 315 which requires at least one course in either Anthropology or Law, and ECO 215 which requires ECO 101.

PHILOSOPHY
(BACHELORS OF ARTS)

Philosophy involves a critical examination of our most fundamental beliefs about truth and reality, right and wrong. In this major, students study the traditional answers to the basic question in Western philosophy and also the important critiques of that dominant tradition. They will explore ethical and justice issues which are crucial to contemporary legal, political, and public policy debates. Philosophy majors learn sophisticated forms of reasoning and textual analysis, and deepen their understanding of basic human problems and possibilities.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

(BACHELOR OF ARTS)

The major in Political Science introduces students to the principal fields of inquiry in political science. This major provides a program of study for students considering careers in a variety of fields, including public service, law, community affairs, international relations and politics. Students may select from among four concentrations-of-choice: Law, Courts and Politics which explores the intersection of the legal system and the broader political system; Justice and Politics, which examines the political philosophy and various societal values that underlie contemporary views of justice; American and Urban Politics and Policy, which emphasizes the role of political institutions in shaping solutions to contemporary urban problems; and Comparative/International Politics and Human Rights, which explores the global dimensions of politics and governance.

Learning outcomes. Students will:

- Initiate, develop, and present independent research
- Write effectively, engage in intellectually grounded debate, and form and express cogent arguments
- Develop skills in critical thinking in order to become knowledgeable citizens capable of reasoned judgments on contemporary political issues
- Demonstrate knowledge of the major subfields of political science

Credits required. 36-42

Prerequisite. POL101 or GOV 101. This course partially fulfills the general education requirement in the social sciences.

Advisors. Professors Harold Sullivan (212.237.8194, hsullivan@jjay.cuny.edu) and Monica Varsanyi (212.237.8232, mvarsanyi@jjay.cuny.edu), Department of Political Science.
Coordinator. Professor Andrew Sidman (646-557-4613, asidman@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College or changed to this major in September 2012 or thereafter must complete the major in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose either the form shown here or the earlier version of the major. A copy of the earlier version may be obtained at the Office of Undergraduate Studies or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

BACCALAUREATE/MASTER’S DEGREE PROGRAM

The Baccalaureate/Master’s Degree Program (BA/MA) provides academically advanced students the opportunity to pursue simultaneously the baccalaureate and master’s degrees. It is available to students studying criminal justice, forensic psychology and public administration. The number of undergraduate electives and courses in the major are reduced for BA/MA candidates, thus enabling them to begin graduate courses once they have fulfilled the college general education requirements and some of the requirements of their major. Graduate courses then fulfill certain undergraduate requirements.

Degree Requirements

Students receive both the bachelor’s and master’s degrees upon completion of the requirements of this program. The BA/MA Program in Criminal Justice requires either 128 credits and a master’s thesis, or 134 credits and the passing of a comprehensive examination. The BA/MA Programs in Forensic Psychology and Public Administration each require the completion of 134 credits.

For each of these programs, the entire graduate course of study must be completed (see program requirements below). Students who are interested in the BA/MA Program are encouraged to meet with the BA/MA Director early in their academic career.

Eligibility

To be eligible for admission, students must complete 60 credits (including the college general education requirements) and have earned a 3.5 or better grade point average (GPA). This is a minimum requirement for eligibility and does not guarantee acceptance into the program.

Applicants must also submit a personal statement indicating why they are seeking admission, a recommendation from a faculty member, and a writing sample that is representative of their research/writing skills. Applications are reviewed each fall for spring admission and each spring for fall admission. Further application instructions are available through the BA/MA website accessed through the John Jay College Home page (www.jjay.cuny.edu).

Transfer students must first establish the 3.5 GPA, for one semester (12 credits) at John Jay College, prior to applying to the BA/MA Program. However, students transferring from colleges with an articulation agreement with John Jay College will be considered for admission to the BA/MA Program based on their GPA at the home college. The list of colleges with an articulation agreement with John Jay College is available on the BA/MA website. Updated information about the BA/MA Program will be posted periodically on the website.

Students are required to maintain the 3.5 GPA to remain in the BA/MA Program. Students whose GPAs fall below the 3.5 level will not be able to receive the graduate degree even if they have completed sufficient credits.

For additional information, contact Professor Chitra Raghavan, Director of the BA/MA Program (212.237.8417, bamadirector@jjay.cuny.edu).

BACCALAUREATE/MASTER’S PROGRAM AND THE THESIS ALTERNATIVE

BA/MA students in the Criminal Justice Program who choose to complete the alternative to the thesis requirement for their master’s degree must complete a total of 134 credits, 36 of which must be graduate credits. BS/MPA students in the Public Administration Program must complete 134 credits, 42 of which must be graduate credits. BA/MA students in the Forensic Psychology Program must complete 134 credits, 39 of which must be graduate credits.

CUNY JUSTICE ACADEMY PROGRAMS

(Joint/2+2 Associate/Baccalaureate Degrees with CUNY Community Colleges)

CRIMINAL JUSTICE PARTNERSHIPS

These programs are for students who have an interest in the field of criminal justice. They are joint degree programs the community colleges of the City University of New York, in which students receive an Associate degree and a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice (Institutional Theory and Practice) at John Jay College. Graduates of the associate programs are automatically accepted in John Jay’s program provided that they meet the academic and grade requirements (2.0 or better GPA) to continue with a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice at John Jay College. Criminal Justice is a growing field of study that provides intellectual stimulation and practical experience for students with an interest in police science, law, security management, and other fields that incorporate supporting the infrastructure of the law, as well as working with people.

FORENSIC SCIENCE PARTNERSHIPS

The Science for Forensics (SFF) Associate in Science (AS) degree programs are part of a joint program between CUNY community colleges and John Jay College of Criminal Justice for students with a strong interest in science, law, and public service. Graduates of the Science for Forensics AS program will continue their studies at John Jay College where they will earn a Bachelor of Science in Forensic Science. To enter the Forensic Science program at John Jay, QCC graduates must have a 2.5 or better GPA in foundation coursework. Creation of this 2 + 2 partnership in forensic science opens up a new opportunity for New York City area students to receive an excellent education leading to exciting career paths. This joint degree program will provide future forensic scientists with the necessary scientific foundation and technical training in general chemistry, organic chemistry, physics, biology, mathematics, data collection and analysis, oral and written communication skills, teamwork, and hands-on experience for successful, productive and rewarding careers in local, regional and national forensic science and chemistry-based laboratories, major research centers, university facilities, government testing labs, and public utilities.

ACCOUNTING

ACC 250 Introduction to Accounting

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will consider topics that are basic to the accounting process while giving attention to criminal accounting manipulations. Students completing this course will have a broad understanding of the accounting cycle. Students will gain knowledge of the basic accounts found in the accounting system including revenues, expenses, assets, liabilities and equity accounts. Students will learn how to prepare basic financial statements and analyze them to determine the fiscal viability of an organization. Attention will be given to cases involving accounting scandals and frauds. This course prepares students for ACC 307 Forensic Accounting I.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

ACC 251 Introduction to Managerial Accounting

3 hours, 3 credits

This course introduces financial and managerial accounting, with an emphasis on managerial reporting. It provides students with the necessary skills to interpret, analyze, and research financial statement information. Students will acquire a basic understanding of how financial accounting affects the managerial accounting process and how to use financial statements to monitor budgets. Students will apply these skills to supervise daily operations, plan future operations and develop overall organizational strategies. The course prepares students for ACC 307 Forensic Accounting I.

ACC 264 Business Law

(Same course as LAW 264)

3 hours, 3 credits

This course covers the role of law in business with a focus on contractual and other civil law. Topics include the legal environment, agency, the Uniform Commercial Code, debtor-creditor relationships, government regulation of business, and business structure. The course requires case analysis, problem solving, and oral and written communication.

Prerequisite: ENG 101
ACC 265 Digital Forensics for the Fraud Examiner
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an overview of processes and techniques used by digital forensic examiners. Best practices for securing, obtaining, and analyzing digital evidence pertaining to fraud investigations are studied. Basic knowledge of computer hardware, equipment and specialized forensic software applications is also covered. This course is designed for students who want to work more effectively with computer forensic specialists and students who want to prepare for more advanced and specialized study in digital forensics.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

ACC 307 Forensic Accounting I
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides students with an overview of forensic accounting. It will examine methods and approaches used to uncover fraud, fraud theories, fraud patterns and schemes, fraud concealment strategies, evidence collection and legal elements of fraud. Case studies will be used to make distinctions between intentional deceptions and negligent misrepresentations or omissions. Income statements and balance sheets will be used for risk analysis. Students will learn to detect concealment in financial statement notes and analytical methods to infer income concealment.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and ACC 307

ACC 308 Auditing
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a study of the processes conducted by independent, internal and government accountants to provide auditing and assurance services on information provided by management. Theoretical concepts of materiality, audit risk, and evidential matter are explored, along with the auditor’s understanding of internal controls, with an emphasis on fraud prevention.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and ACC 307

ACC 309 Forensic Accounting II
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an understanding of how specific types of frauds are committed against an organization and on behalf of an organization. By learning how managers and employees commit frauds, students will be better prepared to prevent, detect and investigate those frauds. Expert witnessing and reporting are also covered.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and ACC 307

ACC 381/382 Accounting Internship
3 hours, 3 credits
This supervised internship provides an experiential learning experience where students learn to integrate their academic knowledge with practical applications. It also provides an opportunity to improve career opportunities and to develop skills and core capabilities for success in the accounting and anti-fraud professions. Students will work in governmental and non-governmental organizations and must complete a minimum of 120 hours of work for three credits and 240 hours for 6 credits granted. Each student will maintain a bi-weekly journal and complete a final report covering a detailed description of the work accomplished and reflections on their learning experiences.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, ACC 250, junior standing, and permission of the instructor

ACC 383/384 Accounting Internship Intensive
6 hours, 6 credits
This supervised internship provides an experiential learning experience where students learn to integrate their academic knowledge with practical applications. It also provides an opportunity to improve career opportunities and to develop skills and core capabilities for success in the accounting and anti-fraud professions. Students will work in governmental and non-governmental organizations and must complete a minimum of 120 hours of work for 3 credits and 240 hours for 6 credits granted. Each student will maintain a bi-weekly journal and complete a final report covering a detailed description of the work accomplished and reflections on his/her learning experiences.

2 COURSES OFFERED

ACC 410 Seminar in Forensic Financial Analysis
3 hours, 3 credits
This seminar course provides an understanding of financial statement analysis techniques and commercial data-mining software. Statistical and analytic methods are used to evaluate potential fraud activities.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, ACC 308, and ACC 309

AFRICANA STUDIES

AFR 110 Race and the Urban Community
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to problems of contemporary race relations in major urban areas with particular emphasis on the impact of race and racism on the interactions between the African-American community and other racial or ethnic groups.

AFR 121 African-American Community Issues
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to the origins and development of urban African-American communities. An exploration of the historical effects of racial isolation on community building and examination of selected contemporary socioeconomic issues with respect to such areas of concern as housing, education, welfare, the African-American family, crime and the criminal justice system.

AFR 129 The Psychology of the African-American Experience (Same course as PSY 129)
3 hours, 3 credits

AFR 150 Origins of Contemporary Africa
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to the history of Africa from the decline of the Songhay Empire to the present. Survey of cultural, economic and political developments that have shaped contemporary Africa.

AFR 166 History of the Caribbean Islands
(Same course as HIS 166 and LLS 166)
3 hours, 3 credits
A broad survey of the Caribbean Island nations and territories from the beginnings of European colonization until the present. Particular attention will be given to the economic and social aspects of the evolution and to the problems of unity and diversity.

AFR 210 Drugs and Crime in Africa
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines drugs and crime from an African perspective. It traces the history of cannabis use in sub-Saharan Africa. The course also examines how Africa was used by drug traffickers as a transit point for heroin and cocaine destined for Europe and the United States. The course also examines how the international drug trafficking spillover effect has resulted in consumption of hard drugs and psychotropic substances in sub-Saharan African countries. The drugs’ use and misuse are examined in relation to the emergence of drug addicts, HIV/AIDS and other health problems, crime, homelessness, unemployment, violence and organized crime. It will also examine the role played by police narcotics units and the emergence of Narcotic Control Boards.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

AFR 215 The Police and the Ghetto
3 hours, 3 credits
Examination of the various perspectives on the nature of police roles in urban African-American communities including perceptions of police as law enforcement agents and as preservers of social order. Functional analysis of crime and of police roles in the ghettoization of communities.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and AFR 110 or AFR 121
AFR 220 Law and Justice in Africa
3 hours, 3 credits
Examination of the philosophical base of African customary law. Traditional theories of crime prevention, punishment, and the dispensation of justice in selected pre-colonial African societies. The enforcement of laws by the traditional community and traditional courts, and community involvement in the prevention of crime. African laws under colonialism and in contemporary independent nations.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

AFR 223 African-American Literature
(Same course as LIT 223)
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the writing of African Americans from colonial times to the present, with special attention to influential African-American writers such as W. E. B. Du Bois, Toomer, Hughes, Wright, Brooks, Ellison, Baldwin, Baraka and Malcolm X. Readings in novels, plays, autobiographies, short stories, poems, folktales and essays will explore a wide range of African-American aesthetic responses to life in the United States.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ENG 102 or ENG 201

AFR 224 African-American Women in Art
(Same course as ART 224)
3 hours, 3 credits
The course examines the representation of African-American women in art throughout the centuries, particularly the stereotypes of the Mammy, Sapphire and Jezebel, and the history of African-American women artists from slavery to the present, as they struggled to combat these negative stereotypes through their lives and art. A study of the American slave experience and Post-Reconstruction will lay the foundation for understanding the myriad misconceptions about African-American women and how their images have been manipulated in art and popular culture. Each class will present a series of visual art images via slide presentations and films of the artwork discussed. Whenever possible, gallery or museum visits will be incorporated into the course.

Prerequisite: ENG 101 or permission of the instructor

AFR 225 Police and Law in Africa
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will study the role of the police as a law enforcement arm of government and as a peacekeeping force. The study will focus on the role of the police in the pre-colonial period of Africa, the colonial period and the period after independence. In each of these periods, the study will highlight the type of laws that were used to govern the populace. The body of laws includes: a) African custom law, as used during the pre-colonial period; b) Colonial laws during the colonial era; c) Modern African law, being a combination of African customary law and the recent laws inundated by the national legislation.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

AFR 227 Introduction to Community-based Approaches to Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to community studies and the major components of community-based approaches to justice. The course first establishes a common understanding of critical concepts such as community, social capital, neighborhood effects, asset mapping, political economy, community economics, mediation, community courts, and restorative justice. In studying community institutions, organizations, and practices, an interdisciplinary approach will be used that will draw on criminology, law, sociology, anthropology, political science, economics, family studies, international studies, Africana studies, and gender studies. Such an approach will provide students with the skills necessary to understand the interactions between and among factors such as race, ethnicity, and gender on the practice and the effectiveness of community development and community justice strategies.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ETH 123 or ETH 125

AFR 229 Restoring Justice: Making Peace and Resolving Conflict
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will focus on examples of restorative justice from Africa and the Pacific Islands, a seldom-considered part of the African diaspora. To that end, this course will explore how an African philosophy of “ubuntu” (or “humanity towards others”) influences Africa’s notions of justice, community and suffering. Comparisons will be drawn with traditional Western views of restorative justice. Unlike the traditional justice system found in the U.S. and in other parts of the world that focus on punishing criminal behavior, restorative justice mirrors the way that disputes are settled in tribes—offenders make amends not only to victims, but also to their communities.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

AFR 230 Comparative Perspectives on Crime in the Caribbean (Same course as LLS 230)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will examine crime in the Caribbean with a particular focus on the differences and similarities among the Spanish-, English-, French- and Dutch-speaking nations of the Caribbean region. The course will study the trends in crime in the Caribbean from a comparative perspective, and the methods employed by various individual nations to help diminish crime and delinquency. The specific topics to be studied include political crime and offenses, political corruption, drug dealing and trafficking, juvenile delinquency, domestic violence and sexual assault in the Caribbean. This course can be used to satisfy requirements for the International Criminal Justice major.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

AFR 230 African-American Theatre
(Same course as Drama 230)
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the development of the African-American theatre considering selected works of such playwrights as Langston Hughes, Lorraine Hansberry, James Baldwin, Imamu Amiri Baraka (Le-Roi Jones), Ed Bullins, Charles Gordone, Douglas Turner Ward, Adrienne Kennedy, Ron Milner, Ben Caldwell, Philip Hayes Dean, Richard Wesley and Joseph A. Walker, as well as such production companies as the Spirit House Players and Movers, the Negro Ensemble Company, and the Afro-American Studio Theatre. Plays focusing on such areas as ethnic identity, lifestyles and nationalism will be examined.

AFR 237 Institutional Racism
3 hours, 3 credits
A critical examination of policies and informal practices of organizations and institutions and of laws and regulations that have adversely affected social and economic opportunities and outcomes for African-Americans. Forms, impacts and responses to racism in such areas as the design and implementation of social programs, the criminal justice system, education, employment and business.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and one of the following: ETH 123, AFR 110, AFR 121 or SOC 101

AFR 245 Psychology of the African-American Family
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will examine and analyze critical psychological theories and research that address various forms of the African-American family. There will be an overview of the political, cultural and economic factors that have contributed to both the forms and functions of the African-American family over the past 400 years. Students will also closely examine current family forms such as extended family, single parent families and nuclear families. They will also discuss the role that both resident and non-resident fathers play, the challenges of gender and the role of education.

Students will utilize material from diverse data sets, including census data, various theoretical approaches and personal experiences to develop an appreciation of the psychological dynamics of various forms of African-American family life.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ETH 123 or ETH 125

AFR 248 Men: Masculinities in the United States
3 hours, 3 credits
There is more than one way to be a man. This course will introduce students to theoretical approaches to understanding masculinities. We will look at how biological, political, economic and psychological factors influence how masculinities are constructed. Students will increasingly reflect a sense of themselves as gendered beings and they will develop an appreciation of how social constructions of masculinities influence how they define themselves.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201
AFR 250 Political Economy of Racism
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the role of racism in the development of American capitalism. Examination of the impact of racism on the distribution of income, wealth and economic opportunity. Analysis of the role of racism in the economics of historical experiences such as slavery, Reconstruction, migration and urbanization, as well as its role in the economics of contemporary business cycles and of ongoing long term transformations of both the American and global economies.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ECO 101 or ECO 102

AFR 263 African Heritage in the Caribbean
(Same course as LLS 263)
3 hours, 3 credits
From an interdisciplinary perspective, this course examines the social and political forces in the contemporary Caribbean. The course will focus on the following: the legacy of slavery, plantation society and underdevelopment, democracy, capitalism and socialism, race, class and ethnic conflict.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

AFR 267 History of Caribbean Migrations to the United States (Same course as LLS 267 and HIS 267)
3 hours, 3 credits
A comparative study of the most significant aspects of the Caribbean migrations to the U.S. during the 20th century. Emphasis on political, economic and social framework of the migration process. Special attention will be given to the contemporary situations of the Haitian, Hispanic and West Indian communities in the U.S.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

AFR 270 The History of African-American Social and Intellectual Thought
3 hours, 3 credits
An historical survey of the principal ideas, ideologies and intellectual currents in the African-American community, including the shifting emphases on assimilation, Pan-Africanism and nationalism, major organizations and movements and key individuals who have shaped African-American thought and examination of the impact of these ideas on American thought and culture.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ETH 123

AFR 275 African-American Military History and Social Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the experience of African Americans in U.S. military history and the social justice issues that shaped their lives from the American revolutionary period through current conflicts. Discussions will examine social justice issues that influence the actions of non-citizen black soldiers during the revolutionary period as “fugitives” and insurrectionists and as citizen soldiers in the Civil War, up to more recent military operations including Iraq. Critical social justice issues such as biased comeback assignments, segregated units, conflicts with civilians, sexual exploitation, combat post-traumatic stress syndrome, inequities associated with the G.I. Bill, etc., will be discussed in their relationship to larger societal issues, such as, institutional racism and poverty. In this regard, the emergence of the “Double V” social philosophy for African-American military personnel during World War II will be analyzed for its current relevancy.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ETH 123, ETH 125, HIS 201, or HIS 202

AFR 310 Research Seminar in African-American Studies
3 hours, 3 credits
Seminar and research project addressing a selected contemporary or historical issue of significance in African-American Studies. Research paper utilizing basic research methodologies required.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, 6 credits in African-American Studies, and junior standing or above, or permission of the section instructor
AFR 322 Inequality and Wealth
3 hours, 3 credits
This course analyzes racial wealth gaps and wealth inequality in the African Diaspora, with a focus on the United States. From an interdisciplinary approach, the course will explore the growing and persistent wealth gap between various racial and ethnic groups and genders to better understand inequality (historically and currently), and will assess the causes and consequences of racial, ethnic, and gender differences in wealth and asset building. Students will examine challenges with wealth data and recent trends, as well as the consequences of asset poverty, particularly for people of African descent. Solutions and potential policy responses to the persistent racial, ethnic and gender wealth disparities and asset poverty will be evaluated.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, SSC 325 or STA 250, and any one of the following: SOC 101, ECO 101, ETH 123, ETH 125, or GEN 101

AFR 340 The African-American Experience in America: Comparative Racial Perspectives
(Same course as LIT 340)
3 hours, 3 credits
An examination of African-American life through the works of both African-American and white writers. The course will look at the inter-relationships and differences between African-American and white perspectives. Authors such as W. E. B. Du Bois, Melville, Wright, Baldwin, Mark Twain, Faulkner, Ellison, Welty and Baraka will be read.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

AFR 347 Psychology of Oppression
(Same course as PSY 347)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course analyzes the socio-cultural and psychological factors that contribute to a sense of being oppressed. It also examines strategies that facilitate progress on the road to healthy functioning and contribute to progressive system changes. Special attention is paid to the interaction between these two sets of factors.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; PSY 101 or AFR 129/PSY 129; and PSY 221 or a 200-level Africana Studies course

AFR 354 Africana Philosophy
(Same course as PHI 354)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the rich and diverse field of Africana philosophy, which is essentially philosophy of and about Africa and its diaspora. The first half of the course covers African philosophy, while the second half covers the philosophy of Africans in the Americas. Possible themes include: (1) the tension between tradition and modernity; (2) the philosophical meaning of racism and white supremacy; (3) the relevance of philosophy to liberation movements throughout Africa and its diaspora; and (4) philosophical anthropology.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231

AFR 410 Independent Study
3 hours, 3 credits
An intensive individualized reading course in which a significant topic, issue, or area of interest in African-American Studies is pursued under the guidance of a member of the faculty. A research paper is required.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, 6 credits in African-American Studies, and senior status, or permission of the section instructor

ANTHROPOLOGY

ANT 101 Introduction to Anthropology
3 hours, 3 credits
Comparative study of cultures, or ways of life, of people around the world, with emphasis on non-Western, preliterate cultures. Examples may include Native American peoples, South American tribal peoples, the Amish, Gypsies, and the Inuit (Eskimos) of northern Canada and Alaska. Analysis of major aspects of culture, including language; marriage, birthing and child rearing; family and kinship; law, government, and social control; and religion.
ANT 110 Drug and Alcohol Use and Abuse in American Society
(Same course as PSY 110 and SOC 110)
3 hours, 3 credits
An overview of drug substances and drug abuse as considered from various approaches, including types and patterns of drug abuse, symptoms, causes, treatment modalities and other related factors. Specific drug substances are discussed, along with resultant psychological and physiological effects. Attention is paid to legal, cultural and educational factors as they relate to drug abuse prevention. Consideration of the relationship between urban living and drug use.

ANT 208 Urban Anthropology
3 hours, 3 credits
Current topics and problems in urban studies will be addressed from an anthropological perspective. The course examines cities as places where members of different groups come together in both cooperation and conflict. Students will examine the way global processes and local politics and culture have shaped and continue to transform the modern city. Students will engage with case studies from a variety of urban environments, including some in the United States, and will focus on various topics such as class, power, ritual, migration, lifestyle, ethnic tensions and alliances, social movements, and the meanings of space and place.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

ANT 210 Sex and Culture
(Same course as PSY 210 and SOC 210)
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of behavioral and psychological differences between males and females in the light of contemporary theories of social structure, social learning and individual development. Emphasis on the examination of contemporary theoretical issues in cross-cultural perspective.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

ANT 212 Applied Anthropology
3 hours, 3 credits
Consideration of past, present and future applications of anthropology and fieldwork techniques in such areas as criminal justice, education, mental health, demography, medicine and areas involving change.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and AN1 01

ANT 214 Spiritualism, Religion and Magic
3 hours, 3 credits
Cross-cultural study of religious beliefs and practices and the ways in which they are related to other aspects of culture, including deviance and social control.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

ANT 224 Death, Dying and Society: A Life Crises Management Issue
(Same course as PHI 224, PSY 224 and SOC 224)
3 hours, 3 credits
Death and dying will be viewed from the perspectives of a variety of academic disciplines and applied fields. The course will deal with the dying process: the different cultural practices and beliefs related to this process; its impact on the individual and his or her family, particularly in the areas of grief, mourning and restructuring of the family; and it will examine the ways different occupational groups are routinely involved with death and dying and the methods they evolve to manage it for others and cope with it themselves. The course will also explore different types of death, death at different periods in the life cycle, euthanasia, abortion and ethical, religious existential issues related to death and dying. The course will be multidisciplinary.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and an introductory course in sociology, anthropology, philosophy, or psychology
ANT 228 Introduction to Language
(Same course as ENG 228)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an overview of language analysis and general linguistics, leading to an understanding of how language in the legal process applies these principles. The course discusses the formal properties of language, bilingualism, gender and language use, language and culture, and linguistic issues within the criminal justice system. Students will learn how to use the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to transcribe speech and discuss accents and dialects.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and ANT 101, or PSY 101 or SOC 101 or CRJ 101 or CJBS 101

ANT 230 Culture and Crime
3 hours, 3 credits
An analysis of crime and its relation to other aspects of culture in Western and non-Western societies. Topics include those who have been labeled as bandits, criminals and rebels; women who have turned to crime in an attempt to resolve the contradictions of their position; and the impact of Western culture and colonization on crime and justice in the non-Western world.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and any social science course

ANT 315 Systems of Law
3 hours, 3 credits
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and a course in anthropology or law, or junior standing or above

ANT 328 Forensic Linguistics: Language as Evidence in the Courts
(Same course as ENG 328)
3 hours, 3 credits
Forensic linguistics explores the complex relationship between linguistics and the law. The course will consider critically the role of language and its power in the legal process. It will also examine how oral and written argumentation can be used or misused to the disadvantage of social groups and thus to the detriment of minorities, including women, children and nonnative speakers of English. The involvement of linguists as expert witnesses in the legal process will also be explored. One court visit is required. This course is especially helpful for Forensic Psychology majors.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and one of the following: ANT 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101, PSY 101, or SOC 101

ANT 330 American Cultural Pluralism and the Law
3 hours, 3 credits
 Culturally different groups use law in the United States to assert their rights and to maintain their cultural autonomy. They may also avoid courts and solve disputes within their communities. This course examines, through legal and ethnographic cases, the ways in which culturally different groups interact with law in the United States. The groups studied may include Native Americans and Native Hawaiians, African Americans, Asian Americans, Mormons, Amish, Rastafarians, Hasidic Jews, Latinos, Gypsies, gays, women and the homeless.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201
ANT 340 Anthropology and the Abnormal
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the ways in which different societies define “abnormal behavior,” with emphasis on the understanding of the societal basis of the selection and labeling of certain behaviors as “abnormal.” The social uses of deviance are examined. Roles such as the shaman, the transvestite, the homosexual, the saint, the sinner, the joker, the aged and the mental defective are analyzed in the context of specific cultures. Various forms of psychological and social therapies to treat the abnormal are discussed, with examples drawn from both Western and non-Western cultures.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, ANT 101 or PSY 101, and junior standing or above

ANT 345 Culture, Psychopathology and Healing
(Same course as PSY 345)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will study and compare models of mental illness, distress, treatment and healing across cultures. Cultural relevance of Western models of psychopathology, psychiatry and psychotherapy across cultures will be considered. The role of Western psychology within the context of globalization of health care systems will be addressed. Topics will include: self and culture; emotions and culture; culture-bound syndromes; help-seeking and culture; therapists, traditional and folk healers; and the politics of psychology in world health.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 242, and junior standing or above

ANT 410 Independent Study
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of reading and reporting planned and carried out under the guidance of a faculty member. Concerned with a selected topic, issue or area of interest in anthropology, psychology, or sociology.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and 12 credits in anthropology, or permission of the chairperson of the department and the section instructor

ANT 450 Majors Works in Deviance and Social Control (Same course as PSY 450 and SOC 450)
3 hours, 3 credits
The study of major writings on deviance and social control of 20th-century anthropologists, psychologists, and sociologists who made seminal contributions to the contemporary understanding of the subject. The course, a seminar, will include selected writings of such theorists as Ruth Benedict, Emile Durkheim, Sigmund Freud, Bronislaw Malinowski, Robert K. Merton and Thomas Szasz.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and majoring in Culture and Deviance Studies (formerly Deviant Behavior and Social Control).

ARABIC (DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES)

ARA 101 Elementary Modern Standard Arabic I
3 hours, 3 credits
The goal of this course is to begin developing reading, speaking, listening, writing, and cultural skills in Arabic. The course stresses communication using both formal and informal Arabic, and developing students’ understanding of Arab culture. The course will be conducted primarily in Arabic.

ARA 102 Elementary Modern Standard Arabic II
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is continuation of Elementary Modern Standard Arabic I (ARA 101). Second in a series of courses that develops reading, speaking, listening, writing, and cultural skills in Arabic. Emphasis is placed on reading authentic materials from Arabic media, expanding students’ vocabulary and grammar skills, listening to and watching audio and video materials, and developing students’ understanding of Arab culture and communicative competence. The course will be conducted primarily in Arabic.

Prerequisite: Arabic 101 or equivalent
ART HISTORY AND STUDIO ART

ART 102 American Art
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the growth of art in the United States as it accompanied the development of the country from isolated agricultural colonies to a powerful industrial nation. The transformation of European styles into a uniquely American art that expressed the hopes and ideals of the new land is considered by reference to such topics as the impact of industrialism, the creation of cities, the movement westward, as well as the individual achievements of major painters, sculptors, and architects.

ART 103 Art of the Italian Renaissance
3 hours, 3 credits
This course covers one of the greatest periods of Western Art. It begins with the innovation of the 14th century artist Giotto and continues through 15th century, concluding with high Renaissance artists such as Leonardo, Michelangelo, and Titian.

ART 104 The Art of Africa, Oceania and the Americas
3 hours, 3 credits
An introductory survey of the arts of the major non-Western civilizations, in which the objects produced by these peoples are examined with regard to artistic principles and their relationship to the religious, social, and cultural conditions in which they originate.

ART 105 Modern Art
3 hours, 3 credits
The course considers the development of art in the modern Western world beginning with European art in the late 18th century and ending with American art after World War II. The work of such major artists as David, Degas and Monet, Van Gogh and Gauguin, Picasso and Brancusi, Jackson Pollack and Andy Warhol are studied as the history of individual achievement and in the contexts of modern life.

ART 108 Introduction to World Art I
3 hours, 3 credits
Through visual images, this course traces the development of world cultures by considering the evolution of the art and architecture of Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe from ancient times to the 14th century. The panorama of painting, sculpture, and architecture is examined with a view to understanding the artworks as unique objects, and as expressions of particular civilizations and their social, religious, and political worldviews.

ART 109 Introduction to World Art II
3 hours, 3 credits
Through visual images, this course traces the development of world cultures by considering the evolution of the art and architecture of Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe from the 14th to the 20th century. The panorama of painting, sculpture, and architecture is examined with a view to understanding the artworks as unique objects, and as expressions of particular civilizations and their social, religious, and political worldviews.

ART 110 Ceramics Workshop
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will enable the student to design and create hand built pottery according to the principles of design, and work with various techniques of finishing, glazing, and firing. Students will learn the basic principles of three-dimensional design by studying the shapes of utilitarian as well as decorative objects in their immediate environment. In addition, they will explore pottery styles of such non-Western cultures as Japan, China, the Mayans of ancient Mexico, the Yoruba of Nigeria and the Ndebele of Zimbabwe, as well as pottery styles of the ancient Greeks and the Navaho and Pueblo Indians of the American Southwest. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

ART 111 Introduction to Drawing
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is designed to develop student's ability and appreciation for drawing. Students will be introduced to different drawing media and techniques and develop drawing skills through direct observation, imagination and other conceptual models. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

ART 112 Design Foundations
3 hours: 3 laboratory hours, 3 credits
Design Foundations explores the various elements of how images are composed. Students learn to manipulate pictorial space through the study of color, line, shape, space, texture and value. In addition, students will study the creation and use of signs, patterns, and symbols from both indigenous and contemporary culture.

ART 113 Digital Photography I
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to digital photography as an art medium. Topics include basic DSLR camera operation and use of imaging software, and an introduction to concepts from the history and theory of photography, including the development of the medium from its inception to the current day (i.e. from the daguerreotype to digital). Students are encouraged to create artwork that responds to research and to philosophical inquiry, and which articulates original ideas, keeping in mind the complex ethical issues associated with representation. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

ART 115 Introduction to Sculpture
3 hours, 3 credits
Students will learn basic principles and techniques of creating sculpture. Through the sculpture making process, they will be encouraged to investigate their potential for expressing three-dimensional concepts. Special emphasis will be placed on the actual process of developing creative awareness by taking an idea from its inception through various stages of revision to completion in a three-dimensional form. Through visual materials such as slides, films and videotapes, as well as museum visits, students will learn about sculptures from various non-Western cultures such as Latin America, Africa and Asia. (Note: This course has a $30.00 material fee)

ART 125 Graphic Arts
3 hours, 3 credits
This class is an introduction to the elements of good design. Lectures, museum visits and readings will address relevant questions to the field as well as familiarize students with the artists and writers that help shape our time. Students will learn some of the tools of digital image making and are expected to develop artwork that is aware of its historical and social context, and at the same time, presents a personal artistic voice. The most important objective of this class is to produce artwork that is intellectually complex, artistically instigating, and visually compelling.

ART 190 Special Topics in Art
3 hours, 3 credits
The study of a significant topic of general interest to be chosen by the instructor.

ART 201 Art and Architecture in New York
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of the physical development of the City from the settlement of New Amsterdam to the present. The geographical spread of the City, its sculptural and architectural past and present, including public monuments are examined.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

ART 212 Life Drawing
3 hours, 3 credits
Introduction of the student to the live model, concentrating on basic anatomy and proportions of the human figure. Student will study different techniques—foreshortening, contour drawing, modeling—and learn use of such various materials as pencil, charcoal, and ink. Rapid poses to study the dynamic movement of the body, and longer poses to find and develop the forms of the figure all aim to train the hand to respond directly to the eye. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ART 111
ART 213 Digital Photography 2
3 hours, 3 credits

In Digital Photography 2, students create a body of work that shows artistic and conceptual cohesion on a theme of their choice. The work must show conceptual thinking that goes beyond the mere illustration of a subject. There will be discussions on the nature of photography as a medium and as a cultural channel, and on the implications of its use in everyday life, particularly in terms of ethics and justice. Concurrently, students will learn practical skills such as lighting techniques and setups. By the end of the course they should have a body of work that is visually and conceptually sophisticated and an artist's statement—essentially an introduction to professional practice. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ART 113

ART 222 Body Politics and Art in Global & Historical Perspective
3 hours, 3 credits

Body Politics examines images of the human body in art across time and global space. As the most ubiquitous image in much of visual culture, both the past and present, images of the body reveal the unique sensibilities of their creators, patrons, cultures, and eras. Pivotal works of painting, sculpture, photography, video and film from Asia, Africa, Europe and America will be critically assessed to reveal how representation of the body in art reflects and challenges gender roles, race construction, political hegemony, and ideals of beauty. Primary source and scholarly readings will augment the course. The methodologies of art theory and criticism will be tapped as vehicles for visual critique and analysis. Classes will incorporate slide presentations and gallery visits.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and any 100-level art course

ART 224 African-American Women in Art
(Same course as AFR 224)
3 hours, 3 credits

The course examines the representation of African-American women in art throughout the centuries, particularly the stereotypes of the Mammy, Sapphire and Jezebel; and the history of African-American women artists from slavery to the present, as they struggled to combat these negative stereotypes through their lives and art. A study of the American slave experience and Post-Reconstruction will lay the foundation for understanding the myriad misconceptions about African-American women and how their images have been manipulated in art and popular culture. Each class will present a series of visual art images via slide presentations and films of the artwork discussed. Whenever possible, gallery or museum visits will be incorporated into the course.

Prerequisite: ENG 101 or permission of the instructor

ART 230 Issues in Art and Crime
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will cover the major current and historic issues dealing with art and crime. After a discussion of the value of art in our world, the course will cover five main topics: theft, repatriation (including issues of national ownership and cultural property), vandalism and restoration, fakes and forgeries, and censorship and freedom of expression. Through lectures, slide presentations, documentaries, classroom discussion and student presentations, the course will study these main issues by using a wide variety of specific case studies in order to frame the current issues facing the preservation and continued enjoyment of art in our world today. The critical issue of who controls art and how it is displayed and protected will also be addressed. The class is intended to make students critically assess the issues facing artists, collectors, museums, and nations in reducing crime and conserving the artistic heritage of everyone, today and in the future.

Prerequisites: ENG 101

ART 241 Forensic Drawing
3 hours, 3 credits

This course is designed to teach students the necessary skills to put their artistic ability to work in law enforcement. This course will provide students with the basic drawing, technological, and analytical skills that are the foundation of forensic drawing. Students who complete the course will be conversant in the tools and knowledge used by forensic artists worldwide. The course also incorporates writing and research components, which involve the study of the history of forensic art. (Note: This course has a $15.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ART 111
ART 301 Problems in Modern Art
3 hours, 3 credits
Research in special problems in modern art. Interpretations of works of art through the writings of artists and critics.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, any 100-level art history course.

BASIC SKILLS (FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE)
These courses are generally offered during the summer and winter intersessions for students who are working towards skills-certification.

ISC 010 Basic Skills Immersion: College Orientation
3 hours, no credit
Orientation to academic requirements, student services, issues in general education and career planning. Study skills, time management, and adjustment to the college environment. Use of academic facilities: the Library, Writing Center, Academic Computing Center, Reading Skills Laboratory, and Mathematics Laboratory. Authorized grades: P, R, and W.

ISM 010 Basic Skills Immersion: Mathematics
3 hours, no credit

ISR 010 Basic Skills Immersion: Reading
3 hours, no credit
Intensive practice in comprehension and analysis of texts. Metacognitive approaches to improving reading. Preparation for the CUNY Assessment Test on Reading. Classes supplemented by tutoring in the Communication Skills Center. Authorized grades: P, R, and W.

ISW 010 Basic Skills Immersion: Writing
3 hours, no credit

BIOLOGY (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

BIO 101 Paced Modern Biology I-A
3 hours, 2 credits
Paced Modern Biology I-A is the first course in the two-semester alternative to Modern Biology I for those students who do not place into Biology 103. The series is an in-depth exploration of the basic properties of living systems on the molecular, cellular, and organismic levels. Topics in Biology 1-A include cell structure and function, structure and function of macromolecules, energetic, cellular respiration and photosynthesis. The entire 101/102 series must be completed in order to receive credit as a general education science equivalent.
Prerequisite: BIO 101 is available to students who do not place into BIO 103 and are majoring in Forensic Science

BIO 102 Paced Modern Biology I-B
6 hours; 3 hours lecture, 3 hours laboratory; 3 credits
Paced Modern Biology I-B is a two-semester alternative to Modern Biology I for those students who do not place into Biology 103. The series is an in-depth exploration of the basic properties of living systems on the molecular, cellular, and organismic levels. Topics in Biology 1-B include gene structure, function, and regulation. In the laboratory students will learn basic laboratory skills and experimental techniques, including measurement, identification of macromolecules, genetic crosses, and forensic DNA analysis. The entire 101/102 series must be completed in order to receive credit as a general education science equivalent.
Prerequisites: BIO 101 and majoring in Forensic Science
2 COURSES OFFERED

BIO 103 Modern Biology I
7 1/2 hours; 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 5 credits

Modern Biology I is the first half of an in-depth exploration of the basic properties of living systems on the molecular and cellular levels. Students will be introduced to cell structure, metabolism and respiration, photosynthesis, and genetics. Representative organisms from the prokaryotic and eukaryotic kingdoms are studied in detail. The laboratory portion of the course is designed to reinforce the concepts taught in the lecture and to teach basic laboratory skills. This course is designed for students with a science background and for Forensic Science majors. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: SAT Verbal score of 520 or higher or completion of the New York State Biology Regents with a score of at least 80%. Students who did not take the Biology Regents will need departmental permission.

BIO 104 Modern Biology II
7 1/2 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

This course is the second half of the Modern Biology sequence. It continues the in-depth exploration of the basic properties of living systems on the molecular, cellular, and organismal levels. In addition, evolution and ecology are introduced. Representative organisms from the plant and animal kingdoms are studied in detail. The laboratory portion of the course emphasizes phylogeny and teaches basic microscopy and dissection skills. This course is designed for students with a science background and for Forensic Science majors. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: BIO 103, or BIO 101-102 or equivalent with an average grade of 2.0 or higher in the two courses

BIO 255 The Biology of Gender and Sexuality
(Same course as GEN 255)
3 hours, 3 credits

This course approaches the issues of gender and sexuality from the perspective of the biological sciences. By exploring the evolutionary origins of sexual reproduction, students will gain new insights into how and why sex and gender differences in animals, including humans, came to be. By gaining a solid grounding in basic sex-specific anatomy, physiology, and endocrinology, students will have a framework to consider several further topics, such as: gender-based medicine and the masculinized state of priorities in the biomedical industry; hermaphroditism, transexualism, and sexual reassignment; and reproductive biology and medicine. Finally, the course will examine sexual orientation and the study of its biological nature and origin, both in humans and in the animal world.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, NSC107 or BIO103 or, BIO 101 - 102

BIO 315 Genetics
3 hours, 3 credits

Genetics is an introduction to the field of modern genetics. Topics are drawn from classical, molecular and population genetics and include the nature of genetic variation, genetic disorders, genomics, recombinant DNA and genetic engineering techniques. Emphasis is placed on quantitative analysis and problem solving.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, BIO 103-104 or BIO 101-102 and BIO 104, and MAT 301

BIO 355 Human Physiology
3 hours, 3 credits

This lecture course will explore the molecular physiological function of the cells, tissues, organs, and organ systems of the human body. Special attention will be paid to homeostasis and the integrated coordination of these diverse organ systems, the pathophysiology of common diseases, and pharmacological strategies to treat the underlying pathology. In addition to in-class examinations, students will research and deliver class presentations on diseases throughout the semester.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, BIO 104, and CHE 102 or 103

BIO 356 Human Anatomy and Physiology Laboratory
3 hours, 2 credits

The course will provide students with a hands-on exploration of the structure and physiology of the human body by using various dissecting models, sheep organs, microscope slides, and preserved rats. There will also be exploration of human physiology and physiological experiments on, and dissection of, live frogs. The course will begin with a discussion on the ethics of live dissections and the use of animals in scientific and medical research. The course will then continue with an introduction to anatomy and its various branches. The course will connect anatomical structure to physiological function and then to pathophysiology of special topics including pregnancy, injury, aging, and disease states.

Prerequisite or Co-requisite: BIO 355

BIO 412 Molecular Biology I
9 hours: 3 hours lecture, 6 hours laboratory; 4 credits

Molecular Biology I provides an overview of the current concepts and techniques in molecular biology. Lecture topics include the molecular structure of cells, basic genetic mechanisms, control of gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes, DNA replication, repair and recombination, and protein structure and function. The laboratory experiments introduce basic experimental techniques and research methodology, including cell culture, recombinant DNA techniques, transformation, DNA extraction, electrophoresis, Southern and Western blotting, and DNA sequencing and analysis. (Note: This course has a $40.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, BIO 315, and CHE 315

BIO 413 Molecular Biology II
9 hours: 3 hours lecture, 6 hours laboratory; 4 credits

BIO 413 consists of lectures and laboratory experiments in molecular biology with special emphasis placed on forensic DNA analysis. Lecture topics include an overview of forensic biology, statistics and population genetics including: sample collection; bioethics; DNA extraction, quantitation, and typing; databases; lab validation including quality assurance and quality control, and emerging technologies. Laboratory experiments introduce advanced experimental techniques such as autosomal STR and “linkage markers” (Y-STR and mtDNA) analysis, DNA quantitation, and PCR-STR analysis of simulated “crime scene samples.” (Note: This course has a $40.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and BIO 412

CHEMISTRY (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

CHE 100 Preparation for General Chemistry
3 hours, 1 credit

A course in chemistry to prepare students for the level of work covered in CHE 103-104. Instruction will be given in the fundamental concepts of chemistry. The course provides the requisite skills needed to solve problems. Open to students who have not had high school chemistry or students recommended by the department.

Prerequisite: MAT 103 or the equivalent

CHE 101 General Chemistry I-A
4 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation; 2 credits

This course is primarily intended for students who have not taken high school chemistry or who have received a grade of less than 80% on the New York State Chemistry Regents Examination but are interested in being a Forensic Science or Fire Science major, or are interested in developing a strong knowledge base of general chemistry principles. The course provides students with a better understanding of the chemical world around us and is a prerequisite for more advanced chemistry courses. CHE 101 is the first semester of the two-semester CHE 101-102 sequence, which is equivalent in content to CHE 103 but done at a slower pace with emphasis on developing needed skills. Topics include: a review of basic mathematical tools used in chemistry, the structure of the atom, stoichiometric calculations, aqueous solutions, gases, and an introduction to the periodic table of elements. Open to students who have not had high school chemistry, or who received a grade of C or lower in high school chemistry, or who received a grade of less than 80% on the Chemistry Regents. The entire 101-102 series must be completed in order to receive credit as a general education science equivalent.

Prerequisites: Open to students who have not had high school chemistry, or who received a grade of C or lower in high school chemistry, or who received a grade of less than 80% on the Chemistry Regents.
Co-requisite: MAT 104 or MAT 105
CHE 102 General Chemistry I-B
7 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 3 credits

This course is the second semester of the CHE 101-102 sequence. Topics include the hydrogen atom, electron configurations, Lewis structures, theories of bonding, thermochemistry, properties of pure liquids and solids, solutions, and colligative properties. Laboratory exercises will include small scale, semi-quantitative experiments related to the lecture topics covered in the CHE 101-102 sequence. The entire 101-102 series must be completed in order to receive credit as a general education science equivalent.

Prerequisite: CHE 101. This course is restricted to Forensic Science majors.

CHE 103 General Chemistry I
7 1/2 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 5 credits

This is a basic course in chemistry dealing with modern atomic and molecular theory. It introduces the basic properties and reactions of the elements and the compounds, which will be explored in greater detail in General Chemistry II. Laboratory exercises stress principles of qualitative and semi-quantitative experimentation. They will foster a better understanding of chemical principles and ensure that the necessary skills are developed to work in a scientific laboratory safely and effectively. This course is designed for students with a science background and for Forensic Science and Fire Science majors. Regents level high school chemistry is highly desired. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: Placement into MAT 141 or higher, or placement into MAT 104 or MAT 105 and a score of 80% or higher on the New York State Chemistry Regents. Students who did not take the Chemistry Regents will need departmental permission.

CHE 104 General Chemistry II
7 1/2 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

This is the second half of beginning chemistry. It builds on the basic properties and reactions of the elements and the compounds learned in the first semester of general chemistry and ends with an introduction to organic chemistry. The laboratory stresses principles of qualitative and semi-quantitative experimentation and fosters competence in the skills needed to work safely and effectively in a scientific laboratory. This course is designed for students with a science background and for Forensic Science and Fire Science majors. Regents level high school chemistry is desired. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: CHE 103, or an average grade of 2.0 or better in CHE 101-102 or equivalent, and completion of MAT 104 or MAT 105 or equivalent

CHE 201-202 Organic Chemistry
7 1/2 hours each: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

Introductory study of properties and behavior of organic molecules including, nomenclature, structure and bonding, reaction mechanisms, synthetic methods, and modern spectroscopic techniques for structural analysis. Concurrent laboratory work utilizing modern semi-micro methodology for synthesis, purification and analysis. (Note: This course has a $30.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and CHE 104, which is a prerequisite for CHE 201. CHE 201 is a prerequisite for CHE 202.

CHE 220 Quantitative Analysis
9 hours: 3 hours lecture, 6 hours laboratory; 4 credits

A balanced treatment of the classical methods of gravimetric and volumetric analysis, including acid-base, precipitation, complexometric and redox titrations. (Note: This course has a $30.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and CHE 104

CHE 301 Physical Chemistry I
6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 2 hours laboratory; 3 credits

An introductory course in thermodynamics and chemical kinetics including, ideal and real gases, laws of thermodynamics, changes of state, first- and second-order reactions, reaction rate theory, and catalysis.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, CHE 104, PHY 203-204, and MAT 241
CHE 302 Physical Chemistry II
6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 2 hours laboratory, 1 hour recitation; 3 credits
Introductory quantum chemistry. Schrödinger equation; molecular orbital and valence bond theory; electrical and magnetic properties of matter; theoretical and applied spectroscopy; introductory ligand field theory.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, CHE 104, PHY 203-204, and MAT 241

CHE 310 Scientific Arson Investigation
3 hours lecture, 3 credits
An introduction to the problems and techniques of fire investigation. The chemistry of fire and the combustion properties of selected fuels. Emphasis on investigative methods and on the application and assistance of various scientific aids available to the fire investigator.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, a one-year college-level course in general chemistry and an introductory course in organic chemistry

CHE 315 Biochemistry
6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits
This course provides a fundamental and detailed introduction to modern biochemistry. Lecture topics include amino acids and proteins, nucleic acids, lipids, carbohydrates, classical bioenergetics and metabolism. Emphasis is placed on contemporary applications of protein and nucleic acid biochemistry. Forensic applications of and special topics in biochemistry are integrated with the course material. Modern laboratory procedures in biochemistry, including biomolecular purification, analysis, and spectroscopic thermodynamic and kinetic techniques are introduced. Current methods of graphical presentation and mathematical analysis of experimental data are applied. (Note: This course has a $35.00 material fee)
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, BIO 104, CHE 201-202, PHY 204, and MAT 242

CHE 320-321 Instrumental Analysis
9 ½ hours: 1 ½ hours lecture, 8 hours laboratory; 4 credits
Introduction to instrumental analysis of physical evidence. Emphasis on the theory and use of those analytical instruments commonly found in forensic and other quantitative industrial and clinical laboratories. Laboratory methods include ultraviolet and infrared spectrophotometry, emission spectrography, X-ray diffractometry, thin-layer and gas chromatography and the use of electronic test equipment for troubleshooting. (Note: This course has a $40.00 material fee)
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, CHE 104, CHE 201-202, CHE 230, PHY 204, and MAT 242.
Prerequisite or co-requisite: CHE 302

CHE 450 Independent Study
Hours to be arranged, 3 credits
Intense study and research in a specific area directed by a faculty member. Advanced laboratory techniques and research methodologies are utilized.
Prerequisites: Permission of the instructor and completion of sophomore-level science courses. Special arrangements may be made to do this work over the summer.

CHINESE (DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES)

CHI 101 Elementary Chinese
3 hours, 10 lab hours per semester; 3 credits
This course is for students with little or no previous knowledge of Mandarin Chinese. Mandarin Chinese will be introduced through intensive drills of its oral and written forms. Emphasis is placed on speaking and basic grammar as well as the formation of the characters. It will focus on the most essential language items, such as sound patterns, sentence structures and basic vocabulary, which are useful in everyday Chinese conversation. No credit will be given for CHI 101 if taken after the completion of CHI 102.
CHI 102 Elementary Chinese II
3 hours, 10 lab hours per semester; 3 credits
This is the second semester of Elementary Chinese in Mandarin. In CHI 102, the students will learn more Chinese sentence structure, more basic vocabulary and more Chinese grammar, which are useful in everyday conversation. There will be a greater emphasis on oral exercises in class and more Chinese writing after class.

Prerequisite: CHI 101 or equivalent

COMMUNICATION SKILLS (DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE ARTS)

COM 101 Communication Skills 101
3 hours, 0 credit
Designed for students who require significant instruction in basic reading skills. Students read books focused on a topic selected by the instructor. Classroom activities emphasize strategies for improving reading comprehension and vocabulary. Students are required to complete 10 hours of independent study in the Reading and Study Skills Center. A grade of P is the only authorized passing grade for this course.

Prerequisite: By appropriate placement test score

3 hours, 1 credit
Designed for students who need to develop a higher degree of competence in coping with college texts. Emphasis is on advanced exercises in comprehension and vocabulary with an introduction to basic study skills. Students are required to complete 10 hours of independent study in the Reading and Study Skills Center. A grade of P is the only authorized passing grade for this course.

Prerequisite: COM 101 or by the appropriate placement test score

COM 110 Techniques of College Learning
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is designed for the student who needs to acquire the necessary study skills and techniques that a college-level student needs in order to be both effective and efficient. Emphasis will be placed upon the following areas: problem solving, organization, note taking, study habits, critical reading, S.Q. 3R, test taking and library research.

COM 120 Computer Competence and Information Literacy
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is designed for students who need to acquire introductory computer and information literacy skills. The students will achieve competence in basic computer skills including keyboarding, word processing, e-mailing and Internet access. Students will also develop information literacy skills, having the ability to understand the variety of content and formats of information, and competence in accessing, evaluating, organizing and applying it. Reinforcement of these competencies will be gained during a 10-hour computer lab experience.

COMPUTER LITERACY (DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE)

CLT 101 Computer Literacy
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the concepts and skills that enable the student to use personal and mainframe computers as a consumer or to progress to more advanced work in many disciplines in the sciences and humanities. Students will use personal computers as well as learn how to access the large mainframe system. The course explores the computer as a research tool, its role in modern society, and examines its organizational, social and ethical implications.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION (OFFICE OF INTERNSHIPS AND COOPERATIVE EDUCATION)

CEP 390-391 Cooperative Education Program
3 hours, 3 credits
Independent study with a member of the faculty, open to students in the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Cooperative Education Program. Individual conferences with the faculty sponsor, readings appropriate to the agency placement and an analytical essay or research paper. (Offered every semester for students selected to participate in Cooperative Education with participating federal law enforcement agencies.)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and admission to the Cooperative Education Program

CORRECTIONS (DEPARTMENT OF LAW, POLICE SCIENCE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION)

COR 101 Introduction to Corrections

3 hours, 3 credits

This course is intended as an introduction to the corrections system and will provide an overview of current institutional practices, policies and legal issues. The course focuses on the relation of corrections to the criminal justice system, theories underlying correctional practice and the role of institutions within the corrections system. Specifically, this course provides an overview of the field of corrections. It reviews the historical development of crime and corrections, sentencing, jails, prisons, correctional policies, agencies, prison life, and challenges facing correctional populations. It will further explore the principles and practices of treatment accorded to offenders in various types of correctional settings.

COR 201 The Law and Institutional Treatment

3 hours, 3 credits

The process of law from arrest to release from confinement in its relation to correctional principles and practices. Functions of the police, defense, prosecution, courts, probation, correction, parole. Civil rights of the accused and the convicted. Legal documents relating to commitment, bail, fines and writs.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, sophomore standing or above and one of the following: COR 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101, or ICJ 101

COR 202 The Administration of Correctional Programs for Juveniles

3 hours, 3 credits

Problems, procedures and policies in the administration of juvenile detention centers, youth houses and state training schools; the probation service in juvenile courts; halfway houses and aftercare supervision; special institutions for defective delinquents and youthful narcotics addicts; the Borstal and “approved school” programs in England. Field trips to juvenile institutions.

COR 230 Sex Offenders in the Criminal Justice System (Same course as PSC 230)

3 hours, 3 credits

The aim of this course is to develop an understanding of the causes of sexual crimes and the treatment of sex offenders throughout the criminal justice process. There is an analysis of the laws that relate to sex offenders and the cyclical nature of sex offender legislation. The course examines the difficulty of balancing rights of the offenders and rights of the community, as well as what forms of community protection are viable for these individuals. By the end of the course, students should have an understanding of sex offender typologies, types of treatment offered, laws and policies regarding sex crimes, and the likely future direction of legislation.

COR 250 Rehabilitation of the Offender

3 hours, 3 credits

Through examination of the literature, this course will explore correctional programs designed to rehabilitate offenders. The study of both institutional treatment models and community-based models will include family intervention, counseling, self-help programs, diversion, house arrest, community service, probation, halfway houses and others.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, sophomore standing or above, and one of the following: CRJ 101, CJBS 101, COR 101 or ICJ 101

COR 282 Principles of Correctional Operations

3 hours, 3 credits

Basic organization and objectives of a department of correction. Specific administrative principles required for the effective conduct and operation of a correctional organization. Relationships among the following institutional units: custodial force, treatment staff, clerical, culinary and maintenance staff.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, junior standing or above, and one of the following: CRJ 101, CJBS 101, COR 101 or ICJ 101

COR 303 Comparative Correction Systems

3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides an overview of correctional systems and methods adopted by selected foreign countries and describes similarities and differences in philosophy.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, junior standing or above, and one of the following: CRJ 101, CJBS 101, COR 101 or ICJ 101, or permission of the section instructor

COR 310 Fieldwork in Corrections

3 hours, 3 credits

Supervised fieldwork in a variety of correctional settings—both juvenile and adult; assignments are made to institutions and to community-based programs; biweekly workshops with correction faculty.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and COR 201, or junior standing or above

COR 320 Race, Class and Gender in a Correctional Context

3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of the role of race, class and gender within the institutional correctional community. Analysis of the impact upon clients, staff and administration through examination of current correctional institutions and case studies by selected corrections experts.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and COR 101, and junior standing or above

COR 401 Evaluating Correctional Methods and Programs

3 hours, 3 credits

Developing criteria and standards; application of quantitative measures; operational evaluations; probability and types of error; prediction and decision making; experimental designs; post-program follow-up.

COR 402 Administration of Community-based Corrections Programs

3 hours, 3 credits

Problems of work-release and school-release programs for institutional inmates; administration of halfway houses; nonresidential programs for probationers, parolees, and drug abusers; community residences for juvenile offenders; supervision of foster care programs.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, COR 202, and senior standing, or permission of the instructor

COR 410 Independent Study

(Same course as CRJ 410, LAW 410 and PSC 410)

3 hours, 3 credits

A program of reading and reporting planned and carried out under the guidance of a faculty member. The topic, issue or area of student interest must concern a problem in criminal justice, constitutional or criminal law or procedure, corrections (including probation and parole) or law enforcement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and majoring in Correctional Studies

COR 415 Major Works in Corrections

3 hours, 3 credits

A capstone course that explores in depth seminal works in corrections. Students will read primary materials written by “masters” of correctional thought and practice and will prepare critical reviews of the major works.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and COR 201

COR 430 Senior Seminar in Correctional Studies

3 hours, 3 credits

This is a senior seminar in corrections that is based on readings and discussion of writings relevant to correctional practices, and in particular those that pertain to rehabilitation, reentry and reintegration. Different approaches to rehabilitation and reintegration of offenders are discussed in the context of contemporaneous developments in social sciences, and punitive ideologies that govern correctional policy in recent decades.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, COR 101, COR 201, and senior standing

COUNSELING (DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING)

CSL 110 Career Development for the College Student

3 hours, 1 credit

A critical examination of different occupational areas combined with a realistic self-examination by students of their own needs, interests and skills in order to formulate valid career choices. Emphasis is on occupations in urban areas and careers in the criminal justice system. Attention is also given to the career development of women and members of minority groups. The course includes guest lecturers from governmental agencies and private industry. Students have a minimum of one individual career planning session with the instructor.

CSL 112 Personal Development – The College Experience

3 hours, 3 credits

An introductory course designed to assist students in coping effectively with specific difficulties encountered in the early stages of their college career. Major emphasis is on self-awareness, value clarification, decision making and effective planning for career selection.

Prerequisite: Open only to entering freshmen placed in communication skills and developmental English courses

CSL 150 Foundations of Human Services Counseling

3 hours, 3 credits

Foundations of Human Services Counseling provides an overview of the careers in human service and the skills, theories and techniques utilized by those who work in this field. The course focuses on how individuals, government and community systems interact with respect to fostering and resolving human problems. Students will acquire foundational helping skills while examining the struggles and demands human service providers are likely to experience. Self-understanding and self-reflection is emphasized as a vehicle for personal and professional growth. Students will examine the different strategies, and conceptual theories utilized in the human services counseling process. Emphasis is placed on the ethical, legal, multicultural, and gender issues that must be considered in all professional helping relationships.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and PSY 101

CSL 210 Peer Counseling Training

3 hours, 3 credits

A practical survey of counseling approaches and techniques designed to provide skills in the academic and peer counseling of fellow students. Major emphasis is on examining assumptions about helping, building basic observational and communication skills, facilitating and examining various helping techniques. Participants will have an opportunity to learn and practice these skills in a variety of role-playing situations, lectures, experiential exercises, group discussion and contact with resource persons.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, sophomore standing or above, a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0, and an interview with the section instructor, or permission of the section instructor

CSL 211 Peer Counseling Practicum

3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides a training experience in academic and peer counseling for John Jay undergraduate students. Students are required to work as peer counselors for a minimum of four hours per week under the supervision of a faculty member from the counseling department. Attendance at weekly seminars involving lectures, discussions, films, role playing and tapes is also required. In addition, students must submit a major research paper for the course.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and CSL 210
CSL 220 Leadership Skills
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will focus on developing leadership skills. Students will learn effective interpersonal techniques for conducting group meetings including conflict management skills and parliamentary procedure. The course will focus on the impact of ethnic, racial and gender issues in groups and organizations and their effect on leadership. Several class sessions will involve experiences, which will explore facilitative leadership styles, impediments to effective communication, self-awareness and listening for hidden agendas. Videotape equipment will be used to give students the opportunity to learn how their behavior affects others.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

CSL 230 Case Management in Human Services
3 hours, 3 credits
The course introduces students to the practice of case management. Topics include the roles and functions of a case manager; organizational context, current models of case management; ethical and legal issues; professional development of the case manager; and approaches to assessment and service delivery. Students will have the opportunity to construct a client case file, which includes the development, implementation, and evaluation of a social-service treatment plan for a particular client or population.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, CSL 150, and CSL 235

CSL 233 Multicultural Issues in Human Services
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an interdisciplinary introduction to multicultural issues in human service helping professions. The central focus will be a critical evaluation of cultural competence on both individual and organizational levels in human service institutions. The impact of one's own level of cultural awareness and bias toward self and others will be examined within the context of how cultural, social, economic, political and historical factors influence these institutions. Additionally, the course will explore how various relevant terms, including multiculturalism, diversity, race, culture and ethnicity have come to be defined and applied from diverse perspectives. Through the use of reflective writing, narrative analysis, discussion, and experiential teaching methods, the course will engage participants in development of cultural self-awareness, general knowledge about cultural groups and organizational cultural competence in the human service profession.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, PSY 101, and CSL 150 or permission of the instructor

CSL 235 Theories and Interventions of Human Services Counseling
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an overview of the history, theory, and methodology of human services counseling. The course focuses on the theories and interventions that have become commonplace when working with individuals, families, groups and organizations within the human services realm. Students will be introduced to the principles of risk and needs assessment, stress and emergency management, resource management, and individual and community advocacy in order to interface with government, private, and non-profit social service agencies. Case examples and excerpts will be used to illustrate the principles of human service intervention and to expose students to what professionals in the field may say, do and think when working with diverse client populations and organizations.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, PSY 101, and CSL 150 or permission of the instructor

CSL 331 Assessment and Clinical Evaluation in Chemical Dependency Counseling (Same course as PSY 331)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will focus on assessment of addictive disorders, and clinical evaluation of substance and alcohol abusers. Application of assessment and clinical evaluation findings will be made to treatment planning, case management, discharge planning and clinical record keeping. These assessment and evaluation methods and findings will be applied to chemical dependency counseling techniques. While this course is intended for Addiction Studies Program (ASP) students, who are pursuing their Credential in Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Counseling (CASAC), other students with an interest in assessment and clinical evaluation in chemical dependency are invited to enroll.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 266, and PSY 268
CSL 342 Introduction to Counseling Psychology
(Same course as PSY 342)
3 hours, 3 credits
Provides a theoretical survey of the field of counseling. Major emphasis is on such topics as ethical considerations, the intake interview, counselor roles and client roles, goals of counseling, referrals and liaisons in community, vocational counseling, tests and instruments used in the counseling process, academic counseling and research on the counseling process. Differences between counseling and psychotherapy are discussed. Field trips to various counseling centers are arranged.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 242, and PSY 243

CSL 350 Advanced Topics in Chemical Dependency Counseling (Same course as PSY 350)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides instruction in specific counseling concepts and skills focused upon alcoholism and substance abuse counseling. Students learn about client assessment, treatment planning, case management, clinical record keeping, discharge planning, counseling roles and settings, family and community education, and vocational counseling.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 266, PSY 268 and CSL/PSY 331

CSL 360 Counseling in Gender and Work Life
3 hours, 3 credits
In this course, students will explore the meanings of gender, race, ethnicity, class and sexual orientation, and their role in vocational development and career choice. We will address how the formal and informal types of social control associated with these categories operate in psychological development, vocational choice, and the workplace. This course is interdisciplinary, so articles from a variety of disciplines, including counseling, psychology, economics, sociology and anthropology will be read to better understand the changing roles and expectations of men and women. Each of these interdisciplinary readings will be discussed within the framework of counseling theory.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and CSL 235, minimum GPA of 2.5, and permission of the instructor

CSL 363 Vocational Development and Social Justice in Human Services
3 hours, 3 credits
The course introduces students to the field of career development within a human services context. Topics include the roles and functions of a career counselor; the role of work in society currently and historically; the impact of recession and unemployment on individuals, families and communities; current models of career choice and development; ethical and legal issues; professional development; and career assessment and program implementation. Students will create vocational genograms and take career assessments in order to explore their own career development, allowing for the integration of vocational theory with their own personal life experiences.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and CSL 150

CSL 381-382 Fieldwork in Human Service
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an applied fieldwork experience in community-based human service programs and agencies. This course is designed to provide students the opportunity to develop a practical understanding of the human service delivery system and its relevance to local, state and national social service policy. Students draw connections between theory and practice and actively participate and support efforts to assist individuals and programs that address populations in need. The practicum experience heightens student awareness of the skills required of an effective human service provider and affords them the opportunity to determine their appropriateness for the profession. Students will provide 8-10 hours per week of service and attend assigned supervision meetings throughout the semester. Assigned readings, fieldwork logs and a culminating research paper/project will be required.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, CSL 235, minimum GPA of 2.5, and permission of the instructor
2 COURSES OFFERED

CRIMINAL JUSTICE BA (SEE DEPARTMENT OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE)

CJBA 110 Introduction to Major Problems in Criminal Justice I
3 hours, 3 credits
This is the first semester of a year-long introductory sequence on major problems in criminal justice. The focus of the first semester is on the definition of crime and major crime strategies. The overarching aim of this course is to familiarize students with the sorts of questions researchers ask and how they go about answering them. Students will be asked to read original research and data, and to use these materials to construct hypotheses and original research questions.

CJBA 111 Introduction to Major Problems in Criminal Justice II
3 hours, 3 credits
This is the second semester of a year-long introductory sequence of major problems in criminal justice. The focus of the spring semester is on the operation of the legal system and major dilemmas in policing. The overarching aim of this course is to familiarize students with the sorts of questions researchers ask and how they go about answering them. Students will be asked to read original research and data, and to use these materials to construct hypotheses and original research questions.

CJBA 120 Dimensions of Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course asks what we mean by justice. In particular, it asks what we add to the concept of justice when we speak of criminal justice. Drawing on readings from the Bible, the Qu’ran, Plato, Aristotle, Locke, Kant, Bentham, Rawls, and others, the course examines concepts central to justice generally and criminal justice in particular. It examines terms such as lex talionis (often rendered as “an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth”) and the justice/mercy distinction that Shakespeare draws in The Merchant of Venice. It also considers specific types of justice—in particular, corrective justice, retributive justice, restorative justice, and distributive justice.

Prerequisite: CJBA 110

CJBA 210 Criminal Responsibility
3 hours, 3 credits
This course focuses on the concept of criminal responsibility, a concept fundamental to the purpose and functioning of the criminal justice system. It examines the policy choices central to the allocation of criminal responsibility, and the ethical dilemma between the need to control deviant behavior and the value of individual freedom. With the aid of significant court cases, students will analyze complex legal issues, such as responsibility for unintended consequences, considered but unfulfilled criminal goals, and the action of others. During this process, they will learn to understand and critique legal arguments. Emphasis will be given, through both classroom discussion and written assignments, on developing analytical, ethical and critical reasoning skills. Students will also begin to develop their own research agenda in the field of criminal law and the operation of courts.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and CJBA 111

CJBA 220 Race, Gender, Ethnicity, Crime and Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
The course combines the perspectives on formal and informal social divisions with theories of crime, punishment and justice. It examines and critically analyzes the reflexive relationship between social constructions of race, ethnicity, gender, crime and justice.

Prerequisite: ENG 101 and CJBA 111

CJBA 230 Understanding Criminal Behavior
3 hours, 3 credits
This interdisciplinary course focuses on the scientific study of criminal situations and criminal behavior in four parts. First, it will discuss the importance of measuring crime and review the major sources that collect information about crime including the FBI’s Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) and the National Crime Victimization Survey (NCVS). Second, it will examine punishment philosophy and review retributive, deterrence, rehabilitation and incapacitation models. Third, it will examine the historical, political, and empirical trends leading to theory development. Finally it will examine the major criminological theories from biology, economics, psychology, and sociology and focus especially on neo-classical approaches that seek to manipulate environments to reduce and/or prevent criminal behavior.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and CJBA 111
CJBA 240 Quantitative Inquiry of Problems in Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides a foundation to quantitative inquiry and problem solving in criminal justice. Specific attention is paid to analyzing administrative and observational data about crime, punishment, and justice. The basics of statistical analysis, data production, data manipulation, procedures for displaying data for quantitative inquiry, problem solving, and analysis are covered. The course will include the use of software applications for data manipulation.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, MAT 108 or 141, and CJBA 111

CJBA 250 Crime Prevention and Control
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will introduce students to the theory and practice of various approaches to crime prevention and control. It will explore innovative, practical, and powerful ways to address crime including situational crime prevention; problem-oriented policing; hot spot policing; “broken windows” policing and focused deterrence. It will offer clear examples of effective crime prevention and control strategies and explore related policy issues concerning race, class, gender, and social justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and CJBA 111

CJBA 361 Rights of the Accused
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores the evolution and interpretation of the legal rights of the accused, as embodied in the Bill of Rights and the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Focusing on controversial court decisions, students will be introduced to major theories of rights and constitutional analysis. They will also evaluate the policy choices implicit in judicial efforts to balance society’s desire for security against the individual's need for protection from governmental abuse. Students will learn to identify, summarize and critique constitutional theories and arguments.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; CRJ 101, CJBS 101, or CJBA 111; CJBA 120, and CJBA 210 or permission of instructor

CJBA 362 Historical Perspectives on Violent Crime in the United States
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the changing nature of crime in American history from the middle of the 19th century to the end of the 20th century. It focuses on crime by the different racial and ethnic groups that have played a significant role in America's crime history. Crime by these groups will be studied in the context of westward migration, slavery, racial segregation, urbanization, immigration, industrialization, Prohibition, the Great Depression, the World Wars, the black migrations, the Civil Rights movement, the social turmoil of the 1960s, and the “new” immigration of the post-1960s era.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and CJBA 230 or SOC 203 or HIS 202

CJBA 363 Space, Crime and Place: Methods, Applications and Theory
3 hours, 3 credits
Spatial regression analysis is a collection of statistical methods specifically designed to address problems of spatial dependence in cross-sectional and panel data. They are often used to analyze the relationship of human action and the physical environment. Descriptive spatial statistics, spatial weights, and spatial autocorrelation, as well as theoretical approaches to the use of spatial data are explored. Spatial statistics will be used to analyze the influence of space on crime and justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and STA 250 or CJBA 240

CJBA 410 Senior Thesis I
3 credits, 3 hours
This first Senior Thesis course will provide structured guidance to thesis-track senior students in the Criminal Justice BA program in the craft of proposing a research study. Students will select a topic and develop a research proposal under a Faculty Mentor. They will review scientific literature, formulate relevant hypothesis, plan analytical strategies, and report to the Faculty Mentor in regular meetings. Ethical issues in research involving human subjects and vulnerable populations, including the role of IRB oversight, will be examined. Pilot testing of instruments and collection of preliminary data may also be required. Students will produce a formal research
CJBA 411 Senior Thesis II
3 credits, 3 hours
This second Senior Thesis course provides structured guidance to thesis-track senior students in the Criminal Justice BA program in the execution of a previously approved research proposal and the production of an academic report. Students will engage in data collection and analysis, evidence-based logical reasoning and argument formation, elaboration of data-informed policy recommendations, and identification of design limitations under a Faculty Mentor. Academic writing, related documentation processes, and protection of human subjects will also be emphasized. Students will produce the bachelor’s thesis at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, CJBA 410, senior standing and permission of instructor

CJBS 250 Research Methods and Statistics for Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will present the research process, types of studies, appropriate descriptive statistical techniques and guidelines for formulating research questions and testable hypotheses. It will also review how to decide on an appropriate population for study, how variables are constructed, and how data are collected and organized, and discuss sampling methods and sample size. A variety of research methods will be covered, including experimental, quasi-experimental and survey methods, as well as other forms of data collection and the use of existing databases. Students will also be exposed to qualitative methodologies including ethnography, observation, content-analysis, and interviewing techniques.

Prerequisites: ENG 101; MAT 108 or MAT 141, and CJBS 101 or CRJ 101

CJBS 300 Criminal Justice: Theory in Practice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course builds upon knowledge acquired in previous courses and connects theoretical approaches with practical applications. Students will study a broad array of assessments and evaluations of the policies and programs that have evolved in the field of Criminal Justice. Students will review and analyze experiments such as D.A.R.E., Minneapolis Domestic Violence and Kansas City Preventive Patrol in the light of relevant criminal justice theories. The ultimate goal of the course is to provide students with essential skills for critically evaluating and assessing programs, based on findings from empirical studies and the scholarly literature.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 or 201; CJBS 101 or CRJ 101; and CJBS 250

CJBS 415 Capstone Seminar for BS in Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This capstone seminar is required of all Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice majors. It affords students the opportunity to reexamine and integrate the practical and theoretical knowledge and critical thinking skills acquired over the course of their studies within the major into a meaningful culminating experience. Students will participate in debates central to the understanding of the American criminal justice system. Focusing on reexamination of some prominent criminal justice texts, the course will require students to critically examine in depth an original work relative to its social and political context and to the theoretical and empirical literature. Students will also apply and advance theoretical arguments in oral and written form through an in-depth examination of a current or controversial issue of their choosing such as: the use of force by police, plea bargaining, or mass incarceration.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and CJBS 300

CRIMINAL JUSTICE (DEPARTMENT OF LAW, POLICE SCIENCE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION)

CRJ 101 Introduction to Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
An introductory survey of the American criminal justice system. Discussion of the police, defense and prosecuting attorneys, courts, institutional corrections, community-based corrections, and the juvenile justice system. The definition and the measurement of crime, and various efforts to explain the causes of crime. General issues for consideration include discretion in the administration of criminal justice, due process and contemporary change in the American criminal justice system.

This course is the required prerequisite for all courses in the Criminal Justice major.

CRJ 236 Victimology
(Same course as SOC 236)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course focuses on the victims rather than the offenders: why they have been “rediscovered” recently; why they often do not report crimes to the police; how some victims might share responsibility for the crimes with the offenders; how they can be repaid for their losses through offender restitution and government compensation; and what new services are available to help victims prevent crimes and resist attacks.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and CRJ 101, CJBS 101, or ICJ 101

CRJ 255 Computer Applications in Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to the basic principles of computing with respect to police information systems; computer automation with respect to the penal setting; Interagency Criminal Justice Information Systems; National Criminal Justice Computer Systems; National Law Enforcement Telecommunications Systems (NLETS); the National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS); Offender Based Transaction Statistics (OBTS); National Crime Information Center (NCIC); and other criminal justice databases. Legal and ethical implications for constituent elements and personnel of the criminal justice system are also discussed. Some familiarity with computers is recommended.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, ENG 102 or ENG 201, and CRJ 101, CJBS 101, or ICJ 101

CRJ 321 Police Ethics
(Same course as PHI 321)
3 hours, 3 credits
An identification and analysis of the diverse ethical issues encountered in the police service. Traditional ethical theories will be examined and will be applied to such topics as discretion, deadly physical force, misconduct, authority and responsibility, affirmative action, civil disobedience, undercover operations and privacy.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor

CRJ 322 Judicial and Correctional Ethics
(Same course as PHI 322)
3 hours, 3 credits
A treatment of some of the central issues of judicial and correctional ethics. Traditional ethical theories will be applied to such topics as plea bargaining, bail and preventive detention, wiretapping, enforcement of sexual morality, sentencing, punishment, prisoners’ rights and parole.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor
CRJ 410 Independent Study
(Same course as COR 410, LAW 410 and PSC 410)
3 hours, 3 credits
A program of reading and reporting planned and carried out under the guidance of a faculty member. The topic, issue or area of student interest must concern a problem in criminal justice, constitutional or criminal law or procedure, corrections (including probation and parole) or law enforcement.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing or permission of the section instructor

CRJ 420 Women and Crime
(Same course as SOC 420)
3 hours, 3 credits
A seminar that explores in depth three aspects of the relationship between women and crime: 1) women as offenders, including the range, intensity, and growing nature of female criminality; 2) women as victims of crime, including abused women, rape victims, and the victimization aspects of prostitution; 3) women as social control agents.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, SOC 101, and one of the following: CRJ 101, CJBS 101, PSC 101 or ICJ 101, or permission of the section instructor

CRJ 425 Seminar on Major Works in Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This is a senior seminar based on reading and discussion of writings, which have had a major impact on the development of criminology, criminal legislation and the judiciary, police and corrections. Original works are discussed in the context of contemporaneous developments in natural and social sciences, political ideologies and the history of ideas.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, CRJ 101, CJBS 101, or ICJ 101, and senior standing

DRA 106 Film Appreciation: Introduction to Film
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to the popular art, the movie. An introduction to basic concepts leading to a greater appreciation of film forms, an elaboration and elucidation of selected films.

DRA 110 Introduction to Theatre
3 hours, 3 credits
The course provides an introduction to the study of drama and theatre, including playwriting, directing, acting, design, and technical theatre. Historical influences and production elements and values are explored. The course is designed to enhance the student’s enjoyment and understanding of the theatrical experience. Plays, performances, films, demonstrations and lectures acquaint the students with the history and techniques of the theatrical arts. There may be some opportunity for student performance. No experience in dramatic production is required.

DRA 115 Improvisational Theatre
3 hours, 3 credits
An experimental workshop devoted to the exploration of theatre techniques in the traditions established by Grotowski, the Living Theatre and the Open Theatre, which include role-playing, theatre games, story theatre, street theatre and such related arts as dance, song, puppetry, etc. Students are required to keep a resource book to help develop imaginative material from their own histories, fantasies, dreams, and interests. The course culminates in a performance of a short original work created, directed and acted by the students.

DRA 131 Self, Media, and Society
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a study of the media’s impact on all our lives. Over the semester, we will study a variety of electronic media (social media, movies, television, video games, radio, etc.) and examine the ways these media forms shape our knowledge, lives, and entertainment. Students will deepen their media literacy skills, gain insight into how media messages are constructed, and explore the impact of media on different regions and peoples around the world. Today, understanding the role the media plays in all our lives is essential to our participation in social and political life and the advancement of justice, as well as being a requirement in many workplaces. In this class, students will master a variety of media literacy approaches and engage in individual and group research assignments.

DRA 185 Drama in Production
3 hours, 3 credits
Participation in John Jay production as a performer and backstage as a technician requires substantial contribution of time, talent and cooperation nights and weekends.

Prerequisite: By permission of the instructor only

DRA 201 Introduction to Playwriting
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the art and craft of writing for the stage. As a workshop, the course will examine dramatic writing as a storytelling medium and encourage students to work out unique solutions to challenges confronting playwrights of a one-act play in light of historical, theoretical, and critical materials. The course emphasizes the technical elements of dramatic writing, the vocabulary of the writer, and the nature of the writing experience, from germinal idea to marketing the completed script. Students will be required to complete a series of exercises culminating in the writing of a one-act play. The course will conclude with staged readings of the one-act plays before an audience.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and DRA 110

DRA 205 Contemporary Theatre
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of theatre since World War II. Playwrights considered include Albee, Pinter, Kopit, Genet, Ionesco, Baraka, etc.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

DRA 212 History of the Drama I

A study of both the plays and modes of stage production in the chief dramatic ages from the classical period to about 1800.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

DRA 213 Acting I
3 hours, 3 credits
The art of acting. Units include scene study and improvisations dealing with contemporary themes and problems. Practice in the use of voice and body as instruments of expression. Improvement of the student's skill and ease in playing roles. Student is encouraged to participate in the major production.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and SPE 113 or DRA 115, or permission of the section instructor

DRA 214 Acting II
3 hours, 3 credits
The basic acting problems of analyzing and creating a role. Units include script analysis; exercises in creating plausibility and consistency in characterization; exploration of the areas of motivation and action; and introduction to acting problems in the mounting of a production (blocking, voice projection, etc.). Student is encouraged to participate in the major production.

Prerequisite: DRA 115 or DRA 213, or permission of the section instructor

DRA 217 Latina/o Theatre in the USA (Same course as LLS 217 and SPA 217)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course exposes students to the major acting techniques and styles from the wide spectrum of Latina/o dramaturgy in the United States. Special attention is given to how the creative and literary components of each text contribute to typically Latina/o forms of acting and how these reflect the unique social and political experience of being Latina/o in the United States. The course combines discussion of the specific texts and acting styles with an examination of both the creative and literary components. Course requirements include reading of selected plays in English, performance of scenes in class, and students will perform their own works to be showcased at the end of the semester.

DRA 222 History of the Drama II

3 hours, 3 credits

A study of the drama and theatre from about 1800 to the present—in large part the modern stage—with emphasis on the plays and the methods of staging them.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

DRA 225 Criminal Justice in the Theatre

3 hours, 3 credits

Investigates the portrayal of violence, conflict, crime, criminals, and justice on stage and screen and how such representations shape society’s perception of criminal justice issues; also explores uses of theatrical techniques in conflict intervention, criminal justice rehabilitation, and law enforcement training. Students will read plays, attend theatre productions, and may engage in playwriting and role play as part of their coursework.

DRA 230 African-American Theatre

(Same course as AAD 230)

3 hours, 3 credits

A study of the development of the African-American theatre considering selected works of such playwrights as Langston Hughes, Lorraine Hansberry, James Baldwin, Imanu Amiri Baraka (LeRoi Jones), Ed Billings, Charles Gordone, Douglas Turner Ward, Adrienne Kennedy, Ron Milner, Ben Caldwell, Philip Hayes Dean, Richard Wesley and Joseph A. Walker, as well as such production companies as the Spirit House Players and Movers, the Negro Ensemble Company and the Afro-American Studio Theatre. Plays focusing on such areas as ethnic identity and lifestyles and nationalism will be examined.

DRA 233 Sociodrama I

3 hours, 3 credits

The course introduces students to the fundamentals of sociodrama. Sociodrama is a theater-based methodology widely used today in group problem solving and consensus building. Students explore the theoretical bases of sociodrama through improvisation, role play and theater games as they create scenarios around social issues relevant to the group. Sociodrama techniques, such as freeze frame, role reversal, mirror and sculpting are taught as a means of exploring multiple perspectives to solving problems and assessing options.

DRA 243 Black Female Sexuality in Film

3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines how film both reflects and shapes the perception of society about the sexuality of black women. It explores three black film movements—the pre-Civil Rights era; the 1970s Blaxploitation era; and the black film culture that has emerged since the 1980s—from an historical, sociological, and psychological perspective, illustrating each movement with screenings and discussion. Films are examined from their cultural archetypal “feminine” coding, their “messages” and influence, and how audiences responded to them. The course will also examine films from the economic and social context in which they were made and the conditions under which they were produced. Students will expand their media literacy skills by learning to develop a critical eye as consumers of media images.

DRA 245 Women in Theatre

3 hours, 3 credits

A study of women as characters in plays, as playwrights and as directors, producers, designers, etc. Consideration of women’s situations and personalities as exemplified in the drama and in their achievements in professional theatre.

DRA 261 Video Production Basics
4 hours, 4 credits
This pre-professional course teaches the fundamentals of video production. Students will learn practical techniques for story development, develop skills in camera operation and sound recording, and become proficient in computer-based editing on Final Cut Pro software. Workshop sessions focus on hands-on experience with the equipment, the analysis of clips from award-winning films and the application of knowledge and creativity to individual and group video projects. The ethical implications of the choices made when producing videos are explored.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SPE 113

DRA 301 Directing
3 hours, 3 credits
Introduction to the directing of plays: script analysis, coordination of production elements, consideration of styles and composition, actor relations, rehearsals, blocking and mounting the play.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201

DRA 305 Film Criticism
3 hours, 3 credits
In this course students will master a range of approaches to the study of the cinema. They will watch and study individual films, including thrillers, comedies, musicals and horror movies, and study film movements and national cinemas, such as Asian action films, Bollywood dramas, European art cinema, feminist filmmaking, and cinema from developing nations. Students will apply a range of critical and theoretical approaches to these films and cinema movements, such as historical criticism, auteur theory, genre study, rhetoric, feminist and Marxist criticism, queer theory, postcolonial, and aesthetic theory. Students will generate written and verbal studies of film and deepen their critical, argumentation, and reasoning skills through participation in classroom debates and discussions. The topics explored will vary from semester to semester depending on the instructor’s area of specialization.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and DRA 106 or LIT 275 or permission of the instructor

DRA 310 Topics in Theatre
3 hours, 3 credits
A thorough study of one topic in theatre, such as a single style, playwright, period, or genre. Examples of possible topics for study might be “Chekov and His Influence,” “Expressionism,” or “Greek and Roman Comedy.”

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and a course in drama, or permission of the instructor

DRA 325 Drama Techniques in Crisis Intervention
3 hours, 3 credits
Seminar for instructors who will be training police recruits. Techniques of role-playing in drama in creating an improvised family crisis with which a police officer must deal.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and DRA 213 or junior standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

DRA 346 Documentary Film and Media
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to the history of documentary film and the role it plays in shaping our understanding of the world around us. Through the study of documentary film and TV, docudramas and fictional mockumentaries, students will explore the role of documentary media plays in establishing truths and shaping social realities. This course will explore how forms of documentary media forms present viewers with an argument about the nature of the world around them; examine the role of documentary images as evidence; explore the creative processes that underlie all nonfiction media making; and examine the ethics of documentary making. To deepen their media literacy and understanding of truth and fiction in the media, students will view documentary films and videos and read popular and scholarly texts exploring the historical and theoretical aspects of documentary film and non-fiction media.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and DRA 106

The role of multinational corporations and foreign aid, as well as international institutions such as the International Monetary Fund, World Bank, International Labor Organization and the World Trade Organization are examined. Problems of unsustainable current account deficits and external debt for developing nations are explored. Trade and investment policies are examined from alternative theoretical perspectives, including debates over “free trade” versus “fair trade,” international financial system reform and the impact of globalization on national sovereignty and democratic governance. Lastly, the economies of selected developed, developing and transitional nations are surveyed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ECO 101

ECO 260 Environmental Economics, Regulation and Policy
3 hours, 3 credits

The economic roots of environmental problems such as resource depletion, pollution, toxic wastes, and global warming are explored. The global issues of sustainable development, environmental justice, and the intertwining of poverty and environmental problems are studied. Different environmental standards and decision-making techniques are presented and their relative merits examined. The corrective potential of a variety of policies such as civil and criminal regulation, taxation, tradable permits, auditing, environmental impact requirements and international treaties are analyzed. The implications of alternative theoretical perspectives for public policy are considered.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ECO 101

ECO 265 Introduction to Public Sector Economics
3 hours, 3 credits

Contemporary economic problems provide the context for analyzing the economic role of government from a variety of perspectives. The need for government intervention due to external effects of market transactions, public goods, equity considerations, market power and stabilization needs is explained. The impact upon us of government spending, taxation, money creation and regulation is examined. A variety of techniques such as present valuation and cost benefit analysis are presented. The economic problems considered in the course will include such issues as housing, education, poverty, pollution, discrimination, government fragmentation, social security, and current fiscal, monetary and tax policy debates.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ECO 101

ECO 270 Urban Economics
3 hours, 3 credits

Why cities exist, how their characteristics change over time and how global and national urban networks function are analyzed in the course. Different means of financing city government and related issues such as the impact of globalization, decentralization of government and metropolitan fragmentation on urban finances are explored. A variety of urban problems such as sustainability of cities, housing, health, education, crime, poverty, pollution, labor conditions, discrimination and transportation are studied. The impact of different theoretical perspectives in economics on urban analysis and policy are considered.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ECO 101 or ECO 170, or permission of the section instructor

structor

ECO 333 Sustainability: Preserving the Earth as Human Habitat
3 hours, 3 credits
A sustainable society meets the needs of the present without diminishing the ability of future generations to enjoy the present standard of living. In this course students study how the interactions of economic, political, social and environmental forces challenge the sustainability of global society. Students learn to analyze and critique diverse theoretical perspectives on sustainability. Topics include access to resources, climate change, biodiversity, environmental justice, the illegal economy and the transboundary nature of sustainability issues.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, ECO 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the instructor
JOHN JAY COLLEGE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

ECO 360 Corporate and White-Collar Crime
(Same course as SOC 360)
3 hours, 3 credits

In examining crimes committed by corporations and organizations, as well as individuals in the course of their occupation, this course explores how such crimes are socially defined, who commits them, who is victimized by them, which social contexts promote them, and how society responds to them. The economic, social, and political costs of corporate and white-collar crime are compared to street crime. Other topics include embezzlement, fraud, and theft, which occur within enterprises, “underground” economic activity; criminal violation of antitrust and environmental laws, security, fiduciary and market crimes; and corrupt relationships between business and government. Members of either the economics or sociology faculties teach this course with varying emphasis on the above topics.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, junior standing or above, SOC 203, and one course in economics

ECO 405 Seminar in Economics and Crime
3 hours, 3 credits

This course explores the contributions of economics to the understanding of crime and criminal justice. The perspectives and quantitative analytical techniques of economics are used to examine important issues concerning crime and criminal justice. Topics may include: rational-choice criminology, macroeconomics and crime, Marxian criminology, economic justice, measuring the costs of crime, corruption, organized crime, white-collar crime, environmental crime, illicit drugs, human trafficking, gender and race issues concerning crime, recidivism, the prison industry, and special topics selected by the instructor.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and at least one 300-level course in economics

ENG 201 Composition II: Disciplinary Investigations – Exploring Writing across the Disciplines
3 hours, 3 credits

This composition course introduces students to the rhetorical characteristics of cross-disciplinary writing styles. Instructors choose a single theme and provide students with reading and writing assignments, which address the differing literacy conventions and processes of diverse fields. Students learn how to apply their accumulated repertoire of aptitudes and abilities to the writing situations presented to them from across the disciplines.

Prerequisite: ENG 101 or a transferable course from another institution. Note: ENG 201 is a prerequisite for all courses at the 300-level or above.

ENG 215 Poetry Writing and Reading
3 hours plus conferences, 3 credits

Students learn to write poetry through reading and imitating the techniques of the great poets of the past and present. Use of fixed forms like the limerick, haiku, and sonnet to generate poetry. Variations on standard genres like the nature description, seduction poem, or aubade. Imitating catalogues, extended metaphors, tone of voice. How to publish poetry.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201
ENG 216 Fiction Writing
3 hours, 3 credits
Supervised practice in the writing of fiction, including popular fiction, with classroom analysis and discussion of student work. Strong emphasis on dialogue and characterization techniques. Depending on student interest, specific types of fiction may be considered, such as mystery novels, Gothic romances and science fiction.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

ENG 218 The Writing Workshop
3 hours, 3 credits
Writers work in fiction, poetry, drama, journalism and first-person narrative, sometimes in all of these forms. What are your potentials? What forms are best for you? This course proposes to help you gain confidence in the major forms of written expression and to discover your own writing voices. Do you keep a journal? Do you write down ideas and remembered scenes? Do you like to rhyme? Or do you want to write but don’t know how to start? Learn the skills here, as you share your original work with others and with your instructor in a workshop setting. Create a portfolio of all your revised work at the end of the semester. This course will prepare you for more specialized writing courses. It is also required for the Writing Minor.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ENG 102 or 201

ENG 221 Screenwriting for Film, Television, and Internet
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will introduce students to the methods and practices of contemporary screenwriting as they apply to film, television and internet productions that involve moving images. Students will explore screenwriting’s history, evolution, and relationship to other forms of creative writing and consider the implications and consequences of screenwriting’s relationship to justice issues. They will develop their own screenwriting voices as they master the skills of synopsizing, writing, analyzing, critiquing, editing, revising and rewriting. Successful students will develop an understanding of and appreciation for the key elements of writing for the screen—setting, narrative structure, dialogue, screen direction, and characterization—and will produce written works that are original, well-developed, and production-ready.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; and ENG 218 or DRA 110 or LIT 275 or permission of the instructor

ENG 228 Introduction to Language
(Same course as ANT 228)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an overview of language analysis and general linguistics, leading to an understanding of how language in the legal process applies these principles. The course discusses the formal properties of language, bilingualism, gender and language use, language and culture, and linguistic issues within the criminal justice system. Students will learn how to use the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to transcribe speech and discuss accents and dialects.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and ANT 101, or PSY 101 or SOC 101 or CRJ 101 or CJBS 101

ENG 230 Journalism in the 21st Century
3 hours, 3 credits
This class offers an introduction to the shifting practices and values of the journalism industry. Students will assess how technology has changed the way news is created, delivered and consumed, and explore the powerful implications of such changes in American life. Throughout the course, our focus will be trained on the future of mass communication, and the increasingly essential role of media literacy as information proliferates.
Prerequisite: ENG 201

ENG 233 News Reporting and Writing
4 hours, 4 credits
Writing for a professor is one thing. Writing for a general audience is another. In this class, students will learn the basics of conceiving, reporting and writing stories for publication. The course will cover news value, leads, story structure, attribution, AP style, libel law, and ethics. Students will learn to read and write news critically and to understand how newspapers and the stories within them are structured; how a news story differs from a press release or an academic paper; and how a hard news story differs from a news feature. During an additional lab hour each week, students will generate story ideas, write stories on deadline, and potentially prepare their work for publication in the student newspaper.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

ENG 235 Writing for Management, Business and Public Administration

3 hours, 3 credits

Development of the writing skills required for careers in law, business, civil service, or public administration. Extensive practice in the various forms of correspondence, inter-office memos, informal reports, minutes of meetings, summaries, briefings and presentations. Preparation of job application letters and résumés. Practice in proofreading, revising, editing. Development of reading comprehension through close study of business-related writings. One or more sections of English 235 will be designated as Computer Laboratory sections. Students who enroll in these sections have the opportunity to learn word processing techniques and are required to spend approximately two extra hours per week in the laboratory, outside of class time, to complete their assignments on the computer.

ENG 245 Creative Nonfiction

3 hours, 3 credits

In this course, students will experiment with writing creative nonfiction. The class will produce a magazine from start to finish, including writing the articles and editing them for publication. Students will compose, revise and edit several pieces of nonfiction prose, both long and short, on topics of their choice. These may include observations of life in the city, an autobiographical sketch, or an interview/profile. Students will work on developing an authorial voice and on making their writing lively and concise. This course counts as an elective in the Writing Minor.

ENG 250 Writing for Legal Studies

3 hours, 3 credits

This course is an in-depth introduction to the craft of legal writing. Skills to be acquired range from writing legal memoranda, briefs and pleadings, to negotiating and drafting contracts. Students will gain experience in reading and interpreting judicial opinions, as well as applying legal rules to factual scenarios. Deductive reasoning, forensic rhetoric and English grammar will receive substantial attention.

ENG 255 Argument Writing

3 hours, 3 credits

The course entails intensive study of and practice in writing in a variety of argument templates, using the principal rhetorical forms, with an eye toward developing effective techniques of proofreading and editing. Intensive grammar and style instruction enable students to offer global and sentence-level responses to the writing of peers. One hour weekly practicum required.

Prerequisite: Grade of B+ or higher in the ENG 101-102 or ENG 101-201 sequences

ENG 316 Advanced Argument Writing and Response: Theory and Practice

3 hours, 3 credits

Advanced Argument Writing and Response: Theory and Practice takes the work begun in Argument Writing to a higher level. This writing-intensive course combines the composition practice with exposure to theories and paradigms of responses to writing. Assignments include advanced argument papers and analytical critiques of writing specific to the discipline. Students hone their critical skills and become expert judges of the composition process, their own writing, and of writing across the curriculum through reading and discussion of theoretical texts that reflect a variety of methodologies. A practicum is required.

Prerequisite: ENG 255

ENG 328 Forensic Linguistics: Language as Evidence in the Courts (Same course as ANT 328)

3 hours, 3 credits

Forensic linguistics explores the complex relationship between linguistics and the law. The course will consider critically the role of language and its power in the legal process. It will also examine how oral and written argumentation can be used or misused to the disadvantage of social groups and thus to the detriment of minorities, including women, children and nonnative speakers of English. The involvement of linguists as expert witnesses in the legal process will also be explored. One court visit is required. This course is especially helpful for Forensic Psychology majors.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and one of the following: ANT
101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101, PSY 101, or SOC 101

ENG 334 Intermediate News Reporting and Writing
4 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 hour lab; 4 credits
This course builds on the conceptual and practical skills learned in ENG 233: News Reporting and Writing. Students will hone their journalistic style by developing increasingly more advanced story subjects and structures, and will build managerial skills during a lab hour as they work with the editors of the student newspaper to produce the publication in a pre-professional environment.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and ENG 334

ENG 336 Digital Journalism
4 hours, 4 credits
Having studied fundamental journalistic principles and skills in previous journalism classes, students will learn how to apply them in this fast-changing communications era. In this class students will examine the latest technologies in multimedia storytelling and then put them to use in their own work during a designated lab hour.
At the same time, they will conduct critical analysis of the cultural, social, ethical and economic impact of the Internet as a journalistic medium and the enduring importance of media literacy.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and ENG 334

ENGW 100 Inquiries in Literacy: A Writing-Intensive Course in the Issues and Practices of Literacy
6 contact hours per week, 9 lab hours per semester; 3 credits
This course introduces students to the literacy skills, habits, and conventions necessary to succeed at college-level work. While offering students techniques and practices of invention and revision, the course also teaches the students the historical, educational, or literary aspects of literacy as a scholarly topic. For example, students may study issues of prison literacy, educational policies of literacy, or representations of literacy in literature. Practice ACT exams are also given throughout the course.

Prerequisite: Placement examination

ENGLISH FOR ACADEMIC PURPOSES

EAP 121 English for Academic Purposes (For Non-native speakers of English)
6 lecture hours per week, 12 tutorial hours per semester; 3 credits
This high intermediate “content-based” English for Academic Purposes course for non-native speakers of English, reviews sentence structure and works towards perfecting English paragraph composition. Students learn to draft simple narratives. Journals are required in response to all readings, which are carefully selected literary pieces on sociological topics. The course stresses grammar, reading and writing skills development, using readings that emphasize sociological themes, situations and terminology. Attached to the course are 12 hours of required tutorials plus attendance at two workshops per semester in the Center for English Language Support.

Prerequisite: Direct placement through testing by the Center for English Language Support

EAP 131 Advanced English for Academic Purposes
(For Non-native speakers of English)
6 lecture hours per week, 15 tutoring hours per semester; 3 credits
This course is the second and last in the English Department's English for Academic Purposes sequence. It prepares students for English 100 and English 101 by offering intensive instruction in grammar, reading and writing skills development. The course incorporates readings with criminal justice themes and asks students to analyze them both orally and in writing. Students will progress from simple to sophisticated narratives and will ultimately write an argumentative essay. The course also requires 15 hours of one-to-one tutoring plus attendance at three workshops in the Center for English Language Support throughout the semester.
ENROLLMENT SCIENCE (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

ENV 108 Principles of Environmental Science

6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 1 1/2 hours laboratory; 4 credits

An introduction to environmental science including environmental toxicology. This course will provide an introduction to contemporary environmental problems such as solid waste, water and air pollution, climate change and habitat destruction. In addition, the course will examine the effects of pollutants, drugs and poisons on the human body. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisite: NSC 107 or the equivalent (as listed in the general education requirements)

ETHNIC STUDIES (DEPARTMENTS OF AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES OR LATIN AMERICAN AND LATINA/O STUDIES)

ETH 123 Race and American Society: The African-American Experience

3 hours, 3 credits

African-Americans and the development of the United States from 1619 to the present. A survey course exploring the African origins of African-Americans and examining slavery, the Abolitionist movement, the Civil War, Reconstruction, segregation, African-American migration from the South, urbanization, the Civil Rights movement, contemporary issues and events, and African-American cultural expressions, all within the context of American social history.

ETH 124 Introduction to Latinas/os in the United States

3 hours, 3 credits

This course is an interdisciplinary introduction to the establishment, growth, and development of the diverse Latina/o communities in the United States. The course focuses on Latino/as’ contemporary histories and experiences of conquest, colonization, racialization and integration in U.S. society. Students will explore the intersections of race, class, ethnicity, gender, and sexuality, through such topics as identity formation, and generational and socio-cultural change, bilingual education and language rights, economic and political participation, transnational immigration, law and civil rights, and the emergence and evolution of Latina/o social justice movements.

ETH 125 Race and Ethnicity in America

3 hours, 3 credits

Study of the many peoples who have contributed to the fashioning of American civilization from 1500 to the present. Survey of historical and contemporary issues related to racial, ethnic, religious and cultural diversity in the United States through an examination of assimilation, discrimination, integration, pluralism, racism, and segregation.

FIRE SCIENCE (DEPARTMENT OF SECURITY, FIRE AND EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT)

FIS 101 Introduction to Fire Science

3 hours, 3 credits

An introduction to the science of public fire protection, with a review of the role, history and philosophy of the fire service in the United States. Includes career orientation and a discussion of current and future problems in fire protection. Note: This course is offered as an Internet-based class and as a classroom-based class.

FIS 104 Risk Management

3 hours, 3 credits

A study of fire insurance and risk, with the consideration of the background of the fire problem, insurance and financial institutions, development of rates, underwriting, grading schedules, the FAIR plan and roles of both government and private enterprise in the insurance industry.
FIS 106 Safety Engineering
3 hours, 3 credits
Course focuses on the work environment—its human, physical and environmental factors. Attention is given to achieving safety through hazard control; the laws of error; monitoring systems; accident analysis; promoting safety; OSHA; Workers' Compensation, fire prevention and fire safety.

FIS 202 Fire Protection Systems
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the nature of public and private fire protection with an emphasis on analysis of systems of fire detection, fire alarm, fire communications, water distribution networks, fire service, hydraulics and fire suppression.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and FIS 101 or permission of the section instructor

FIS 205 Fire Service Hydraulics
3 hours, 3 credits
A course in hydraulic principles systems. Applications are related to fire protection systems such as sprinklers, standpipes, hoses, nozzles, pumpers and water supply systems. Demonstrations illustrate and supplement the principles developed in class.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and FIS 101

FIS 207 Water-Based Fire Suppression Systems
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a review of the design, operation and maintenance of water-based fire protection equipment such as automatic, sprinkler, standpipe and water-spray systems. Students will perform basic system designs and mathematical calculations. The relationship of water-based suppression systems to specific hazards, model codes and firefighting will be discussed.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and FIS 205

FIS 209 Analysis of Urban Hazardous Materials, Tactics and Strategy
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the storage, transportation, and use of hazardous materials with an emphasis on flammable liquids, gases, cryogenics, and radioactive materials. It includes a systems analysis of methods of prevention, detection, control and suppression of emergency situations. Case studies form the basis of the course. Critical parameters and characteristics of hazardous materials are defined and studied.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and FIS 101

FIS 210 Fire Safety Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
The course focuses on satisfying the administrative needs of a student who is preparing for a career requiring a knowledge of the principles of fire safety and the various laws that have been enacted to assure fire safety in the workplace.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and FIS 106

FIS 220 Survey of the Concepts of Operations Research (Same course as MAT 220 and PSC 220)
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to operations research as it applies to model formulation in problems of management science, criminal justice, fire science and public service systems. Several topics will be surveyed from an elementary point of view in order to develop an appreciation and understanding of a quantitative approach to the resolution of management-oriented problems.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 108 or MAT 141

FIS 230 Building Construction and Life Safety Systems I
3 hours, 3 credits
A review is made of building construction and building systems. Crafting principles and plan reviews will be introduced. This introduction will expose the student to actual problems, as they exist in the field. Fire ratings of building components will be studied and integrated with applicable building codes. Relationships between fire protection and life safety will be reviewed. Smoke and flame travel will be studied to determine effective means of control. Modern high rise structures will be reviewed to determine the unique problems they present to life safety and fire fighting.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and FIS 101 or permission of the section instructor

FIS 257 Fire Dynamics
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to the science of ignition, spread and development of fire. The theories of heat transfer, flame spread, flashover and smoke development will be studied. Computer models of fire and smoke development/migration will be utilized.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and FIS 101

FIS 303 Fire Investigations
3 hours, 3 credits
An analysis of incendiary fire investigation from the viewpoint of the field investigator, with an emphasis on the value of various aids and techniques in the detection of arson, collection and preservation of evidence, investigation, interrogation, related laws of arson, court appearance and testimony. There will be a discussion of case study illustrations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and FIS 230

FIS 319 Hazard Identification and Mitigation
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a review of two basic concepts in emergency management: hazard identification and hazard mitigation. Students will explore the range of natural hazards such as hurricanes and earthquakes as well as human or unnatural disasters such as terrorist attacks and building collapses. The frequency and severity of hazards are quantified. The course will also include discussions of a variety of mitigation techniques such as hazard abatement and structural hardening as well as risk/benefit analysis.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and FIS 101

FIS 330 Building Construction and Life Safety Systems II
3 hours, 3 credits
Building construction and building systems will be reviewed. Life safety systems in buildings will be examined. Building construction requirements, as they relate to fire safety, will be studied. New York City and the National Building Code will be used to illustrate how these requirements are legally interrelated. Case histories and existing building plans will be analyzed to give students a hands-on experience. Students will be introduced to a systems approach in designing buildings for life safety and security.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and FIS 230

FIS 350 Management Applications in Fire Protection
3 hours, 3 credits
Theory and practice of public management applied to fire protection. Examination of organizational structure and command, personnel development and management, budgeting and fiscal management, and management systems and techniques within the context of contemporary fire protection management. Assessment of policy development and advocacy by fire protection administrators in the political and private sector.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240 or permission of the section instructor

FIS 401 Seminar in Fire Protection Problems
3 hours, 3 credits
An analysis of major fire problems from the viewpoint of both the public and private sectors.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and majoring in Fire Science, Fire Service Administration or Public Administration
2 COURSES OFFERED

FORENSIC SCIENCE (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

FOS 108 Concepts of Forensic Science
6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 1 1/2 hours laboratory; 4 credits
A discussion of the fundamental principles of the physical and biological sciences with emphasis on the application of these principles in the resolution of legal questions. The role of forensic science in criminal and civil investigations where questions regarding the interpretation of physical evidence are crucial will also be examined. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisite: NSC 107 or equivalent (as listed in the general education requirements)

FOS 313 An Introduction to Criminalistics for Forensic Science Majors
3 hours: 1 hour lecture, 2 hours laboratory; 3 credits
An introduction to the problems and techniques of the scientific examination of physical evidence with emphasis on documentation and interpretation of physical patterns. Review of the theoretical bases of methods of comparison and their influence on scientific interpretation. Topics will include scientific photography, imprints, impressions, tool marks, gunshot residue, cordage and textile examinations. Laboratory exercises will include forensic photography, analysis of fingerprints, hair, gunshot residue and footwear outsole patterns. (Note: This course has a $30.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and CHE 201-202 (This course may not be taken after FOS 415-416)

FOS 401 Forensic Science Laboratory Internship
400 laboratory hours, 3 credits
Independent laboratory and study (internship). A 10-week, full-time internship in a crime laboratory covering the following functions: document examination, instrumental analysis, chemistry, toxicology, serology, crime scene service, special photography, explosive and incendiary device recovery, trace evidence, comparative microscopy in firearms and tool marks. Arrangements for internships must be completed through the director of the Forensic Science Program in advance.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing in the Forensic Science major

FOS 402 Undergraduate Research Internship
400 laboratory hours, 3 credits
This course is an alternative to the Forensic Science Laboratory Internship for those students interested in participating in faculty-mentored research. Especially designed for students with an interest in post-graduate study, this course requires that students commit at least 400 hours to participating in a faculty-mentored research project. Students will be introduced to all aspects of scientific research, including hypothesis formulation, literature searching, laboratory analytical procedures, statistical interpretation of data and scientific paper writing. Arrangements for undergraduate research internships must be made with individual faculty members within the Department of Sciences in consultation with the director of this program.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing, majoring in Forensic Science, and permission of the instructor

FOS 415-416 Forensic Science Laboratory
2 hours lecture, 8 hours laboratory each week; 4 credits
Introduction to laboratory examinations of physical properties for the identification and individualization of such materials as glass, fibers, hair, paint, and soil. Examination of bullets and latent fingerprints. Detection and characterization of dried blood. Identification of dangerous drugs and narcotics. Scientific photography. (Note: This course has a $40.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, CHE 104, CHE 201-202, CHE 315, CHE 320-321, PHY 203-204, and FOS 313

FRENCH (DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES)

FRE 101 Introductory French I
3 hours, 3 credits
A basic course in the French language with an emphasis on oral and written communication, reading, and the customs and cultures of French-speaking countries.

No credit will be given for FRE 101 if taken after the completion of FRE 102

FRE 102 Introductory French II

3 hours, 3 credits

Completion of FRE 102 enables the student to speak, comprehend, read, and write French on a basic level.

Prerequisite: FRE 101 or placement examination

FRE 201 Intermediate French I

3 hours, 3 credits

An intermediate-level course in the French language to increase proficiency in the language skills (listening, reading, speaking, writing, and culture/history) essential to communicative language learning.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and FRE 102 or placement exam

FRE 202 Intermediate French II

3 hours, 3 credits

The second part of an intermediate-level course in the French language to increase proficiency in the language skills (listening, reading, speaking, writing, and culture/history) essential to communicative language learning.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and FRE 201 or placement exam

GENDER STUDIES (SEE PROFESSOR ALLISON PEASE, DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH)

GEN 101 Introduction to Gender Studies

3 hours, 3 credits

This course introduces students to the central themes and theories of gender studies. By examining scholarly articles and texts from a broad range of academic disciplines and cultural perspectives, we will explore how societal definitions of gender shape people’s lives. In the process, the course will address questions about connections between biology and sex, and will explore how differences between race, ethnicity, class, and sexual identities complicate theories of universal female and male experiences. The course will introduce key terms in the interdisciplinary field of gender studies as well as important debates about education, work and economics, medicine, bodies, families, love and sex that have shaped national and international gender scholarship.

GEN 205 Gender and Justice

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will examine assumptions about gender and sexuality and the ways that various institutions such as nation-states, transnational NGOs, religions, communities, and families reinforce and/or punish people who challenge these images. The course will also address the power held by governing institutions, particularly in the area of justice—social and criminal—and the ramifications this power holds for individuals and communities. Students taking this course will better understand the ways that gender, sexuality, class, and race interact with social institutions and norms throughout the world.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GEN 101

GEN 255 The Biology of Gender and Sexuality (Same course as BIO 255)

3 hours, 3 credits

This course approaches the issues of gender and sexuality from the perspective of the biological sciences. By exploring the evolutionary origins of sexual reproduction, students will gain new insights into how and why sex and gender differences in animals, including humans, came to be. By gaining a solid grounding in basic sex-specific anatomy, physiology, and endocrinology, students will have a framework to consider several further topics, such as: gender-based medicine and the masculinized state of priorities in the biomedical industry; hermaphroditism, transexualism, and sexual reassignment; and reproductive biology and medicine. Finally, the course will examine sexual orientation and the study of its biological nature and origin, both in humans and in the animal world.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, NSC 107 or BIO 103 or, BIO 101 and BIO 102
2 COURSES OFFERED

GEN 333 Theories of Gender and Sexuality
(Same course as PHI 333)
3 hours, 3 credits

Gender Studies is a field that has been formed in and through theories originating in women’s studies, queer theory, masculinity studies and their intersections with race and class. In this course students will learn how gender studies theories have re-conceptualized gender and sexuality as products of the interactions among historical, representational, racial and cultural constructs. Readings and discussions will focus on a series of themes and issues such as rage, bodies, gender performance, family, consumerism, and political rights.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GEN 205 or PHI 231

GEN 356 Sexuality, Gender, and Culture in Muslim Societies (Same course as HIS 356)
3 hours, 3 credits

This course reviews relevant concepts and analyzes various constructions of gender norms, gender roles and sexual morality in selected past and present Muslim societies. Sexual categories (heterosexual, lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and intersex) are examined in a variety of contexts and through a range of sources—from Ottoman homoerotic poetry to Mughal India. Topics may include the connections between feminism and nationalism in 19th century Egypt, to transsexuality in Iran and Pakistan. We will also consider transnational relations—how did Western colonization shape intimate relations; and how were colonial processes, in turn, impacted by gender and sexuality? Finally, how are the tensions between advocates and opponents of gender equality currently playing out?

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 204, and HIS 205

GEN 364 History of Gender and Sexuality: Prehistory to 1650 (Same course as HIS 364)
3 hours, 3 credits

This class will build on the introductory surveys in gender and sexuality and global history to provide students with two new lenses through which to view history. Given that gender and sexuality are cultural constructs that represent the social mores of the cultures and times in which they exist, and thus have changed throughout history, we will move from the ancient world through 1650 to provide a chronological and global perspective on the changing meanings of sex, sexuality, and gender, and the ways in which their changes represent broader shifts in cultural values and emphases. The course will address the history of gender and sexuality in China, sub-Saharan Africa, Europe, and India. Primary and secondary sources provide the basis for class discussion and written assignments.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GEN 101 or HIS 203 or HIS 204 or HIS 231

GEN 401 Senior Seminar in Gender Studies
3 hours, 3 credits

The senior seminar is an intensive study of a key issue, trend, or idea in the field of Gender Studies. Individual seminars will engage contemporary research in Gender Studies as related to the expertise of the instructor. Students will apply different dimensions of Gender Studies—history, theory, and practice—through study of the conceptual frameworks underpinning the semester’s topic. Seminars are discussion based and include independent research and writing of a twenty-five page senior thesis as well as oral presentations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; SSC 325 or HJS 315; GEN 333/PHI 333; and GEN 364/HIS 364

GOVERNMENT (SEE POLITICAL SCIENCE)

HEALTH (SEE PHYSICAL EDUCATION)

HISTORY

HIS 104 History of Puerto Rico
(Same course as LLS 104)
3 hours, 3 credits

A broad survey of the history of Puerto Rico from its beginnings to the present. Major emphasis will be given to the political, economic and social developments, with some attention to cultural themes.
HIS 166 History of the Caribbean Islands
(Same course as AFR 166 and LLS 166)
3 hours, 3 credits
A broad survey of the history of the Caribbean Island nations and territories from the beginnings of European civilization until the present. Particular attention will be given to the economic and social aspects of the evolution, and to the problems of unity and diversity.

HIS 201 American Civilization – From Colonial Times through the Civil War
3 hours, 3 credits
A history of the United States. Several problems or issues are chosen each term, and the insights of various disciplines—political science, sociology, literary criticism, economics, etc.—are brought to bear on them. Either course, HIS 201 or HIS 202, may be taken independently.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

HIS 202 American Civilization – From 1865 to the Present
3 hours, 3 credits
A history of the United States. Several problems or issues are chosen each term, and the insights of various disciplines—political science, sociology, literary criticism, economics, etc.—are brought to bear on them. Either course, HIS 201 or HIS 202, may be taken independently.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

HIS 203 Global History: Prehistory to 500 CE
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to critical themes and events in global history that occurred before 500 CE. Students consider the major religious movements of the period, the changing meanings of civilization and empire, the emergence of evidence-based thought and systematized reason as alternatives to faith, and the defining cultural collisions and interactions of this long historical epoch. Civilizations and locations covered include Egypt, Mesopotamia, sub-Saharan Africa, India, China, and Europe. Students are examined on all readings either through quizzes or written assignments. Primary and secondary sources are assigned for class discussion, written exercises, and examinations.
Prerequisite or co-requisite: ENG 201

HIS 204 Global History: 500-1650
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the global events, intellectual preoccupations, and institutions that defined the historical period between 500 and 1650. Geographic coverage includes Africa, India, China, Europe, and the Americas; topics covered include Islam, Catholicism, the Reformation, the roots of nation-states as political units, the growth of market economies, colonialism, and competing ways for making sense of the world. Students are examined on all readings either through quizzes or written assignments. Primary and secondary sources are assigned for class discussion, written exercises, and examinations.
Prerequisite or co-requisite: ENG 201

HIS 205 Global History: 1650 - Present
3 hours, 3 credits
By examining events in Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Americas, this course explores the major historical processes that shaped the modern world, including industrialization, the rise of the nation-state, war, colonialism and anti-colonialism, and accelerating global contacts among peoples. The course considers how a globalized world dominated by a few industrialized nations arose, as well as how new and often competing ways of understanding the world took root. Students are examined on all readings either through quizzes or written assignments. Primary and secondary sources are assigned for class discussion, written exercises, and examinations.
Prerequisite or co-requisite: ENG 201

HIS 206 Orchestral Music and the World Wars
(Same course as MUS 206)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore how World Wars I and II changed the role of music and musicians in Western European society, as well as the sound of music itself. Within the time frame of 1900–1945, this course will examine the effects of the World Wars on the evolution of orchestral music.
of Western European classical music. By analyzing the influence of Russian and European politics on musical expression, this course raises questions: How did Stalin and Hitler influence musical style? What is the relationship between oppression and creativity? Further effects on music of the politics of the 1930s and 1940s will be considered in the stories of specific imprisonments and emigrations that resulted from the wars. The course will use music CDs, readings and film to study specific situations that reflect the larger picture. All readings will be coupled with either quizzes or writing assignments.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 205 or any 100-level music course or permission of the instructor

HIS 214 Immigration and Ethnicity in the United States

3 hours, 3 credits

A social history of immigration and ethnicity that focuses on topics such as immigrant institutions, including family, church, community life, unions, gangs, fire companies, saloons, theatres, social mobility, and the role of ethnicity and class responses to the immigrant problem, including assimilation, nativism, racism and restriction; immigrant ghettos and boss rule; changing immigrant stereotypes; work experience; labor violence and the methods of social control.

Prerequisite: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above

HIS 217 Three Hundred Years of New York City: A History of the Big Apple

3 hours, 3 credits

A study of selected institutions and classes of people, traced over time. Topics include the docks, Wall Street, the poor, water supply, bars, subways, the rich, riots, architecture, bosses and corruption, novels of New York, police, parks, famous fires. The course will include occasional walking tours about the city to the docks, museums, famous buildings, etc.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above

HIS 219 Violence and Social Change in America

3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of the role played by violence in American life. Exploration of selected problems relating to the politics of war, poverty and racism.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above

HIS 224 A History of Crime in New York City

3 hours, 3 credits

How criminal entrepreneurs seized the opportunities of their particular eras, from colonial days to the present. Topics include: pirates (Captain Kidd) and smugglers; slave revolts; river and railroad gangs; gambling and prostitution; prohibition-era bootlegging and the rise of organized crime (from the Mafia to Murder Incorporated); stock market fraud; crime on the waterfront; shoplifting; labor and business racketeering; drug dealing; arson for profit; computer fraud; the savings and loan scandal; environmental crime; and street gangs, with special attention to those (Gophers, Westies) in the John Jay neighborhood.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

HIS 225 American Problems of Peace, War, and Imperialism, 1840 to the Present

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will examine the conflict in America’s foreign policy between manifest destiny and the anti-militarist tradition. It will focus on the ideas and processes that led to war and the expansion of America’s empire, and on those ideas and movements that were anti-imperialist and anti-militarist.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

HIS 231 The Origins of the Contemporary World: From the Classical Period to the Enlightenment

HIS 232 Contemporary History of Civilization: From the Enlightenment to the Present

This course is no longer being offered. For the general education courses in History please see HIS 203, 204, 205 above.
HIS 240 Historiography
3 hours, 3 credits

The study of history has changed a great deal since the mid-20th century, and the scholarly field currently embraces studies in intellectual, world, military, economic, social, and cultural history, as well as more narrowly identified studies in specific fields, such as the history of medicine or the history of war. This class introduces students to the most common approaches to the study of history, including cultural, social, political, economic, gender and sexuality, and military, encouraging them to consider what kind of history each approach values and to understand its strengths and limitations. This course acts as a bridge in the history major, moving students from simply learning history to learning the significant approaches to doing it. By the end of the course, students will understand the plethora of approaches available to studying history, know when to use which approach and why, and be ready to begin historical investigations of their own.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, HIS 203, HIS 204, and HIS 205

HIS 242 U.S. Foreign Policy in Latin America
(Same course as GOV 242 and POL 242 and LLS 242)
3 hours, 3 credits

U.S. economic and political relations with Latin American countries during the 19th and 20th centuries. U.S. reactions to reform and revolutionary movements. The ideological framework of U.S. foreign policy.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

HIS 252 Warfare in the Ancient Near East and Egypt
3 hours, 3 credits

This class will provide a survey of ancient warfare from 3000 B.C.E through the death of Alexander the Great in 323 B.C.E. focusing on Egypt, the ancient Near East, India, and China. In addition to the technologies involved in ancient warfare and the major battles, students will be expected to consider the importance of warfare within society. Specifically, the course will examine the role that warfare played as a governmental tool and how it affected society. When and why did the ancients engage in war? What were their weapons and their military strategies? Was warfare an inevitable, unavoidable part of ancient society, and what did the ancients see as the ethical ramifications of it? In studying ancient history and society through the pervasive motif of war, students will gain an understanding of the forces that shaped culture and how society responded to these forces.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 203 or HIS 231

HIS 254 History of Ancient Greece and Rome
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will examine the history of ancient Greece and Rome from the earliest Greek civilizations to Rome's transformation into a Christian state in the 4th c CE. Students will examine the political, social, and economic structures allowing for the growth of city-states and empires, and the implications of such transformations for the wider world. Among the specific topics that will be discussed are the Spartan military society, the Athenian democracy, Alexander the Great's kingdom, the cosmopolitan Roman Empire, and the development of Christianity.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and HIS 203 or HIS 231

HIS 256 History of Muslim Societies and Communities
3 hours, 3 credits

The course provides an introduction to the development of Muslim societies globally, from the early Arabian Peninsula to the Muslim kingdoms of West Africa, from the Mughal empires in the Indian sub-continent to the Iranian Islamic revolution. The emphasis is on the historical movements of people, goods, ideas, art, technological inventions and scientific knowledge, and the ways these exchanges have and continue to shape society. The course will frame Islam within a diversity of cultures, civilizations, and social practices rather than a theology.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and HIS 204 or HIS 205 or HIS 232
2 COURSES OFFERED

HIS 260 History of Contemporary Cuba
(Same course as LLS 260)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will trace Cuban history from the War of Independence of 1868 through the establishment of the Republic up to and including the Revolution of 1959. The revolutionary period will be the main focus of the course.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 261 Revolution and Social Change in Contemporary Latin America
(Same course as LLS 261)
3 hours, 3 credits
Analysis of political and socioeconomic development, emphasizing major approaches to social change in the 20th century. Topics covered are class structures, demographic patterns, economic dependence, democratic liberal reform, neocolonialism, the Mexican Revolution, the Cuban Revolution and new trends of the last decade. A comparative, inter-American perspective, drawing on other relevant disciplines, is used.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 263 African Heritage in the Caribbean
(Same course as LLS 263)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the social and political forces in contemporary Caribbean. The course will focus on the following: the legacy of slavery, plantation society and underdevelopment, democracy, capitalism and socialism, race, class and ethnic conflict.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 264 China to 1650
3 hours, 3 credits
This course traces the political, social, and cultural history of China from earliest times to 1650. The course will focus on the period during which China was arguably one of the world's most advanced societies and will seek to determine why China had fallen behind Europe by 1650. Various primary sources such as translated philosophical, religious, and literary texts as well as resources from archeology, art history, and film will assist in exploring the Chinese civilization.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and HIS 203, 204, or 205 or HIS 231 or HIS 232

HIS 265 Class, Race and Family in Latin American History
(Same course as LLS 265)
3 hours, 3 credits
Class structure, slavery, and race relations and the organization of the family will be examined in the colonial and neocolonial eras of Latin American history. A comparative approach, emphasizing urban and rural situations and economic change, will be stressed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 267 History of Caribbean Migrations to the United States
(Same course as AFR 267 and LLS 267)
3 hours, 3 credits
A comparative study of the most significant aspects of Caribbean migrations to the United States during the 20th century. Emphasis on the political, economic and social framework of the migration process. Special attention will be given to the contemporary situations of the Haitian, Latina/o, and West Indian communities in the United States.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 269 History of World Slavery (to 1650 CE)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will introduce students to the history of slavery from the ancient Greco-Roman world to the emergence of “New World” slavery and the trans-Atlantic slave trade. Students will examine the economic, social, and political structures allowing for the practice and growth of slavery, and the implications of such transformations.
Students will gain a firm understanding of the different ways people understood and practiced slavery (and other forms of unfreedom) in the premodern world, and the global legacy of these institutions.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and HIS 203 or HIS 204

HIS 274 China: 1650 – Present
3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides an introduction to Chinese history from 1650 to the present. We will sketch the major events of political history covering the rise and fall of the last imperial dynasty (Qing, 1644-1912), the first Republic (1912-1949) and the impact of foreign imperialism and communism, and the major developments in the People’s Republic of China, tracing the historical roots of key issues in contemporary China. In addition, we will also take a social and cultural approach. In examining how Chinese society changed over time, we will focus on the ways in which the Chinese interacted with other societies, whether neighboring nomads or distant Europe, exploring Chinese history within a broad and comparative framework. We will also examine how traditional Chinese values were influenced by foreign ideas and technologies.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 205 or HIS 232

HIS 277 American Legal History
3 hours, 3 credits

An analysis of the forces and circumstances that have influenced the course of American civil, criminal, and Constitutional law from the 17th century to the present. The course concentrates on the change from English-based common law through the rise of industrial capitalism in the late 19th century and the development of the modern welfare state in the 20th century and emphasizes such developments as the growth of the contract and corporate law, the use of litigation as an economic weapon, the rise of an independent judiciary and the ensuing conflict with the legislatures of both nation and state, the role of the legal profession in shaping the legal system, and the social role of law in American life.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

HIS 281 Imperialism in Africa, South Asia, and the Middle East
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the construction, operation, and dissolution of the European imperial order in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, with particular emphasis on its impact on Africa, South Asia, and the Middle East. Topics will include the causes and dynamics of expansion, formal vs informal empires, ideologies of rule, the nature of domination and resistance, the emergence of anti-colonial nationalism and other critiques of empire, decolonization, neocolonialism, and the links between imperialism and contemporary globalization.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

HIS 290 Selected Topics in History
3 hours, 3 credits

Specific study of a topic chosen by the instructor.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

HIS 300 Research Methods in History
3 hours, 3 credits

Participating in scholarly historical research requires a set of skills that will allow students to locate, prioritize, analyze, and write about primary sources. Students will learn how to find a variety of different kinds of sources and how to reckon with them once they have been found. It will also expand the knowledge of historiography gained in the previous required course, Historiography, by explaining how to locate secondary sources relevant to a variety of research interests and primary sources. Finally, it will introduce students to the process of contextualizing their research findings in secondary literature and writing a convincing historical argument.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and HIS 240

HIS 320 The History of Crime and Punishment in the United States
3 hours, 3 credits

Ways in which Americans have defined crime, explained its causes, and punished and rehabilitated criminals. The relationships among crime, social values, and social structure. Areas of emphasis include colonial Massachusetts and Virginia; the creation of police forces and prisons during the first half of the 19th century; criminality during the Gilded Age and Progressive Period; Prohibition; creation of the FBI; crime and the Great Depression; and some aspects of crime and punishment between 1950 and 1970.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and junior standing or above

HIS 323 History of Lynching and Collective Violence
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the history of lynching, rioting and other varieties of collective violence perpetrated by groups of people unauthorized by state or legal authority. The focus will be comparative, examining similarities and differences in the history of collective violence across world cultures and across historical eras. The patterns of lynching, rioting, and other forms of collective violence are often indicative of a culture’s underlying social structures and values, including race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, and attitudes concerning crime and punishment. The course will also examine movements that developed to oppose and resist lynching and its violation of human rights and the rule of law. Finally, the course will consider the legacy of lynching and collective violence, and analyze the efforts that have been made in recent years across global cultures to remember and facilitate healing in the wake of these hateful and destructive acts of group violence. Please note that much of the course content involves analysis of acts of collective violence and may be disturbing.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 204, and HIS 205

HIS 325 Criminal Justice in European Society, 1750 to the Present
3 hours, 3 credits
The origins of the Western system of criminal justice in early modern Europe and a comparative analysis of recent developments in Britain, France, Germany, and Italy. Examination of the evolving definition of crime and changes in criminal law, methods of enforcement, and types of punishment in relation to the growth of urban and industrial society and the extension of state power. Topics include witchcraft, the Inquisition, the classical and positivist schools of criminology, prostitution and homosexuality, birth and development of the prison, establishment of professional police forces, the Mafia and European terrorism.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 232 or HIS 205, and junior standing or above or permission of the section instructor

HIS 340 Modern Military History from the Eighteenth Century to the Present
3 hours, 3 credits
Emphasis on the United States, Asia, and Europe in modern times including the war in Vietnam, Korea, Cuba, and the Second World War.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 205

HIS 354 Law and Society in Ancient Athens and Rome
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will introduce students to concepts of law and legal institutions in ancient Athens and Rome. This is not a course on the fine points of Athenian and Roman law, but rather a broader study of the place of law and legal institutions in Athenian and Roman society. Students will examine sources including law codes, court speeches, and literature to explore law as a means of social ordering and control. The course will also consider various social institutions tasked with creating and enforcing legal standards, including the family, the court of law, and the government. Students should leave with a solid understanding of how Athenians and Romans understood law and its role in society.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 203 or HIS 231

HIS 356 Sexuality, Gender, and Culture in Muslim Societies (Same course as GEN 356)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course reviews relevant concepts and analyzes various constructions of gender norms, gender roles and sexual morality in selected past and present Muslim societies. Sexual categories (heterosexual, lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and intersex) are examined in a variety of contexts and through a range of sources—from Ottoman homoerotic poetry to Mughal India. Topics may include the connections between feminism and nationalism in 19th-century Egypt, to transsexuality in Iran and Pakistan. We will also consider transnational relations—how did Western colonization shape intimate relations; and how were colonial processes, in turn, impacted by gender and sexuality? Finally, how are the tensions between advocates and opponents of gender equality currently playing out?

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 204 and HIS 205, or HIS 232

HIS 362 History of Science and Medicine: Prehistory to 1650

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will provide students with a background in the intellectual and cultural developments in the history of science and medicine from prehistory through 1650. Students will be introduced to the kinds of questions asked about the natural world by different cultures at different times, varying understandings of nature, the natural world, the body, and disease, and interactions among these understandings and interpretations. Primary and secondary readings will provide the basis for class discussions, written assignments, and a final research project.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 203 or HIS 231, and HIS 204 or HIS 205 or HIS 232

HIS 364 History of Gender and Sexuality: Prehistory to 1650 (Same course at GEN 364)

3 hours, 3 credits

This class will build on the introductory surveys in gender and sexuality and global history to provide students with two new lenses through which to view history. Given that gender and sexuality are cultural constructs that represent the social mores of the cultures and times in which they exist, and thus have changed throughout history, we will move from the ancient world through 1650 to provide a chronological and global perspective on the changing meanings of sex, sexuality, and gender, and the ways in which their changes represent broader shifts in cultural values and emphases. The course will address the history of gender and sexuality in China, sub-Saharan Africa, Europe, and India. Primary and secondary sources provide the basis for class discussion and written assignments.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GEN 101 or HIS 203 or HIS 204 or HIS 231

HIS 366 Religions of the Ancient World

3 hours, 3 credits

In antiquity, religion was a driving force that both transformed society and was transformed by society. This course will provide a survey of early religious movements of the ancient world, showing how the myths, ritual, and sacred laws of ancient societies expressed their world views. Religion has always been an influential factor in society, and students will learn how organized religion developed into a powerful social and political tool. The course will focus primarily on the major religious movements of the ancient Near East: Mesopotamia, Egypt, and the early Israelite tradition; however, other ancient religions (including the Greek and Roman traditions, Hinduism, Buddhism, New World and African traditions) will also be touched on. The course will balance an understanding of the personal practices of ancient religions with an understanding of the larger political and social role of religion.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 203 or HIS 231

HIS 370 Ancient Egypt

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will survey Ancient Egypt, tracing the development of Egyptian society and government from its prehistoric agrarian origins (approx. 4000 B.C.E.) through the death of Cleopatra and the Roman conquest (30 C.E.). In addition to the major political developments, students will be expected to master the major shifts in Egyptian religion and thought, the changing notion and democratization of Egyptian afterlife, and how Egypt remained insular while becoming increasingly cosmopolitan and imperialistic. The course will also examine the role that geography played in the development of Egyptian society and will trace Egypt's interactions with her neighbors in Africa and the greater Mediterranean world to examine how these relationships affected the Egyptian religion, culture, and economy. Primary and secondary sources will be used to encourage class discussion and as the basis of written exercises and exams.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HIS 203 or HIS 231, and HIS 204 or HIS 205 or HIS 232
HIS 375 Female Felons in Premodern Europe and the Americas

3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the complex position of women accused of crimes in premodern Europe and the Americas. The early history of the Western legal tradition was entirely dominated by men. Only men wrote laws and passed judgment. In fact, even most criminals were male. Women made up only a fraction of those found guilty of crimes, which is also true for the present. At the same time, certain crimes, such as adultery, infanticide, or witchcraft, were associated with female behavior. Drawing heavily upon primary sources, principally trial records, students will analyze primary legal documents using the theories and methodologies of gender studies and history. This course will help students understand the role of gender in premodern justice, as well as the early history of criminal justice in Europe and the Americas.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and HIS 204 or HIS 205 or GEN 101

HIS 381 Social History of Catholicism in the Modern World

3 hours, 3 credits

This course offers students an introduction to how Catholicism has shaped social identities and cultural practices across global cultures from the early 1500s to the present day. Starting with the Catholic response to the Reformation in 16th-century Europe, the course then traces the complex social and cultural formations generated by an expansive Catholicism in Asia, Latin America, and Africa, and the tension between Catholicism and American culture in the history of the United States. Key topics will include the history of Catholicism and culture, syncretism, ethnicity, race, gender, and social class.

HIS 383 History of Terrorism

3 hours, 3 credits

This course explores the major ideas, facts, and problems associated with the historical study of terror and the uses of political violence on a global scale. Course themes include the changing definitions of terrorism over time; the historical antecedents of modern terrorism; the impact of nationalism and religion on terrorism in different places and beginning in the early modern period; the historical motivations, organizations, and support networks of terrorists; the nature of crisis management; the responses of the world community to different historical acts of terrorism; the effects of terrorism on free societies in the 20th century; and the linkages between acts of terrorism and terrorist states.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and HIS 205 or HIS 232, and either HIS 203 or 204 or HIS 231

HIS 425 Senior Seminar in History

3 hours, 3 credits

The senior seminar, undertaken by all Global History majors, requires students to synthesize the research, historiographic, and writing skills they have acquired in the major. Drawing on students’ capabilities to engage in independent historical research, and consideration of a wide variety of historiographic approaches, the course offers students from all three chronological tracks the opportunity to engage in research on the same topic and present their work at the departmental seminar. Individual instructors will frame the course based on their particular areas of expertise, but possible topics include slavery, magic, capitalism, and sexuality. All students will complete the course by submitting an independent research paper and presenting their findings to the department in a colloquium.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, HIS 300, and senior standing

HONORS

HON 501 Honors Reading Course

3 hours, 3 credits

The student submits a project of reading and research for the term, for approval by the instructor. A paper is required and there are periodic conferences. Special arrangements may be made to do this work over the summer.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing
HUMANITIES AND JUSTICE (SEE MAJOR DESCRIPTION FOR CONTACT)

HJS 250 Justice in the Western Traditions
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is the first of four required courses in the core of the Humanities and Justice major. It is an introduction to the normative history of “justice” as a principle of human personal and social organization in the experience of peoples living in the “western” world. An emphasis on primary texts allows the student to encounter first principles, and selected secondary readings introduce the student to questions posed by the attempt to define justice. Issues under study may include determinism and free will and the implication of each for the meaning of the “unjust” act; retribution and the rhetorics that justify or condemn it; divinity, hierarchy and the community as sources of justice; the social construction of such ideas as justice and “crime;” and law as the structure of rules regulating coercion and the use of force.

Prerequisites: ENG 101-102 or ENG 101-201, one of the required general education courses in literature, history, or philosophy, and one of the required general education courses in the social sciences

HJS 310 Comparative Perspectives on Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will study justice in the non-Western world as it is variously represented in historical, literary and philosophical texts. A sequel to HJS 250: Justice in the Western Traditions, it builds upon the analytical skills developed in that course and extends its geographical boundaries to the Mideast, Asia, Africa and the other Americas. By studying how social, political, and religious institutions shape understandings of justice and injustice, and how these concepts define race, gender, ethnicity and class, the course focuses on articulations and practices of justice that are different from the Western constructs considered in HJS 250. Through comparative investigations of encounters between societies resulting from conquest, trade and social exchange, it will explore justice as culturally inflected, the product at once of a particular regional or national identity and history, and of intercultural contact.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, HJS 250 and junior standing

HJS 315 Research Methods in Humanities and Justice Studies
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to the methods by which the humanities define, research, and investigate problems, this course is the third course of five that make up the required core of the major in Humanities and Justice. It introduces the student to methods of inquiry in the three primary disciplines of the major: history, philosophy and literature. The logic, design and execution of the research process are considered, as well as the appropriate respective uses of primary and secondary sources. Electronic and non-electronic research aids will be examined, as will the research strategies most commonly employed by practicing historians, literary critics, and philosophers.

Prerequisites: English 102 or English 201, all reading/writing skill courses, completion of a general education requirement course in history, literature, and philosophy, and completion of or enrollment in HJS 250

HJS 410 Problems and Theory: Thesis Prospectus
3 hours, 3 credits
A course in which the student develops the ability to design advanced research projects drawing on the methodologies and practices of the humanities. Designed as a “studio” or workshop course, the seminar’s activities will be built around the research interests of the students as they develop topics and methodologies for the senior thesis in the Humanities and Justice major. The final product of the course will be a prospectus for the senior thesis that is acceptable to the seminar instructor.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, HJS 315, and 9 credits in the interdisciplinary components of the major

HJS 415 Thesis in Humanities and Justice Studies
3 hours, 3 credits
Designed for students in their final semester to conduct a significant investigation of a topic of their choosing in the area of humanities and justice studies. Designed as a “studio” course, the seminar’s activities will be built around the prospectus developed by the student in HJS 410: Problems and Theory: Thesis Prospectus.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and HJS 410
INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE (SEE MAJOR DESCRIPTION FOR CONTACT)

ICJ 101 Introduction to International Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the nature and scope of international and transnational crime, to the emerging legal framework for its prevention and control, and to its impact on the U.S. criminal justice system. Emphasis will be placed on the international aspects of the work of different criminal justice agencies, such as formal and informal police cooperation and the use of mutual assistance and extradition agreements, and on the bilateral, regional, and international structures created for crime prevention, punishment and control.

ICJ 310 Foundations of Scholarship in International Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course aims to provide a set of skills that are essential to conducting and disseminating empirical research. The skills include conducting and writing a focused literature review; understanding the mechanics of research (finding a creative idea, asking the right research questions, utilizing appropriate theories, developing hypotheses, collecting and analyzing data); and finally writing academic papers. The course will discuss research methods (both qualitative and quantitative), their underlying epistemologies and their appropriateness for international criminal justice with specific examples. In will cover ethical concerns and it will provide a basic understanding of the use of computers in research.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, ICJ 101, SOC 341, and GOV 259/POL 259/LAW 259

ICJ 381 Internship in International Criminal Justice
15 hours lecture, 96 hours fieldwork; 3 credits
This supervised field experience in international criminal justice organizations will enable students to gain work experience using their academic training in program development, policy support or research. Students will be placed in international agencies including governmental and nongovernmental organizations (NGOs). Through the college Internship Office, placement is arranged by the International Criminal Justice major coordinator in consultation with the student. Students will spend 8-10 hours per week for a total of 96 hours in the field, and 15 hours per semester in classroom seminar sessions.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, ICJ 101, GOV 259/POL 259/LAW 259

ICJ 401 Capstone Seminar in International Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This capstone course is a synthesis of key issues, trends and topics within the emerging field of international criminal justice. Topics to be considered include: cross-cultural dimensions of international criminal justice; major theoretical issues and methodological problems in international criminal justice; complexities inherent in processing cases of international and transnational crime; prevention and control strategies; the evolving jurisprudence of the tribunals and the world court; and ethical and human rights concerns.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, ICJ 101, senior status, and matriculation in the International Criminal Justice major

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES (SEE INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES PROGRAM)

Theme A (for Freshmen)
The Individual and Society and Individuals in Conflict
This two-semester theme examines the variety of ways that individuals relate to one another and “to society.” What do we mean by society? What is the social contract? Why do some people affirm society’s values and norms, and others rebel, whether by fighting against injustice or by behaving criminally? During the second semester, the theme focuses on how people in our society experience and attempt to deal with situations of conflict. Among the topics covered are domestic violence, dispute mediation, prison culture, war, and generational, racial, ethnic, and gender conflicts. The emphasis in both semesters is on using primary source materials and readings from the humanities, social sciences, law and fine arts.
Theme B (for Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors - Specific courses offered change each semester depending on faculty availability)

Community and Responsibility

This theme situates the individual in the communities of which she is a part, and explores the dynamic interplay of persons and social contexts in the shaping of responsibilities. Approaches from the humanities and social sciences are brought to bear on the topics of community, responsibility, conflict and resolution. Course topics may include childhood, the family, affirmative action, rural and urban communities, and educational institutions.

Conflict and Change

This theme integrates the humanities and social sciences in an examination of the forces that give rise to and resolve conflict and that bring about change, both in the individual and in society. Of interest in this theme are examples and patterns of conflict and change in the intimate sphere of family and neighborhoods; at the institutional level in the legal and criminal justice system; and historically, at moments of national and international crisis. Specific courses change each semester depending on which faculty members are teaching in the program. Course topics may include: legal challenges of the 90s, power and justice in law and society, World War II, personal conflict and social change, love and hate in the family, the changing roles of women in the workplace, inside the criminal mind, from slavery to citizenship, childhood and society.

Transactions and Transformations

This theme examines the many ways in which individuals, communities, ethnic groups and even whole nations interact with one another in the exchange of ideas, cultures, rituals, technology, economy, conflicts and more. In what ways do these interactions produce change in individuals and groups? What kinds of changes? What are the risks in these interactions? What are the risks in refusing to engage in such social, cultural, political and economic transactions? Course topics may include the concept of citizenship; cross-cultural definitions of crime and criminality; religion; human rights; war; technology; ideas about oppression and freedom.

Perspectives on the Extraordinary

This theme is devoted to exploring people, events, concepts and artifacts that have achieved wide recognition as extraordinary in one or more ways. How does something or someone emerge from the ordinary? How do people respond to extraordinary people, events and ideas? Course topics may include the idea of the scientific, legal, political, philosophical, and/or artistic “breakthrough”; the phenomenon of genius; catastrophe and human response; revolution; biography and autobiography; cosmology and the origins of the universe; violence and criminality.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

LAW 207 Law for Security Personnel
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the legal problems in the private security sector. Included is a review of the powers and restrictions on “private police,” e.g., arrest, search and seizure, eavesdropping and a comparison with the powers of law enforcement agencies. Civil liabilities of private security personnel are studied as well as other aspects of civil law. Licensing statutes are also analyzed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, SEC 101 and sophomore standing or above
LAW 209 Criminal Law
3 hours, 3 credits
Viewing the criminal law as a means to the end of influencing human behavior, intensive analysis is made of various principles that apply in virtually every criminal case: justification, attempt, conspiracy, parties to crime, ignorance and mistake, immaturity, insanity and intoxication. The law of homicide is explored in all of its facets. The common law, statutes of New York and representative states, and what the law ought to be are studied.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

LAW 211 Civil Disobedience, Urban Violence and Dissent
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the constitutional, statutory and common law as it relates to disobedience and dissent. The role of law and regulatory institutions in reconciling the need for internal order, free expression and acceptable dissent. An examination of the laws on national security (treason, rebellion, espionage, etc.) and on assembly and picketing. Special attention to violence in urban centers, racial violence, the peace movement and campus disorders.

Prerequisite: one of the following: ENG 101, sophomore standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

LAW 212 The Criminal Process and the Criminal Procedure Law
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of criminal procedures. This course examines the process by which criminal law is brought to bear on individuals in society as provided in the New York Criminal Procedure Law. Consideration of current court decisions that affect the application of this law, and the role and responsibility of the police as witnesses.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

LAW 213 The Impact of the Mass Media on the Administration of Justice (Same course as SPE 213)
3 hours, 3 credits
Examination of the role of the media—TV, radio, newspapers, and magazines—on the administration of justice. The influence of the media on the jury and the judge. The dangers of “trial by newspaper” and of TV in the courtroom. Is impartial justice possible? The British approach. Problems of free speech and press; “contempt by publication” rule; constitutional protections. Suggested guidelines for the media. The psychological basis of audience response.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SPE 113

LAW 245 Immigration Law
(Same course as GOV 245 and POL 245)
3 hours, 3 credits
A survey of the administration of immigration law; this course examines the history of American immigration law in brief, surveys the current statutes, and details the administrative and judicial practices of relevant agencies and jurisdictions.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, LAW 203 or 206, and PAD 240

LAW 259 Comparative Criminal Justice Systems
(Same course as GOV 259 and POL 259)
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of the variations in patterns of corruption and political crimes as well as patterns of law enforcement and adjudication among political systems. Examples are drawn from a variety of political systems: democratic, communist and modernizing.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

LAW 264 Business Law
(Same course as ACC 264)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course covers the role of law in business with a focus on contractual and other civil law. Topics include the legal environment, agency, the Uniform Commercial Code, debtor-creditor relationships, government regulation of business, and business structure. The course requires case analysis, problem solving, and oral and written communication.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

LAW 301 Jurisprudence
3 hours, 3 credits
This course considers the study of the theory and philosophy of law and the relationship between law and society. Issues to which special attention will be paid include the problem of disobedience, the nature of the judicial process, and the relations between law and personal morality. Current controversies about civil disobedience, the role of courts, “non-victim” crimes and the relationship of the police to the rule of law will be explored.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, LAW 203 or GOV 230 or POL 301, and junior standing or above

LAW 310 Ethics and Law
(Same course as PHI 310)
3 hours, 3 credits
Inquiry into the relationship between morality and law; their organic interrelationship in the natural law tradition; their separation in positivism. The contemporary debate illustrated by the issues of human and civil rights; the enforcement of sexual morality; civil disobedience and the ethics of law enforcement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231

LAW 313 The Law and Politics of Race Relations
(Same course as GOV 313 and POL 313)
3 hours, 3 credits
Analysis of the politics of race and racism in the United States through the examination of major court decisions and of legislations affecting minority groups. Treatment of racial minority groups in the criminal and civil justice systems, and by courts, police and prisons will be included.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

LAW 319 The Death Penalty
3 hours, 3 credits
This is a study of the death penalty as practiced in the United States. Among other issues, the course examines the morality of the death penalty, constitutional limitations on the types of crimes and criminals for which the death penalty is appropriate, and procedural restrictions on the death sentencing process including jury selection and the performance of counsel. This is a writing-intensive course, with an emphasis on developing written and spoken critical reasoning skills. The course relies extensively on the case study method, using major Supreme Court decisions both to teach legal doctrine and to highlight moral and ethical issues.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and GOV 202 or POL 202 or LAW 303

LAW 320 Seminar in the Law of Search and Seizure
3 hours, 3 credits
An intensive study of the law of search and seizure as it affects the private citizen and the law enforcement officer. An in-depth examination of court decisions that have followed seminal cases such as Mapp and Chimel. The rights of the individual and the corresponding obligations of the police officer are explored. Alternatives to the exclusionary rule are considered.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LAW 203

LAW 340 Employment Discrimination Law, Affirmative Action and Police Organization
3 hours, 3 credits
An examination of the impact of equal employment opportunity law on police personnel practices and procedures. The course will explore how changes in legislation, administrative regulations and court rulings have affected the police service. Special attention will be given to the ways in which The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission decision making has affected the recruitment and promotion of women and minorities to the police. The course will also explore how these changes have affected personnel and management practices.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LAW 203
LAW 350 Introduction to Legal Research
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to the resources and techniques of basic legal research. The course focuses on locating and analyzing case law, statutory law and administrative law. Legal periodicals, treatises and other secondary sources will also be examined. The course introduces computer legal research and teaches the skills required in drafting a memorandum of law.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and ENG 250 or SPE 285

LAW 370 Psychology and the Law
(Same course as PSY 370)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a critical examination of the relationships between psychological research, practice, and theory and the law and legal system. Topics that may be considered include standards and assessments of legal competencies, mental state defenses, civil commitment, violence risk assessments, eyewitness identifications, (false) confessions, deception detection, jury behavior, child custody disputes, the roles of psychologists in the courtroom, and ethical issues in psychology and the law.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 101, and PSY 221 or PSY 242 or LAW 203

LAW 401 Problems of Constitutional Development
3 hours, 3 credits
An intensive study of selected problems drawn from constitutional law. Analysis and evaluation of the growth of the constitutional relationship between the individual and government at the federal, state and local levels, with special attention to problems of law enforcement in the United States. Questions relating to search and seizure, interrogation of suspects, public speeches and mass demonstrations are explored.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and LAW 203 or LAW 301

LAW 410 Independent Study
(Same course as COR 410, CRJ 410 and PSC 410)
3 hours, 3 credits
A program of reading and reporting planned and carried out under the guidance of a faculty member. The topic, issue or area of student interest must concern a problem in criminal justice, constitutional or criminal law or procedure, corrections including probation and parole, or law enforcement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and LAW 203 or LAW 301

LAW 420 Contemporary Administration and the Judiciary (Same course as PAD 420)
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of emerging trends and issues in the administration of the courts, and the emerging role of the judiciary in the administration of programs in the public and private sectors. Examination of the literature of traditional court administration, as well as from areas of judicial intervention, such as corrections, school desegregation, mental health and foster care. Review of the history of judicial approaches to the administrative process, with focus on the forms of intervention and the substantive issues raised.

Prerequisites: PAD 360, and ENG 102 or ENG 201

LEGAL STUDIES (SEE MAJOR DESCRIPTION IN CHAPTER I FOR CONTACT)

LGS 420 Senior Seminar in Legal Studies
3 hours, 3 credits
Designed for students in their last semester to participate in a systematic interdisciplinary inquiry into major issues in law and legal administration. Faculty from the humanities and social sciences will join with faculty members in law in developing a wide range of seminars. Each semester seniors may select from such offerings as: The Historical Perspective on Constitutional Interpretation; Law and Social and Economic Change; The Impact of Management Information Systems on Legal Administration; Jurisprudence: From Antiquity to Present; The Anglo-American Legal Tradition; Problems in Judicial Administration. Students will be required to deliver a senior lecture and submit a comprehensive research paper.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LAW 350

LITERATURE (DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH)

LIT 203 New York City in Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
An examination of literary works set in New York City exploring the city’s strengths—its sophistication, its diversity, its intellectual resources and institutions, its freedom and its anonymity, as well as the social and psychological problems facing its inhabitants.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 212 Literature of the African World
3 hours, 3 credits
Literature of the African World is a critical examination of exciting literary voices from Africa, the Caribbean and North America. Authors such as Wole Soyinka, Ngui wa Thiong’o, Buchi Emecheta, Derek Walcott, Leopold Senghor, Michelle Cliff, Louise Bennett, Toni Morrison, Octavia Butler, Alice Walker, Gloria Naylor, Reginald McKnight and August Wilson, give the course its unique flavor. The readings in short fiction, prose, poetry and drama, which explore thematic concerns such as tradition vs. modernity, colonialism, rites of passage, and oral narrative traditions, enable students to gain an indispensable diasporic perspective that will enlarge their view of themselves, their world and literature.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 219 The Word as Weapon
3 hours, 3 credits
Is the pen mightier than the sword? An examination of the writer’s approach to correcting society’s ills. Readings in satire, invective, polemics, burlesque, lampoon and muckraking by such writers as Swift, Dickens, Mark Twain, Sinclair Lewis and Joseph Heller. Students also write satires of their own.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232, or LIT 233

LIT 223 African-American Literature
(Same course as AFR 223)
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of the writing of African Americans from colonial times to the present, with special attention to influential African-American writers such as W. E. B. Du Bois, Toomer, Hughes, Wright, Brooks, Ellison, Baldwin, Baraka and Malcolm X. Readings in novels, plays, autobiographies, short stories, poems, folktales and essays will explore a wide range of African-American aesthetic responses to life in the United States.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 230 Classical Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of early or fundamental literature in a variety of cultures. Close readings and analysis of epics, lyrics, dramas and sacred texts, with an eye to literary form and style as well as content. Discussion of appropriate literary concerns, such as heroism, divinity, sacrifice, duty and justice.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 231 Medieval and Early Modern Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of literature from 600 through the 17th century. Close readings and analysis of sagas, romances, plays and poetry, with an eye to literary form and style as well as content. Discussion of appropriate literary concerns, such as faith, courtly love, loyalty, power and loss.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 232 Modern Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of literature from the 18th century to the present. Close readings and analysis of fiction, drama and poetry, with an eye to literary form and style as well as content. Discussion of appropriate literary concerns, such as reason, freedom, idealism, materialism and alienation.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201
LIT 233 American Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of American literature from its beginnings to the present. Close readings and analysis of American fiction, poetry, drama and nonfiction, with an eye to literary form and style as well as content. Discussion of appropriate literary concerns, such as liberty, individualism, utopianism, race and success.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 260 Introduction to Literary Study
3 hours, 3 credits
Introduction to Literary Study teaches the skills needed to study literature with understanding and pleasure. Students will learn strategies for reading, interpreting, criticizing, and writing about complex literary works. Through studying short stories, poetry, plays, and a novel, students ascertain the defining characteristics of literary genres, develop a working vocabulary of literary terms, and advance their ability to write critical essays on literary texts.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 283 New York City in Film
3 hours, 3 credits
A survey of significant films and major filmmakers on the special topic, New York City in Film, through an examination of the cinema as an art form shaping and reflecting the changing perception of its society.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 284 Film and Society
3 hours, 3 credits
A survey of significant films and major filmmakers on the special topic, Film and Society, through an examination of the cinema as an art form shaping and reflecting the changing perceptions of its society.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 285 The Rebel in Film
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a survey of significant films and major filmmakers on the special topic, The Rebel in Film, through an examination of the cinema as an art form shaping and reflecting the changing perceptions of its society.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

LIT 290 Special Topics
3 hours, 3 credits
A single-semester course dealing with an announced topic, theme, or author.
Prerequisite: ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 300 Text and Context
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the contexts within which literary works are created and interpreted, and gives them theoretical frameworks for their own interpretations. The course will place one or more literary texts into context by focusing on relevant historical backgrounds and critical reception. The course will also introduce a variety of interpretive approaches, and may include critical race theory, deconstruction, feminism, formalism, Marxism, new historicism, post-colonialist, psychoanalytic and reception theories. Each semester individual instructors will anchor the course in specific sub-topics, primary texts, cultures, and historical moments, depending on their areas of specialization.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LIT 260

LIT 305 Foundations of Literature and Law
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will give students the tools to think and write effectively about the emerging interdisciplinary field of literature and the law. We will identify and question the basic rules and assumptions of both literature and the law; and examine the ways in which the two disciplines converge and diverge. Topics may include: literature and law as narrative systems; acts of interpretation; the status of facts; literature as a point of resistance to the law; the role of persuasion in law and storytelling; and reading law as literature.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LIT 260
2 COURSES OFFERED

LIT 309 Contemporary Fiction
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines novels and short stories written within the last 50 years. Particular attention will also be given to how these texts reflect major aesthetic, ethical, psychological, social and political concerns. Students will be introduced to the cultural, linguistic and other literary theories relevant to the interpretation of contemporary narratives.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 311 Literature and Ethics
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will focus on the ways in which a literary text can become a laboratory for ethical inquiry—a place where abstract issues and complex questions about the “right,” the “good” and the “just” come to life. We will also consider how, by creating specific conditions of time, place, character, and action, literary texts provoke readers to question their own personal, but perhaps unexamined positions and judgments regarding ethical issues. Topics may include the ethical dimensions of responsibility, loyalty, obligation, equity, honesty, and secrecy. We will examine how cultural and societal norms, the rule-of-law, and “higher” or divine laws make competing demands on characters, how characters negotiate those demands, and how others respond. In our analysis we will apply and compare philosophical principles, including rule-based, situational, and utilitarian and other consequentialist arguments concerning the “right” thing to do. Selected readings from primary texts in ethics will provide a background for the analysis of literary texts.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PHI 231, and one of the following: LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 313 Shakespeare
3 hours, 3 credits
Shakespeare's plays are engaged with the complexities of his time, and they also speak to ours. Working with a selection of plays, students will develop skills in the close reading of early-modern drama, learning how character, language, and dramatic form (tragedy, comedy, history, romance) shape meaning. They will analyze the intellectual, moral, social and political issues that Shakespeare explores, especially those involving justice, governance, the family, race, and gender. Because Shakespeare wrote his plays for performance, students will also analyze them as scripts by watching films and through their own performance.

Prerequisite: LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 314 Shakespeare and Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines Shakespeare's representation of justice in its connections to social and political order, crime and the law. The investigation will be both historical, situated within early modern understandings of justice, and aesthetic, situated within Shakespeare's dramatic vocabularies. What are the connections between poetic justice and legal, social, and religious justice? How do such connections order plot, character, and structure? And finally: how do Shakespeare's representations of justice and injustice support or challenge early modern ideas of justice? Students will explore these questions through close analysis of selected plays and affiliated historical readings, and through their performance of scenes key to Shakespeare's articulations of justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 315 American Literature and the Law
3 hours, 3 credits
The course will bring together American literary and legal texts in order to examine the ways in which the two can illuminate each other. It will focus on the works of American literature that take law as their central theme; works that include trials or are inspired by famous cases; works that have lawyers as protagonists; and works that address issues of law and justice. Students will also bring methods of literary analysis to bear on the study of important cases or legal decisions in order to understand the rhetoric of law, the unstated assumptions contained in it and the voices excluded from it.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PHI 231, and one of the following: LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 316 Gender and Identity in Literary Traditions
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will provide a close examination of how gender functions to shape both authorship and literary text. Students will investigate how writers use conventions of sex and gender, and how readers critically assess these literary representations. The instructor will choose the genre and periodization in any given semester. Emphasis will be divided between primary literary texts, relevant historical documents and selected theoretical commentary.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 319 Law and Justice in European Medieval Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

This course introduces the student to the classics of medieval literature and to the legal structure of the period. Each semester, individual instructors will anchor the course in specific cultures, bodies of law, and primary texts. Medieval law was often unwritten, and performed locally through debate and decision, and public ritual gestures (clasping of hands, kissing, the giving of objects as pledges, touching relics, etc.). Medieval literature often dramatizes such rituals and legal issues. The course ranges broadly over many centuries and encompasses (translated) texts in many languages, principally Latin. Students should be prepared to learn some key terms of vocabulary and basic linguistic principles.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 323 The Crime Film
3 hours, 3 credits

An in-depth study of the evolution and aesthetics of two major film genres, the gangster film and the film noir, though an examination of conventions of motivation, character, action, locale and iconography. The course will emphasize the genre film's treatment of the fundamental cultural conflicts that exist in society.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 324 Road Movies
3 hours, 3 credits

An in-depth study of the evolution and aesthetics of a major film genre, Road Movies, through an examination of conventions of motivation, character, action, locale and iconography. The course will emphasize the genre film's treatment of the fundamental cultural conflicts that exist in society.

LIT 325 Science Fiction Film
3 hours, 3 credits

An in-depth study of the evolution and aesthetics of a major film genre, the Science Fiction Film, through an examination of conventions of motivation, character, action, locale and iconography. The course will emphasize the genre film's treatment of the fundamental cultural conflicts that exist in society.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 327 Crime and Punishment in Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

A study of works treating the theme of crime and related matters, such as motivation, guilt and responsibility. Works are considered from the psychological, sociological and philosophical points of view, as well as from the purely literary standpoint. Authors include Aeschylus, Shakespeare, Dostoevsky, Poe, Melville, Burgess, and Capote.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 330 Alfred Hitchcock
3 hours, 3 credits

An intensive study of the work and vision of Alfred Hitchcock through an examination of theme, style, structure and view of cinema. Special emphasis will be placed on the recurrent artistic concerns as well as the philosophic, psychoanalytic and political concerns that identify the work of an important cinematic author.

ema. Special emphasis will be placed on the recurrent artistic concerns as well as the philosophic, psychoanalytic and political concerns that identify the work of an important cinematic author.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 332 Martin Scorsese and Spike Lee
3 hours, 3 credits
An intensive study of the work and vision of Martin Scorsese and Spike Lee through an examination of theme, style, structure, and view of cinema. Special emphasis will be placed on the recurrent artistic concerns as well as the philosophic, psychoanalytic and political concerns that identify the work of an important cinematic author.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 340 The African-American Experience in America: Comparative Racial Perspectives
(Same course as AFR 340)
3 hours, 3 credits
An examination of African-American life through the works of both African-American and white writers. The course will look at the inter-relationships and differences between African-American and white perspectives. Authors such as W. E. B. Du Bois, Melville, Wright, Baldwin, Twain, Faulkner, Ellison, Welty, Morrison and Styron will be read.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 342 Perspectives on Literature and Human Rights
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will focus on the representation and interrogation of human rights and related issues in literary texts. We will be looking at how human rights have been construed and debated at particular historical moments by writers from specific cultures and groups. In doing so we will place an emphasis on due process, a concept which, although arguably common to every society, takes on very different meanings depending on that society’s structures, beliefs, customs, norms and values. Every society, for example, will have its own conception of 1) the priority of collective rights and imperatives, and 2) the priority of individual rights and imperatives.

Each semester, depending on their areas of specialization, individual instructors will anchor the course in one or more specific cultures, historical moments, sub-topics and primary texts. Through close reading and analysis of a variety of literary forms, we may examine, for example: natural rights; the right to habeas corpus; the right to self-determination and self-expression (including the right to write); the right to preserve and practice one’s cultural heritage; and the right to depart from socially constructed norms of behavior. The history of the human rights struggle and relevant concepts and debates in the related disciplines of government, law, philosophy and sociology will provide an analytic framework.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 344 Caribbean Literature and Culture
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores the literature of the Caribbean in its cultural context. Employing literature and literary/cultural theory, the course will vary its focus, covering the English- and/or French-speaking Caribbean; it may emphasize the literary history of the region or take on an interdisciplinary format, encompassing music, film and/or Caribbean cultural studies. The course will include literary texts, oral traditions, and other aspects of popular culture that reflect on: the slave era, legacies of colonialism and postcolonialism, the experience of exile, racial experience and creolization, the culture of tourism, and definitions of “Caribbeanness.”

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 346 Cultures in Conflict
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will examine the literature and film of non-western groups that have experienced disruption in their familiar social, political and cultural lives due to a cataclysmic historical event. The regional content of the course will vary from semester to semester, but it will focus on a moment of rupture that affected geographical borders and/or international relations, and individual consciousness. Literary and cinematic responses to these major historical shifts often involve reconciling old and new identities, old and new national loyalties, first and second languages, as well as eastern and western, ancient and modern, local and global perspectives. Areas of possible interest include South and East Asia, Africa, and Latin America. Some examples of such defining historical moments are: the republican revolution in China, the Tiananmen Square uprising, the Partition of India, the anti-Apartheid movement in South Africa, and the DMZ in Korea—all of which provoked a literature and film of crisis.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LIT 230 or LIT 231 or LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 352 New Fiction
3 hours, 3 credits

Writers today try to make sense out of the moral, cultural, political and social changes in the world since World War II. A study of novels and short stories written in the past several decades by major international authors such as Solzhenitsyn, Nabokov, Mailer and Borges.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 360 Mythology in Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of mythological themes like the creation of the world, the loves of gods with mortals, the descent into the underworld and the heroic quest as they appear in such writers as Homer, Ovid, Shakespeare, Tennyson and Yeats. Greek, Roman, Teutonic, Indian and African myths are among those studied.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 362 The Bible as Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

A non-doctrinal introduction to the Bible. Selected books from the Old and New Testament approached as literary and historical documents. Structure, characters, themes and archetypes. Modern translation to be used.

Prerequisite: one of the following: LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232 or LIT 233

LIT 370 Topics in Ancient Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

Topics in Ancient Literature gives students insight into myth, religion, politics, culture and aesthetics of a variety of cultures in the ancient world. Individual instructors will develop their syllabi according to their areas of specialization, but possible subjects include: (a) topics such as oral vs. written culture, democracy in literature, outlaws in the ancient world; (b) themes such as fate, heroism, love, and war; (c) genres such as tragedy, comedy, and oral epics. Students will learn to examine the ancient world through theoretical perspectives such as postcolonialism, feminism, performance, and historiography, and in the process, they will develop critical skills such as close reading, analysis, organized thought, and effective writing.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor

LIT 371 Topics in Medieval Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

Topics in Medieval Literature may focus on a literary genre or convention (e.g., epic, romance) or an important theme (e.g., chivalric and warrior codes, heresy and devotion, impermanence, erotic love) as a means of understanding the literature of the period. Each semester individual instructors will anchor the course in specific sub-topics, primary texts, cultures, historical moments, etc., depending on their own areas of specialization. The course will approach the canon for this period not as a fixed entity but as a body of work consistently open to reevaluation and critique; alternative texts, voices, and subject positions relevant to the topic(s) will be included. Topics in Medieval Literature will examine select literary movements, authors, and ideas with an eye to the formal features of texts as well as the social, historical, and political contexts in which they appear.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor

LIT 372 Topics in Early Modern Literature
3 hours, 3 credits

Topics in Early Modern Literature may focus on a literary genre or convention (e.g., drama, sonnet) or an important theme (e.g., the Other in literature, hierarchy, literature of love, monarchy in crisis) as a means of understanding the literature of the period. The specific focus of the course will be determined by the individual professor and may be concerned exclusively with English literature, Western Literature more broadly, or Western and non-Western literature. The course will approach the canon for this period not as a fixed entity but as a body of work consistently open to reevaluation and critique; alternative texts, voices, and subject positions relevant to the topic(s) will be included. Topics in Early Modern Literature will examine major and minor literary movements, authors, or ideas at work in 16th- and 17th-century literature with an eye to the formal features of texts as well as the social, historical, and political contexts in which they appear.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor

LIT 373 Topics in Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
Topics in Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Literature introduces students to a pivotal period that witnessed the development of modern politics and democracy, the rise of the novel, the appearance of the professional woman writer, and the emergence of Enlightenment philosophy and literature. As a means of understanding the literature of the period, the course may focus on a literary genre or mode (e.g., the novel, satire, sentimental irony) or on an important theme (e.g., nationalism, colonialism, human rights, parliamentary democracy, status and class, revolution, the rise of Enlightenment thought, The Black Atlantic, New Science and the human). The specific focus of the course will be determined by the individual professor; and specific syllabi may draw on British literature and Western Literature more broadly, as well as on Anglophone literature and/or literature in translation originating from locations and cultures around the globe. The course will approach the canon of this period as a body of work consistently open to reevaluation and critique; alternative texts, voices, and perspectives relevant to the topic(s) will be included. Topics in Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Literature is one of six historically specific Topics courses, students majoring in English are required to take four.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor

LIT 374 Topics in Nineteenth-Century Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
Topics in Nineteenth-Century Literature may focus on a literary genre or convention (e.g., lyric or narrative poetry, realist, romantic or naturalistic novels) or an important theme (e.g., industrialization, slavery, imperialism, and the romantic imagination) as a means of understanding the literature of the period. Each semester individual instructors will anchor the course in specific sub-topics, primary texts, cultures, historical moments, etc., depending on their own areas of specialization. The course will approach the canon for this period not as a fixed entity but as a body of work consistently open to reevaluation and critique; alternative texts, voices, and subject positions relevant to the topic(s) will be included. Topics in Nineteenth-Century Literature will examine select major and minor literary movements, authors, and ideas at work in 19th-century literature with an eye to the formal features of texts as well as the social, historical, and political contexts in which they appear.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor

LIT 375 Topics in Twentieth-Century Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
Topics in Twentieth-Century Literature may focus on a literary genre or convention (e.g., confessional poetry, non-linear narrative) or an important theme (e.g., alienation, memory and trauma, dominant vs. minority culture) as a means of understanding the literature of the period. Each semester individual instructors will anchor the course in specific sub-topics, primary texts, cultures, historical moments, etc., depending on their own areas of specialization. The course will approach the canon for this period not as a fixed entity but as a body of work consistently open to reevaluation and critique; alternative texts, voices, and subject positions relevant to the topic will be included. Topics in Twentieth-Century Literature will examine select literary movements, authors, and ideas with an eye to the formal features of texts as well as the social, historical, and political contexts in which they appear.

Prerequisite: ENG 102 or 201

Prerequisite or co-requisite: LIT 260 or permission of the instructor
LIT 390 Individual Reading
3 credits, 3 hours
Submission of a project of reading and research for approval by the instructor. A paper and periodic conferences are required. Special arrangements may be made to do this work over the summer.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and junior standing or above

LIT 400 Senior Seminar in Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
The senior seminar requires students in the literature concentration to synthesize the knowledge and critical skills they have acquired in the major. The course offers an in-depth study of a particular topic, author, or intellectual theme and asks students to examine the relevant issues and debates through course readings, discussion, and an original research project. The topic, author, or theme for the semester will be situated in current conversations in the broader field of literary/theoretical study.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, LIT 260, LIT 300 or LIT 305, and senior standing

LIT 401 Special Topics
3 hours, 3 credits
Specific study of a topic chosen by the instructor.
Prerequisites: Any 300-level literature course and ENG 102 or ENG 201

LIT 405 Senior Seminar in Literature and Law
3 hours, 3 credits
This capstone course in Literature and Law will focus on the relationship between literary and legal texts and practices. The seminar topic will be chosen by the individual professor to reflect the interdisciplinary field of literature and law and will underscore how literature and law are integrated disciplines. Using literary and legal texts and approaches, the course may focus on issues raised by the rule of law, the rules of war, the law of nations, and the illicit in social and cultural norms, as well as questions of citizenship, statesmanship, sovereignty, national identity, and international community. Drawing on skills acquired in the concentration, students will participate in contemporary debates in literature and law, and produce a final paper that includes original research. This course is required for seniors in the Literature and Law concentration of the English major.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, LIT 305, and senior standing

LIT 104 History of Puerto Rico
(Same course as HIS 104)
3 hours, 3 credits
A broad history of Puerto Rico from its beginnings to the present. Major emphasis will be given to the political, economic and social developments, with some attention to cultural themes.

LLS 107 Puerto Rican Literature: Criminal Justice Themes in Poetry and Drama
3 hours, 3 credits
A survey of the criminal justice themes as reflected in Puerto Rican poetry and drama. In addition to aesthetic values, subjects like the following will be discussed: concepts and attitudes toward crime among Puerto Ricans; and personal and social causes of the crimes attributed to Puerto Ricans. The factors that influence the image and attitudes of the Puerto Rican toward the police, courts and law enforcement agencies; the physical and moral consequences of imprisonment. Puerto Rican poets and playwrights in the United States such as Pedro Pietri, Victor Hernandez Cruz and Miguel Pinero will be included.
Prerequisite: An understanding of spoken Spanish is required

LLS 108 Puerto Rican Literature: Criminal Justice Themes in the Essay, Short Story and Novel
3 hours, 3 credits
The study of Puerto Rican literature as a mode for understanding the cultural, social and economic matrix of crime and punishment. Insights about the Puerto Rican law offender and gang member will be traced through the study of literary works by Puerto Ricans in the United States, such as Piri Thomas and Humberto Cintron.

Prerequisite: An understanding of spoken Spanish is required

LLS 110 Popular Musics of the Caribbean
(Same course as MUS 110)
3 hours, 3 credits

A survey of the major popular music styles of the Caribbean, including salsa, reggae, soca, and other genres, exploring their social contexts, historical origins and relation to indigenous folk music. The important role of New York City as a center for Caribbean music will also be examined.

LLS 145 Puerto Rican Culture and Folklore
3 hours, 3 credits

---

LLS 166 History of the Caribbean Islands
(Same course as AFR 166 and HIS 166)
3 hours, 3 credits

A broad survey of the history of the Caribbean Island nations and territories from the beginnings of European colonization until the present. Particular attention will be given to the economic and social aspects of the evolution, and to the problems of unity and diversity.

LLS 215 Socio-Political Developments in Contemporary Puerto Rico
3 hours, 3 credits

Political, social, and economic issues in Puerto Rico from the 1930s to the present. Political developments leading to the establishment of the “Commonwealth” and attendant economic problems. Consequences of Puerto Rico’s involvement with the United States.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the instructor

LLS 217 Latina/o Theater in the USA
(Same course as SPA 217 and DRA 217)
3 hours, 3 credits

This course exposes students to the major acting techniques and styles from the wide spectrum of Latina/o dramaturgy in the United States. Special attention is given to how the creative and literary components of each text contribute to typically Latina/o forms of acting and how these reflect the unique social and political experiences of being Latina/o in the United States. The course combines discussion of the specific texts and acting styles with an examination of both the creative and literary components. Course requirements include reading of selected plays in English, performance of scenes in class and students’ performance of their own works to be showcased at the end of the semester.

LLS 220 Human Rights and Law in Latin America
3 hours, 3 credits

A comparative study of human rights policies, procedures, legislation and practices in Latin American countries. The impact of international and national conventions, bills and laws on the present observance of these rights. Inquiry into morality, social justice, social and professional ethics.

This course can be taken to satisfy requirements for the International Criminal Justice major.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

---

LLS 230 Comparative Perspectives on Crime in the Caribbean
(Same course as AFR 230)
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will examine crime in the Caribbean, with a particular focus on the differences and similarities among the Spanish, English, and Dutch-speaking nations of the Caribbean region. The course will study the trends and crime in the Caribbean from a comparative perspective, and the methods employed by various individual nations to help diminish crime and delinquency. The specific topics to be studied include political crime and offenses, political corruption, drug dealing and trafficking, juvenile delinquency, domestic violence and sexual assault in the Caribbean. This course can be taken to satisfy requirements for the International Criminal Justice major.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

LLS 241 The Puerto Rican Latina/o Experience in Urban United States Settings

3 hours, 3 credits

This course seeks to analyze the sociological, economic and political experience of Puerto Ricans in the United States. Its emphasis is the study of legislation, policies and practice with regard to the Puerto Rican immigration/migration. Areas of research and examination are education, welfare, housing, employment, church, political parties, movements and the legal system.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 242 U.S. Foreign Policy in Latin America

(Same course as GOV 242 and POL 242 and HIS 242)

3 hours, 3 credits

U.S. economic and political relations with Latin American countries during the 19th and 20th centuries. U.S. reactions to reform and revolutionary movements. The ideological framework of U.S. foreign policy.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

LLS 245 Dominican Society and Identity

3 hours, 3 credits

Introduction to historical, economic, political and social processes, which have contributed to the development of Dominican culture. Factors contributing to immigration, settlement patterns and social adaptation in the United States will be explored.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

LLS 247 Growing Up Latina/Latino: From the 1940s to the Present

3 hours, 3 credits

Using literary novels, memoirs, essays, poetry and autobiographies by Latinas and Latinos and focusing on the experience of growing up Latina/o, this course will explore the relationship between history, literature and society. We will read literary texts to explore the ongoing (re)creation(s) of a “Latina/o identity” from the 1940s until the present. The course will focus on the ways that the identities and diverse experiences of Latinas and Latinos have been (re) shaped over time, according to the meanings attributed to race, class, gender, sexuality, national identity and citizenship status in each decade.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and sophomore standing or permission of the instructor

LLS 250 Drugs, Crime and Law in Latin America

3 hours, 3 credits

This course explores the problems facing Latin America in relation to drugs and crime. The course focuses on the conditions giving rise to crime, drug trafficking and drug addiction in Latin America. It offers a basic understanding of international legal and human rights standards and law enforcement efforts that apply in addressing the issues of drugs and crime. Particular emphasis is placed on hemispheric strategies to combat drug use and narcotics trafficking.

This course can be taken to satisfy requirements for the International Criminal Justice major.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 255 The Latin American Woman

3 hours, 3 credits

A socio-historical study of the Latin American woman's struggle for equality. Her roles in present Latin American societies are studied in relationship to her family, education, employment, political parties, movements and the legal system.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor
2 Courses Offered

LLS 260 History of Contemporary Cuba
(Same course as HIS 260)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will trace Cuban history, from the War of Independence of 1868, through the establishment of the Republic, up to and including the Revolution of 1959. The revolutionary period will be the main focus of the course.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 261 Revolution and Social Change in Contemporary Latin America
(Same course as HIS 261)
3 hours, 3 credits
Analysis of political and socioeconomic development, emphasizing major approaches to social change in the 20th century. Topics covered are class structures, demographic patterns, economic dependence, democratic liberal reform, neocolonialism, the Mexican Revolution, the Cuban Revolution and new trends of the last decade. A comparative, inter-American perspective, drawing on other relevant disciplines, is used.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 263 African Heritage in the Caribbean
(Same course as AFR 263 and HIS 263)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the social and political forces in the contemporary Caribbean. The course will focus on the following: the legacy of slavery, plantation society and underdevelopment, democracy, capitalism and socialism, race, class and ethnic conflict.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

LLS 265 Class, Race and Family in Latin American History
(Same course as HIS 265)
3 hours, 3 credits
Class structure, slavery, race relations and the organization of the family will be examined in the colonial and neocolonial eras of Lat- in American history. A comparative approach, emphasizing urban and rural situations and economic change, will be stressed.
Prerequisites: Sophomore standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

LLS 267 History of Caribbean Migrations to the United States
(Same course as AFR 267 and HIS 267)
3 hours, 3 credits
A comparative study of the most significant aspects of Caribbean migrations to the United States during the 20th century. Emphasis on the political, economic and social framework of the migration process. Special attention will be given to the contemporary situations of the Haitian, Hispanic and West Indian communities in the United States.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 290 Special Topics
3 hours, 3 credits
The study of a significant topic of general interest to be either announced or chosen by the instructor.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 321 Puerto Rican/Latina/o Community Fieldwork
6 hours: 2 hours lecture, 4 hours fieldwork; 4 credits
Community organization theory as it applies to the Puerto Rican communities in the United States. The study of Puerto Rican groups, agencies, organizations and movements. Students perform supervised community service and/or study one of the following areas: 1) work with community groups, agencies, organizations and movements organized to solve specific community problems; and 2) work in governmental rehabilitation and adjustment projects.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and LLS 241
LLS 322 Civil Rights and Civil Liberties in the Urban Latina/o Communities
3 hours, 3 credits
Analysis of the Bill of Rights and civil rights legislation on issues of discrimination in housing, employment, education, welfare, prisons, immigration and ethnicity/race affecting Latinas/os. This course can be taken to satisfy requirements for the International Criminal Justice major.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and junior standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 325 The Latina/o Experience of Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
The study of how the criminal justice system serves and shapes Latinas/os, especially those who are processed by it. The analysis of the interaction that ethnicity has with the system and its effects upon those who are involved with it.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and junior standing or above or permission of the section instructor

LLS 341 Immigrants, Citizens, Exiles, and Refugees in the Americas
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores some of the reasons why people leave their homelands in Latin America, and examines the relationship between legal status and access to rights in their new society, the United States. The course seeks to provide students with both sides of the immigration debates in the Americas, in order to foster the conceptual and foundational knowledge necessary to assess some of the issues at stake for both immigrants and U.S. society.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, LLS 242, and sophomore standing or permission of the instructor

LLS 401 Seminar in Latina/o Issues: Gender, Race, Ethnicity and the Legal System
3 hours, 3 credits
A senior seminar that will explore Hispanic issues through an in-depth study of areas including crime, race and ethnic disparities, gender, language and culture, policing, courts and Latina/o litigants, urban politics, immigration laws and policies; legal representation, administrative policy and interest groups, and criminal justice themes in literature; analysis and evaluation of aspects most relevant to Latina/o communities.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing or permission of the section instructor
2 COURSES OFFERED

LLS 489 Independent Study and Research
3 hours, 3 credits
Independent investigations by students whose topics have been approved. Students have regular conferences with the faculty member.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and senior standing or permission of the section instructor

LAW AND SOCIETY (SEE MAJOR COORDINATOR)

LWS 200 Introduction to Law and Society
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the ways that people attempt to use law for social and political change, as well as how social and political forces affect the content of law and access to it. Using a variety of approaches, the course covers issues such as how people understand law and how law both limits and empowers people politically. The course also serves as the introductory course for the Law and Society major.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, POL 101 and SOC 101

LWS 425 Colloquium for Research in Law and Society
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a research colloquium in which students initiate, develop, and present independent research in the field of Law and Society. The projects that students undertake in this course relate to the Law and Society major’s theme of law and social change. Students design research projects in conjunction with the faculty instructor and regularly report on progress to the seminar. The final research paper will demonstrate familiarity with relevant literature in the subfield, competence in research, research methods, writing and analysis, and the mastery of basic concepts in the discipline.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, LWS 200 Introduction to Law and Society, SSC 325, and senior standing.

MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE

MAT 104 Paced Modern Mathematics
4 hours, 3 credits
This course gives a systemic treatment of the foundations of college algebra. Topics include complex numbers, systems of linear equations and inequalities, functions, the theory of equations, logarithms and exponential functions. The student will improve problem solving skills by applying the concepts learned to applications. Students will be required to use an online homework software package. This course is a four-hour alternative version of MAT 105 and is designed for students who do not place into MAT 105.

Prerequisite: Placement examination

MAT 105 Modern Mathematics
3 hours, 3 credits
A systematic treatment of the foundations of college algebra. Topics include complex numbers, systems of linear equations and inequalities, functions, the theory of equations, logarithms and exponential functions, and related applications.

Prerequisite: Placement examination

MAT 108 Social Science Mathematics
3 hours, 3 credits
Recommended for students interested in the role of mathematical models in the quantification of the social sciences. Emphasis on mathematical skills and topics basic to the understanding of probability, linear programming, the power index, learning models, statistics, etc.

Prerequisite: Placement examination or MAT 104 or MAT 105

MAT 141 Pre-Calculus
3 hours, 3 credits
Recommended for Forensic Science majors. Topics include a study of the conic section, systems of linear equations, determinants, two-dimensional vector geometry functions and limits.

Prerequisite: Placement examination, or MAT 105 or the equivalent
MAT 204 Discrete Structures
3 hours, 3 credits
The course introduces fundamental ideas in discrete structures, serving as a basis for subsequent courses in computer information science. Topics include sets, functions and relations, the Pigeonhole Principle, basic counting methods, elementary logic, mathematical induction, recursion, trees and graph theory.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 105 or the equivalent

MAT 205 Probability
3 hours, 3 credits
Designed to set the foundations for frequency analysis and statistical inference. Topics in probability functions, densities and distributions.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 108 or MAT 141

MAT 220 Survey of the Concepts of Operations Research (Same course as FIS 220 and PSC 220)
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to operations research as it applies to model formulation in problems of management science, criminal justice, fire science and public service systems. Several topics will be surveyed from an elementary point of view in order to develop an appreciation and understanding of a quantitative approach to the resolution of management-oriented problems.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 108 or MAT 141

MAT 221 Operations Analysis for Public Systems
3 hours, 3 credits
Detailed examination of recent research involving the application of operations research to public systems such as law enforcement, fire science, air traffic control, library research, hospital operations. Opportunity is provided to develop and discuss student projects.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 220

MAT 241 Calculus I
3 hours, 3 credits
The basic concepts of limit, continuity and derivative are presented. Differentiation and integration of algebraic functions are developed. Applications are made to related rates, problems of maxima and minima, and to finding areas and volumes.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 141 or placement examination

MAT 242 Calculus II
3 hours, 3 credits
Applies the concepts of Calculus I to transcendental functions. Introduces l'Hôpital's method for dealing with indeterminate forms. Taylor series and general infinite series are discussed with respect to convergence and divergence.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 241

MAT 243 Calculus III
3 hours, 3 credits
Application of the techniques of elementary calculus to three dimensions, including vector calculus, surface area and arc length. Other topics discussed are the use of improper integrals in the form of Laplace integrals for solving ordinary differential equations, differentiation and the integration of infinite series.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 242

MAT 260 Data Processing
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides the student with basic knowledge of personal computers and their use in the modern workplace. Non-technically trained individuals learn how to organize their data for efficient computer use and to decide which practical options are available vis-à-vis specific computer systems. Students learn to use word processing packages, spreadsheets and databases in a modern networked computing environment.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and 3 credits of mathematics. No previous computer course is required.
2 COURSES OFFERED

MAT 270 Security of Computers and Their Data
(Same course as SEC 270)
3 hours, 3 credits

Methods that have been used in the past to steal with the aid of the computer. Actual case studies will be used. Methods of detecting computer fraud. Physically protecting the computer and its peripherals.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one introductory course in computing or the equivalent

MAT 271 Introduction to Computing and Programming
3 hours, 3 credits

Computer problem solving and programming in a high level language such as C++ are introduced. Algorithmic problem solving and basic programming techniques are emphasized. Problems are solved using methods such as top-down design and stepwise iterative refinement. Programming topics include basic data types, operators and expressions, control structures, functions, arrays and pointers. Students are introduced to a modern program development environment in the computer lab and are expected to complete several programming projects.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 105 or the equivalent

MAT 272 Object-Oriented Programming
3 hours, 3 credits

This course is a continuation of algorithmic problem solving, introducing more advanced methods, particularly object-oriented design. Topics include procedural abstraction, user defined static, dynamic and generic data types, linked structures, sorting and searching, event driven programming and recursion. Abstract data types, inheritance and polymorphism are examined in detail. Principles of rigorous programming practice and software development are emphasized.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 271

MAT 273 Graphics and Interface Programming
3 hours, 3 credits

Students learn to develop programs that allow users to create, paint and display images. In addition, they learn to use an object-oriented approach to develop cross-platform application programs with graphical user interface components such as windows, buttons and menus that respond to events such as clicking the mouse or pressing a key. JAVA programming language is used as the medium.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and MAT 272

MAT 276 Systems Analysis and Design
3 hours, 3 credits

The course introduces the concepts of information systems analysis and design including techniques for managing a systems development project. The role of the systems analyst and an overview of the entire systems development lifecycle are discussed. In addition, the requirements for an information system are defined using graphical models and supporting documentation. User interface and database designs are emphasized. Alternative analysis and design methods are also presented, as well as the object-oriented approach.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 260 or MAT 271

MAT 277 Computers for Administrative Decision Making
3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of executive decision problems selected from various areas of public administration. Formulation of problems for computer solution, with students participating in the managerial decision making process. No previous computer programming knowledge is assumed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and 6 credits of mathematics

MAT 278 Software Applications for Office Management
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will provide advanced experience in word processing, database analysis and spreadsheet analysis. Emphasis is given as to how to enhance the applicability of the above by using advanced features such as spreadsheet macros, database languages and word processing macros. Another feature of the course is to show how the tools above may be used together to enhance the productivity of the modern office.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and 6 credits of mathematics

MAT 279 Data Communications and the Internet
3 hours, 3 credits

An exploration of the use of personal computers, servers and appliances in communication networks such as the Internet. Communication protocols are introduced and the security of computer networks is discussed. Methods for transmitting files and information and search methods using e-mail, FTP, Telnet and Web-based data systems are examined. The legal and ethical aspects of this field also are discussed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 105 or the equivalent

MAT 301 Probability and Mathematical Statistics I
3 hours, 3 credits

Emphasis on the probability theory necessary for the study of statistical inference. Topics include studies of discrete, continuous and multivariate distributions. Applications to problems involving normal, binomial, Poisson and other distributions. Introduction to theory and methods of testing hypotheses and of estimation.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 241

MAT 302 Probability and Mathematical Statistics II
3 hours, 3 credits

Theory and methods of testing statistical hypotheses including Neyman-Pearson theorem, likelihood ratio tests, power function study, etc. Point and interval estimation of statistical parameters, including study of unbiased, consistent, efficient and sufficient estimators. Results applied to problems from different fields involving binomial, Poisson, normal and related distributions.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 301

MAT 310 Linear Algebra
3 hours, 3 credits

Calculations with matrices, vector spaces, bases and dimensions, rank of a matrix, systems of linear equations, determinants, characteristic equations, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, and minimal polynomials.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 241-242 or the equivalent

MAT 323-324 Operations Research Models I and II
Each course: 3 hours, 3 credits

The construction of mathematical models for real-life situations with the application of operations research theory to obtain practical solutions. Problems are chosen from varied fields of endeavor with particular emphasis upon public sector-related topics, e.g., traffic flow, court procedures, network analysis and simulation techniques.

Prerequisites: For MAT 323: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 241. MAT 323 is required for MAT 324.

MAT 371 Numerical Analysis
3 hours, 3 credits

Introduction to various numerical approximation techniques and the concept of error. Schemes are developed for finding the approximate solutions of algebraic and transcendental equations. Numerical differentiation and integration, finite differences, interpolation and extrapolation, and asymptotic approximation are also discussed. Applications to various branches of science are made. Stress is on the usefulness and necessity of numerical computation.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 242

MAT 373 Advanced Data Structures
3 hours, 3 credits

The examination of commonly employed data structures such as stacks and queues will be the objective of the course. In addition, singly and doubly linked lists, hash-coded storage and searching, tree data structures along with the corresponding sorting methods such as heap sort and quick sort will also be included. The application of these structures to the creation of data banks for public sector functions as well as the modeling of service facilities such as the courts and document processing agencies will be emphasized.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 374 Programming Languages

3 hours, 3 credits

The efficient translation from high level language to machine code is examined. Topics covered include context free grammars and push down automata, program semantics, virtual machines, data types and type checking, control structures, subprograms and exception handling. In addition, the imperative, object-oriented, function and logic programming paradigms are compared. Examples are taken from LISP, Prolog, C/C++ and Java.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 375 Operating Systems

3 hours, 3 credits

Fundamental concepts and techniques used in the design and implementation of modern operating systems are examined. Topics covered include processes, process coordination and synchronization, scheduling, memory organization and virtual memory, file systems, security and protection, and device management. The operating system's impact on the security and integrity of the applications and information systems it supports is emphasized. Concepts are illustrated using UNIX and Windows NT.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 376 Artificial Intelligence

3 hours, 3 credits

Artificial intelligence is an introductory course for students interested in the design of intelligent information systems. It covers several topics ranging from knowledge representation, inference, planning, search, and other fundamental topics in artificial intelligence, to selected topics in information retrieval, learning and robotics. The course provides a background in artificial intelligence, an exposure to the major issues and methods in the field, and some experience in writing intelligent programs using Prolog.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 377 Computer Algorithms

3 hours, 3 credits

Recursive algorithms, complexity analysis, parallel and distributed algorithms are explored. Specific topics covered include searching, sorting, recursive descent parsing, pattern recognition, network and numerical algorithms, and encryption schemes. Algorithms employed in the design of secure information systems used by law enforcement and public agencies are examined.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 379 Computer Networking

3 hours, 3 credits

The principles and methodologies used in the design and implementation of modern computer networks and networked information systems are studied in detail. Topics include shared use of a multiple access channel, error detection and recovery, and flow and congestion control. Packet switched networks and routing protocols are examined, and procedures for secure and reliable transport over best-effort deliver systems are presented. In addition, communication protocols above the transport level, for example, protocols that support the Internet and current Internet applications such as Web servers and clients, are discussed. Network programming is introduced, and students will be expected to develop several client/server applications.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MAT 272

MAT 400 Quantitative Problems in Criminal Justice

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will focus on quantitative applications in the criminal justice field. In this connection, principles and techniques from operations research, statistics and computer science will be applied to various situations and problems arising in criminal justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, MAT 221, MAT 324, and MAT 373

MAT 404 Internship in Management Information Systems

3 hours, 3 credits

This course gives students the opportunity to work directly with experienced administrators in city, state or federal agencies and to learn firsthand the role of information sciences in the agencies of the criminal justice system. Students normally work one day per week (120 hours per semester) in the agency, gaining experience in computer applications in the public sector. The classroom seminars and diary conferences allow the student to understand the roles computers play in management and decision making and to exchange experiences and gain insight into the workings of a number of different agencies. Placements are available in a broad range of these agencies.

Prerequisite: MAT 400

MAT 470 Database Systems in Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
Essentials of database systems: physical database organization, access methods, data models, entity relationships, and network, hierarchical and relational structures. Use of database technologies by law enforcement agencies to facilitate criminal investigations and improve agency functions.

Prerequisite: MAT 373

MAT 490 Selected Topics in Mathematics
3 hours, 3 credits
Specific study of topics chosen by the instructor.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and senior standing or permission of the section instructor

MATH 100 Introduction to Basic Mathematical Skills
3 hours, no credit
A comprehensive study of the fundamental principles of arithmetic, including operations with fractions, decimals, percents and signed numbers. Verbal problems as well as an introduction to the elements of algebra are included. Required for students needing additional preparation in mathematics before admission to MAT 103 or MAT 105.

Prerequisite: Placement examination

MATH 103 Elements of Modern Mathematics I
3 hours, 1 credit
Designed for students needing compensatory and remedial work with essentially the same content as MAT 105. Students required to take MAT 103 retake the placement examination and may take MAT 104 or MAT 105.

The grades of P and A are the only authorized passing grades.

Prerequisite: Placement examination

MUSIC (DEPARTMENT OF ART AND MUSIC)

MUS 101 Introduction to Music
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores the history, techniques and cultural contexts of the major forms of Western classical music. The course's goals include development of the student's musical ear and a heightened understanding of the ways in which social, intellectual and cultural patterns are reflected in music culture. Attendance at live concerts is required.

MUS 102 Music Skills
3 hours, 3 credits
This class will examine the basic principles of music notation and music theory. Staff notation, clef signs, intervals, scales, key signatures and beginning harmony will be explored. There will be exercises in reading and writing vocal and instrumental music, and practice in ear training. Previous musical training is not required.

MUS 103 American Popular Music from Jazz to Rock
3 hours, 3 credits
This course surveys the history of jazz and of the major 20th-century and modern styles of American popular music, including blues, gospel, rhythm 'n' blues, soul and hip-hop, exploring both stylistic features as well as socio-cultural themes.
MUS 104 Music in World Culture
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores the traditional and modern musics of selected world cultures, examining both their styles and their socio-cultural backgrounds. Areas to be studied may include Africa, India, Indonesia, and/or other regions, as well as diasporic communities in New York City.

MUS 110 Popular Musics of the Caribbean
(Same course as LLS 110)
3 hours, 3 credits
A survey of the major popular music styles of the Caribbean, including salsa, reggae, soca and other genres, exploring their social contexts, historical origins, and relation to indigenous folk musics. The important role of New York City as a center for Caribbean music will also be examined.

MUS 115 Introduction to Vocal Technique, Style and Song Literature
3 hours, 3 credits
A studio class introducing the principles of vocal technique and developing the singing voice through study of classical methods. Song literature studied ranges from 17th- and 18th-century art songs through traditional folk music to contemporary classical and popular songs.
Prerequisite: Ability to sing a simple song with correct rhythm and pitch and a pleasant tonal quality

MUS 120 Piano
3 hours, 3 credits
The basics of playing the piano. Instruction in reading music for the piano as well as the fundamentals of technique, including hand positions and finger exercises. Daily practice required; practice pianos available on campus. Exploration of the general history and literature of the piano.

MUS 130 John Jay Chorus I
3 hours, 3 credits
The class constitutes a singing ensemble of men and women. Class sessions operate as rehearsals and require regular attendance. The music sung reflects a wide range of styles. Skills are developed in the following areas: the ability to sing an independent part correctly and in tune; basic vocal technique; sight-reading of musical notation; diction; and general musicianship. Public performances may be given. Prior experience is not required, though members are expected to be able to sing a simple tune correctly.

MUS 131 John Jay Chorus II
3 hours, 3 credits
A continuation of Music 130. Class sessions operate as rehearsals, and require regular attendance. The music sung reflects a wide range of styles. Improved skills are developed in the following areas: the ability to sing an independent part correctly, basic vocal technique, sight reading, diction, general musicianship. Public performances may be given.
Prerequisite: MUS 130

MUS 140 Introduction to Guitar
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will enable a beginning student to learn how to play the guitar and read music. Basic musical concepts to be covered include treble and bass clef, scales, chords, melody, and harmony. The student will learn the fundamentals of guitar technique including hand positions and finger exercises. The construction and technology of the instrument will be explored and discussed in conjunction with the study of technique in a variety of musical cultures and contexts from around the world.

MUS 201 Musical Masterworks
3 hours, 3 credits
Representative masterworks of music from the opera, symphony, chamber, concerto, solo instrument, vocal, jazz and popular repertoires.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MUS 101 or MUS 102
MUS 202 Songwriting
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to song writing in particular, and musical composition in general. It is a studio course designed to develop the student’s ability to create and notate melodies, set words to music, employ basic harmonic techniques, and use short vocal and instrumental forms. Students’ works will be performed by the class.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MUS 102 or permission of the instructor

What is the relationship between oppression and creativity? Further effects on music of the politics of the 1930s and 1940s will be considered in the stories of specific imprisonments and emigrations that resulted from the wars. The course will use music CDs, readings and film to study specific situations that reflect the larger picture. All readings will be coupled with either quizzes or writing assignments.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and HIS 205 or any 100-level music course or permission of the instructor

MUS 203 American Musical Theatre
3 hours, 3 credits
A close look at the development of American musical theatre from the beginning of the 20th century to the present. Under discussion will be such early European influences as operetta, music hall, and cabaret, as well as the early American contribution of minstrel shows and satiric songs of the day. The changing forms of musical theatre, including Black and Hispanic theatre, will illustrate shifts in social styles and modes of living, thinking and feeling as influenced by world events.
Prerequisite: ENG 101

MUS 205 Beethoven, Verdi, Stravinsky
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of the lives and works of these composers, with emphasis on the analysis of their musical styles. The relationships between their works and those of other composers, and the impact of social and cultural changes on their works.
Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MUS 101 or MUS 102

MUS 206 Orchestral Music and the World Wars
(Same course as HIS 206)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore how World Wars I and II changed the role of music and musicians in Western European society, as well as the sound of music itself. Within the time frame of 1900–1945, this course will examine the effects of the World Wars on the evolution of Western European Classical Music. By analyzing the influence of Russian and European politics on musical expression, this course raises questions: How did Stalin and Hitler influence musical style?

MUS 210 Comparative History of African American Musics
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore how the musical histories of four important areas of the African diaspora in the Americas (Cuba, the United States, Brazil, and Haiti) have been shaped by the intersections of history, economics, race, gender, and the legacy of slavery from the 15th century to the present. The course will use an ethno-musical approach to sound and video recordings and examine how African-American musics reflect important historical and social forces in the Americas and how these musics connect to Africa and conceptions of Africa in the Americas.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201; and any general education History course (HIS 231 or HIS 232 or HIS 203 or HIS 204 or HIS 205); and any 100-level music course, or permission of the instructor

MUS 336 Composition Through Technology

3 hours, 3 credits

This course builds upon MUS 236 Music Technology as it explores music composition through the use of digital music technology. Intermediate techniques for recording, editing, and mixing will be explored, as well as advanced technologies such as sound synthesis, audio for video, and sampling. Using their instrumental skills as well as loops and samples, students will create their own compositions in a variety of genres of their choosing, including hip hop, rock, R&B, pop, electronica, and experimental styles.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and MUS 236, or permission of the instructor

NATURAL SCIENCE (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

NSC 107 Introduction to Science in Society

6 hours: 3 hours lecture, 1 1/2 hours recitation, 1 1/2 hours laboratory; 4 credits

A course in the basic principles of atomic and molecular physical science, including concepts of measurement and data collection, the scientific method, the structure of matter and living organisms, with emphasis on the relationships between science and society. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: MAT 104 or MAT 105 or the equivalent. May not be taken after CHE 108, ENV 108, FOS 108 or PHY 108.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC MANAGEMENT)

PAD 240 Introduction to Public Administration

3 hours, 3 credits

Introductory course treating the concepts and relationships involved in the execution of public policy. The relationship of the administrative process to clientele groups, the public, legislative bodies, the executive and the courts. Theory and description of administrative organization. Review of the salient features of recent reports on reorganization, fiscal administration, personnel management and management improvements.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: ANT 101, ECO 101, GOV 101, POL 101, PSY 101 or SOC 101

PAD 241 Information in Public Management

3 hours, 3 credits

Public managers manipulate and consume huge amounts of information. Students will learn about information systems used by public, private and nonprofit organizations and their impact on the administration of public programs. Students will use effective methods and techniques of information gathering, evaluation and presentation. The course will also teach students how to evaluate online and other sources. Particular attention will be given to the application of these skills in academic research.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

Prerequisite or co-requisite: PAD 240

---

PAD 260 International Public Administration

3 hours, 3 credits

Review of the institutions, processes and policy issues associated with the administration of international organizations and the implementation of international agreements. Focus on the development of functional and regional international organizations in the context of international legal, political and economic structure, and the administrative processes and structures that are associated with such organizations. Comparison of structures and styles of public management in other nations and cultures.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and ECO 101 or ECO 102

PAD 314 Leadership, Supervision and Performance

3 hours, 3 credits

This course exposes students to a range of techniques for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of public sector and not-for-profit services. It devotes particular attention to the application of theories of leadership and performance measurement in a wide variety of management settings. Cases are used extensively.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240
PAD 318 Decisions in Crises
3 hours, 3 credits
The goal of this course is to impart lessons to students on what makes for effective decision making during crises. As a starting point for our examination, the course defines leadership as a set of strategic tasks that involve critical analysis, decision making, devil’s advocacy, and implementation of actions to address a disturbance. Case studies will be used and ethical implications will be examined.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PAD 240, PAD 241, and STA 250

PAD 331 Fraud, Waste, Abuse and Corruption in Public Organizations
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the issues of fraud, waste, abuse and corruption in public, nonprofit and other publicly-funded organizations from the perspectives of management, law, economics and other social sciences. The managerial perspective considers the role of control systems and an integrity-fused organizational culture in preventing fraudulent, wasteful, abusive and corrupt practices. The legal perspective addresses the statutory basis for prosecuting such practices, as well as oversight structures, such as Inspectors General, designed to address such practices within an organization. Economic and other social science perspectives will be used to illuminate the systemic and individual dynamics that can invite and sustain corrupt, wasteful and abusive practices.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 340 Planning and Policy Analysis
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to a broad range of issues faced by policymakers and planners in the United States and to the tools and frameworks used to understand those issues by public administrators. Emphasis will be placed on planning as an administrative tool and the application of public policy analysis in the planning process.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 343 Administration of Financial Resources
3 hours, 3 credits
Examination of the managerial and political aspects of budgetary cycles and processes in the public sector. Budget planning, preparation, presentation, authorization, administration and control, alternative and innovative approaches to public budgeting, budgetary roles and role relationships.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 346 Human Resource Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will provide the student with an understanding of the history, development, and evolving philosophy of public sector human resource administration, as well as an introduction to specific techniques necessary for the management of human resources. Among the issues to be examined are recruitment, selection and training of personnel, affirmative action, labor-management relations and the role of a manager in public sector organizations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 348 Justice Planning and Policy Analysis
3 hours, 3 credits
Review of techniques of planning, decision making and implementation of change in the justice system. Survey of methods available for identifying needs, managing short- and long-term plans, and systematically monitoring change. Overview of problem areas involving the interface between discrete components of the justice system.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, CRJ 101 or CJBS 101, and PAD 241

PAD 355 Public Policy Analysis
3 hours, 3 credits
Interpreting and solving complex problems are everyday activities for public sector decision makers, whether they are operating in international, regional, national or local political environments. These decision makers rely on policy analysts to help them understand and reason through choices of action undertaken to remedy a wide array of market and governance failures. The content of this course examines the world of the policy analyst and the analytical techniques... they rely upon to carry out their work. Students will learn to assess public policy problems and carry out a policy analysis. These are critical skills for those seeking analyst grade posts in government, or working as policy professionals in nonprofit organizations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 358 Comparative Public Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
A comparative analysis of administrative processes and institutions in selected foreign countries. This course will explore similarities and contrasts in administration and program policy as they relate to political, social, economic and cultural factors in the societies studied, with special emphasis on developmental administration.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 360 Court Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of court management from institutional, behavioral and process perspectives. Emphasis on court structure, jurisdiction and inherent power; governmental relations affecting managerial control, judicial concerns and constraints on management; the allocation and utilization of court workers and on other resources and the role of the court executive.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 390 Selected Topics in Public Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
Intensive study of a topic to be announced.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 240

PAD 400 Quantitative Problems in Public Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
The principles and techniques of operations research will be applied to field problems and cases. Students will develop quantitative models, consider the organizational and management implications of the models, and develop management and implementation studies.

Note: This course is offered only as a distance learning course.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, MAT 220, and any 300-level public administration course

PAD 402-403 Seminar and Internship in Public Administration
6 hours, 6 credits
The Seminar and Internship in Public Administration exposes students to the daily routines, processes, procedures, and expectations and work life in the public sector. Students meet once a week in seminar. The seminar seeks to integrate public administration concepts and theories learned in the classroom with practical experience. The seminar meets once a month at the CUNY Graduate Center with students who are in similar programs at other senior colleges of the university. Students are required to intern a minimum of 12 to 16 hours per week at a government agency or nonprofit organization. Placement is arranged by the instructor in consultation with the individual student.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and permission of the instructor

PAD 404 Practicum in Public Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
Supervised work experience for students in city, state, federal, or international agencies, based on a project with a defined workproduct. Initial development of a project proposal, approved by both the course professor and the field supervisor, appropriate to the student’s major, and including a literature review of the topic. Participation in weekly classroom meetings and seminars supplements the work experience.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and PAD 241 or PAD 400

PAD 420 Contemporary Administration and the Judiciary (Same course as LAW 420)
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of emerging trends and issues in the administration of the courts, and the emerging role of the judiciary in the administration of programs in the public and private sectors. Examination of the literature of traditional court administration, as well as from areas of judicial intervention, such as corrections, school desegregation, mental health and foster care. Review of the history of judicial approaches to the administrative process, with focus on the forms of intervention and the substantive issues raised.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 360

PAD 440 Problems in Public Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
Seminar in selected problems for public administration. Case studies of current issues in public-sector management. Analysis of managerial techniques and strategies against a background of organization theory, behavioral motivation, administrative history and political change.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, senior standing, and PAD 240

PAD 445 Seminar in Justice Administration and Planning
3 hours, 3 credits
Seminar in selected problems involved in planning and administration of programs and agencies involved in criminal justice. Students examine actual and simulated cases involving the development and implementation of criminal justice policy. Cases require the analysis of management technique and policy strategy in the context of theory and practice in public administration and criminal justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PAD 348

PHYSICAL EDUCATION (DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION)

PED 103 Personal Physical Fitness and Dynamic Health
3 hours, 3 credits
Students will analyze modern concepts of fitness, evaluate their personal level of health and fitness, examine the values of various exercise programs, perform exercises designed to improve muscular and cardiovascular systems, and understand concepts of weight management, diet and nutrition, and stress management. Students will be counseled toward solutions to their individual physical fitness-health needs.

PED 104 Cardiovascular Fitness
(Formerly PED 195)
2 hours, 1 credit
A basic course in physical conditioning, emphasizing cardiovascular fitness. This course is especially important for students who plan careers in law enforcement. The course features participation in a circuit training program by prescription. Apparatuses include treadmills, bicycle ergometer, dumbbells, wall pulleys, rowing machine, variable resistance bench press and knee-thigh machines. Students must provide medical clearance prior to undergoing a comprehensive fitness evaluation. Each exercise program is individually prescribed. Students will receive work capacity tests.

This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 109 Water Aerobics and Basic Survival Skills
2 hours, 1 credit
Introduction to aquatics in the safe low-impact medium of chest-deep water. Emphasis is on utilizing the water's resistance and buoyancy to promote cardiovascular conditioning, body toning, muscular strength, endurance and breathing. Use of state-of-the-art aquatic equipment such as Wet Vest (for deep water jogging) and Aqua Step Fins is included.

This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 110 Contemporary Health Problems
3 hours, 3 credits
The course will explore research on critical health issues dealing with mental health, substance addiction and dependence, nutrition, human sexuality, infectious and non-infectious diseases and their relationship to morbidity and longevity.
PED 111 Aquatics I: Beginner Swimming
2 hours, 1 credit

Introduction to the fundamental swimming skills of floating, gliding and front crawl with instruction in basic water skills, safety and land rescue. Progression to more advanced skills such as treading water and standing front dive. Award of appropriate National Red Cross Aquatics Certificate level on completion of all skills requirements. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 112 Aquatics II: Intermediate Swimming
2 hours, 1 credit

Designed for students who have the fundamental swimming skills and are able to swim in deep water. Emphasis on form and ease in swimming and on perfecting the front crawl, breaststroke, sidestroke, back crawl and standing front dive with instruction in basic water skills, safety and land rescue. Award of appropriate National Red Cross Aquatics Certificate level on completion of all skills requirements. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 114 Aquatics III: Advanced Swimming
2 hours, 1 credit

Designed for competent swimmers capable of swimming the crawl, backstroke and breaststroke. Review of basic water skills, safety and land rescue. Training principles and interval workouts. Stretching, weight training and nutrition applicable to fitness, masters, and triathletes. Individualized video analysis of swimming skills. Award of appropriate National Red Cross Aquatics Certificate level on completion of all skills requirements. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 120 – 129 Intercollegiate Athletics Participation
1 credit per activity

These courses are limited to students who have successfully completed a full season of participation on a varsity team and have met the pre-established criteria in an activity within the intercollegiate athletic or sport club program at John Jay College.

PED 131 Air Pistol Shooting
2 hours, 1 credit

This course is an introduction to the basic handling of the air pistol (which uses pellets and not live ammunition), in order to develop the proper attitude for using a pistol safely and to develop skills in shooting at a bull’s-eye target. This course is also an introduction to the historical, legal and political issues associated with the pistol. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 133 Introduction to Boxing
2 hours, 1 credit

This course introduces students to the fundamentals of the sport of boxing. Topics include; the examination of safety practices, balance and stance in movement, basic boxing techniques, the use of training equipment, and health and physical fitness benefits. Please note: Students will not spar in this course.

PED 143 Karate I
2 hours, 1 credit

A basic course in fundamentals, including stances, punches, kicks, formal exercise, prearranged sparring and free-sparring. History and philosophy discussed.

This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.
PED 144 Karate II
2 hours, 1 credit
Introduction leading to the acquisition of advanced skills in stances, punches, kicks, formal exercise, prearranged sparring and free-sparring. History and philosophy of karate will be explored through assigned readings, lectures, discussions and a field trip. Practice in directing and judging competitors and familiarization with Metropolitan Intercollegiate Karate League rules. Voluntary participation in intramural and intercollegiate competitions. Prepares students for promotion. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 145 Self Defense
2 hours, 1 credit
An introduction to the skills useful in defending against attacks from the side, rear and front. Various safety preventions and hazards in the home and street will be explored.
This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 150 Tennis I
2 hours, 1 credit
Introduction to the basic tennis skills. Emphasis will be placed upon the forehand and backhand ground strokes, footwork, volley and the serve. Basic singles and doubles strategies will be discussed. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 155 Golf I
2 hours, 1 credit
Introduction to the rules, terminology, and fundamentals of golf, leading to the development of sufficient skills enabling the student to enjoy the game as a player and spectator. Class instruction and practice using indoor hitting nets, chipping baskets and synthetic grass putting greens will help the student to develop driving, fairway wood and iron, chipping and putting strokes. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 166 Yoga I (Formerly PED 192)
2 hours, 1 credit
An introduction to the fundamental posture exercises, breathing and relaxation techniques of yoga as a basis for physical and mental self-improvement. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 168 Weight Training and Body Development
2 hours, 1 credit
An introduction to the proper skills of weight training. The concepts of weight training, muscular development, strength and stamina are examined. The student will develop and practice a personal program of weight training. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 172 The Development of Weapons: An Historical Perspective
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides an introduction to the historical development of weapons. The sociological, political and ethical issues associated with weapons’ development are examined. Emphasis is placed on the use of weapons and their relationship to law enforcement.
Note: This course does not satisfy the physical education requirement of the College’s general education requirements.
2 COURSES OFFERED

PED 177 Physical Fitness for Law Enforcement
2 hours, 1 credit
This course introduces students to physical, cognitive and emotional demands of police, correction and fire fighter work. Students learn how to develop and maintain high levels of aerobic and anaerobic fitness as well as how to address many special needs of law enforcement personnel: diet and nutrition, care of the back, fatigue from shift work and physical fitness tests. This is an activity course. Students may apply no more than 4 credits of activity courses toward their degree requirements. There is no restriction on the number of 3-credit physical education courses that can be used to fulfill elective requirements.

PED 180 Stress Management
(Same course as PSY 180)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explain the sources and consequences of stress. Key theories and terminology will be discussed and evaluated. A variety of instruments that measure stress levels among individuals will be demonstrated. Coping techniques enabling students to adjust to the demands of stress will be described and practiced.

PED 185 Health Issues in the Uniformed Services
3 hours, 3 credits
Comprehensive examination of recent research and attitudes relating to health problems faced by uniformed services personnel. The course will discuss problems of substance abuse and addiction, HIV/AIDS, cardiovascular diseases, physical fitness, alcohol, tobacco, nutrition, infectious and non-infectious diseases. Students will examine various strategies for making decisions regarding their health. This course is open to all students.

PED 300 Community Programs for Health, Wellness and Physical Activity
3 hours, 3 credits
This course engages students in the assessment, evaluation and planning of community based health, wellness and physical activity programs. Students will review and critique regional and national guidelines for health and fitness programs for children, adolescents, adults and seniors. Class discussions will include the sociological, psychological and physical factors that influence the development and maintenance of health and fitness. Existing community programs will be visited, their program offerings will be reviewed, their effectiveness will be analyzed, and the availability and extent of community services and support partnerships will be identified. The ultimate goal is to design a model health, wellness, and physical activity program for a particular population within the community.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PED 103, PED 110, and junior standing or above

PHILOSOHPHY

PHI 102 Introduction to Ethics
3 hours, 3 credits
Do objective moral standards exist or is morality relative to culture or individual? This course examines the principles that guide moral reasoning and argumentation. The main theories of ethical justification are analyzed, with application to such selected issues of social morality as punishment, civil disobedience, privacy and sexual behavior, war, racial and sexual equality, abortion, euthanasia, business integrity and economic justice.

PHI 104 Philosophy of Human Nature
3 hours, 3 credits
In answer to the question, “Is there a human nature?”, this course examines the issues of mind-matter dualism, the concept of person, free will vs. determinism, human evolution and postmortem existence.

PHI 105 Critical Thinking and Informal Logic
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is a basic introduction to critical reasoning. Focus is on students’ developing and applying skills in critical and analytic reading and writing. Topics covered include recognizing arguments, identifying premises and conclusions, clarity and relevance in argumentative language, distinguishing types of arguments, validity and soundness in constructing and evaluating arguments, fallacies, and elements of legal reasoning.
PHI 201 Philosophy of Art
3 hours, 3 credits

Theories of beauty, creativity and expression, emotion and art; art and society; aesthetics and ethics. Readings include Aristotle, Plotinus, Lessing, Kant, Hegel, and Nietzsche.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

PHI 202 American Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits

This course is a look at the history of philosophy as it has been practiced in the United States. The course will pay close attention to the uniquely American philosophical movement known as pragmatism, but the course may also study some intellectual precursors to pragmatism such as transcendentalism, and intellectual figures such as Thoreau, and Emerson. Moreover, the course may involve the study of philosophical works and figures that are often left out of the history of American philosophy, such as David Walker, Martin R. Delaney, Ida B. Wells, Frederick Douglas, and W.E.B. DuBois. The course may also include some contemporary texts or issues in American philosophy.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

PHI 203 Political Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of the philosophical presuppositions about human nature that are inherent in political theories from Plato to Marx and concepts of sovereignty, freedom, authority and law.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

PHI 204 Logic
3 hours, 3 credits

An exposition of formal and informal methods of evaluating reasoning in arguments and texts. We will examine systems or models of deductive reasoning, problems of translation from natural to formal languages, reasoning and rhetoric in complex arguments and the foundations of the logic of investigation.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

PHI 205 Philosophy of Religion
3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of religion from a philosophical viewpoint: including questions such as the existence of God, the nature and reality of miracles, the possibility of an afterlife, and the foundations of morality in religion. Readings from classic philosophers such as Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Hume, and Kant, as well as contemporary philosophers.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the section instructor

PHI 210 Ethical Theory
3 hours, 3 credits

Ethical theory is the attempt to understand the principles that should guide our thinking and decision making about morally important issues. In this course, we investigate moral theory in the history of philosophy. This course compares first principles and moral intuitions, moral relativism and moral dogmatism, moral character traits and the ethics of duty. Focus will be on theories, arguments and their relation to practical issues. We will examine these issues with reference to historically influential ethical systems, with an eye toward better understanding those systems and their relevance. The course will examine the ancient Greek tradition, which is still pivotal to the ethical debates of today. Part of the analysis of the dominant theories will include important alternatives to this tradition. These alternatives might include, but are not limited to, feminist ethics, Buddhist ethics, animal ethics, and environmental ethics. We will also be calling into question some of the key assumptions these ethical systems make, such as who counts as a morally relevant being and what sort of considerations are morally relevant.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and PHI 105

PHI 224 Death, Dying and Society: A Life Crises Management Issue
(Same course as ANT 224, PSY 224 and SOC 224)
3 hours, 3 credits

Death and dying will be viewed from the perspectives of a variety of academic disciplines and applied fields. The course will deal with the dying process: the different cultural practices and beliefs related to this process; its impact on the individual and his or her family, particularly in the areas of grief, mourning and restructuring of the family; and it will examine the ways different occupational groups are routinely involved with death and dying and the methods they evolve to manage it for others and cope with it themselves. The course will also explore different types of death, death at different periods in the life cycle, euthanasia, abortion and ethical, religious existential issues related to death and dying. The course will be multidisciplinary.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and an introductory course in sociology, anthropology, philosophy, or psychology

PHI 231 Knowing, Being and Doing: Philosophical Method and Its Applications
3 hours, 3 credits
An introduction to four major philosophical questions: What can I know for certain? Does God exist? How should I act toward others? What is justice? This analysis of the foundations of knowledge, religious belief, ethical theory and social justice includes readings from Plato, Aristotle, St. Thomas, Descartes, Kant, Mill and contemporary philosophers.

Prerequisite: ENG 101

PHI 302 Philosophical Issues of Rights
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore a number of philosophical issues regarding the nature, content and scope of rights. Fundamental issues include what is meant by the notion of a right, how rights are justified and what sorts of rights we have (negative and/or positive). Other issues will also be explored including whether all humans have rights, whether the scope of rights encompasses animals and ecosystems in addition to humans, and whether rights exist for groups as well as individuals.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231

PHI 304 Philosophy of the Mind
3 hours, 3 credits
This course presents discussion and critical assessment of some major philosophical questions concerning the mind: What is the mind? How much can we know about the self? Can we completely understand the mind in physico-chemical terms? What are the moral, political and ethical implications of our understanding of the mind? The course will survey the most important approaches to these questions, including dualism, behaviorism, identity theory, functionalism, eliminativism and others.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor

PHI 310 Ethics and Law
(Same course as LAW 310)
3 hours, 3 credits
Inquiry into the relationship between morality and law; their organic interrelationship in the natural law tradition; their separation in positivism. The contemporary debate illustrated by the issues of human and civil rights; the enforcement of sexual morality; civil disobedience; and the ethics of law enforcement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor

PHI 315 Philosophy of the Rule of Law: Theory and Practice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course investigates various philosophies of the rule of law contributing to the liberal democratic tradition, focusing on controversies and debates over what, exactly, the rule of law is and what it is supposed to do. Positivism, natural law theory, the social function of law, legal realism, rule skepticism, and the normative and aspiration aspects of the rule of law will all be considered. Once we have read through the history and philosophy of the rule of law, the course will focus on real world problems and debates about the rule of law in domestic and international settings, to ask how we might reimagine the rule of law in the face of contemporary challenges.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the instructor

PHI 321 Police Ethics (Same course as CRJ 321)
3 hours, 3 credits
An identification and analysis of the diverse ethical issues encountered in the police service. Traditional ethical theories will be examined and will be applied to such topics as discretion, deadly physical force, misconduct, authority and responsibility, affirmative action, civil disobedience, undercover operations and privacy.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor

PHI 322 Judicial and Correctional Ethics
(Same course as CRJ 322)

3 hours, 3 credits

A treatment of some of the central issues of judicial and correctional ethics. Traditional ethical theories will be applied to such topics as plea bargaining, bail and preventive detention, wiretapping, enforcement of sexual morality, sentencing, punishment, prisoners’ rights and parole.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the section instructor

PHI 326 Topics in the History of Modern Thought

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will explore in depth one of the basic philosophic movements or conceptual themes that characterize modernity such as individualism, natural rights, freedom/liberty, utilitarianism, the Enlightenment, secularization, or existentialism. The course will analyze the metaphysical as well as the political presuppositions of the selected theme in relation to its historical context. (The course instructor will choose the semester’s theme.)

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the instructor

PHI 327 19th-Century European and American Philosophy

3 hours, 3 credits

This course looks at major trends in 19th-century European and American philosophy, a century that created the basic texts and traditions for movements such as Positivism, Pragmatism, Existentialism, Transcendentalism and Marxism, as well as carrying through on the 18th-century currents of Idealism. Historical texts may include the writings of Hegel, Marx, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Comte, Frege, Peirce, Bentham, Mill, Emerson and Thoreau. The course will look at the texts in their own right, as well as seeing how they came out of the philosophical thought of the previous century, and, most importantly, how they informed the political, social and ethical positions of the current age.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the instructor

PHI 330 Philosophical Modernity

3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides an overview of the problems, positions, and main lines of argument of Western European philosophy in the period, roughly, from Montaigne (1580) to Kant (1781). Philosophical issues are contextualized by reformation, scientific and political revolution, “enlightenment,” colonialism, and the slave trade. The role of criticism and critique in the achievement of the emerging modern paradigm is a course theme. Topics include knowledge, skepticism, and faith; empiricism, rationalism, “mechanical philosophy” and idealism; mind, body, and substance; freedom and determinism; God, natural law, morality, and justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PHI 105, PHI 210, and PHI 231

PHI 333 Theories of Gender and Sexuality
(Same course as GEN 333)

3 hours, 3 credits

Gender Studies is a field that has been formed in and through theories originating in women’s studies, queer theory, masculinity studies and their intersections with race and class. In this course students will learn how gender studies theories have re-conceptualized gender and sexuality as products of the interactions among historical, representational, racial and cultural constructs. Readings and discussions will focus on a series of themes and issues such as rage, bodies, gender performance, family, consumerism, and political rights.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; and GEN 205 or PHI 231

PHI 340 Utopian Thought

3 hours, 3 credits

Representations of ideal societies have played an important part in discussions of justice since Plato’s Republic. This course will focus on some of the classical utopian (and dystopian) texts as well as on representative contemporary literary efforts in the utopian tradition. We will also examine some of the philosophical, literary, and historiographical analyses of utopian thought and of the social phenomena associated with it.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the instructor

PHI 343 Existentialism
3 hours, 3 credits

This course surveys 19th- and 20th-century North Atlantic philosophy associated with existentialism, an intellectual movement centered on issues of individual responsibility, “radical freedom,” and political engagement. Contextualizing it as a critical reaction to the abstract optimism and colonizing tendencies of the 18th-century Enlightenment, we explore existentialism’s focus on concrete situations and worldly problems. Topics include anguish, thrownness, bad faith, humanism, and facticity. Readings are selected from thinkers such as Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Unamuno, Cesaire, Sartre, de Beauvoir, Camus, Fanon, Wright, and contemporary commentators.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and PHI 231

PHI 351 Classical Chinese Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits

Philosophy flourished during the ‘Spring and Autumn’ and ‘Warring States’ periods in China (722-221 BCE), when the ‘schools’ of Confucianism, Daoism, and Legalism developed. This course analyzes some of the major works, themes, and concepts of this classical intellectual tradition. Questions of the linguistic and cultural distinctiveness of the terms, and of the challenges this raises for ‘non-Eastern’ philosophical paradigms such as the ‘modern Western,’ will animate the learning of this ancient material today.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231

PHI 354 Africana Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits
(Same course as AFR 354)

This course introduces students to the rich and diverse field of Africana philosophy, which is essentially philosophy of and about Africa and its diaspora. The first half of the course covers African philosophy, while the second half covers the philosophy of Africans in the Americas. Possible themes include: (1) the tension between tradition and modernity; (2) the philosophical meaning of racism and white supremacy; (3) the relevance of philosophy to liberation movements throughout Africa and its diaspora; and (4) philosophical anthropology.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and PHI 231

PHI 374 Epistemology
3 hours, 3 credits

This course investigates the nature of knowledge. It will focus on what counts as knowledge, how we come to acquire knowledge, whether knowledge has a true foundation, what the sources of knowledge are, and skepticism about knowledge. This course will also investigate serious challenges to contemporary analytic epistemology. We will read historical and contemporary contributions to these debates.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and PHI 231 or permission of the instructor

PHI 377 Reality, Truth and Being: Metaphysics
3 hours, 3 credits

Metaphysics, often called first philosophy, inquires into the nature of truth and reality. We’ll ask such questions as: What is a thing? Is a person a kind of thing? Does God exist? Where are non-material objects, like numbers and ideas? What are time and space? What are the metaphysical assumptions of social constructs and identities? Anyone who has ever wondered whether there is a mind-independent reality, or any reality at all, has thought about the subject matter of metaphysics. Attention will be paid to both Western and non-Western philosophical sources.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PHI 231

PHI 400 Senior Seminar in Ethics
3 hours, 3 credits

This course is an advanced seminar in ethical theory. Each seminar will be defined by a topic that considers both meta-ethical and normative ethical issues. Topics in meta-ethics may include: Do moral facts exist? Are they moral intuitions? Are we free to always act on the strongest desire? Is there such a thing as moral responsibility? Topics in normative ethics may include: How ought one to act? Do human beings have moral obligations to nonhuman animals? What role should religion play in ethics? The class will offer intensive readings on a topic selected by the professor as well as instruction and practice in the process of philosophical research and writing.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PHI 210, or ENG 201, and PHI 330

PHI 423 Selected Topics in Justice
(Same course as GOV 423 and POL 423)

3 hours, 3 credits

This is an advanced senior-level seminar focusing on one of a set of specific topics or issues to be chosen by the instructor offering this section of the course—concerning the philosophical concept of justice. Topics can be either theoretical or applied, and may include, but are not limited to, any of the following: an advanced survey of contemporary philosophical theories of justice; the textual analysis of one philosophic classic on justice, e.g., John Rawls’ Theory of Justice; the philosophy of punishment and retribution; justice—distributive and compensatory; the impact of race, gender, and class on the contemporary philosophical analysis of justice.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PHI 231, and one 300-level philosophy or political theory course, or permission of the section instructor

PHYSICS (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

PHY 101 College Physics I (Liberal Arts Physics)

6 hours: 2 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 3 hours laboratory; or equivalent, 4 credits

Topics include kinematics, vectors, forces, Newton’s law of motion, weight, gravitational field, free fall, non-uniformly accelerated motion, momentum and impulse, kinetic and potential energy, heat and thermodynamics, illumination and photometry, reflection of light, refraction. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisite: Sequential Mathematics Level III or Trigonometry

PHY 102 College Physics II (Liberal Arts Physics)

6 hours: 2 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

Topics covered include electrostatics, electric fields and electric potential, current electricity, magnetic field, electromagnetic induction, the wave-particle duality, photons and matter waves, physics of the atom, nuclear physics. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisite: PHY 101

PHY 203 General Physics I

6 hours: 2 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

This is the first semester of a two-semester introductory course sequence, which is designed to provide the student with a general knowledge of the principles, concepts and theories of classical and modern physics. This calculus-based course is designed for students with a science or engineering background and for Forensic Science majors. The topics covered this semester will pertain to geometric optics, mechanics, and heat and thermodynamics. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 241.

Co-requisite: MAT 242

PHY 204 General Physics II

6 hours: 2 hours lecture, 1 hour recitation, 3 hours laboratory; 4 credits

This is the second semester of a two-semester introductory course sequence that is designed to provide the student with a general knowledge of the principles, concepts, and theories of classical and modern physics. This calculus-based course is designed for students with a science or engineering background and for Forensic Science majors. The topics covered this semester will pertain to fluid mechanics, vibrations and wave motion, electricity and magnetism, and physical optics. (Note: This course has a $25.00 material fee)

Prerequisites: PHY 203, MAT 242, and ENG 101
POLITICAL SCIENCE (COURSES WHICH PREVIOUSLY HAD THE PREFIX GOV, ARE NOW LISTED AS POL)

POL 101 American Government and Politics
3 hours, 3 credits
A study of American politics—its institutions and processes and the distribution of political power with an emphasis on how the system works, who benefits and who does not, and to what extent it is democratic.

POL 203 Municipal and State Government
3 hours, 3 credits
Functional study of the legislative and administrative process in state and local government. The increasing importance of administration and the executive in modern government. The relationship between administration and the legislative and judicial branches of the government. The influence of political parties, pressure groups and public opinion upon legislation and administration.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 206 Urban Politics
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of the ideological and historical roots of urban politics, the distribution of power, major problems in urban areas (e.g., education, housing, transportation, welfare), and the relationships between government and the governed.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 210 Comparative Urban Political Systems
3 hours, 3 credits
Cross-national study of urban government systems and policy processes. Examination of the politics of local service delivery, including local policing, housing, education and urban development. Comparison of the local political impacts made by national policies, private sector interests, party politics and the varying roles of city executives, legislators and urban political systems.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101

POL 214 Political Parties, Interest Groups, and Social Movements
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will analyze the institutions citizens use to influence politics and policy, assessing the formation and organization of political parties, interest groups, and social movements. In addition, the course addresses the ways that parties, interest groups, and social movements affect political decision making, and the obstacles to that influence. We also closely examine how recent developments and contemporary events challenge each of these three institutions.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101

POL 215 U.S. Congress
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the U.S. Congress as part of the American political system. This course addresses issues relating to elections to Congress, including incumbency and the role of money in elections. Attention is paid to the issue of executive encroachment on legislative powers, internal organization, leadership, the question of legislative reform, and the relationship between representation, apportionment, and democratic theory.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the instructor

POL 220 The American Presidency
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the American presidency covering topics including the evolution of the Executive Branch, the relationships the President has with the media and the public, and how the President interacts with the other branches of the federal government. A central theme of the course is presidential power. Students will learn how the actions of presidents throughout U.S. history have both expanded and contracted the power vested in the office.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor
POL 225 Introduction to Research in Politics
3 hours, 3 credits

This course is an introduction to how political scientists conduct qualitative and quantitative research. Students will learn the research process with emphases on developing research questions, evaluating information, and planning research projects. Students will evaluate scholarly research in political science, learn how to apply ethical considerations when conducting research, and learn how different research projects relate to one another through writing a literature review.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101

POL 232 Media & Politics
3 hours, 3 credits

An understanding of the media is important to assess the vitality and vibrancy of democratic political systems. The study of media is a study of how citizens learn about their government and how elected officials and candidates present themselves and their actions to citizens. The course considers the actions and interplay of the goals of producers of media content (reporters, producers, bloggers, editors and owners—both private and public) and elected officials, candidates, and parties and their relationship with citizens. The course considers how this relationship is different across different countries and across time, and how the development of internet and social media are changing these relationships. The course also examines how well or poorly contemporary media systems serve democracy, asking whether they provide the information citizens need to make informed choices about their government. The study of media and politics helps students to examine the media they consume and to think critically about the messages and potential effects of that media.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and POL 101 or GOV 101

POL 234 Introduction to Public Policy
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the major policy issues confronting contemporary society through the lens of the political scientist. In this course we will explore the central actors, institutions, processes and issues associated with the formation of public policy and then examine specific policy areas such as health care, the environment, anti-poverty initiatives, immigration and education. Public policies at the local, intermediate/state, national, and international level affect our everyday lives in profound ways, and this course provides an opportunity for students to understand and analyze those effects.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and POL 101

POL 237 Women and Politics
3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides students with an opportunity to consider the presence of women in political institutions and how a range of political and policy issues pertain to women. It introduces students to the history of women’s entry to political life, their struggles for equal rights and representation, and their current roles and representation in electoral politics. Students will also examine how a range of political issues such as prostitution, same-sex marriage, and abortion impact women in the United States and, where comparison is useful, abroad.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101

POL 242 U.S. Foreign Policy in Latin America
(Same course as HIS 242 and LLS 242)
3 hours, 3 credits

U.S. economic and political relations with the Latin American countries during the 19th and 20th centuries. U.S. reactions to reform and revolutionary movements. The ideological framework of U.S. foreign policy.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 244 The Politics of Immigration
3 hours, 3 credits

Debates over immigration in the United States are often heated and contentious. After taking this course, students will understand the full range of positions in these debates, and will be able to develop and clearly articulate their own position on contemporary immigration politics. Students will learn essential terms used in migration studies, explore historical political debates over immigration, and analyze the contemporary politics of immigration in the United States, including debates over border militarization, unauthorized
2 COURSES OFFERED

(“illegal”) immigration, amnesty, employer sanctions, sanctuary cities, guest worker programs, the shifting balance of power between federal, state, and local governments; and immigration law and policy. Students will read a variety of scholarly and popular texts, as well as key Supreme Court decisions.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the instructor

POL 246 Politics of Globalization and Inequality
3 hours, 3 credits

What political processes allow for some countries to become rich while others remain very poor? What are the political and historical conditions responsible for recent and past financial crises? Since politics is the struggle over who gets what, why and how, interactions between the state and civil society have a strong influence over economic outcomes and the distribution of money and resources. This class takes a political economy approach to understanding globalization and inequality, by emphasizing the political, socially imbedded and historically contingent aspects of our global economy. This course surveys the major theories, key institutions and contemporary issues in international political economy. Topics include the history of global inequality, the politics of international trade, institutions such as the International Monetary Fund, the politics of oil, and issues of economic justice, including colonialism, financial crises, and poverty.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the instructor

POL 257 Comparative Politics
3 hours, 3 credits

The course will examine the political processes and institutions of selected foreign governments. Emphasis will be placed on the relationship of political institutions to key cultural, economic, and historical variables.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 259 Comparative Criminal Justice Systems
(Same course as LAW 259)
3 hours, 3 credits

Study of the variations in patterns of corruption and political crimes as well as patterns of law enforcement and adjudication among political systems. Examples are drawn from a variety of political systems: democratic, communist and modernizing.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 260 International Relations
3 hours, 3 credits

A survey of the factors that influence the relations among nations. Theories of war, peace, imperialism and the determinants of power. The superpowers and balance of terror. International law and organization. National integration and the creation of regional communities. The rise of the Third World and the crisis of the international order.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or permission of the section instructor

POL 270 Political Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits

Analysis of political thought throughout history, with particular attention to such values as liberty, democracy, equality, security, stability, law. Comparison of traditional and contemporary political theories in terms of priorities of values and political culture. Systematic examination of underlying assumptions and logical coherence of normative political thought.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above
POL 273 Western Political Thought
3 hours, 3 credits

This course provides an introduction to key theories in the development of Western political thought. Sustained attention will be devoted to consideration of the relevance of the theories we will examine to our own day and society. Authors likely to be discussed include figures such as Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Marx, Mill, and Freud.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101

POL 278 Political Sociology
(Same course as SOC 278)
3 hours, 3 credits

Analysis of the relationships of socio-psychological factors to political phenomena. An examination of man in political society and political society in man. Emphasis on the interdisciplinary study of power, authority, elites, political and social change, political violence, social inequality, technology, ideology and political socialization.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or SOC 101

POL 290 Selected Topics in Government
3 hours, 3 credits

Specific study of a topic chosen by the instructor.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, GOV 101 or POL 101, and permission of the section instructor

POL 301 Constitutional Powers
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the constitutional powers of the three branches of the national government and the evolution of federal-state relationships. Readings will consist of leading and recent Supreme Court decisions, which may be supplemented by political, philosophic, and legal literature.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101, junior standing or above, or permission of the instructor

POL 302 Voting & Public Opinion
3 hours, 3 credits

This course centers around two questions key to democracy: how people form opinions about issues and why people vote the way they do. Topics include partisanship and ideology as ways to organize opinions, the roles of political knowledge, family, and demographics in the formation of opinions, and the relationship between individual opinions and public opinion. Further emphasis will be placed on the impact of these factors on voting and other forms of political participation.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 or ENG 201, POL 101 or GOV 101, and junior standing or above

POL 305 Constitutional Rights and Liberties
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines civil liberties and civil rights in the United States. Topics include the First Amendment rights of speech, press, assembly, and religion; the right to privacy; and equal protection. Readings will consist of leading and recent Supreme Court decisions, which may be supplemented by political, philosophic, and legal literature.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, POL 101 or GOV 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the instructor

POL 308 State Courts and State Constitutional Law
3 hours, 3 credits

This course focuses on the development of state constitutional criminal law and its relation to federal constitutional criminal law. It examines the structure of state judicial systems, emphasizing the role of appellate courts in handling criminal cases, and the relationship between the state and federal courts.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

POL 313 The Law and Politics of Race Relations
(Same course as LAW 313)
3 hours, 3 credits

Analysis of the politics of race and racism in the United States through the examination of major court decisions and of legislation affecting minority groups. Treatment of racial minority groups in the criminal and civil justice systems, and by courts, police and prisons will be included.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the section instructor

POL 316 The Politics of Rights
3 hours, 3 credits

Rights and claims are defining features of American, and to an increasing degree, world political and social life. After taking this course, students will be better able to identify, understand, and critically evaluate how and why rights are used in our political and social world. We will study a range of materials that address such topics as: what rights are; if, why, and when rights-claims have power; the history of using rights-claims to achieve political goals; how, why, when, and who uses rights-claims in contemporary political disputes; and what we do when rights conflict. Particular attention will be paid to social and political movements that use rights-claims in specific sub-topics, primary texts, cultures, historical moments, etc., depending on their interests and areas of specialization.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing

POL 318 The Law and Politics of Sexual Orientation
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the law and politics affecting lesbians and gay men in the United States and investigates issues like same-sex marriage; the constitutionality of consensual-sodomy laws; sexual-orientation discrimination in public accommodations, housing, and the workplace; antigay ballot initiatives; child custody, visitation, adoption, and foster care by lesbian and gay parents and their domestic partners; health insurance and other benefits for domestic partners; and gays in the military. These issues will be considered through an examination of case law.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above

POL 319 Gender and Law
3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the constraints and limitations of law to achieve equality, justice and freedom in matters related to gender. It will examine how individuals use, challenge, and resist law and legal institutions to define problems and create social change. Drawing on an image of social science research, class readings pose important and persistent questions about whether and how law can adequately address gender-related concerns, such as those related to violence, work, family, reproduction and education.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above

POL 320 International Human Rights
3 hours, 3 credits

A review of the evolution of international human rights and of the legal instruments designed for their protection. A discussion of the main civil, political, social, economic and cultural rights in the International Bill of Rights. An examination of the theoretical foundations of the idea of human rights in various civilizations and cultures. Its legacy within the Western and non-Western traditions, and its meaning and relevance in dealing with the major challenges posed by international crimes, including genocide and war crimes.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above. Additional recommended courses: GOV 259/LAW 259/POL 259 (Comparative Criminal Justice Systems), or GOV 260 or POL 260 (International Relations)

POL 325 The Politics of Transnational Crime
3 hours, 3 credits

Transnational crime and violence have become major concerns for governments around the world as they work to stem the flow of drugs, control trade in human beings and deal with the problem of stateless terrorism. In this course, we will study the developing literature on this issue by examining how crime has altered state sovereignty, posed challenges to governance, changed conceptions of human rights and affected international organizations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101
POL 331 Government and Politics in the Middle East and North Africa
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the politics of the Middle East region. While students will learn about the legacy of colonialism in the region, the course will focus on its modern political history (beginning in 1914), and examine a number of issues of central importance in contemporary politics: the Arab-Israeli conflict, political Islam, political Judaism, petro-politics, U.S. foreign policy in the region among others. Students will also gain a comparative perspective on how the concepts of justice, law and conflict are interpreted and institutionalized across the region.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101 or GOV 257 or POL 257 or permission of the instructor

POL 362 Terrorism and International Relations
3 hours, 3 credits
This course engages students in the study of terrorism and counter-terrorism by analyzing the international political implications of terrorist activity. Framed by theories of international relations, the course explores topics such as international security, international organizations, human rights and foreign aid. In this way, students will assess the impact of the “global war on terror,” and compare and contrast the post-9/11 period with earlier efforts to suppress terrorism.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and GOV 101 or POL 101. In addition, GOV 260 or POL 260 (International Relations) is strongly recommended.

POL 371 American Political Philosophy
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will survey the basic books of contemporary American liberal and conservative political thought, examining them in terms of the categories of state theory, economic policy, social policy, the race problem, foreign policy, and criminal justice policy. There will also be an introduction to the most recent secondary literature dealing with liberalism and conservatism.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above

POL 375 Law, Order, Justice and Society
3 hours, 3 credits
Consideration of the ideas of major writers in the field of political theory who have contributed insight into the concepts of law, order, justice and society. Topics will include conceptions of human nature, natural law, social contract, and the sources and nature of political leadership. Considerable attention will be devoted to the relevance of the ideas discussed to contemporary American society.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above

POL 390 Honors Tutorial
Hours to be arranged, 3 credits
The student submits a term project of reading and research for approval by the instructor. A paper and periodic conferences are required. Special arrangements may be made to do this work over the summer.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and junior standing or above, or permission of the instructor

POL 402-403 Seminar and Internship in New York City Government
(This course has been changed, see POL 406-408 below)

POL 405 Seminar in New York City Politics
3 hours, 3 credits
Examination of the network of power shaping New York City politics. Analysis of external influences, including intergovernmental relations, the global economy, in- and out-migration; and internal dynamics such as the machine-reform dialectic, politics of planning and public authorities. Survey of policy-making determinants, including ethnicity and class, fiscal crises, power of developers and use of communities as real estate commodities.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and senior standing, or permission of the instructor
POL 406-408 PUBLIC AFFAIRS INTERNSHIPS

POL 406 Seminar and Internship in New York City Government and Politics

6 hours, 6 credits

Students take a once weekly John Jay College senior seminar that examines the City Charter and formal governmental structures, New York City politics and public policies. Once per month students also meet at The City University Graduate Center for the CUNY Forum, a CUNY (Cable 75) televised public affairs program featuring guests on current NYC topics and highlighting student participation. In the internship placement, students work 12 to 16 hours for each of the 14 semester weeks with an elected official, city agency, or relevant nonprofit organization. Placements are arranged by the instructor in consultation with the student. The emphasis of the program is a synthesis of the students’ seminar work and guided observations in the placement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, senior status, and permission of the instructor

POL 407 New York State Assembly/Senate Session Program

12 hours, 12 credits

Students in this public affairs residency internship are placed in the office of an Assembly Member or State Senator in the state legislature in Albany for 35 hours weekly for a 16-week spring semester, including participation in weekly on-site seminars and related academic activities. Reading, writing and research assignments are specified by on-site seminar faculty. Including orientation and finale events, students should expect to be in Albany for approximately 18 weeks. Students work with their college faculty liaison and the CUNY Edward T. Rogowsky Internship Program to apply for program acceptance and supporting stipends. Application for this program is competitive; acceptance is not guaranteed.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, senior status, and permission of the instructor

POL 408 CUNY Washington, D.C. Summer Internship Program

6 hours, 6 credits

This is an eight-week summer session residency internship in Washington, D.C. with a focus on American government and politics. Students apply through their college faculty liaison to the CUNY Edward T. Rogowsky Internship Program for acceptance and a stipend award. Accepted students are placed with a federal agency, U.S. representative or senator, or a recognized and relevant nonprofit organization. Students work for 35 hours per week in their placement, complete written and research assignments and participate in related academic activities as designated by the Rogowsky Program and approved by the John Jay College Political Science Department faculty sponsor. Application for this program is extremely competitive; acceptance is not guaranteed.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, senior status, and permission of the instructor

POL 409 Colloquium for Research in Government and Politics

3 hours, 3 credits

This course is a research colloquium in which students initiate, develop, and present independent work related to government, politics and the state. The diversity of projects undertaken by students emphasizes the breadth of concerns related to government, law, and politics, identifying emerging scholarly interests and concerns. Students design research projects in conjunction with faculty instructors and report regularly on progress to the seminar. The final research paper will demonstrate the student’s familiarity with relevant literature in the subfield, competence in research, research methods, writing and analysis, and the mastery of basic concepts in the discipline. In addition, the course will integrate the various subfields of the discipline through the examination of current research.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, a 300-level government course, the Government or Political Science majors, and senior standing
POL 423 Selected Topics in Justice
(Same course as PHI 423)
3 hours, 3 credits
This is an advanced senior-level seminar focusing on one of a set of specific topics or issues to be chosen by the instructor offering the section of the course—concerning the philosophical concept of justice. Topics can be either theoretical and applied, and may include, but are not limited to, any of the following: an advanced survey of contemporary philosophical theories of justice; the textual analysis of one philosophic classic on justice, e.g., John Rawls' Theory of Justice; the philosophy of punishment and retribution; justice—distributive and compensatory; the impact of race, gender, and class on the contemporary philosophical analysis of justice.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PHI 231, and one 300-level philosophy or political theory course, or permission of the instructor

POL 435 Seminar in Judicial Processes and Politics
3 hours, 3 credits
Seminar devoted to advanced study of both state and federal courts in the United States as actors and arbiters in major constitutional and political disputes. Examination of the public policy contribution of courts, and the role of judges, lawyers, litigants and pressure groups in the judicial process. Emphasis is placed on how court decisions influence the negotiation and accommodation that occur in the United States between the values of dominant cultures and those of culturally diverse groups (racial, ethnic, religious, gender).
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and senior standing, or permission of the section instructor

POL 450 Senior Seminar in International Relations and Comparative Politics
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will expose advanced undergraduate students to an in-depth analysis and assessment of key concepts, methods, issues, and debates in the fields of international relations and comparative politics. Main topics in this course will include: contending theoretical approaches to understanding international and comparative politics; diverse methodologies; the role of the state in an increasingly interdependent world; evolving perceptions of sovereignty; the impact of domestic and international institutions on political outcomes; and the nature and function of the international legal process. Particular emphasis will be placed on the examination of certain major contemporary issues that include the globalization of financial markets, the challenge of terrorism, and the quest for accountability in world politics. The course aims at providing students with the social scientific training necessary to produce a major research paper.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, GOV 101 or POL 101, and senior standing

PORTUGUESE (DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES)

POR 101 Elementary Portuguese I
3 hours, 3 credits
Portuguese 101 is a beginning-level integrated skills language course. This courses helps students develop a basic ability to communicate in Portuguese. Class time is dedicated to interactive activities that allow students to acquire skills in speaking, listening, reading and writing at the novice low level. Through music, videos, and readings of authentic materials, students are also introduced to many aspects of Brazilian culture as well as of other countries where Portuguese is spoken. Class is conducted in Portuguese in order to maximize exposure to the language. Lab activities are also incorporated in order to develop students’ listening, reading, and writing skills and pronunciation.

POR 102 Elementary Portuguese II
3 hours, 3 credits
Portuguese 102 is the second half of a one year course in Portuguese. This course will enable the student to speak, comprehend, read, and write Portuguese at the novice mid proficiency level. Emphasis is placed on some aspects of Luso and Brazilian cultures.
Prerequisites: POR 101 or placement exam

Description

- PSC 101 Introduction to Police Studies
  A survey of law enforcement agencies, their role, history and development within the field of criminal justice. Limited to students who do not have law enforcement experience.
  Prerequisite: Eligibility to enroll in ENG 101

- PSC 201 Police Organization and Administration
  An examination of the historical development and present organization and administration of police departments, and a consideration of the principles of organization best adapted to ensure effective service to the community. Evaluation of line, staff and auxiliary functions; the utilization of planning and analytic units as administrative aids.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101, sophomore standing or above, and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

- PSC 202 Police and Community Relations
  Factors in human relations as they affect policing and police management. Prejudice and discrimination and their effects on the police in a changing society. The history and development of civil rights and civil liberties. The role of the modern police officer as generated by the balance of the requirements of peace and order and those of individual rights.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

- PSC 204 The Patrol Function
  Consideration of the various factors, which influence the determination of patrol strength, type and distribution. Existing patrol practices in various police departments of the United States, Europe and the United Kingdom are compared and evaluated critically.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 108 or MAT 141

- PSC 207 The Investigative Function
  Introduction to criminal investigation in the field. Consideration of conduct at the crime scene, interview and interrogation of witnesses and suspects, the use of informants and the techniques of surveillance. Emphasis on the special techniques employed in particular kinds of investigation and the presentation of the police cases in court.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

- PSC 216 Crime Mapping
  The course covers both the theory and practice of Geographic Information Systems (“GIS”) for law enforcement and public safety purposes, a technique known as “crime mapping.” The class introduces the theoretical framework for the study of the ecology of public safety, or “crime and place,” the descriptive and analytic procedures of crime mapping, and how spatial analysis is used in designing and implementing effective programs of crime prevention, problem solving and community policing.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101, and sophomore standing or above

- PSC 220 Survey of the Concepts of Operations Research (Same course as FIS 220 and MAT 220)
  An introduction to operations research as it applies to model formulation in problems of management science, criminal justice, fire science and public service systems. Several topics will be surveyed from an elementary point of view in order to develop an appreciation and understanding of a quantitative approach to the resolution of management-oriented problems.
  Prerequisites: ENG 101, and MAT 108 or MAT 141
PSC 223 Personnel Administration and Supervision
3 hours, 3 credits
The essentials of personnel management and fundamentals of supervision and leadership as applied to administration. Consideration of supervisory problems with a police/security system. Application of labor relations to effective performance. Topics include discipline, motivation, training, job classification, salary standards and promotion.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

PSC 227 Police Training Programs: Goals, Content and Administration
3 hours, 3 credits
An examination and evaluation of various police training programs, both historical and current: goals, purposes, course content and teaching techniques of such programs. An examination of their organization, administration, financing, and relationship to police departments, universities, foundations, and city, state and federal agencies.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

PSC 230 Sex Offenders in the Criminal Justice System (Same course as COR 230)
3 hours, 3 credits
The aim of this course is to develop an understanding of the causes of sexual crimes and how sex offenders are dealt with throughout the criminal justice process. There is an analysis of the laws that relate to sex offenders and the cyclical nature of sex offender legislation. The course examines the difficulty of balancing rights of the offenders and rights of the community, and what forms of community protection are viable for these individuals. By the end of the course, students should have an understanding of sex offender typologies, types of treatment offered, laws and policies regarding sex crimes, and the likely future direction of legislation.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: COR 101, PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

PSC 235 Women in Policing
3 hours, 3 credits
An analysis of the social and political forces that guided the evolution of women's role in policing from ancillary specialist to integrated member of the police establishment. Role enhancement from “Police Matron” to “Policewoman” to “Police Officer” is studied against the backdrop of women's reform movements. Title VII, Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 and Supreme Court rulings abolishing barriers to women in policing are examined. Study of women police in other countries, in state and federal agencies. Topics include female officers’ occupational role conflicts; performance on patrol; coping with physical and psychological stressors—male peer prejudice, jealous mates, favoritism, sexual harassment; women's special attributes in policing; female detectives; the future, including the role of women in key policy-making decisions.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

PSC 245 Community Policing
3 hours, 3 credits
An overview of the major concepts and issues involved in what many consider to be a major fundamental shift in the approach and operations of modern policing. Topics include the origins, meaning, development, experiences and the record of community policing. Course also explores various assessments of the advantages and disadvantages of community policing.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: PSC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

PSC 250 Criminal Justice in Eastern Europe
3 hours, 3 credits

PSY 311 Research Methods in Psychology

This course will prepare students for research in the behavioral sciences. Course lectures will follow the principal theories and practices of contemporary psychological research. The course will also include a laboratory component that will focus on the development of testable hypotheses, the design, analysis, and interpretation of research, and on writing research reports in APA format.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 101, PSY 200, and STA 250

PSY 327 Learning and Memory

This course explores the fundamental concepts and current issues in human learning and memory. Topics may include: memory systems for words, images, and personal facts; memory encoding and retrieval; principles of forgetting; the role of attention in memory; implicit memory; memory distortion; and individual differences (e.g., age, gender, ethnicity) in memory.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PSY 200, and STA 250

PSY 320 Brain and Behavior

This course will provide an overview of the basic physiological processes that underlie human behavior. Topics may include the physiology of neural systems that mediate sensory and motor systems, cognitive processing in language, attention, emotion and memory, and the biological bases of psychological disorders.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 101, PSY 200, and STA 250

PSY 331 Assessment and Clinical Evaluation in Chemical Dependency Counseling

This course will focus on assessment of addictive disorders, and clinical evaluation of substance and alcohol abusers. Application of assessment and clinical evaluation findings will be made to treatment planning, case management, discharge planning and clinical record keeping. These assessment and evaluation methods and findings will be applied to chemical dependency counseling techniques. While this course is intended for Addiction Studies Program (ASP) students, who are pursuing the Credential in Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Counseling (CASAC), other students with an interest in assessment and clinical evaluation in chemical dependency are invited to enroll.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PSY 266 and PSY 268

PSY 332 Psychology of Adolescence

The course deals with various aspects of typical and atypical development in adolescence, from the transition out of childhood to the transition into adulthood. Such topics as hormonal and physical changes, cognitive development (Piagetian, information-processing and psychometric views), the peer group, friendships, parent-adolescent interactions, sex roles and identity formation, sexuality, delinquency, drug abuse, suicide, and psychological disorders in adolescents may be discussed. Whenever possible, developmental issues in adolescence are considered from a cross-cultural as well as historical perspective. Readings will focus on both basic developmental theory and applied research.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PSY 101, and PSY 231

PSY 333 Psychology of Gender

3 hours, 3 credits

This course analyzes psychological theories on the development of gender, gender identification and gender-typed behavior; research evidence for the presence or absence of gender differences; gender-influenced social development across the life span; psychological aspects of gender roles in the family and in the workplace; gender-related mental health, and the relevancy of gender in everyday life.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; and PSY 101 or instructor permission

Prerequisite or co-requisite PSY 311 or SSC 325

PSY 336 Group Dynamics

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will focus primarily on the psychology of the small group. A combination of lectures and action-oriented activities (e.g., role playing) will be used to give students an understanding of group processes and to improve their skills as group members or leaders. The aim of the course is to provide an integration of group theory, research and applied methods. Topics covered include group development, group conflict, conflict resolution within groups, and an overview of group theory and human relations training groups.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, PSY 101, and PSY 221

PSY 339 Key Concepts in Psychotherapy

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will examine the major theories of psychotherapy, with emphasis on the relationship between the theorist’s view of personality, psychopathology, and therapeutic procedures. A survey of theoretical approaches will be presented. Case illustrations and multicultural considerations will be introduced, so that students can learn how to apply various theoretical orientations to various clinical populations and racial/cultural groups.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 242, PSY 243, and at least junior standing or permission of the instructor

PSY 342 Introduction to Counseling Psychology

(Same course as CSL 342)

3 hours, 3 credits

Provides a theoretical survey of the field of counseling. Major emphasis is on such topics as ethical considerations, the intake interview, counselor roles and client roles, goals of counseling, referrals and liaisons in community, vocational counseling tests and instruments used in the counseling process, academic counseling and research on the counseling process. Differences between counseling and psychotherapy are discussed. Field trips to various counseling centers are arranged.

PSY 343 Psychology of Dreams

3 hours, 3 credits

A basic course dealing with the theoretical and research aspects of dreams and the psychology of the dream process. Lectures, discussions and readings focus on the use of dreams in psychotherapy, understanding unconscious communication in dreams and recent developments in dream interpretation.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PSY 242 or PSY 243

PSY 345 Culture, Psychopathology and Healing

(Same course as ANT 345)

3 hours, 3 credits

This course will study and compare models of mental illness, distress, treatment and healing across cultures. Cultural relevance of Western models of psychopathology, psychiatry and psychotherapy across cultures will be considered. The role of Western psychology within the context of globalization of health care systems will be addressed. Topics will include: self and culture; emotions and culture; culture-bound syndromes; help-seeking and culture; therapists, traditional and folk healers; and the politics of psychology in world health.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 242, and junior standing or above
PSY 347 Psychology of Oppression
(Same course as AFR 347)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course analyzes the socio-cultural and psychological factors that contribute to a sense of being oppressed. It also examines strategies that facilitate progress on the road to healthy functioning and contributes to progressive system changes. Special attention is paid to the interaction between these two sets of factors.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; PSY 101 or AFR 129/PSY129; and PSY 221 or a 200-level Africana Studies course

PSY 350 Advanced Topics in Chemical Dependency Counseling
(Same course as CSL 350)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course provides instruction in specific counseling concepts and skills focused upon alcoholism and substance abuse counseling. Students learn about client assessment, treatment planning, case management, clinical record keeping, discharge planning, counseling roles and settings, family and community education, and vocational counseling.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 266, PSY 268 and PSY 331/CSL 331

PSY 352 Multicultural Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will investigate the influence of sociocultural factors, such as race, ethnicity, gender and class, on human thought and behavior. Students will explore different theoretical ways in which psychology addresses the tensions between cultural differences and universals, with a focus on how cultures construct human thought, behavior and identity. Building on this theoretical foundation, the course examines varying perspectives on psychological constructs, such as gender, sexuality, parenting and identity, as crucial components of self-hood. Students will be challenged to think critically about universal assumptions in psychology and to become aware of cultural influences on individuals. The application of multicultural principles to psychological practice and research will be integrated throughout the course.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PSY 101, and STA 250

PSY 370 Psychology and the Law
(Same course as LAW 370)

A study of the psychological bases and dynamics of criminal behavior. Topics to be discussed include the “antisocial personality,” the psychopath, psychosis and crime, alcoholism and drug abuse, the adolescent offender, the female offender, “sex” offenders and white-collar crime. The varying ways in which the criminal justice system processes, treats and affects the different types of offenders will also be discussed.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and PSY 242 or permission of the section instructor

PSY 373 Correctional Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course explores the major psychological themes and problems in assisting the re-entry and reintegration of the offender into society. Issues investigated will include the ethics and functions of the correctional psychologist; the efficacy of behavior modification and other treatment modalities; training and supervision of paraprofessionals in correctional settings; sexuality in prison; community-based corrections; prisoner classifications and assessment; prison violence; and the future of correctional psychology.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, and PSY 242
PSY 375 Family Conflict and the Family Court
3 hours, 3 credits

The focus of the course is on the interface between psychology and the legal system as apparent in conflicts heard in family court. Coverage will include the following topics: psychological and legal terms and concepts relevant to family court and psychology; the history and development of the family and juvenile court system; child abuse and neglect; domestic violence; juvenile delinquency; juvenile transfer to adult court; juvenile interrogation; child custody and child placement relevant to divorce, foster care, and parental rights termination. Biological, social and cultural factors that might influence family court decisions will be examined.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201; PSY 101, and PSY 231

PSY 378-379 Fieldwork in Forensic Psychology
Hours to be arranged. Each course: 3 credits

This course provides a supervised experience assisting psychologists and other professionals in forensic psychology with their assessment, management and treatment functions. Students will work in an applied institutional setting, such as a prison, special treatment clinic, hospital, or rehabilitation setting. Training will include interviewing and taking case histories, observation, and staff and case conferences. Students will also participate in classroom seminars supervised by a faculty member, with a focus on career development, and will develop a writing piece on a topic relating to their field placement.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 242, and majoring in Forensic Psychology

PSY 385 Supervised Undergraduate Research Experience in Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will provide a hands-on opportunity to conduct original research with a faculty member. Students will attend meetings with the faculty member’s research team and will be expected to perform literature searches and to engage in hypothesis generation. Data collection, data entry, statistical analysis, and research report writing may also be required. This course is primarily intended for students interested in graduate study in psychology. Students will produce a literature review or research proposal at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, STA 250, PSY 311, junior standing, and permission of the instructor

PSY 410 Independent Study
3 hours, 3 credits

A program of reading and reporting planned and carried out under the guidance of a faculty member. Concerned with a selected topic, issue, or area of interest in anthropology, psychology, or sociology.

Prerequisites: 12 credits in psychology, and permission of the chairperson of the department and the section instructor

PSY 421 Forensic Social and Experimental Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits

This course critically examines selected areas in social and experimental forensic psychology. Students will gain an in-depth knowledge of topics focusing on individual behavior and perceptions (such as eyewitness, child witness, or expert witness testimony) and topics focusing on group behavior (such as jury selection and decision making.) Students will read original research articles and will explore current debates in the field relating to research questions, research methods and ethical issues in research.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 221, PSY 311, and PSY/LAW 370

PSY 425 Seminar in Forensic Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits

This course will provide students with the opportunity to undertake an in-depth course of study in a topical area of social/experimental forensic psychology. Individual instructors will develop their syllabi according to their areas of specialization. As a capstone experience, students will be expected to integrate the skills, concepts, methods, and theories learned over the course of their studies within the Psychology major, into a meaningful culminating experience.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, PSY 370, PSY 311, and senior standing
PSY 430 Clinical Topics in Forensic Psychology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will provide students with the opportunity to undertake an in-depth course of study in a topical area of clinical forensic psychology. Individual instructors will develop their syllabi according to their areas of specialization but possible topics include: child emotional disorders: forensic implications; treatment and rehabilitation of the offender; evaluation and counseling of sexual offenders; addictions in the legal system; and psychopathy. As a capstone experience, students will be expected to integrate the skills, concepts, methods and theories learned over the course of their studies within the Psychology major, into a meaningful culminating experience.
Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, PSY 242, PSY 311, PSY 370/LAW 370, and senior standing

An overview of drug substances and drug abuse. Topics covered include types and patterns of drug abuse, with a focus on symptoms, causes, treatment modalities, and other related factors. Specific drug substances are discussed, along with resultant psychological and physiological effects. Attention is paid to legal, cultural and educational factors as they relate to drug abuse prevention. Consideration of the relationship between urban living and drug abuse.

SOC 160 Social Aspects of Alcohol Abuse
3 hours, 3 credits
History and functions of alcohol use in Western cultures. Distinction between use and abuse. Extent of problem drinking in the U.S. The bar phenomena and prohibitionism. Theories of alcohol use and abuse. Social costs of and societal responses to problem drinking.

SOC 161 Chemical Dependency and the Dysfunctional Family
3 hours, 3 credits
This course examines the way alcoholism and drug abuse begin with a family, how they affect family life, the different types of family treatment offered, and the difficult process of recovery. Comparisons will be made between alcoholic and drug abusing families, and families suffering from other types of difficulties. Role playing, family sculpting and other experimental approaches will be used to aid in teaching.

SOC 201 Urban Sociology: The Study of City Life
3 hours, 3 credits
Explores what the earliest cities were like, and how urban life has changed over the centuries; what forces guided the evolution of cities into centers of industry, commerce, finance, recreation, entertainment, higher education and media communications; why cities face problems of inadequate mass transit, congestion, housing decay, pollution, crime and fiscal bankruptcy; how city life shapes personalities and attitudes and influences lifestyles and life chances; what solutions have been proposed for urban problems; and how different everyday life will be in the city of the future.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 202 The Family: Change, Challenges and Crisis Intervention (Same course as PSY 202)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will examine the family as a changing institution. Topics to be dealt with will include families throughout Western history, families in different societies and cultures, maleness and female-ness, the nature of love, sexuality, being single and alone, dating and courtship, cohabitation, marriage, women and work roles, parenting, family stress and conflict, divorce and remarriage.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, SOC 101, and PSY 101

SOC 203 Criminology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course introduces students to the subject of criminology by discussing the main theoretical perspectives and issues. It focuses on the problems of definition and measurement and the main ways in which crime can be explained and controlled. In addition, the course considers how crime is represented, for example, by the mass media; the unequal distribution of crime within society; the relationship between victims and offenders; and the social and political context of debates on crime and social control.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 206 The Sociology of Conflict and Dispute Resolution
3 hours, 3 credits
Focuses on why there are struggles over income, property and power on the interpersonal, community, national and international levels. Examines the causes of disputes, the difficulties that arise in resolving them, the alternative methods for settling them (conciliation, mediation, arbitration, adjudication) and the advantages of peaceful resolution.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101
SOC 209 Sociology of Work and Jobs
3 hours, 3 credits
Explores the importance of work as a major source of individual and group identity, income, lifestyle and influence; how people find jobs, why they choose a particular line of work, why they stay or leave; the different occupations, the pay, prestige, privileges, power and satisfactions they bring; the rise and development of trade unions and professional organizations; how most work has become routinized, impersonal, narrowly limited, yet highly specialized; and on-the-job problems of absence, turnover, boredom, sabotage and stealing.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 210 Sex and Culture
(Same course as ANT 210 and PSY 210)
3 hours, 3 credits
Study of behavior and psychological differences between males and females in the light of contemporary social science theories of social structure, social learning, and individual development. Emphasis on the examination of contemporary theoretical issues in cross-cultural perspective.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and sophomore standing or above

SOC 213 Race and Ethnic Relations
(Same course as PSY 213)
3 hours, 3 credits
An analysis of the problems and economic and social positions of minority groups in the United States. Power relationships among various public and private institutions, militant action organizations, service agency programs, etc., are explored in the light of their impact upon the administration of justice in urban ghetto communities, the role of minority group police officers, the community environment and the people among whom law enforcement must operate. Interactions among historical and current social forces and institutions that influence group and individual behavior within urban ghetto communities are examined. New trends in inter-group relations, emergence of new minorities and American groups contesting for program funding and services in the urban environment.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: SOC 101, PSY 101 or ANT 101

SOC 215 Social Control and Gender: Women in American Society
3 hours, 3 credits
The effects of various systems of social control on women in American society. The systematic impact of race, ethnicity, informal and formal sources of social control of women, ranging from traditional family sex roles to the treatment of women by courts and prisons, health care institutions and schools. Examination of organized efforts by women to change both their social roles and organized institutions.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and one of the following: SOC 101, PSY 101 or ANT 101

SOC 216 Probation and Parole: Principles and Practices
3 hours, 3 credits
Administrative organization and management in the probation and parole systems. Recruitment, training, assignment and supervision of probation/parole officers.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 222 Crime, Media and Public Opinion
3 hours, 3 credits
The course explores the nature of public understandings of social problems and solutions, particularly related to crime and justice, and the media's role in facilitating those understandings. The media provide audiences a distorted view of crime and punishment as well as the cognitive tools to think about crime and what should be done about it. The first aim of the course is to examine international, interdisciplinary scholarship from a range of empirical and theoretical perspectives that address the relationship between crime, media and public opinion in an evolving media landscape. The second aim is to challenge students to think critically, both about the course materials and about the messages they encounter through the media, and to consider innovative ways to improve the interplay between crime, media and criminal justice policy.
Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101
SOC 224 Death, Dying and Society: A Life Crises Management Issue
(Same course as ANT 224, PHI 224 and PSY 224)
3 hours, 3 credits
Death and dying will be viewed from the perspectives of a variety of academic disciplines and applied fields. The course will deal with the dying process: the different cultural practices and beliefs related to this process; its impact on the individual and his or her family particularly in the areas of grief, mourning and restructuring of the family; and it will examine the ways different occupational groups are routinely involved with death and dying and the methods they evolve to manage it for others and cope with it themselves. The course will also explore different types of death, death at different periods in the life cycle, euthanasia, abortion and ethical, religious existential issues related to death and dying. The course will be multidisciplinary.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and an introductory course in sociology, anthropology, philosophy, or psychology

SOC 232 Social Stratification
3 hours, 3 credits
This course reveals that there are social classes in America as well as individuals and groups; how all societies have classes within them; how different interests cause conflicts between the classes; how members of various classes have different attitudes and life styles; how class differences influence personality, sexual behavior, job preferences, health, criminal activity and treatment by the justice system; and what patterns and trends exist for individual and group mobility up and down the social ladder.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 236 Victimology
(Same course as CRJ 236)
3 hours, 3 credits
This course focuses on the victims rather than the offenders: why they have been “rediscovered” recently, why they often do not report crimes to the police, how some victims might share responsibility for the crimes with the offenders, how they can be repaid for their losses through offender restitution and government compen- sation; and what new services are available to help victims prevent crime and survive attacks.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

SOC 240 Social Deviance
3 hours, 3 credits
Analysis of the manner in which societies come to define certain behaviors as deviant. Particular attention will be paid to the social and cultural processes of social disorganization and conflict, civil disorder and violence, crime, mental illness, suicide, addiction and sexual deviance. Selected theories of deviance will be critically examined.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 251 Sociology of Human Rights
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the sociology of human rights. It will enable students to understand major sociological debates surrounding the topic, mainly how human rights became part of social expectation, how they vary in socio-cultural space, and how they are distributed across different categories of people. It will enable them to think critically about human rights issues in a global world. The focus will be on the role of non-state actors, including Amnesty International and Human Rights Watch, multi-national companies and the media, in both promoting and violating human rights.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101

SOC 253 Sociology of Global Migration
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore theories and dynamics of global migration, in order to provide students with a deeper awareness of the profound global interconnections on which we all depend. Students will become familiar with: conceptual and theoretical issues involved with defining and theorizing immigration, assimilation, integration and transnationalism; the history and contemporary trends in global migration; and the difficulties faced by specific immigrant groups.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SOC 101
SOC 275 Political Imprisonment

3 hours, 3 credits

Political Imprisonment asks what forcible confinement means in modern society and what its historical and contemporary forms, such as the prison, the death camp, quarantine, the gulag, the refugee camp, the boarding school, and forced relocation can tell us about the tensions between individual rights and governmental control. The course uses case studies from countries such as the United States, Kenya, Egypt, Australia, Germany, Palestine, and Sudan to examine how states have interned individuals living within their borders and the political, social, and economic conditions that have motivated governments to so radically limit individual freedom. Ultimately this course seeks to disentangle the relationships among confinement, patriarchy, class hierarchies, and racism.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and SOC 101 or ICJ 101

SOC 278 Political Sociology

(Same course as GOV 278 and POL 278)

3 hours, 3 credits

This course analyzes the sources of power in society, the goals of elites and ruling classes, the attitudes of people toward authority, the impact of political decisions on everyday life, why voters support certain candidates and feel strongly about certain issues, whether polls measure or shape public opinion, why political violence occurs and how new technologies will influence the future balance of democratic vs. dictatorial tendencies.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and GOV 101, POL 101 or SOC 101

SOC 290 Selected Topics in Sociology

3 hours, 3 credits

Programs for the social treatment of criminals. The police system and criminal procedure. The penal and reformatory institutions in their physical, educational and social aspects. Probation and parole problems. A survey of theories and practices in penology.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and SOC 203

SOC 302 Social Problems

3 hours, 3 credits

This course surveys how undesirable social conditions like poverty, inequality, racism, sexism, corruption, pollution and overpopulation come to be defined or ignored as social problems. Reviews the wide variety of possible solutions to these social problems proposed by different interest groups and social movements.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, SOC 101, and junior standing or above

SOC 305 The Sociology of Law

3 hours, 3 credits

An understanding of the place of legal systems within social systems from the perspective of social theory. Systems of jurisprudence, both civil and criminal, will be explored for their social meaning and use as instruments of social control. Manifest and latent functions in the administration of justice, the interactions of lawyers, police, prosecutors and judges as well as their relations with the public will be studied.

SOC 308 The Sociology of Violence

3 hours, 3 credits

This course examines the changes in the methods, patterns and meanings of violence. Special attention is paid to individual and collective violence in the streets, in schools, at home, within the media, by the police, by terrorists and by the military. The major theories explaining the causes of violence, and important research about attitudes toward violence and the use of force to bring about change are reviewed.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, SOC 101, and junior standing or above
2 COURSES OFFERED

SOC 309 Juvenile Delinquency
3 hours, 3 credits

SOC 328 Qualitative Research Methods in Criminology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the qualitative research methods of criminology. This includes the ethnographic method of participant observation, unobtrusive observation, visual analysis, and interviewing. Particular attention will be paid to conducting research on and among vulnerable and hidden populations as well as people associated with the criminal justice system. The course features in-depth reading of criminological and sociological studies that use and discuss these methods. Students will learn about the specific challenges of applying qualitative research methods in the field of criminology, including their ethical and legal implications as well as potential risks for researchers and research subjects. Students will also use methodological skills in the “field” through their own research projects.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, SOC 101 or ANT 101, and SOC 203

SOC 329 Evaluation Research
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is an introduction to evaluation research. Program evaluation uses social science theory and research methods to study, appraise, and help improve programs in non-profit organizations, educational systems, governmental departments, and businesses. In this class, students will become familiar with the various types of program evaluations and will gain practical experience through a series of exercises involving the design of a conceptual framework, development of indicators, and the development of an evaluation plan.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or 201, SOC 203, STA 250, and SSC 325
SOC 333 Gender Issues in International Criminal Justice
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will examine the role of gender in crime and criminal justice and will cover the following topics from a cross-cultural comparative perspective: 1) women as offenders, including the range of offenses, their seriousness, and changes in the nature; 2) women as victims, including abused women, rape victims, and women forced into prostitution; 3) women as social control agents/professionals in the criminal justice systems (as attorneys, police officers, correctional officers, etc.).

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, junior standing or above, and one of the following: SOC 101, CRJ 101, CJBS 101 or ICJ 101

SOC 335 Migration and Crime
3 hours, 3 credits
This course asks what changes take place when a population moves from a rural to an urban area, from one country to another and from a pre-industrial to an industrial society. Theories of the links of migration with crime and entrepreneurship are tested for both past and current immigrant groups. The sub-economies and subcultures that immigrants create are also considered.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, SOC 101 and junior standing or above

SOC 341 International Criminology
3 hours, 3 credits
This course analyzes the nature and causation of international and transnational crime and examines issues in the globalization of crime, including terrorism, money laundering, drug trafficking and weapons dealing, among others. Using data from international crime and victimization surveys, this course will also explore patterns, trends and rates of crime and delinquency, and will discuss the variety of sociological, demographic and economic explanations.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and SOC 101

SOC 346 Sport in Global Perspective
3 hours, 3 credits
This course looks at past and contemporary understandings of sport from a global perspective. It seeks to illustrate the multiple ways sport has been studied and explores how understandings of sport have been debated, defended, and used over time. Special attention is devoted to the politics that are invested in sport and uses of the body as well as the overarching ideologies that the sporting body supports at various moments in time. Focusing on how the body intervenes in social processes, the course also considers how athletes have used sport to resist and subvert stereotypes and to create alternative racial, class, and gender identities. We conclude by contemplating new ways that sport might be considered.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and SOC 101

SOC 351 Crime and Delinquency in Asia
3 hours, 3 credits
This course focuses on the nature and extent of crime and delinquency and the social context in which crime occurs in Asian countries. Comparisons of crime and delinquency in various Asian nations will be made with reference to economic development and the social status of women and children. Special topics such as dowry murders in India, Yakuza gangs in Japan and Chinese triads will be discussed.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, junior standing or above, and SOC 101 or ICJ 101

SOC 354 Gangs and Transnationalism
3 hours, 3 credits
This course will explore definitions, theories and histories of both street gangs and transnationalism, considering both how local gangs have globalized and how global influences and currents shape local gangs. Case studies of a variety of different groups from around the world will be considered within this conceptual, theoretical and historical context.

Prerequisites: ENG 102 or ENG 201, and SOC 101
SOC 360 Corporate and White-Collar Crime
(Same course as ECO 360)
3 hours, 3 credits
In examining crimes committed by corporations and organizations, as well as individuals in the course of their occupation, this course explores how such crimes are socially defined, who commits them, who is victimized by them, which social contexts promote them, and how society responds to them. The economic, social and political costs of corporate and white-collar crime are compared to street crime. Other topics include embezzlement, fraud and theft that occurs within enterprises, underground economic activity; criminal violation of antitrust and environmental laws, security, fiduciary, and market crimes; and corrupt relationships between business and government. Members of either the economics or sociology faculties teach this course with varying emphasis on the above topics.

SPE 209 Voice and Diction for the Professional
3 hours, 3 credits
This course is designed to assist students in identifying and improving pronunciation, articulation and vocal production challenges.
Special emphasis will be placed on developing skill in efficient and effective communication via relaxation, breathing, energy, articulation and resonance during vocal production. Focus will be directed to tension-free production of the sounds and stress patterns of American English. Performance texts will be explored for logical character-driven emotional communication in the development of character for the stage.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, SPE 113, and sophomore standing or above or permission of the instructor

SPE 213 The Impact of the Mass Media on the Administration of Justice
(Same course as LAW 213)
3 hours, 3 credits

Examination of the role of the media—TV, radio, newspapers, and magazines—on the administration of justice. The influence of the media on the jury and the judge. The dangers of trial by newspaper and of TV in the courtroom. Is impartial justice possible? The British approach. Problems of free speech and press; “contempt by publication” rule; constitutional protections. Suggested guidelines for the media. The psychological basis of audience response.

Prerequisites: ENG 101 and SPE 113

SPE 218 Managerial Communication
3 hours, 3 credits

This course seeks to provide students with the skills to communicate in a managerial environment. Subjects such as interviewing, decision making, communication, bargaining, negotiation, crisis communication, media encounters and advanced presentational speaking will be covered through discussion and guided practice.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, SPE 113, and ENG 102 or ENG 201

SPE 240 Contemporary Media in Everyday Life
3 hours, 3 credits

Contemporary media in the form of personal communication devices, radio, television, film, and computer games, and instantaneous global communication by means of the Internet or orbiting satellites, have left few spheres of human existence untouched. These and other contemporary media forms educate us, stimulate our desires, provide us with real or virtual communities, and shape our private and public identities and fantasies. This course offers a study of the contemporary media arena and the impact it has on our lives as citizens and consumers. Through a targeted examination of contemporary media culture including, video games, advertising, Internet, film, TV and music, students will deepen their critical and theoretical understanding of how the mass media operates to construct our sense of culture, place, identity, and citizenship. To develop a historical and analytical understanding of this subject, students will read a variety of scholarly and popular texts, and closely examine a variety of contemporary media forms.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and SPE 113

SPE 250 Persuasion
3 hours, 3 credits

A study of theories and practical applications of persuasion as a communication process. Classical and contemporary literature will be used to explore elements of persuasion utilized in propaganda, advertising, politics, the media and interpersonal communication. The role of values, beliefs and attitudes, as well as the place of rhetorical proofs in the persuasive message will be examined. Students will have the opportunity to participate in various structured activities.

Prerequisite: SPE 113

SPE 285 Courtroom Communication
3 hours, 3 credits

A course, which seeks the development of the highest levels of effective performance in oral communication, to enhance student understandings of courtroom advocacy and writing skills through trial simulation and written analysis. Among subjects covered are issues in jury selection, strategies and techniques in courtroom speech, direct and cross examination, issue analysis and language in the courtroom process.

Prerequisites: ENG 101, and SPE 113 or permission of the section instructor. Recommended: LAW 202

CERTIFICATE

DISPUTE RESOLUTION CERTIFICATE PROGRAM & MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY)

The Dispute Resolution Minor and Dispute Resolution Certificate provide students with an opportunity to learn about the causes, complex dynamics, escalation, de-escalation, and constructive resolution of conflicts in a variety of contexts, from the interpersonal to the international levels. Students also gain knowledge and techniques necessary to negotiate, facilitate, and mediate a wide range of situations. The Dispute Resolution coursework will be invaluable for students in their personal lives, at work, and in graduate school, especially for those students who will enter professions like law, social work, business, etc., where sorting through conflicts is essential.

Learning objectives. Upon completion of the Dispute Resolution Minor or Dispute Resolution Certificate, the students will:

- Recognize the causes of conflict
- Understand the dynamics and progression of conflict
- Think more critically about how to process conflict situation
- Utilize dispute resolution techniques and skills needed to negotiate, facilitate, and mediate in a variety of contexts

Additionally, upon completion of the Certificate, the students will have a deeper understanding about conflict and its resolution, and will be able to better apply the skills and knowledge practiced during their internship experience.

Matriculated students who complete this certificate program receive a certificate in dispute resolution from John Jay College, authorized by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York and the New York State Department of Education upon successful completion of coursework and a practicum.

Please note: Students cannot earn both the minor and the certificate in Dispute Resolution.

Rationale. The Certificate Program and the Minor in Dispute Resolution enhance a student’s undergraduate portfolio, regardless of major. Students will acquire a solid understanding of conflict, its causes, progression, complexity, and management. For students who cannot complete the 30-credit certificate program, the 18-credit minor will still allow them to deepen their critical understanding of conflict. In a global community, understanding and managing conflict should be a core area of study for all students. The Dispute Resolution Certificate Program and Minor at John Jay College offer undergraduate students a unique opportunity, unavailable at most colleges and universities.

Credits required. 30 credits for certificate, 18 credits for minor

Prerequisite. Sociology 101. This course partially fulfills the College’s general education requirements in the social sciences. Individual courses may have their own prerequisites. Students are advised to carefully read all course descriptions in this Undergraduate Bulletin when planning their programs, and should consult with the Program Coordinator.

Program Coordinator. Professor Maria Volpe, Department of Sociology (212.237.8692, mvolpe@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College in September 2012 or thereafter must complete the minor in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the minor. A copy of the earlier version can be obtained on the College website, at the Office of Undergraduate Studies, or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

NYPD LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

Program description. The NYPD Leadership Program provides New York City police officers and supervisors with skills that enhance public safety service delivery and police management in a multiracial and multicultural city. The New York City Council, with the Mayor’s support, authorized John Jay College of Criminal Justice to partner with the NYPD in providing eligible New York City uniformed police personnel with a package of four credit-bearing college courses. The NYPD Leadership Program is designed to give undergraduate and graduate participants an understanding of the multicultural population they serve as well as an enhanced capability for service-orientated leadership in the supervisory ranks. The program is free for sworn NYPD uniformed members of the service. The funding covers tuition and textbook fees. The scope and duration of the program are dependent on continued funding. The program is designed for undergraduate students and non-degree graduate students. Both programs of study meet in the fall and spring semesters on Friday mornings, afternoons and evenings. Students will have access to a full-service educational environment, created especially for NYPD students. Academic and career development counseling are provided throughout the semester. Students may apply NYPD Program credits toward bachelor’s and master’s degrees at John Jay College. Students successfully completing the sequence of four courses will be awarded a certificate of completion.

Academic standards. Undergraduate students must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 to remain in the program.

Admission. Eligible NYPD officers can apply online at www.jjay.cuny.edu/nypd and click on the Steps to Enroll link. In order to enroll for courses, applicants must submit the following documents to the Undergraduate Admissions Office:

- Official NYPD Academy transcript
- Official transcripts from each post secondary institution attended
- Application fee (required and non-refundable)

Readmission. Students who previously attended John Jay College as undergraduates, may apply for readmission online at www.jjay.cuny.edu/nypd and select Steps to Enroll. A non-refundable readmission fee is required.

Credits required. 12

Program administration. The NYPD Leadership Program is administered by the Undergraduate Admissions Office and the Office of Graduate Studies. For admissions information contact the Admissions Coordinator at 212.237.8868 or admission@jjay.cuny.edu (enter ‘NYPD Leadership Program’ in the subject line). For academic-related questions contact the Administrative Director at 646.557.4775 or NYPDProgram@jjay.cuny.edu.

CUNY BACCALAUREATE FOR UNIQUE AND INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Established in 1971, the CUNY Baccalaureate for Unique and Interdisciplinary Studies (CUNY BA/BS) is a small, University-wide alternate degree program intended for self-directed, academically strong students who have well-formulated academic goals. Students who are admitted to the program develop their own areas of concentration with guidance from a CUNY faculty member who agrees to serve as their mentor. Students also complete the program's liberal arts core and other degree requirements. Although students in the program are matriculated at one CUNY senior college, they are free to pursue their studies and take courses at any other CUNY senior college.

To apply, students must have a clear academic goal and must have completed at least 15 college credits with a grade point average of 2.5 or higher. The CUNY BA/BS degrees are fully accredited and are awarded by the City University rather than by an individual college. The program operates under the auspices of the CUNY Graduate School and University Center.

Further information may be obtained from the CUNY BA/BS Office at 365 Fifth Avenue, Suite 6412, New York, New York 10016-4309 (212.817.8220) or on the Web at http://cunyba.gc.cuny.edu. Professor Patricia Licklider (Department of English) is the Coordinator of the CUNY BA/BS Program at John Jay College (212.237.8598, plicklider@jjay.cuny.edu).
INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES PROGRAM

The Interdisciplinary Studies Program offers students an opportunity to explore issues of contemporary significance from multiple points of view. Students in Interdisciplinary Studies enroll in a theme, which is examined through a group of related courses. Classes are small. The traditional format is varied by team-teaching, guest speakers, student debates and class discussions, as well as by the use of films, visual art, music, legal and psychological case studies and other media. To allow time for field trips to agencies, courts, museums and other places pertinent to the theme, classes are scheduled once a week for double sessions.

The Interdisciplinary Studies Program is open to any full-time or part-time student who has been accepted for admission to the College. Students may complete as many as 60 credits in Interdisciplinary Studies. Credits earned in the program may be used to fulfill the College's general education requirements and certain requirements in most majors, and they also count as electives.

Internships

Students enrolled in the Interdisciplinary Studies Program may register each semester for 3-credit internships as part of their regular coursework. Placement is available in more than 40 organizations specializing in legal services, criminal justice, social service, and tutoring and counseling programs. Requirements include 7 to 8 hours of fieldwork each week, as well as preliminary and final papers and meetings with instructors. The Interdisciplinary Studies Program is also host to the highly selective John Jay Vera Institute Fellowship Program, which includes a two-semester paid internship at one of the agencies sponsored by the Vera Institute for Justice and a six-credit academic seminar. Applications are due each March. For additional information on the Vera Fellowship, contact professor Abby Stein (astein@jjay.cuny.edu).

For additional information, contact Ms. Bertha Peralta-Rodriguez, Department of Interdisciplinary Studies (212.237.8304, bperalta-rodriguez@jjay.cuny.edu).

INTERNSHIP AND COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM

INTERNSHIPS

An internship is a way for students to apply what they have learned in the classroom, gain valuable work experience, build a resume, network with potential employers, cultivate references and sources for letters of recommendation for graduate or professional school, make educated career choices, and evaluate theory and practice. Internships may be unpaid or paid, full-time or part-time, and earn academic credit or be done on a volunteer basis.

Academic internships are a form of experiential learning that integrates knowledge and theory learned in the classroom with practical application and skill development in a professional setting. Internship courses provide students with an opportunity to earn academic credit while gaining experience working in a field placement. An academic internship usually requires a minimum attendance of 8-12 hours each week. John Jay's internship courses require a varying number of hours of fieldwork and some internship opportunities require students to commit a specific number of hours each week.

Throughout the semester, students meet with faculty advisors in the required seminar classes for a total of at least 15 hours. To fulfill the academic requirements, students must show that they have met the learning outcomes of the course and completed both the fieldwork and academic requirements successfully. Learning can be assessed through assigned reading, logs, notebooks, written reports analyzing the field experience, oral presentations, research papers, etc. as specified in the course syllabus. Additionally, students are required to submit all required documentation to the Center for Career and Professional Development unless directed otherwise by the faculty member.

Eligibility requirements for academic internships include completion of at least 30 credits and a minimum grade point average of 2.5. Please note that some field placements have specific academic and background requirements and some will require referrals from a faculty member or the Center for Career and Professional Development.

CO-OP (COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM)

CO-OP Programs combine academic study with paid work experience in both public and private sectors. CO-OP agreements, work and school schedules may vary by employer.
In some federal agencies such as the U.S. Marshals Services, students start their CO-OP paid work experience after completing at least 60 credits in their last semester and must complete 640 hours of work before graduation.

Students may apply for 3 credits per semester for work in a Cooperative Education Program. A maximum of 6 credits may be earned in this manner. To fulfill the academic requirement, participants register for a Cooperative Education course (CEP).

To be eligible for a CO-OP internship, a student must have completed at least 60 credits with an overall grade point average of 3.0. Please note: certain employers might have requirements beyond those of the college.

Students interested in Internships and the Cooperative Education Program should contact the Center for Career and Professional Development (212.237.8754, careers@jjay.cuny.edu).

RONALD E. MCNAIR POST-BACCALAUREATE ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

The McNair Program is a federally funded program. It is designed to increase the participation of students who are first-generation college students, meet federal income requirements and/or are from underrepresented groups (African-American, Hispanic, Native American and Pacific Islander) in graduate education, particularly in doctoral programs.

Student participants, known as McNair Scholars, receive mentoring, specialized academic and career counseling, tutoring and graduate school preparatory seminars, assistance in obtaining financial aid for graduate study, and assistance in applying for and obtaining admission to graduate school. McNair Scholars also earn 3 credits for their participation in a research seminar during the spring semester. First-year scholars receive summer stipends and second-year scholars receive spring semester stipends while they participate in research apprenticeships with faculty mentors. Students who have a genuine interest in pursuing a doctoral degree, a grade point average of 3.0 or better, junior or senior status, and who are either first-generation college students who meet federal income requirements AND/OR members of a group underrepresented in graduate education, are eligible.

For additional information and an application for the McNair Program, please contact Mr. Ernest Lee (212.237.8760, elee@jjay.cuny.edu).

SEEK PROGRAM (PERCY ELLIS SUTTON SEARCH FOR EDUCATION, ELEVATION AND KNOWLEDGE PROGRAM)

SEEK is the higher education opportunity program for CUNY’s senior colleges. The SEEK mission is to increase the level of education, social mobility, and vocational capability in New York City and New York State by providing access to higher education to students who are educationally and economically disadvantaged.

A cornerstone of the SEEK program is the outstanding support services that it offers to students throughout their course of study. The program provides concentrated and specialized counseling, additional instruction, tutorial services and financial aid. Students who utilize such assistance can achieve a quality college education and expand their social and career capabilities.

Eligibility. Under the provisions of the New York State Education Law, students must meet certain residence, academic and financial criteria for admission to the program.

Residency. Applicants must be United States citizens, or have permanent residence status, and must be New York State residents for at least one year.

Academic. Applicants must be graduates of approved high schools or must hold New York State high school equivalency diplomas, or their equivalent, as determined by the New York State Commissioner of Education. Except for veterans who have earned up to 18 college credits prior to their entry into the service, applicants may not have previously attended a college or any other post secondary educational institution.*

For purposes of eligibility, students are considered in need of academic support if they have received a general equivalency diploma or do not meet the academic admission requirements established for CUNY senior colleges.

However, SEEK eligible students must have passed at least ONE of the skills tested through the CUNY Assessment Tests. Triple remedial SEEK students are not accepted into the program.

Student admitted through the SEEK program are required to pass their CUNY Assessment Tests within their freshman year. Moreover, in order to be admitted as a SEEK student, a candidate must attend SEEK’s Freshman Summer Academy.

Students are eligible for admission to the SEEK Program at John Jay College only if they apply for a major offered at the College.

* Transfer applications are accepted from students who were previously enrolled in EOP and HEOP. College Discovery students may transfer if they meet CUNY opportunity program transfer requirements.

Financial. Financial eligibility is determined by two factors: a correlation between a household’s annual income before taxes and the number of family members that income supports. For additional financial criteria, see the Pell, SEEK, and TAP entries in Chapter 9, Financial Aid.

Applications. Applicants must complete the Special Programs (SEEK and College Discovery) section of the CUNY Freshman Admission Application online at www.cuny.edu/apply. The Financial Aid Student Application (FAFSA), must be completed electronically online at www.fafsa.ed.gov/. Students should list all of the CUNY colleges they are considering in step 6 of the FAFSA. Be aware that not all eligible students are accepted to SEEK; therefore, students should submit their applications early to increase their chances of being accepted.

Transfer students. Students who were previously enrolled in another New York State higher education opportunity program—College Discovery (at CUNY two-year colleges), HEOP (at private colleges), or EOP (at SUNY colleges)—are eligible to transfer into SEEK, provided they have remaining semesters of eligibility and meet CUNY opportunity program transfer requirements. Students need to complete a transfer request form at their home colleges.

For additional information, contact Professor Nancy Velasquez-Torres, Director of the SEEK Program (212.237.8135, ntorres@jjay.cuny.edu). For financial information, contact Ms. Chrissy Pacheco, Financial Aid (212.237.8153, cpacheco@jjay.cuny.edu).

MINORS

A minor is a course of study that allows undergraduates a second field of specialization. Minors are intended to encourage and officially acknowledge students’ attainment of knowledge in more than one academic field, with the goal of broadening their education.

A minor requires 18-21 credits in a particular field different from the student’s major. Because many majors are interdisciplinary at John Jay College, some overlap may occur between courses appearing in a major and a minor but this should be kept to a minimum. At least 50 percent of the credits in a minor must be taken at the College and at least two-thirds of the credits in a minor must be graded on an A through F basis. A minor shall be completely optional for students and cannot be required by an academic program. Minor requirements must be completed with at least an overall 2.0 (C) grade point average in the courses used to earn the minor that were completed at John Jay College.

A student who wishes to pursue a minor should consult the minor advisor or chairperson of the appropriate department or program as early as possible. Students should declare minors by the time they have earned 75 credits by filling out the electronic Undergraduate Declaration of Minor Form found at the Jay Stop web page (http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu/my_info.php). Students should be able to see their declared minors on their unofficial transcripts in eSIMS. Be aware that some minors may have advanced enrollment requirements, specific procedures for completing the minor, or requirements and/or restrictions concerning grades and courses, which may be used to fulfill the minor.

When a student files the Graduation Audit Form, their declared minor will be evaluated. If there is a question or discrepancy, students will be contacted by the Registrar’s Office. The Degree Auditor will state the issue in writing and mail students a print copy of the minor declaration form to bring to the appropriate academic department or program for signature. Students should consult the entries that follow for the curricular requirements of each minor. Completion of a minor is noted on the student’s official transcript and will be conferred at the same time that the degree is conferred.

Note: Minors may NOT be conferred retroactively upon students who have already graduated.
ADDICTION STUDIES MINOR

– See the Addictions Studies Program in the Programs section of this chapter.

AFRICANA STUDIES MINOR

Description. The Minor in Africana Studies provides students with interdisciplinary approaches to the study of the historical and contemporary experiences of peoples of African heritage. Using themes such as culture, agency, struggle and justice, students will master multidisciplinary knowledge about Africa and the African diaspora, and will explore new ways of thinking about the cultures, philosophies, history and society of African peoples and their communities throughout the diaspora.

Learning outcomes. Students will:

- Explain the core ideas (key concepts, theories and methodologies) of Africana Studies, especially as they relate to themes of justice
- Acquire and hone their critical thinking skills as applied to problems around justice themes within Africana Studies and among people of color
- Use high level written and oral communication skills to work effectively and collaboratively with others
- Have a better understanding of themselves, and of their relationship(s) to the broader society, as a result of exposure to Africana Studies

Rationale. The Africana Studies minor uses interdisciplinary studies to expose students to different ways of thinking about and communicating both the diversity and commonality of cultural, political, social, economic, and historical experiences. With a focus on African people throughout the diaspora (people of color) this minor increases students’ familiarity with themes of inequality and justice, and provides tools students can use to study and address historical and contemporary racial inequality. Students will also learn more about the accomplishments, cultural richness and uniqueness, and contributions to the past and present world of Africana. Through community-based projects offered in several of the courses, students will be more attuned to real-life application of Africana perspectives and methodology. This in turn contributes to their ability to thrive in an increasingly diverse and globalizing world, and to adapt to changing work environments; as well as to their becoming well-rounded thinkers who will be attractive to employers and graduate schools.

AFRICANA STUDIES HONORS MINOR

Description. The Honors Minor in Africana Studies provides a scaffolded set of challenging courses that the Africana Studies Department considers essential as an introduction to the discipline and a basis for applying Africana Studies knowledge, concepts and methodologies to a student’s major, profession, and/or graduate school studies. See Africana Studies Minor above for a fuller description.

Credits. 21

Eligibility. Overall GPA of 3.3 or higher, completion of ETH 123 Race and American Society: The African American Experience

Learning outcomes for Honors. Students will:

- Explain how and why selected methodologies of the social sciences and humanities differ, and are utilized in Africana Studies
- Analyze the impacts of racial disparities as well as of Africana agency on the micro-, medial-, and macro-levels of society
- Design a research project using at least two different research tools
- Apply knowledge and academic resources using key concepts, theories and methodologies of Africana Studies, to themes of inequality, struggle, and justice.

ANTHROPOLOGY MINOR

Description. The minor in Anthropology provides students with exposure to the range of human variation across time and space and a comprehensive background in cross-cultural studies.

Rationale. A minor in Anthropology is excellent preparation for further study in any discipline that requires the ability to understand and deal with other cultures. Students are trained to integrate humanistic concerns with the cross-cultural perspective and analytic framework provided by anthropology. These skills will be particularly valuable for students planning careers in which an understanding of human behavior and cultural diversity is essential, including law enforcement, criminal justice, public policy, counseling, business, law and communications. Because of its breadth of outlook, anthropology also offers an ideal basis for those seeking a strong general education in an increasingly interdependent and multicultural world.

ART MINOR

Description. The Art minor provides students with the opportunity to integrate art with other academic and research pursuits. It is designed for students to pursue studies in both studio art and art history with an integrated, mixed media approach. Students selecting the minor in Art are not necessarily pursuing careers as practicing professional artists and art historians. They are seeking a unique program of study where the visual arts provide opportunities to problem-solve creatively and efficiently.

Rationale. The program combined with other areas of study fosters an appreciation and understanding of the disciplines of art and design and their applications to one's self and environment.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Roberto Visani, Department of Art and Music (212.237.8348, rvisani@jjay.cuny.edu)
Requirements. Students are required to take at least 18 credits (six courses) distributed evenly between studio art and art history courses.

CHEMISTRY MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES)

Description. Students who minor in Chemistry will learn fundamental introductory principles in general, organic and analytical chemistry. Individual course descriptions are provided under the course listings.

Credits. 21

Rationale. The Chemistry minor is significant for students who wish to pursue the pre-health professions and major in another area. It is an important minor for students considering careers in which a full science major is not required, but college-level science experience is required.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Francis Sheehan, Department of Sciences (212.237.8951, fsheehan@jjay.cuny.edu)

Note: Students who earn the BS Degree in Forensic Science are not eligible to earn the Chemistry minor.

CHEMISTRY MINOR

Credits. Please note: These courses all have a laboratory component

- CHE 103‡ -104 General Chemistry I and II OR
  - CHE 101-102 and Chemistry 104

‡ CHE 103 may also be satisfied by the equivalent sequence: CHE 191-192. In addition, CHE 104 must be completed to satisfy the General Chemistry sequence.

COMPUTER SCIENCE MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE)

Rationale. Computers are the future. By learning to use a computer, students are securing their tomorrows. Good computer skills will build self-confidence and increase students’ marketability and competence in their chosen fields. Computers also allow users to work quickly and efficiently with data and information in a way that no other devices do.

CORRECTIONS MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF LAW, POLICE SCIENCE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION)

Description. The Corrections minor exposes students to important concepts in corrections and promotes an understanding of the correctional environment. Minor courses also introduce students to all aspects of careers in corrections. Additionally, the minor aims to equip students with a better understanding of current social problems.

The Corrections minor combines a focus on classical theories of penology with developing ideas and approaches, as well as with contemporary strategies for dealing with offenders after they have been convicted and while awaiting trial. Emphasis is placed on helping students to become critical thinkers in general and about corrections in particular. A primary goal of the minor is to help students focus on the end process of the criminal justice system by helping them understand the nature and consequences of processing of offenders through the system. Students will be exposed to such important topics as incarceration, community supervision, treatment of offenders, rehabilitation and the reintegration process.

Rationale. The minor provides a solid preparation for graduate work in the field of criminal justice, public administration, policy making in civil service and the social sciences in general. As can be seen from the corrections courses offered, the program provides a solid understanding of theory and research related to corrections as well as criminal justice. The curriculum emphasizes the development of analytical and research skills that prepare students to effectively meet everyday challenges in the criminal justice system and in corrections. Coursework is designed to integrate theory with practice, while using critical approaches to discuss competing strategies in correction practice.

Credits required. 18
Minor Coordinator. Students who wish to pursue a minor in Corrections should consult with Professor Lior Gideon, Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration (212.237.8991, lgideon@jjay.cuny.edu) as early as possible to plan their course of study.

Requirements. Students who wish to minor in Corrections may do so under the guidance of the Corrections Coordinator. The minor requires 18 credits (six courses) in corrections courses (those with the COR course prefix).

In order to make the best out of the minor while complying with its above stated mission, it is suggested that students seeking to minor in Corrections take the courses listed below in the order in which they are listed. Each course is 3 credits.

COR 101 Introduction to Corrections
COR 201 The Law and Institutional Treatment
COR 282 Principles of Correctional Operations
Any 300-level corrections course (e.g., COR 320 or 303)
COR 401 Evaluating Correctional Methods and Programs
Any elective Corrections course at the 300- or 400-level

COUNSELING MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING)

Please note: the College is no longer admitting new students to this minor. For information about the Counseling minor, see the Undergraduate Bulletin 2010-2011. For students who are interested in a counseling-related minor, see the Human Service Minor listed below.

For more information contact Professor Mickey Melendez, Department of Counseling (212.237.8101, mimelendez@jjay.cuny.edu).

CRIMINOLOGY MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY)

Description. The Criminology minor focuses on the nature and cause of crime, the behavior of criminals and how society reacts to crime and criminals.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Douglas Thompkins, Department of Sociology (212.484.1118, dthompkins@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. Students who minor in Criminology must complete 18 credits (six courses) at the 200-level or above from the approved list of courses below. No more than half of these credits may be used to satisfy credit requirements in the student’s major.

Select six
SOC 203 Criminology

DISPUTE RESOLUTION MINOR

(DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY)

– See the Dispute Resolution Certificate Program and Minor section at the beginning of this chapter.

ECONOMICS MINOR

Description. Economics courses provide students with an opportunity to develop critical analytical skills that will improve their performance in other courses and professional pursuits. These include understanding graphs and charts, employing statistical analysis, using cost-benefit analysis, evaluating different theoretical perspectives and developing professional presentation and writing skills.

Rationale. Employers recognize that the study of economics develops the professional skills necessary for success, including the analytical skills needed for the complex tasks in today’s highly technical work environment. A 1995 survey in ACJS Today, ranked economics as one of the top three most desirable majors for law school admissions. Graduate schools recognize that the study of economics develops the analytical and research skills that prepare students for the rigors of advanced education.
Credits required. 18

Minor Coordinator. Professor Jay Hamilton, Department of Economics (212.237.8093, jhamilton@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. Students who desire a minor in Economics must complete 18 credits (six courses) subject to the approval of the department chair.

ENGLISH MINOR

Description. Students who have found their required English and Literature courses exciting may continue their exploration of texts (including films and other genres in popular culture) and develop their voices in a variety of written forms in the English minor. The minor offers students the opportunity to broaden their experience of literary study, improve their critical thinking skills, and advance their skills in analytical, expository and/or creative writing.

Rationale. The study of literature and the practice of expository and creative writing strengthen important skills while engaging students in significant historical, ethical and aesthetic debates. Students who study literature learn to read critically, form interpretations, and make arguments based on evidence. Students who study writing learn to express themselves clearly, concisely and creatively while also perfecting their editing and revision skills. Students who pursue the minor in English will graduate with an increased command of language and with incisive critical skills that will serve them well in their chosen career or post-graduate work.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Jay Walitalo, Department of English (212.484.1192, jwalitalo@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College in September 2008 or thereafter must complete the minor in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the minor. A copy of the earlier version can be obtained on the College website, at the Office of Undergraduate Studies, or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

Requirements. To receive a minor in English a student must complete 18 credits with at least 3 credits at or above the 300-level. Students may apply the 6 credits earned in the general education literature requirement (LIT 230, LIT 231, LIT 232, LIT 233) toward their 200-level course requirement. Every student must take LIT 260 Introduction to Literary Study to earn the minor in English.

FILM STUDIES MINOR (DEPARTMENTS OF COMMUNICATION & THEATRE ARTS AND ENGLISH)

Description. Film Studies engages students in the study of film from theoretical, historical and critical perspectives. A Film Studies minor thus provides coursework exploring the history and development of film as an art form, a cultural experience, a major medium of communication and a powerful social force that both impacts and reflects social and political justice. Students develop critical skills through analyzing individual films, major film movements and genres, cinematic form and style, and the national and international cultural contexts in which films emerge and are exhibited.

Learning objectives. Upon completion of the minor, students will:
- Understand and discuss significant developments in the history of film, which includes how films have dealt with social justice and other subject matter, as well as film technique and changes in style
- Write critically and coherently about narrative features and structural elements of film, using vocabulary appropriate to the field (i.e. common film terminology)
- Speak knowledgeably about significant filmmakers, their contributions to the field and their diverse aesthetic approaches
- Identify the elements of film—including style, plot, theme and narrative devices—that constitute a film genre (i.e. the gangster film, film noir, German expressionism)
- Understand and discuss trends in film criticism and varying ways of “reading” and analyzing cinema
- Analyze films as situated within a diverse and global cultural context
- Understand and discuss the relationship between film and other art forms: music, literature and visual art

Rationale. As John Jay continues to expand its liberal arts offerings, the Film Studies minor offers students the opportunity to look critically at and write coherently about an influential medium and its cultural context. By studying film history and film criticism and engaging in close readings of films, students become strong readers of visual culture and keen analyzers of vital cultural texts.

Minor Coordinator. Professors Jay Walitalo, Department of English (212.484.1192, jwalitalo@jjay.cuny.edu) or Lyell Davies, Department of Communications and Theatre Arts (212.237.8360, ldavies@jjay.cuny.edu)

GENDER STUDIES MINOR (INTERDISCIPLINARY – SEE MINOR COORDINATOR BELOW)

Description. Gender studies is an interdisciplinary field that explores the making and meaning of gender—femininity and masculinity—as well as sexuality across cultures and social formations, past and present. The underlying belief of gender studies is that gender influences human options, conditions and experiences. Legal, political, economic and cultural systems are shaped by assumptions about gender and sexuality. Deep understanding of gender patterns, dynamics and biases can enhance the accuracy and scope of work in many fields, including criminal justice, psychology, anthropology, sociology, literature, philosophy and history. Gender awareness benefits individuals, communities and organizations.

Learning outcomes. Students will:

- Demonstrate a working knowledge of key concepts in gender studies
- Demonstrate the ability to think reflexively about one's subject position within the literature of Gender Studies courses
- Identify assumptions about gender and sexuality, including an awareness of how gender, race, class, ethnicity, and sexual orientation intersect, and how these intersections influence constructions of human identity in historical, cultural, and geographic contexts
Demonstrate the ability to connect scholarly inquiry about gender and sexuality to theories and institutions of justice, criminality and human rights, as per John Jay’s mission.

Rationale. One of the strengths of gender studies is that it teaches critical analysis by taking one of our most basic experiences—that of being a gendered human being—and forces us to question its meaning within a broad range of frameworks. Because students in the minor take courses from a variety of disciplines, such as government, Latin American and Latina/o Studies, law and police science, and literature, they are exposed to many different methodological approaches and theoretical debates. Students who earn a Gender Studies minor learn to be supple and critical thinkers, skills that will enhance their eligibility for any post-graduate work or career.

A minor in Gender Studies is very flexible. Like majors or minors in other social science and humanities disciplines, the Gender Studies minor does not prepare students for one job, but for many different kinds of employment. Gender studies courses train students in critical thinking, social science and humanities research methods and writing. Coursework provides knowledge about the interplay of gender, race, class and sexuality in the United States and globally. The ability to apply an internship toward credit in the minor allows students the opportunity to evaluate possible careers and provides employment experiences that help graduates find employment. A minor in Gender Studies, with its combination of cross-disciplinary, analytic and practical skills, provides a well-rounded graduate with the tools to adapt to a world of rapidly changing work and family structures.

Students who pursue gender studies have gone on to work in social services administration, domestic violence advocacy, business, communications, journalism, law enforcement, psychological and counseling services, legal and political fields, and a host of other careers.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Katie Gentile, Department of Counseling (212.237.8110, kgentile@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College in September 2012 or thereafter must complete the minor in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the minor. A copy of the earlier version can be obtained on the College website, at the Office of Undergraduate Studies, or at the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

Requirements. The Gender Studies minor allows students to focus on the meanings and implications of gender by taking two required courses and four courses (18 credits) from the rich variety of gender studies courses offered in the social sciences and humanities. The Gender Studies Coordinator compiles a list of all courses offered in the minor prior to student registration and posts it on the Gender Studies minor website: http://web.jjay.cuny.edu/~wsc/minor.htm.

At least one course must be at the 300-level or above. Students minoring in Gender Studies can receive 3 credits toward the minor if they do an internship in a gender-related field. See the Minor Coordinator listed above for permission.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION MINOR

Description. The minor in Health and Physical Education provides coursework that students may use to improve their personal health and physical fitness in conjunction with career preparation. It is designed to promote healthy lifestyle habits through the study and application of the wellness principles of nutrition, physical fitness, and stress management, as well as the acquisition of physical activity skills.

Rationale. This program combined with other general education areas of study fosters an understanding of the need to maintain healthy lifestyles. By combining interdisciplinary studies with health and physical education principles, this minor prepares students for healthy lifestyles within their career choices.

HISTORY MINOR

Description. The Department of History offers students the opportunity to minor in History by completing 18 credits (six courses) in the department. The first 6 credits form the core of the minor and encompass the general education requirements in history. After completing the core courses, students are invited to select from the electives offered by the Department of History to complete the minor. At least one elective must be at the 300-level to complete a History minor.

Rationale. The study of history supports the analytical skills desired by many graduate programs, including law schools, by teaching students to evaluate evidence, and to present and defend arguments about historical change based on evidence. It also provides students with important information about the world in which they live, the process of social change and the factors affecting it, and the creation and evolution of cultural institutions. Students with a strong historical background will be well equipped to work in public institutions because they will have a coherent understanding of the purposes and limitations of public systems. They also will be excellent employees in private institutions because they will understand and be able to support the social and economic purposes of private industry. Finally, students who have studied history make more conscious and active citizens, because they are aware of the role of race and class in America. They are cognizant of the rich history of America’s political institutions and their civic responsibilities to use, protect, and maintain their political and legal rights.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Michael Pfeifer, Department of History (212.237.8856, mpfeifer@jjay.cuny.edu)

Additional information. Students who enrolled for the first time at the College in September 2009 or thereafter must complete the minor in the form presented here. Students who enrolled prior to that date may choose the form shown here or the earlier version of the minor. HUMAN RIGHTS STUDIES MINOR (INTERDISCIPLINARY – SEE MINOR COORDINATOR BELOW)

Description. The Human Rights Studies minor will introduce students to some of the key conceptual, ethical and methodological approaches to the study and practice of human rights. In particular, it will address key concepts, principles and norms, such as human dignity, non-discrimination, equality, due process, empowerment, human security, human development, and accountability; it will expose students to diverse disciplinary and methodological approaches to the study and practice of human rights from a domestic as well as an international perspective; it will familiarize students with the evolution of international human rights norms both in theory and in practice, the latter through the study of pivotal events in the history of human rights, such as the anti-slavery and anti-slave trade campaign, the Civil Rights Movement, the Campaign Against Apartheid, the transnational movement spawned by the Helsinki Final Act, and, more recently, the campaign to establish the International Criminal Court and the launching of the Millennium Development Goals; it will train students how to use the human rights framework in order to analyze and assess critical developments in key issue areas of global concern; and it will provide students with internship opportunities so as to hone their advocacy skills in addressing the challenges of an increasingly complex and interconnected world. This minor can be paired with several majors, in-Including Gender Studies, Global History, Humanities and Justice, International Criminal Justice, and Political Science.

Learning outcomes. Students will:

- Acquire a solid understanding of basic theories, concepts, principles and norms in human rights
- Become familiar with the contribution of different disciplines to our understanding of key human rights concepts, principles and norms, such as human dignity, equality, empowerment, non-discrimination, universality, human development, non-refoulement, prohibition of torture and universal jurisdiction
- Become familiar with the key instruments (treaties, declarations, resolutions) in international human rights law
- Use this framework in order to critically discuss developments in key issue areas such as peace and security, economic and social development, human protection and justice
- Acquire some basic skills in human rights advocacy (once the internship component is developed)

Rationale. The minor in Human Rights Studies will promote a dynamic and intellectually stimulating approach to the study of human rights (and criminal justice as a whole) from an international, cross-cultural, and comparative perspective. It will provide opportunities for students to apply critical theoretical concepts on and a thorough interdisciplinary understanding of pressing human rights issues, related processes and challenges, as well as enable students to relate pressing legal, ethnic, race-related, religious, sexual, cultural, and ethical matters to a human rights framework. Moreover, courses in this minor can facilitate a more thorough understanding of the interconnections among international human rights law and international humanitarian law, as well as relevant prevention and control strategies pertaining to international and transnational crime.

HUMAN SERVICES MINOR
(DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING)

Description. The field of human service is broadly defined, uniquely approaching the objective of meeting human needs through an interdisciplinary knowledge base, focusing on prevention as well as remediation of problems, and maintaining a commitment to improving overall quality of life of service populations. Combining social work, counseling, psychology, sociology, and education, the field requires professionals to perform a variety of helping roles within the social service arena while maintaining a respect for diversity and knowledge of multicultural perspectives.

The Human Service minor represents a concentrated program of study, with courses designed to develop an understanding of the basic tenets of the human service profession. They are intended to help students develop a better understanding of the challenges facing diverse and underserved populations in society who traditionally seek services from public, nonprofit, and private human service agencies.

Rationale. The courses are designed to help students acquire basic competencies, such as communication and professional helping skills, knowledge of counseling and human service theory, and a general awareness of the impact of race, ethnicity, gender, family, spirituality, government, education, and social systems on human growth and development in our society. Students will learn to assist others in a number of human service capacities including problem resolution and prevention, advocacy, community resource management, and individual and community intervention. Students will develop an understanding of the history, philosophy, and methodology of the human service profession in our society.

HUMANITIES AND JUSTICE MINOR
(INTERDISCIPLINARY – SEE MINOR COORDINATOR)

Description. The Humanities and Justice minor offers students the opportunity to explore fundamental questions about justice from a humanistic and interdisciplinary perspective. Embedded in history, literature, and philosophy, the minor engages students in the study of constructions of justice that underlie social policy and criminal justice as well as in broader issues of morality and equity.

Rationale. The Humanities and Justice minor will provide students who are majoring in the social sciences and sciences with an important supplementary perspective for their study of issues, policies, and laws concerned with justice. With its interdisciplinary focus, the minor will also enrich the curriculum of students majoring in one of the humanities. Its courses are designed to help students develop the skills of careful reading, critical thinking, and clear writing that are necessary for careers in law, public policy, civil service and teaching.

HJS 250 Justice in the Western Traditions

HJS 310 Comparative Perspectives on Justice

This two-course sequence provides an introduction to a consideration of “justice” as a personal, social, and political construction. Selected texts from history, literature and philosophy introduce students to the complexities attending the meanings of justice from ancient to modern times. Issues under study may include retribution and revenge; justice as political and social equity; determinism, free will, and the “unjust” act; divinity, hierarchy, and community as perceived sources of justice (or injustice); the social construction of justice, injustice, and crime; and law as a structure of rules representing, defining and shaping justice. The sequence will explore how understandings of justice clarify the ethical and legal frameworks defining religion, the state, colonialism and national identity, race and ethnicity, gender, ruling, class, the family and similar structures.

Students in HJS 250 study works concerned with justice in the western tradition (primarily historical, literary, and philosophical texts of Europe, Britain, and North America). With its focus on works from the Mideast, Africa, Asia, and the other Americas, HJS 310 expands student understandings of justice. It encourages comparative assessments between western and nonwestern forms of justice by studying contacts resulting from war and conquest, trade, and cultural exchange. HJS 310 also develops and extends the skills students have gained in HJS 250 by its comparative tasks, by supplementing primary texts with theoretical readings, and by more complex and lengthy writing assignments.

JOURNALISM MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH)

Description. Asking the right questions—Condensing complex information—Writing for an audience—these are the core skills of a journalist. The Journalism minor will provide knowledge and experience in these areas, while also introducing students to the emerging tools of the journalistic trade in the 21st century and the media’s vital but complicated role as a public service in a democratic society. The minor will sharpen critical thinking skills, information literacy, and the ability to write for a public stage. It will engage students with the news of the day, expose the inner workings of the media and communications professions, analyze the freedoms and limitations of the American press, allow for hands-on experiences in new media, and provide a space where students create and publish their own journalistic work. For students interested in graduate study in journalism, or in a communications-focused career, the minor provides an ideal educational and vocational foundation. For others, it offers a chance to develop skills and insights that will serve them well across the professional spectrum.

Students will:
- Develop an understanding of how the media functions in society historically, theoretically and practically
- Learn how newspapers and online content delivery systems are structured, and how news value, medium, audience, bias and other factors shape stories
- Practice and master the rules specific to journalistic writing, including journalistic attribution, AP style and grammar, the aim for objectivity, nut graphs, leads and copyediting
- Hone research methods in a journalism-specific manner by learning to access public records, conduct background research, identify legitimate sources, adopt sound interviewing techniques, work with sources fairly and ethically, and understand the basics of libel law
- Work as news gatherers, editors and page designers in order to get a sense of real-world deadlines, production and collaboration, resulting in published student work in the John Jay Sentinel, while also learning the basic skills of creating and editing video, digital audio, slideshows, blogging and other forms of online media

Rationale. Students of all disciplines can benefit by learning about the power of a free press and by learning the most responsible, effective ways to wield such power. Such education is more—not less—important given the changes buffeting the journalism industry today. As technology democratizes media access and multiplies public voices exponentially, students need the information literacy and critical thinking skills to navigate among the chaos as consumers and cultivate their own public voices as producers.

- Participation in and completion of at least one of the research and writing skills workshops offered by the Department of Latin American and Latina/o Studies
- Participation in and completion of at least one graduate/law school career development workshop
- Completion of an honors thesis written under the supervision of a member of the department faculty. The thesis must be a minimum of 10 pages, using the APA citation form, and of B+ quality or better

LAW MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF LAW, POLICE SCIENCE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION)

Requirements. To receive a minor in Law, students must complete 18 credits of law courses.

Minor Coordinator. For more information, see Professor Eugene O’Donnell, Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration (212.237.8388, eodonnell@jjay.cuny.edu).

MATHEMATICS MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE)

Description. Mathematics provides excellent preparation for entrance into many quantitative and high-technology careers. Some of these include the actuarial field, financial analysis and work in cryptography. The Mathematics minor will enhance the understanding of quantitative disciplines such as the social sciences, physics, chemistry and biology. Strong math skills also increase a student’s ability to manage life in this increasingly quantitative world.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Peter Shenkin, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science (212.237.8925, pshenkin@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. The Mathematics minor consists of a three-course calculus sequence plus three courses in a specialization chosen from among Operations Research, Differential Equations and Pure Mathematics. These courses in the specialization must be at the 300-level or above.

PART ONE. REQUIRED COURSES
- MAT 241 Calculus I
- MAT 242 Calculus II
- MAT 243 Calculus III

Subtotal: 9

PART TWO. SPECIALIZATIONS

MUSIC MINOR

Description. The Music minor offers students the opportunity to explore music through a comprehensive and multi-faceted approach. The minor combines core requirements with two areas of concentration, Music History/Comparative Music, or Composition/Theory. Through the study of Western art, music and comparative music studies such as Caribbean music, world music, and pop, rock and jazz, the student examines and contextualizes the art form. The study of voice, piano, songwriting, composition, and music technology encourages the student to explore their inherent creative potential by directly engaging in the creation of music, while also developing a foundation in the basic skills of music making.

Rationale. Music, one of the most universal and fundamental art forms, reflects virtually every aspect of personal and social experience. Through the development of its skills and the consideration of its history, we see how broader cultural patterns are reflected in music specifically, and in art forms generally. The core courses in the minor will ensure homogeneity among the students in their abilities and, in conjunction with the advanced courses, will allow them to express their creativity while developing an understanding of the place of music in the history of the world.

PHILOSOPHY MINOR

Description. The Philosophy minor is designed to give students interested in philosophy the opportunity to do intensive work in the field and have that work recognized. Philosophy—a term derived from the ancient Greek philosophia—means “love of wisdom.” As a discipline, philosophy strives to seek thoughtful and rigorous responses to the most fundamental “Why?” questions about ourselves, the universe and our place in the universe. Areas of study include being or existence, knowledge, ethics, political philosophy and various “philosophy of . . .” issues (e.g., philosophy of law, philosophy of mind, philosophy of language, etc.). Some core questions that philosophers ask range from “What is the nature of justice?” and “How should I live my life?” to “Do humans have free will?” and “What sort of justification is required for me to have knowledge?”

Learning objectives for Philosophy minors include the development and mastery of the following skills and competencies.

Students will be able to:

- Recognize and reconstruct arguments
- Critically evaluate arguments
- Appreciate different responses to a given philosophical question
- Offer a thoughtfully defended thesis on a given philosophical question
- Entertain and respond to challenges to one’s thesis

Rationale. A Philosophy minor, which is noted on the student’s final transcript, is extremely beneficial for students planning careers in law school or various graduate programs. A liberal arts and humanities education, according to some of the top law schools, is the best preparation for understanding, synthesizing, and evaluating the legal theory and moral reasoning employed in legal judgments.

Both law schools and graduate schools place a premium on the sort of critical thinking and conceptual analysis that philosophy uniquely provides. In addition, there is statistical evidence that those who major in philosophy consistently score higher than those in nearly every other major on standardized exams such as the LSAT and the GRE.

Minor Coordinator Professor Catherine Kemp, Department of Philosophy (212.237.8908, ckemp@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements.

- A student must complete 18 credits (six courses) in philosophy.
- Philosophy 231 is required (also fulfills the general education requirement for philosophy).
- At least two courses must be at the 300-level or higher.
- Independent study courses, arranged between the student and a supervising faculty member, and experimental courses can be used to fill the 18-credit requirement. For details on independent study courses, see the Chapter 6, Academic Standards.

Philosophy courses satisfying the requirements of the minor include the following:

- PHI 102 Introduction to Ethics
- PHI 105 Critical Thinking and Informal Logic
- PHI 201 Philosophy of Art
- PHI 202 American Philosophy
- PHI 203 Political Philosophy
- PHI 204 Logic
- PHI 205 Philosophy of Religion
- PHI 210 Ethical Theory
- PHI 224/ANT 224/PSY 224/SOC 224 Death, Dying and Society: A Life Crises Management Issue
- PHI 231 Knowing, Being and Doing (required general education philosophy course)
- PHI 302 Philosophical Issues of Rights
- PHI 304 Philosophy of the Mind
- PHI 310/LAW 310 Ethics and the Law
- PHI 315 Philosophy of the Rule of Law
- PHI 321/CRJ 321 Police Ethics

PHI 340 Utopian Thought
PHI 343 Existentialism
PHI 351 Classical Chinese Philosophy
PHI 374 Epistemology
PHI 377 Reality, Truth and Being: Metaphysics
PHI 423/POL 423 Selected Topics in Justice
PHI 333/GEN 333 Theories of Gender and Sexuality
PHI 354/AFR 354 Africana Philosophy

The following courses may also be applied toward the minor:
HJS 250 Justice in the Western Traditions

Note: Credit toward the minor may be given for courses taken elsewhere at the College if they include substantial philosophical content. Please contact the philosophy minor advisor.

POLICE STUDIES MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF LAW, POLICE SCIENCE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION)

Description. The minor in Police Studies is designed for students with professional interests in law enforcement and policing. The minor is also appropriate for students who plan to attend graduate or professional school.

Minor Coordinator: Professor Jon Shane, Department of Law, Police Science, and Criminal Justice Administration (646.557.4625, jshane@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. To receive a minor in Police Studies students must complete 18 credits in police science courses (courses with the PSC prefix).

PSYCHOLOGY MINOR

Description. The Psychology minor provides students with the opportunity to think and write critically about the mind and human behavior, and to gain some exposure to the field of forensic psychology. Students are introduced to basic psychological theory and research as well as several core areas in the discipline of psychology. The minor prepares students to become informed, life-long consumers of psychology. It also provides some background in psychology that can help build a foundation for many fields of graduate or professional study and careers.

Rationale. Gaining exposure to the science of human behavior through the Psychology minor can be of substantial benefit for students in many disciplines. The minor provides opportunities to hone critical thinking, research and writing skills, which are crucial in any field. Students also can explore topics and issues that might help direct their career choices. Any major pairs well with a Psychology minor.

Credits required. 18

Minor Coordinator: Professor Daryl Wout, Department of Psychology (646.557.4652, dwout@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. Any student who is not majoring in Forensic Psychology can earn a minor in Psychology by taking six of the ten courses listed below.

Select six
PSY 101 Introduction to Psychology
PSY 200 Cognitive Psychology
PSY 221 Social Psychology
PSY 231 Developmental Psychology
PSY 242 Abnormal Psychology
PSY 243 Theories of Personality
PSY 266 Psychology of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse
PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION MINOR
(DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC MANAGEMENT)

Description and rationale. Wherever a career leads, it will inevitably involve management. The minor in Public Administration gives students an understanding of how administration works, how policy gets made, and how to excel as a manager in government, nonprofit and corporate organizations. The supervision, planning and budgeting skills students acquire in the Public Administration minor will prove valuable as they advance towards a leadership role in any organization that helps carry out the business of government.

Minor Coordinators. Professors Warren Benton (212.237.8089, wbenton@jjay.cuny.edu) and Maria D’Agostino (212.237.8068, mdagostino@jjay.cuny.edu), Department of Public Management

Requirements. To receive the minor, students must complete 18 credits (six courses) from the following public administration courses. “Special topics” courses in public administration or public administration graduate courses taken by academically-eligible seniors can also be applied to the minor.

Note: The minor in Public Administration is not available to students who are majoring in Public Administration.

SECURITY MANAGEMENT MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF SECURITY, FIRE AND EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT)

Description. The minor in Security Management targets the analysis of security risks and vulnerabilities, along with the administration of programs designed to reduce loss—in public and private institutions and corporations. The minor helps prepare students for careers as managers, consultants and entrepreneurs.

Rationale. Every public institution and private corporation has a security function associated with its mission. Understanding this function within a particular industry or public enterprise enhances the skill set of the professional working in or studying that field. Further, understanding the principles, practices and law within the security field enables individuals to better safeguard their person, property and privacy—both inside and outside of the work environment.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Robert McCrie, Department of Security, Fire and Emergency Management (212.237.8386, rmccrie@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements.

■ A minimum of 18 credits is required.

■ All courses applied to the minor must be courses designated by the course number prefix specific to security management (SEC). Courses that are cross-listed in the college bulletin are acceptable, e.g., Security Management/Mathematics.

■ No more than 9 credits applied to a minor may be credits that the student also uses to fulfill a major.

At least 6 credits applied to the minor must be in courses at the 300-level or above.

To apply for a minor, the student should complete the Approved Plan for a Minor Form available from the security management coordinator and the Department of Security, Fire and Emergency Management and make an appointment to meet with the department chairperson for approval. At the discretion of the chairperson, the student may be referred to the security management coordinator. Students must bring with them a copy of their up-to-date John Jay College transcript. Any revision of the plan requires the completion of a new Approved Plan for a Minor Form and another approval meeting.

SOCIOLGY MINOR

Description. The Sociology minor considers the following areas in the study of modern society: social groups, social organization, the sociology of institutions such as law, the courts, the family, the process of interaction, social disorganization and change. Topics such as violence, delinquency, deviant behavior, social control, and ethnic, race and class relations are central to the minor concentration. Issues of culture, personality and urbanization are also covered.

MInor Coordinator. Professor Douglas Thompkins, Department of Sociology (212.484.1118, dthompkins@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. Students wishing to minor in Sociology must complete 18 credits (six courses) of courses at the 200-level or above. No more than half of these credits may be used to satisfy credit requirements in the student’s major.

Suggested courses can include but are not limited to:

- SOC 201 Urban Sociology
- SOC 202/PSY 202 The Family: Change, Challenges and Crisis Intervention
- SOC 206 The Sociology of Conflict and Dispute Resolution

SPANISH MINOR

(DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES)

Description. The Spanish minor is designed to make students proficient in spoken and written Spanish through language and literature courses that also present a cultural and psychological understanding of the Spanish diaspora.

An example of this is Spanish 212, an intermediate course in grammar and conversation, taught with the use of film and literature in which themes such as immigration, justice, nationalism, gender issues, prejudice, personal relationships and the importance of family are explored and discussed.

Rationale. In today’s global society, it is of paramount importance for students to study foreign languages and cultures. If a student earns a minor in Spanish, one of the five most important languages in the world, they will be better prepared to compete in whatever major field of study they are pursuing at John Jay College. Agencies such as the FBI, CIA, DEA, US Customs Service, and the Immigration and Naturalization Service give preference and a higher salary to those who can communicate in a foreign language. Minoring in a foreign language will assist students in becoming qualified to attain these positions.
Minor Coordinator. Professor Silvia Dapia, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures (646-557-4415, sdapia@jjay.cuny.edu)

Requirements. To complete the minor, students must take 18 credits (six courses) in Spanish language, literature and/or translation beginning at the 200-level. At least three 200-level courses, two 300-level courses, and one 400-level course must be taken. Students should consult a minor coordinator for courses that are not available during a particular semester.

Note: A higher level course can be substituted for a lower level course but not vice versa. For example, Spanish 320 can be substituted for Spanish 250.

Students have the possibility of receiving 3-6 credits for earning a score of four or better on the Spanish Language and/or Literature Advanced Placement Examination taken in high school. These credits can be applied towards the minor in Spanish.

SPEECH AND MEDIA MINORS

(DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE ARTS)

Description and rationale. The Department of Communication and Theatre Arts offers minors in Speech, Media, and a combined minor in Speech and Media. The minors in Speech and Media are designed to help students gain confidence and power through enhancing the effectiveness of their communication performance and analysis. The combined minor helps to develop communication skills and analysis as a speaker, a performer and a critic of communication while focusing students’ course selection on their interests. The classes in these minors provide unique learning opportunities such as becoming a cast or crew member in one of the department’s plays, or learning video production techniques to create movies.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Martin Wallenstein, Department of Communication and Theatre Arts (212.237.8364, mwallenstein@jjay.cuny.edu), or his designee. Students interested in any of these minors should make an appointment with the coordinator for guidance in tailoring their course selection to their needs and interests. Students are encouraged to see the coordinator by at least the first semester of their junior year but preferably as soon as an interest is developed in one of these minors.

Requirements for a Speech and Media Minor. Students must complete 18 credits in speech including the required SPE 113 course. Up to 6 credits can be earned by taking the department’s video production classes. For these courses, see the drama (DRA) course listings.

Note: No more than 6 credits toward these minors may be transfer credits. Any of the drama courses can be used to fulfill the College’s general education requirement in the fine arts.

THEATRE ARTS MINOR

(DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE ARTS)

Description. The Theatre Arts minor is structured to give students an overview of drama and theatre, in terms of history, performance and criticism. The curriculum involves the student in both the practical and theoretical aspects of the theatre process. The minor offers ample opportunities for students to apply their skills on stage and/or backstage.

In addition, the Theatre Arts minor affords opportunities to enhance creativity, time management and communication skills that are useful in virtually any professional area. John Jay College’s proximity to Lincoln Center and New York City’s theatrical district provides students with access to performing arts libraries, organizations, theatres, and internships.

The Theatre Arts minor concludes with a 3-credit 300-level theatre course or capstone project chosen by the student, under the guidance of a member of the theatre faculty. This project will provide the student with the opportunity to demonstrate acquired proficiency in an area of performance, production, criticism, and/or scholarship.

A successful Theatre Arts minor will:

- Know what is meant by Theatre, in particular what distinguishes it from drama and film
- Develop a general understanding and appreciation of major periods of theatre history and major pieces of dramatic literature with perspectives in western and nonwestern traditions and gender and ethnic identities
- Identify the characteristics of the major theatre genres, and know how each of these genres and styles has engendered distinctive forms of playwriting, acting, directing, and theatrical design
- Enhance critical thinking and writing skills through literary analysis of important dramatic works of classical and contemporary drama
- Acquire the ability to analyze scripts and critically assess those elements that contribute the theatre process
- Apply drama-based skills in non-theatrical environments, for example business, law, criminal justice settings, healthcare, and education
- Acquire cultural capital through exposure to professional theatre in the New York City area

WRITING MINOR (DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH)

Description. The Writing minor allows students to practice the craft of writing in various forms and genres. In the minor, students will participate in a broad range of workshop-based courses, including poetry, fiction, creative nonfiction, journalism, legal writing and business writing. Some courses will focus on creating original, artistic work, and others will be geared toward preparing students for careers involving professional writing or for graduate study.

In the creative writing courses, students will master narrative forms and learn how to structure their own experiences into resonant fiction, creative nonfiction and poetry. In the journalism courses, students will learn how to gather appropriate information, ask pertinent questions and write hard news articles and features. In the academic and professional writing courses, students will practice original research, argumentation and advanced rhetorical strategies.

All courses will be conducted as workshops, so students will regularly present their writing for close review and critique by their professors and peers. This emphasis on close reading, as well as on writing, will strengthen their critical abilities. The Writing minor will allow students to hone their writing skills and to find their own unique voices as they learn to negotiate the demands of specific audiences and genres.

Minor Coordinator. Professor Jay Walitalo, Department of English (212.484.1192, jwalitalo@jjay.cuny.edu)

Admission to the minor. Completion of English 201 with a minimum grade of C+, or permission of the Writing Minor Advisor.

ACADEMIC FACILITIES

LLOYD GEORGE SEALY LIBRARY
HAAREN HALL 212.237.8246
libref@jjay.cuny.edu

Located in spacious quarters on the first two floors of Haaren Hall, the Lloyd George Sealy Library houses the foremost collection of criminal justice materials in the world. Boasting more than half a million books, periodicals, microforms, films and digital collections, the Library integrates historical and contemporary materials to present a balanced view of the criminal justice field. John Jay and CUNY faculty and students as well as scholars, practitioners and members of the legal community from all over the world use this library.

The Library’s greatest strengths are in the areas of criminal justice, fire science, forensic psychology, forensic science, public administration, social sciences and related fields. Its extensive resources support the research needs of undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and criminal justice agency personnel. The Library holds a number of unique special collections directly related to the mission of the College. Trial transcripts of the New York criminal courts dating from the 1890s to 1927 provide a rich source for the study of history, sociology and law, and an extensive collection of police department annual reports from all over the United States invites quantitative and comparative studies. There is also a significant body of material dealing with alcoholism and substance abuse.

The Library’s extensive media collection, which includes many rare titles and contains approximately 10,000 DVDs and streaming videos, supports classroom instruction as well as research. More than 6 million volumes of books in 20 separate CUNY libraries supplement the Library’s print resources.

The Lloyd George Sealy Library maintains its own website (www.lib.jjay.cuny.edu), providing the entryway to its digital collections. These include more than 200 general and specialized databases; over 160,000 journals and newspapers, U.S. and foreign legal materials; more than 65,000 electronic books; an electronic reserve collection; and over 3,000 rare books, including the Fraud and Swindles Collection.

Students can avail themselves of these resources from off campus utilizing the Library's proxy server at any hour of the day or night. More than 100 networked computers, providing access to this material, the online catalog and the Internet, are located on the Library’s upper level, along with a classroom equipped for hands-on instruction in utilizing these digital resources.

Personal and professional papers of individuals who have made significant contributions in fields of concern to the College—Burton Turkus, Lewis Lawes, Flora Schreiber, Robert Martinson, Richard Dugdale, James Fyfe, Marvin Frankel and Gary McGivern, to name a few—as well as archives of social, political and investigative agencies, add to the prestige and scope of the collection. Special Collections are available to researchers by appointment and online in our growing collection of digitized images and text.

Specialized reference librarians are available to assist Library users with research questions or with using the databases. Circulation and print reserve services are located at the entry level, along with a computer lab for word processing and other office functions; reference collections and administrative offices are on the upper level. The circulating collection, arranged in open stacks to encourage browsing, is housed on both levels. Student study areas are interspersed throughout the Lloyd George Sealy Library.

INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY SUPPORT SERVICES (ITSS)
ROOM L2.72.00 NEW BUILDING 212.237.8047
itss@jjay.cuny.edu

Instructional Technology Support Services (ITSS) serves as the open-access computing facility for all currently enrolled undergraduate and graduate students. ITSS supports a wide range of software applications, programming languages, tutorial software and course-related programs as well as access to the Internet. Manuals and user documentation are available. Consultants are available to provide technical assistance and answer user questions.

ITSS also supports the College e-training program and course web pages, and is a leader in piloting new technologies for campus use. Hands-on workshops in software applications, World Wide Web technology, and computer maintenance are held each semester for faculty, staff and students. A current workshop schedule may be found on the College website under “Instructional Technology Support Services.”
ITSS is the site license coordinator for CUNY-purchased, university-wide software licenses. All site-licensed software is for on-campus use by faculty, staff and registered students.

Instructional Technology Support Services is open day and evening hours Monday through Thursday, and during the day on Friday and Saturday.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT SERVICES

Students are encouraged to consult regularly with members of the faculty regarding course and program requirements, academic progress, and plans for study in graduate and professional schools. In addition, the College provides the following advisement services.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT CENTER

ROOM L.73 NEW BUILDING 646.557.4816 OR 646.557.4872

academicadvising@jjay.cuny.edu

The Academic Advisement Center provides services for the following populations, with a focus on general education requirements:

- Freshmen (students who have 0-29 credits)
- Continuing students in baccalaureate degree programs who need advising regarding general education requirements
- Continuing students in associate degree programs
- New transfer students
- Readmitted students
- Baccalaureate students on academic probation

The staff in the Academic Advisement Center help students:

- Adjust to university life
- Clarify their academic and career goals in relation to their life expectations
- Select appropriate courses

FOR SEEK STUDENTS

212.237.8169 — SEEK

Students accepted to the SEEK Program either as freshmen or transfer students are assigned to a SEEK counselor in their first semester. All students in the SEEK Program may schedule counseling appointments with the SEEK Department.

FOR STUDENTS IN THE INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES PROGRAM

212.237.8462 — ISP

The Interdisciplinary Studies Department provides advisement for students enrolled in Interdisciplinary Studies.

VETERANS RESOURCE CENTER

ROOM 3143 NORTH HALL 646.557.4108

The Veterans Resource Center assists veteran students and military personnel in making a smooth and successful transition into John Jay. The Veterans Resource Center assists students in registering for benefits and services, and can help connect students to different resources at the College. Veteran students interested in academic advising can contact the Counseling Department at 212.237.8111 for assistance.

Advisement specific to majors and academic programs is provided by faculty advisers. Contact the major, minor or program coordinator regarding advisement. To find the name of the appropriate faculty member, consult the Undergraduate Bulletin under Degrees Offered (Chapter 1) or Certificates, Programs & Minors (Chapter 3).

PRE LAW INSTITUTE

646.557.4804

pli@jjay.cuny.edu

www.Facebook.com/PreLawInstitute

John Jay students and alumni interested in pursuing a career in law can avail themselves of the services provided by the College’s Pre Law Institute. Established in 2005, the Institute advises students on appropriate undergraduate studies, offers a comprehensive series of workshops and academic skill-building programs for the John Jay pre-law community, hosts an annual Law Day that focuses on the law school admissions process and diverse career opportunities for lawyers, and assists students with all aspects of the law school application process.
Students interested in pursuing careers in the health professions—medicine, dentistry, optometry, osteopathy, podiatry or veterinary medicine—are able to fulfill the necessary academic requirements at John Jay. Anyone considering these professions should consult with the health professions adviser who serves as the liaison to the professional schools. The adviser will assist these students in planning their academic programs to achieve their goals. Professional schools require all applicants to have a fundamental knowledge of biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics. These subjects are part of the standardized tests that applicants take at the end of their junior year. Because test results, applications and the adviser’s letter of recommendation are usually forwarded by the beginning of the senior year, it is strongly advised that students begin science preparation in the freshman year with Biology 103–104, Chemistry 103–104, and Mathematics 241–242.

The Writing Center provides tutoring and writing consultation to all undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the College. Trained tutors work with students on conceptual and sentence-level skills, rules of grammar and style. The Center emphasizes formulating a thesis, organizing and developing ideas, documenting American Psychological Association (APA) style, documenting Modern Language Association (MLA) style, evaluating evidence and revising a paper, and writing specific to the disciplines. State-of-the-art computers, grammar/writing software and a small specialized library of books on writing are available. Students may be referred to the Center by members of the faculty, or arrange tutoring sessions themselves. Throughout the year, the Writing Center offers numerous writing-oriented workshops, some specific to writing in the individual disciplines, as well as intensive CUNY Assessment Test in Writing (CATW) preparation. All are conducted by faculty and staff and are open to all students.

The Mathematics/Science Resource Center (MSRC) provides appointment-based, small-group tutoring for students enrolled in more than 30 courses in science and mathematics. In addition, the MSRC provides structured, one-on-one tutoring programs for current students who still need to pass the CUNY Assessment Test (CAT) in mathematics or who are repeating a math class in which they have received a grade of R, F, W or WU. The center also features a computer lab with Internet access and a print station; a resource library, including textbooks, calculators, molecular models, and DVDs; and dedicated space for quiet study. Please consult the MSRC web site for a current list of courses covered by tutoring, hours of operation, and deadlines for special programs (http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/academics/592.php).

The Center for English Language Support (CELS) provides tutoring services, as well as course placement and recommendations, to students who learned English as a second language. Instruction is focused on reading and writing in academic English. Each semester, CELS offers individual and small-group tutoring sessions and workshops on topics ranging from improving sentence structure to reading academic articles. Instructors with graduate degrees in teaching English as a second language conduct the tutoring sessions and workshops. CELS has also developed a large inventory of online instructional modules targeting academic English language skills, many of which are also useful for native speakers. Finally, CELS provides workshops for both faculty and peer tutors on effective methods for working with non-native speakers and for making academic texts accessible to all students acquiring academic English.
LOUIS STOKES ALLIANCE FOR MINORITY PARTICIPATION (LSAMP)
CHAIRPERSON OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCES
212.237.8884

The LSAMP program is designed to strengthen the preparation and increase the number of minority students who successfully complete baccalaureate and master's degrees in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) fields. The program provides student enrichment and direct student support in the form of stipends for tutoring, work in laboratories, and summer internships in university, research, or corporate settings.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE LAB
ROOM 7.64 NEW BUILDING 212.484.1140
languagelab@jjay.cuny.edu

The Foreign Language Lab at John Jay College is a resource designed to supplement the language course offerings of the College (French, Spanish, Arabic, Chinese, Portuguese, Italian, German and Japanese) and to foster independent and self-guided study through the use of technology and tutoring.

Individual and small group tutoring, Rosetta Stone software, and audio supplements for lab manuals and textbooks are available to registered students.

Some students may require a placement exam before enrolling in their foreign language courses. If they do, these students could come to the lab to take the placement exam at any time during the semester.

OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES & PROGRAMS
212.484.1339
mcoyle@jjay.cuny.edu

The Office of International Studies & Programs works with faculty and students to identify, create, and seek funding for international opportunities. These opportunities could include study and research abroad, international internships and the creation of international networks of scholars, organizations and institutions.

The office provides faculty with advice and assistance in projects that seek to internationalize the curriculum and the campus and to design research and study abroad opportunities for students. For students, the office provides information and advice about international programs, opportunities and funding sources. The office also administers the J-1 Exchange Visitor Program.
The City University of New York (CUNY) maintains a central processing center for all applications to its colleges. This application process takes place through the University’s online application, which is available through CUNY’s website at http://www.cuny.edu/explore. All students must use this online process.

Friday: 9:00 AM–12 noon

Check the Academic Calendar at www.jjay.cuny.edu for dates when classes are not in session.

This chapter outlines requirements and procedures for admission consideration to all undergraduate programs, including regular and special programs for matriculated students (freshmen, transfer, SEEK, international students, public safety personnel), visiting students, non-degree students and senior citizens.
MATRICULATED STUDENTS

A matriculated student is accepted and recognized by the College as working toward a degree. Students may attend John Jay on a full-time or part-time basis and be considered matriculated students.

Students may apply for admission as matriculated students in the following categories:

- Freshman
- Transfer
- Search for Education, Enlightenment and Knowledge (SEEK)
- International Students
- Public Safety Personnel (police officers, firefighters, correction officers, etc.)

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All entering freshmen applicants are considered for admission based on their high school academic averages, academic units, SAT or ACT scores and/or GED scores. A diploma from an accredited high school, an equivalency diploma, or a diploma from a United States Armed Forces Institute is required for entrance to the College. A high school certificate or an Individualized Education Program (IEP) diploma is not acceptable.

An applicant for freshman admission must present evidence of having received a high school diploma from an accredited high school. Students from non-English speaking countries must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) examination (see the International Students section for details). All baccalaureate students must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or ACT prior to admission.

An applicant who does not meet these criteria may be accepted into the CUNY Justice Academy at a City University community college. This exciting and innovative program provides opportunities for students who are interested in studying criminal justice, forensic science or forensic financial analysis to begin their studies in an associate degree program at a CUNY community college, and then complete their baccalaureate studies at John Jay College. For more information about the Justice Academy Program visit www.cuny.edu/justiceacademy.

TRANSFER

Students who have attended a college or post secondary institution must have a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 based on the total number of credits they have attempted/completed. Prospective transfer students with fewer than 24 credits must have a minimum GPA of 2.0, and the prerequisite high school average and academic units for admission to a baccalaureate program.

In addition to meeting the College's other requirements, students wishing to transfer into the Forensic Science program must demonstrate a GPA of at least 2.50 in science and mathematics courses credited toward the major.

Students must also demonstrate proficiency in reading, writing and mathematics. This can be accomplished by taking a 3-credit college level course in English and Mathematics and earning a grade of C or better. Students may also take the CUNY Assessment Tests in reading, writing and mathematics to demonstrate proficiency.

SECOND BACCALAUREATE DEGREE

Students who wish to earn a second baccalaureate degree from John Jay College must complete at least 30 credits and at least 50 percent of the major courses in residence. Students who hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college are exempt from further general education requirements except where there may be prerequisites for courses required to complete the second major.

VISITING STUDENTS

Visiting students are students who wish to attend John Jay College while being matriculated at another college. Generally, visiting or permit students must meet the same requirements to register for specific courses as John Jay College students.

All City University of New York visiting students (permits) must apply via the ePermit system of the University at www.cuny.edu. Students log into the CUNY portal and then click on ePermit. This electronic process allows students to select courses and apply for permission from both the student’s home college and John Jay College.

Students from outside CUNY must first seek permission from their own colleges to take courses at John Jay College. The Visiting/Non-Degree Application is available online at http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/nondegree. The completed application, accompanied by the application fee of $65, should be submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.
NON-DEGREE STUDENTS

Non-degree students are accepted on a semester-to-semester basis, depending on space availability. New non-degree students must apply through the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Students must provide verification of high school graduation or a General Equivalency Diploma (GED), as well as transcripts from all colleges previously attended. Non-degree students must meet the academic achievement standards established for matriculated students.

The Non-Degree Application is available online at http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/nondegree. The completed application, accompanied by the application fee of $65, should be submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

PUBLIC SAFETY EMPLOYEES

Members of the New York City Police Department, Fire Department and Department of Correction are encouraged to apply directly to the College, and are admitted under special rules by virtue of the College's relationship with their agencies. Public safety employees are provided with targeted advisement to meet their unique needs. For more information, or to apply to the College, please go to http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/inservice.

Active NYPD Officers interested in the NYPD Leadership Program should visit http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/nypd.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Senior citizens satisfying the New York State residency requirements, who are 60 years of age or older (as of the first day of the semester or session), are permitted to audit no more than two undergraduate courses at the college on a space available basis, without tuition charge. Enrolling in a course on an audit basis gives a student the right to attend and participate in all aspects of the course without receiving credit for the course. At the conclusion of the course, the student is assigned a grade of “AUD,” which will appear on their permanent record at the College. The course, however, will have no credit attached to it and will not count toward any degree/certificate program offered by The City University of New York.

Senior citizens may opt to enroll for credit-bearing courses, but must do so on the same basis as other matriculated students by paying the applicable tuition charges and related fees.

To apply as a Senior Citizen please download the Non-Degree Application at http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/nondegree. The completed application should be submitted to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. The application fee is not required. Senior citizens are charged a $65 administrative fee per semester or session, the consolidated services fee, as well as any penalty fees they may incur (e.g., late registration, payment reprocessing fees, library fines, etc.).

The following forms of proof of age are acceptable:

- Medicaid Card
- Driver’s License
- Birth Certificate

The College is required to retain a copy of the above proofs or have a signed statement by a college official attesting that one of the above forms was examined and the student satisfied the age requirement.

ACADEMIC SKILLS REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTERING FRESHMEN

Students are required to meet minimal standards in three skills areas—reading, writing and mathematics—before enrolling at John Jay College. Students can demonstrate that they meet these skill requirements based on SAT or ACT scores, New York State Regents test scores, or through the CUNY Assessment Tests (CAT).

Unless a student is otherwise exempt, the CUNY Assessment Test scores will determine if the student meets the minimum standard. Students who do not pass the CAT tests may be eligible for additional preparation through the First Year Experience (FYE) Foundation Summer Academy, and will have the opportunity to be retested during or after completing the program.

CUNY ASSESSMENT TEST EXEMPTIONS

All students must take the CUNY Assessment Test in Mathematics. This examination is used for placement purposes for students who are otherwise exempt.

For entering freshman and transfer students

Entering freshman and transfer students are exempted from the CUNY Assessment Tests in Reading and Writing with an SAT verbal score of 480 or higher; a New York State Regents English score of 75 or higher; or an ACT English score of 20 or higher. Entering freshman and transfer students are exempted from the CUNY Assessment Test in Mathematics with an SAT
Math score of 500 or higher; an ACT Math score of 21 or higher; or by New York State Regents mathematics scores as outlined on the CUNY website, www.cuny.edu.

Both freshman and transfer students may also be exempt with a 3-credit, college-level English course and/or mathematics course or its equivalent with an earned grade of C or better from an accredited college or university.

Students who have earned a bachelor’s degree and are pursuing a second degree are not required to take the CUNY Assessment Tests. However, students from international institutions may be required by the College to take the tests upon entry in order to help the College determine their placement in mathematics or language skills courses.

For further information on the CUNY Assessment Tests, call 212.237.8108 or email testing@jjay.cuny.edu.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

FRESHMAN STUDENTS

ALL entering freshmen (students without prior college experience except for Advanced Placement and College NOW credit) must apply to The City University of New York (CUNY) through the University Application Processing Center (UAPC). The Freshman Application can be completed online at the CUNY portal website, www.cuny.edu.

Applications are not accepted or processed at John Jay.

In addition to completing the online application, students must:

- Request that all official high school transcripts be sent to UAPC
- Request that SAT or ACT scores be sent to UAPC. (To request SAT scores, use the College’s code, 2115.)
- If the student is a GED holder, photocopies of the GED scores and diploma must be sent to UAPC along with all high school transcripts

International students must also provide the following:

- Photocopies of secondary school documents/transcripts, mark sheets, and/or diploma
- A copy of the TOEFL exam, if applicable

Please visit CUNY’s website for more information: http://www.cuny.edu/admissions/undergraduate/prepare/outside.html.

Admission to the College is based on a student’s high school average in academic courses, SAT or ACT scores, and the number of academic units the student has taken in high school. UAPC processes admissions on a rolling basis. Students should apply by September 15th for spring admission and by February 1st for fall admission. Students admitted early to the College receive preferred schedules by virtue of early registration.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Students who have attended another accredited college or university may transfer to John Jay College. Applications must be made to The City University of New York (CUNY) through the University’s Application Processing Center (UAPC). The application is available online through the CUNY portal at www.cuny.edu. Students who have earned at least 24 credits and have a 2.0 GPA on a scale of 4.0 will be evaluated based on their college credentials. Students with fewer than 24 credits will be evaluated based on their high school record in conjunction with their college credentials. Students should apply by September 15th for spring admission and by February 1st for fall admission.

In addition to completing the application, students must also provide the following:

- Transcripts from all previous colleges attended
- All official high school transcripts
- If the student is a GED holder, photocopies of the GED scores and diploma must be sent to UAPC along with all high school transcripts

International students must also provide the following:

- Photocopies of secondary school documents/transcripts, mark sheets and/or diploma
- Translations of all foreign-language documents
- A copy of the TOEFL exam, if applicable

For more information please visit: http://www.cuny.edu/admissions/undergraduate/prepare/outside.html.

TRANSFER STUDENTS: DIRECT ADMISSION

Prior to the beginning of each semester, the College makes a limited number of slots available to transfer students who wish to apply directly to the College (based on space availability). Students are required to complete all of the requirements for transfer students but are allowed to submit the application, fees and official documents to the Undergraduate Admissions Office. Information on the availability of direct admission slots is available through the Undergraduate Admissions Office at 212.237.8873 or by email at admissions@jjay.cuny.edu.

POLICE, FIRE, CORRECTION AND COURT OFFICERS AND OTHER PUBLIC SAFETY EMPLOYEES

Police officers, firefighters, correction officers and court officers are encouraged to apply directly to the College for admission. These prospective students are admitted to the College based on their academy training. Men and women employed in criminal justice and other designated public safety agencies should apply for admission directly to the College at www.jjay.cuny.edu/inservice.

In-service forms may be obtained in person at the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, 524 West 59th Street, Room L.64.00 New York, New York 10019.

Active NYPD Officers interested in applying to the NYPD Leadership Program should visit www.jjay.cuny.edu/nypd.

Graduates of the New York City Police Academy, the New York City Fire Academy or the New York City Correction Academy may be exempted from the College’s general education requirements with evidence that they have earned at least 24 college credits in liberal arts.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS OR U.S. CITIZENS AND PERMANENT RESIDENTS EDUCATED ABROAD

Applicants with international credentials or educational documents applying for admission to the College must apply through the University Applications Processing Center (UAPC), where applications are reviewed by International Credential Evaluators. English translations of material in other languages must be submitted with the application. For admission in September, freshman and transfer applicants must file a completed application by October 1 of the previous year. For admission in February, freshman and transfer applicants must file a completed application form by January of the previous year.

All applicants must present evidence of satisfactory completion of a secondary educational program acceptable to the University. Applicants with international credentials or educational documents who are applying as transfer students must also provide evidence of good academic standing at the post secondary institution they have attended or are attending. Upon admission to John Jay College of Criminal Justice, transfer applicants must provide official course descriptions and syllabi of work already completed at the post secondary level for evaluation by the College.

International applicants are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) if their native language is one other than English, and their secondary or post secondary instruction was not in English. Information about the examination may be obtained by contacting TOEFL, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08541, www.toefl.org. A computer-based score of 173 or a paper-based score of 500 is required for admission and must be reported to the University Application Processing Center using code number 2115.

Exemptions: Applicants who are United States citizens or permanent residents are not required to take this examination.

International students are required to obtain F1 student visa status. For further information contact the International Student Officer in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

John Jay College is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students. Such students should forward either a Freshman or Transfer Application to the University Application Processing Center. Prospective students who wish to meet with an admissions counselor to discuss undergraduate programs should contact the Office of Admissions to schedule an appointment by calling 212.237.8873. Prospective students may also email the Undergraduate Admissions Office at admissions@jjay.cuny.edu.

UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSIONS APPEAL PROCESS

The Undergraduate Student Admissions and Recruitment Committee reviews written appeals from students who have been denied admission to the College, and considers individual cases for admissions presented by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Membership of the committee includes the Director of Undergraduate Admissions, the Executive Academic Director of Undergraduate Studies and five tenured faculty members. Students who wish to appeal must do so in writing (not to exceed three pages in length) and should include a strong, persuasive statement outlining why the Committee should grant them admission to the undergraduate program at John Jay College.
ADDITIONAL CREDIT OPTIONS

APPROVED EXTERNAL CREDIT

Matriculated students may apply for credit for relevant work experience outside a formal college setting. A maximum of 30 credits may be obtained by examination, external credit or equivalent credit, or a combination of these.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Credit by examination refers to examinations given by various external agencies, such as the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) of Educational Testing Service, the College Proficiency Examination Program of New York State, or the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. John Jay College’s ETS code is 2115. John Jay College awards credit for the Subject Examinations listed on the CLEP application. The College, however, does not award credit for the five CLEP general examinations (English Composition, Humanities, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences and History). The minimum score needed to pass and be considered for these credits is 50.

The CLEP examination areas are in the following subjects:

- American Government
- American History I
- American History II
- American Literature
- Analysis & Interpretation
- Calculus
- College Algebra
- College Algebra-Trigonometry
- Freshman College Composition
- *College French
- *College German
- *College Spanish
- Information Systems
- Western Civilization I
- Educational Psychology
- English Literature
- General Biology
- General Chemistry
- Human Growth & Development
- Management
- Financial Accounting
- Business Law
- Marketing
- Microeconomics
- Macroeconomics
- Introduction to Sociology
- Introduction to Psychology
- Western Civilization II

*Please note: In order to receive credit for Foreign Language CLEP Exams, students must pass both the CLEP exam and a composition exam given by appointment by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures. If a student does not pass the composition portion of the exam, an appeal can be placed by notifying the department. The student’s composition will then be assessed by an additional faculty member.

For languages other than those taught at John Jay College, students may apply to a CUNY College that does teach that language for a composition exam. The results will be sent to the John Jay College foreign language department. If the language to be tested is not taught within CUNY, the student can be tested by New York University for a fee.

For additional information on credit by examination, contact the CLEP Administration Center at 800.257.9558 or online at www.collegeboard.com/student/testing/clep/about.html.

MILITARY CREDIT

Students are generally granted 4 credits for service. The form to apply for credit for service in the United States Armed Forces is available online at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu.

The College also accepts credit evaluations of military training from the American Council on Education (ACE). Original ACE transcripts should be forwarded to the Registrar’s Office.

EXTERNAL CREDIT FOR PUBLIC SAFETY PERSONNEL

External credit is granted for non-collegiate education programs that the College has judged comparable in content and quality to specific courses or areas taught in its departments.

- New York City Police Department officers may receive external credit for the following courses completed with a grade of C or better at the New York City Police Department Academy, provided that these courses have not previously been completed as regular college courses: Police Science 101, 4 credits; Police Science 207, 4 credits; Law 203, 4 credits; Law 204, 4 credits; Psychology 221, 4 credits; Sociology 201, 3 credits; Physical Education 103, 113, and blanket credit, 3 credits; and 3 credits for field training; totaling 29 credits.

- New York City Department of Correction recruit training qualifies for external credit for: Criminal Justice 101, 3 credits; Corrections 101, 3 credits; Corrections 201, 3 credits; Corrections 282, 3 credits; Corrections, blanket credit, 3 credits; Sociology, blanket credit, 3 credits; Physical Education, blanket credit, 3 credits; totaling 21 credits.

New York City Fire Department personnel completing recruit training may receive external credit for: Fire Science 101, 3 credits; Fire Science blanket credit, 2 credits; Police Science, blanket credit, 3 credits; Physical Education, blanket credit, 2 credits; totaling 10 credits.

Graduates of the New York City Police Academy, New York City Fire Academy, or New York City Correction Academy may be exempt from the College's general education requirements provided that they transfer with 28 credits in liberal arts courses from an accredited post secondary institution. Courses taken at the various academies may not be used toward this exemption.

Students who have successfully completed a training program that has been evaluated by the College for the award of credit, or a program that has been recommended for the award of credit by the American Council on Education (ACE), must apply to the Office of the Registrar for the application of this credit toward the undergraduate degree. Applicants must provide documentation in support of their requests. A statement or transcript indicating subjects taken, grades received, dates of attendance, and the number of hours of participation must be sent directly to the Office of the Registrar from the agency that has provided the training.

EQUIVALENT CREDIT

Equivalent credit is granted for knowledge gained from either work-related or other qualifying experience. It is the learning and not the experience itself that must be documented to prove that it is at the college level and serves as a valid substitute for the content of a specific course as outlined in this Undergraduate Bulletin. Students must file a formal application for credit with the Office of the Registrar and follow established guidelines. The Equivalent Credit application is available online at the Jay Stop at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. Applications for Equivalent Credit are evaluated by the appropriate academic department.

IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

To attend college in New York State, proof of immunity to measles, mumps and rubella for college students born after 1957 must be presented prior to enrollment. All documents must be endorsed by a medical provider. Acceptable proof of immunity consists of the following:

- Records showing the dates the student received TWO doses of measles vaccine, dated 1968 or later; ONE dose of mumps vaccine and ONE dose of rubella vaccine, dated 1969 or later
- Or TWO combined doses of MMR vaccine dated 1968 or later
- Or titer results (blood tests for the presence of antibodies to these diseases)
- Or documented dates of disease of measles and/or mumps. The disease of rubella is NOT an acceptable proof of immunity. There MUST be proof of vaccine.

New York State Public Health Law also requires that all registered students complete a form acknowledging that they have:

- Received information about meningococcal disease and the vaccine
- Obtained the meningococcal vaccine within the last ten years
- Or decided NOT to obtain the vaccine.

READMISSION

A student in good academic standing who has demonstrated skills proficiency and who has not registered for one or more semesters is required to file an application for readmission at least one month before the beginning of the registration period. When the application is processed, the student will receive registration instructions. Re-admitted students may be subject to changes in curricular requirements instituted since their last term of attendance. The application for readmission is available from the Jay Stop at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. Students who are not skills proficient in reading, writing and/or mathematics are not eligible for readmission unless they are SEEK students who have been at the College less than two (2) years.

STUDENTS APPLYING FOR READMISSION WITH GPAS LESS THAN 2.00

Students who wish to return to the College with a GPA less than 2.00 must submit an application for readmission through the normal process. The application is reviewed by the Readmission Committee, which assesses the student's record and makes a decision on whether the student may return to the College. As a part of the readmission process, the student is then referred to a counselor (SEEK counselor for SEEK students) for a mandatory readmission session. In this session the student will receive academic advisement, assistance in developing strategies to get off of probation, review study habits and skills and plan the next semester’s schedule. Students then sign a readmission agreement, which specifies the conditions of readmission, and then go to eSIMS via the Jay Stop at http://js-top.jjay.cuny.edu to register for the semester.

Students who are denied readmission through this process may submit a written appeal to the Vice President for Student Affairs.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR: GENERAL INFORMATION

REGISTERING FOR CLASSES

All registration is dependent upon course availability and sufficiency of enrollment.

All first-time freshmen must attend a special freshman registration seminar after they have completed their immunization requirement and taken CUNY Assessment Tests. Freshmen attend an orientation immediately preceding the semester when they begin their studies. The date, time and location of the orientation are available from the online Academic Calendar (www.jjay.cuny.edu) or by contacting the Vice President for Student Affairs at 212.237.8100.

Continuing students register online through the CUNY Portal (www.cuny.edu) and eSIMs, the University’s online registration system.

DEGREEWORKS

All students are advised to review their progress toward their degree in the College’s online advisement system (DegreeWorks). This tool is specific for each student’s major and coursework. DegreeWorks should be reviewed both before and after each semester’s registration to assure that progress is being maintained. DegreeWorks is available through the CUNY Portal at www.cuny.edu.

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

The Schedule of Classes, listing class meeting hours and instructors, is available online the preceding spring for the fall semester and in early summer for the spring semester. The entire class schedule may be accessed online through eSIMS, the University’s online registration system.

CHANGE OF PROGRAM

Students who register for courses during the Change of Program Period (first week of classes) are responsible for all work assigned from the beginning of the term. They are also subject to the instructor’s attendance policy, beginning with the first class meeting of the semester. Many instructors post syllabi and course information on Blackboard, which is available through the CUNY Portal at www.cuny.edu. Please note: students are subject to a change of program fee.

PAYMENT OF TUITION

Students may view their bill on eSIMS. Bills are not mailed. Payment due dates are listed prominently in eSIMS and on the Academic Calendar. Students who are in receipt of financial aid, or other assistance that covers their entire amount due, will be processed as paid by the College. Students who have balances due after all credits are applied may make payment online through eSIMS. eSIMS payment may be made either by electronic transfer or by approved credit card. Students who fail to make payment by the due date may have their registrations cancelled by the College and may be given a new registration appointment. Students who register just prior to the first day of classes and during the Change of Program period may have their financial aid delayed.

Students are reminded that outstanding financial obligations to the College and the John Jay Library or CUNY Interlibrary fines must be cleared before registration. Students may be barred from registration and/or graduation until these obligations are fulfilled.

ADDITIONAL LEARNING OPTIONS

SUMMER SESSIONS

Summer sessions provide students with an opportunity to take credit-bearing courses to accelerate their program of study or to concentrate on a particular subject. The sessions typically meet from early June through mid-August, and summer courses are equivalent in content, credit and classroom time to courses offered during the regular academic year. Students are limited in the number of courses they may take during the summer sessions. Variations from the policy require the approval of either the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or the Registrar.
The Summer Schedule of Classes is usually available on the College's website in March. For additional information concerning summer session, contact the Jay Express Services Center in person or the Enrollment Management Call Center at 212.663.7867.

WINTER SESSION

Between the fall and spring semesters, the College offers a three-week winter session, which is equivalent in all respects to a fall or spring semester. The schedule for the winter session is available as a part of the annual spring registration process.

ONLINE COURSES

John Jay College offers a variety of courses via distance learning. Information and a listing of online courses may be accessed on the College's Home Page under Current Students and Course Search.

RESIGNATION (COURSE WITHDRAWAL)

Students are academically and financially responsible for all courses for which they register. A student who is unable to meet attendance requirements may request to resign (withdraw) from a course. Resignation or withdrawal from courses is done electronically at the Jay Stop web page: http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. Students should be aware that any resignation may affect financial aid loan deferment eligibility and dependent health insurance.

The following details the various resignation options:

- Students may add and drop courses during the first week of the semester online through eSIMS at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. For further assistance they may also visit the Jay Express Services Center. Tuition is adjusted automatically according to the College's policy on tuition and fees. During the second and third week of the semester, students may drop courses electronically through eSIMS or at the Jay Express Services Center. Tuition charges are adjusted according to the refund schedule published in Chapter 8, Tuition and Fees. Students should refer to the Academic Calendar on the College's Home Page, www.jjay.cuny.edu, for specific tuition liability dates.

- From the fourth to tenth weeks of the semester, students may resign from a course without academic penalty if they file an electronic Course Withdrawal Application (see Jay Stop, Managing Your Courses). The W grade will be applied to the student's record when the application is received.

- Faculty members are automatically notified by John Jay College email when students withdraw from their courses. The faculty member, together with the student, may request that the Registrar rescind the course withdrawal within one week of the filing of the application. Faculty members also can reverse this grade by filing a Faculty Report of Alleged Violation of Academic Integrity. In this case, a PEN (Pending) grade will be assigned. For further information, see the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/Academic_Integrity_Policy.pdf.

- Requests to resign after the tenth week must include medical, occupational, psychological, or other appropriate documentation. Such resignations must be approved by the Registrar.

- Failure to attend class and subsequent failure to withdraw officially can result in a grade of WU or WN (see Chapter 6, Academic Standards).

- In unusual cases, such as those arising from illness or military service, requests for retroactive resignation (resignation after the completion of a semester) may be filed with the Vice President for Enrollment Management. Such applications must include substantial documentation. These applications are reviewed by a committee and the student is notified of the decision in writing.

- The grade of W awarded for an approved resignation is not computed in the student's grade point average.
GENERAL INFORMATION

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

Students are responsible for fulfilling the admission, course and program prerequisites and the degree and graduation requirements. They are also responsible for observing the college deadlines, policies, rules and regulations published in this bulletin.

The Registrar is responsible for enforcing all academic rules. Appeals of rules and regulations should be addressed and filed in writing with the Registrar.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

OFFICIAL CLASS STANDING

Each matriculated (degree candidate) student is considered to be in one of eight classes, according to the number of credits that have been earned.

Note: Students in the BA/MA program are classified as undergraduate students until they earn their dual degrees.

MAXIMUM NUMBER OF COURSES IN A TERM

Freshmen and sophomores are permitted to register for five courses each semester; juniors and seniors may register for six. Sophomores, juniors and seniors with grade point averages of 3.30 or above may exceed these limits by one course. The forgoing limits may be exceeded by enrolling in a physical education activity course that awards 1 credit. When making decisions about course load, students are encouraged to take into account factors like employment and family responsibilities and to register for the number of courses in which they can expect to do well. Students should plan to spend at least two hours on coursework outside of class for every hour they spend in class.

During summer sessions, students may register for up to 6 credits per session. Students on academic probation may not register for summer session without the approval of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or the Registrar.

MAXIMUM COURSE SUBSTITUTIONS

Occasionally, a course required to fulfill the requirements of a major is not offered. A maximum of three course substitutions is permitted for each degree program. Course substitution forms are downloadable and available at the Jay Stop webpage at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. Students seeking a substitution for such a course are to consult with the appropriate department chairperson or program coordinator. The Dean of Undergraduate Studies may also approve a substitute course in the absence of the department chairperson or program coordinator. The approved form is submitted to the Jay Express Services Center for processing.

STUDENTS ON ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students who are on academic probation are limited to a maximum of four courses by the Academic Review Committee and may not take courses in the summer session unless approved by the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or the Registrar.

During the first semester that a student is no longer on academic probation, that student may register for no more than four courses.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

Students must first fulfill the prerequisites specified for any course before they may register for it. The prerequisites required as preparation for coursework at a more advanced level are included in Chapter 2, Courses Offered, of this bulletin.

Note: English 101 is a prerequisite for all courses at the 200-level while English 102 or English 201 is a prerequisite for all courses at the 300-level or above.

Permission to register for a course without first fulfilling its prerequisite(s) may be granted only when a course description specifies that permission of the section instructor may be granted for that purpose. In the absence of the section instructor, the chairperson of the department (or designee) may authorize the prerequisite waiver. Prerequisites may be waived only if, in the judgment of the section instructor (or the chairperson of the department or the latter’s designee), the student is academically prepared for the more advanced course. The English prerequisites may only be waived by the Dean of Undergraduate Studies.

If a course is required in a major or is part of the College’s general education requirements, the student must take the course even if it was waived as a prerequisite for a particular course.

OVERALL CREDIT LIMITATION

Students who have completed 144 or more credits or who have registered for 20 or more semesters will not be permitted to register without the approval of the Vice President for Enrollment Management. Such students must develop a plan to complete their degree requirements with the Vice President. They will be permitted to register only for those courses required for fulfillment of degree requirements.

REPEITION OF COURSES

PROHIBITED REPETITION

A course for which credit has already been granted may not be repeated. Students will not be granted credit toward their degrees for repeated courses.

REQUIRED REPETITION

Students who receive the grade of F, FIN or WU in a required course must repeat the course at the next earliest opportunity.

Students who do not pass remedial or developmental courses must reenroll in these courses during the next semester of attendance. The following remedial or developmental courses and their SEEK equivalents are offered at the College:

- English for Academic Purposes (EAP) 121 and 131
- English-W 100
- Mathematics 100
- Mathematics 103
- Communication Skills 102/SEEK Communication Skills 102

LIMITATION ON THE REPETITION OF REMEDIAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES

The following policy shall apply in the matter of grades assigned for remedial and developmental courses (see list in Required Repetition section of this chapter):

- A student shall not be permitted to register at the College if he or she has received two Fs, FINs WUs, WNs or Rs, or any combination thereof in the same course or its SEEK equivalent.
- After receiving two Fs, FINs WUs, WNs or Rs, or any combination thereof in the same course, students are prevented from registering at John Jay College until they pass the course at a CUNY community college. This decision is final.
- Students wishing to continue within CUNY must apply to and be accepted by a community college.

NUMBER OF ATTEMPTS OF FAILED COURSES

Students who receive the grade of F, W, WU, or FIN—or any combination of these grades—three times for the same course shall be barred from registering the following semester because the student is not making appropriate progress toward a degree. A stop shall be placed on the registration of such students by the Registrar. Such students are required to be advised by the Academic Advisement Center or the coordinator of the student’s major or minor, as appropriate, or by a SEEK counselor if the student is in the SEEK Program. Such students shall be permitted to register only after a plan of study is developed and agreed to in writing and official written permission for the student to register is transmitted to the Registrar.

If it is determined that the student is unable to make progress toward completing the degree, the student may be permanently barred from registering. Students may appeal this decision in writing to the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or to the Vice President for Enrollment Management.

Students who receive the grade of F, W, WU or FIN—or any combination of these grades—two times for the same course shall receive notice by email from the Registrar of this policy at which time students shall also be directed to speak with an adviser from the Academic Advisement Center or the coordinator of the student’s major or minor, as appropriate, or with a SEEK counselor if the student is in the SEEK Program.

INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES

Students who wish to undertake independent study under the direction of a member of the faculty must complete an Independent Study Form obtained online at the Jay Stop at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. The form must be signed by both the faculty member and the department chair, certified by the Registrar and accepted during the official registration period and prior to the end of the second week of class. Approval is subject to the academic prerequisites listed in the course description and the following stipulations:

1. The student must have completed 60 degree credits and have a 2.50 grade point average.
2. Students may take only one independent study course each semester, up to a total of four such courses for the duration of their undergraduate enrollment at the College.
3. The instructor must be a full-time member of the faculty.
4. The instructor cannot sponsor more than two independent study courses per semester.
5. Permission for exceptions to these regulations must be obtained from the department chair and the Vice President for Enrollment Management or the Dean of Undergraduate Studies prior to the registration period. Independent study courses at the 400-level require the additional approval of the Dean of Undergraduate Studies.

PERMIT/CUNY EPERMIT COURSES

A permit course is a course taken at another college for which students receive credit at John Jay College. Students must adhere to the permit guidelines and follow the approval process described below.

JOHN JAY COLLEGE PERMIT GUIDELINES

1. Students who wish to take a course on permit must be currently enrolled as matriculated students and have a grade point average of 2.0 or higher. Students who have stop(s) on their record (e.g. Bursar’s, Financial Aid, Library, etc.) will not be considered for a permit until their stop(s) have been cleared.
2. Transfer students may not take a course on permit until they have completed at least one semester at John Jay and have posted grades.
3. Readmitted students may not take courses on permit the same semester they are readmitted.
4. Students who have completed 60 credits or more must obtain permission from the Registrar to attend a community college on permit.
5. If, after having been approved to take a course on permit, the student opts not to take the course, the student must cancel the permit on the CUNY Portal. Undergraduate Forensic Science majors seeking a permit for science courses must obtain written approval from the chairperson of the Department of Sciences before the permit is considered. A permit does NOT guarantee a student a seat in the class that the student wants to attend.

APPROVAL TO TAKE COURSES ON PERMIT AT OTHER CUNY COLLEGES

The City University of New York has put in place an e-Permit system designed to help students find, receive approval for and register for courses at other CUNY colleges. Through e-Permit, students can file an online request and it will be processed online. Students are kept informed of the progress of their permit request throughout the approval process. If a request is rejected, a student will be notified electronically of the reason for the disapproval. To access e-Permit, students should log in to the CUNY homepage (www.cuny.edu). Once on the University homepage, students initially will have to register for a Portal ID and Password and can do so by clicking on “Register” and following the directions. Once registered and logged in, students will find themselves on their own “My Page,” which has a link to the e-Permit system prominently displayed.

Through the e-Permit website, students can find listings and descriptions of courses at all CUNY colleges. The CUNY online schedule of classes is accessible through the e-Permit site. It is the student’s responsibility to find out whether a selected course is being offered in that semester, whether it fits into the student’s schedule, and whether seats are still available. Students are required to use the e-Permit application on the e-Permit website (www.cuny.edu) for all CUNY permit courses. Please note that students are required to submit one e-Permit application for each course they wish to take on permit. When a permit is approved, students will be notified by the host college when they can register. Students must then register for the course at the host college.

Once the permit is approved to another CUNY institution, the credits will be posted to the student’s tuition bill. Payment must be made in full at the Bursar’s Office or Jay Express Services Center before a student can register at the host institution.

All notifications are e-mailed directly to the student’s college e-mail address. All grades (A to WU) of courses taken on permit at CUNY colleges will be posted to the student’s record and computed into his or her overall grade point average. Students receiving a failing grade (WU, F) for a course taken on permit will not benefit from the CUNY F-grade policy.
APPROVAL TO TAKE COURSES ON PERMIT AT NON-CUNY COLLEGES

All students seeking a permit to a non-CUNY institution must make an appointment to see the permit coordinator at the Office of the Registrar. Students must bring a copy of the most recent college catalog of the institution they plan to attend to the appointment. The catalog must have course descriptions of the classes.

Students planning to take courses on permit at a non-CUNY educational institution while enrolled at John Jay College must obtain permission via a paper permit in advance from the Office of the Registrar. Guidelines are available at the Office of the Registrar or by visiting the Registrar's Office site on the College's home page, www.jjay.cuny.edu.

Permits to non-CUNY Institutions require that payment be made at the host institution. Students will be liable for the tuition rate of the college they plan to attend outside the CUNY system.

Students are responsible for arranging to have an official transcript sent from the host institution to John Jay College.

ATTENDANCE

STANDARD COURSES

Students are expected to attend all class meetings as scheduled. Excessive absence may result in a failing grade for the course and may result in the loss of financial aid. The number of absences that constitute excessive absence is determined by the individual instructor, who announces attendance guidelines at the beginning of the semester in the syllabus for the course. Students who register during the Change of Program period after classes have begun are responsible for the individual course attendance policy.

REMEDIAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES

In remedial and developmental courses, students are automatically considered excessively absent if their absences exceed the number of times a class meets in any two-week period and are not eligible for passing grades. In classes that meet once a week, more than two absences are excessive. In classes that meet twice a week, more than four absences are excessive. In classes that meet three times a week, more than six absences are excessive.

The remedial and developmental courses are:

English for Academic Purposes EAP 121 and 131

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Note: The following information is excerpted from the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity. The complete text of the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity can be accessed at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/Academic_Integrity_Policy.pdf.

DEFINITIONS AND EXAMPLES OF ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Cheating is the unauthorized use or attempted use of material, information, notes, study aids, devices or communication during an academic exercise. The following are some examples of cheating, but by no means is it an exhaustive list:

- Copying from another student during an examination or allowing another to copy your work
- Unauthorized collaboration on a take-home assignment or examination
- Using notes during a closed-book examination
- Taking an examination for another student, or asking or allowing another student to take an examination for you
- Changing a graded exam and returning it for more credit
- Submitting substantial portions of the same paper to more than one course without consulting with each instructor
- Preparing answers or writing notes in a blue book (exam booklet) before an examination
- Allowing others to research and write assigned papers or do assigned projects, including use of commercial term paper services
- Giving assistance to acts of academic misconduct/dishonesty
- Fabricating data (all or in part)
- Submitting someone else's work as your own
- Unauthorized use during an examination of any electronic devices such as cell phones, palm pilots, computers or other technologies to retrieve or send information.
Plagiarism is the act of presenting another person’s ideas, research or writings as your own. The following are some examples of plagiarism, but by no means is it an exhaustive list:

- Copying another person’s actual words without the use of quotation marks and footnotes attributing the words to their source
- Presenting another person’s ideas or theories in your own words without acknowledging the source
- Using information that is not common knowledge without acknowledging the sources
- Failing to acknowledge collaborators on homework and laboratory assignments

Internet plagiarism includes submitting downloaded term papers or parts of term papers, paraphrasing or copying information from the Internet without citing the source, and “cutting and pasting” from various sources without proper attribution.

Obtaining Unfair Advantage is any activity that intentionally or unintentionally gives a student an unfair advantage in the student’s academic work over another student. The following are some examples of obtaining an unfair advantage, but by no means is it an exhaustive list:

- Stealing, reproducing, circulating or otherwise gaining advance access to examination materials
- Depriving other students of access to library materials by stealing, destroying, defacing, or concealing them
- Retaining, using or circulating examination materials, which clearly indicate that they should be returned at the end of the exam
- Intentionally obstructing or interfering with another student’s work
- Falsification of Records and Official Documents. The following are some examples of falsification, but by no means is it an exhaustive list:

- Forging signatures of authorization

Falsifying information on an official academic record

- Falsifying information on an official document such as a grade report, letter of permission, drop/add form, I.D. card or other college document

BIBLIOGRAPHIC STYLES OF DOCUMENTATION

Each faculty member who requires that students submit papers or other assignments with documentation must include on his or her course syllabus the name of the method of documentation being required for the course, and if the instructor will accept specific multiple methods or all methods. Such decisions shall be entirely within the discretion of each member of the faculty. It is recommended that faculty adopt a style that is recognized by their discipline(s).

* An F is not erased when the course is taken again and passed.

 The P grade is not computed in the grade point average and is authorized only for:

1. Remedial and developmental courses
2. Non-remedial courses for which the P grade is designated in the course description in this Undergraduate Bulletin
3. Courses taken on a Pass/Fail Option (see page 231).
OTHER GRADES

GRADE OF AUD (SENIOR CITIZEN’S AUDIT)

The grade of AUD is assigned when a senior citizen registers for a course. Enrolling in a course on an audit basis gives the student the right to attend and participate in all aspects of the course without receiving credit for the course. The course will not count toward any degree or certificate program offered by The City University of New York.

GRADE OF INC (INCOMPLETE)

An Incomplete grade may be given only to those students who would pass the course if they were to satisfactorily complete course requirements. It is within the discretion of the faculty member as to whether or not to give the grade of Incomplete.

If a faculty member decides to give an Incomplete grade, he or she completes an Incomplete Grade drop-down form that will appear on the grading screen when the faculty member assigns the INC grade online. The faculty member will then provide the following information: the grade the student has earned so far; the assignment(s) that are missing; and the percentage of the final grade that the missing assignment(s) represents for this purpose.

If the course takes place during the fall semester or winter session, then the incomplete work is due by the student no later than the end of the third week of the following spring semester. If the course takes place during the spring semester or summer session, then the incomplete work is due no later than the end of the third week of the following fall semester. It is within the discretion of the faculty member to extend this deadline under extraordinary circumstances.

When completing the online Incomplete Grade Form, the faculty member agrees to grade the student’s outstanding coursework as specified on the form and to submit the student’s grade for the course any time from the date the student submits the completed work until the end of that fall or spring semester. This policy should be included on undergraduate course syllabi. If the student does not successfully complete the missing work, the faculty member may change the grade to a letter grade. If the faculty member does not submit a change of grade, the Incomplete grade automatically becomes the grade of “FIN” at the end of that semester.

This policy does not apply to laboratory and studio courses, or to internship courses, for which neither the professor nor the department can reasonably accommodate a student’s missed lab or studio or internship work as described herein. The academic departments which offer such courses shall develop departmental policy for consideration by the College Council.

Degree candidates should be aware that an INC grade received during their last semester in courses required for graduation will result in the postponement of graduation.

GRADE OF FIN (INCOMPLETE CHANGED TO F)

The grade of FIN (Incomplete Changed to F) is given when an Incomplete grade is turned into an F (FIN). Undergraduate students who receive an INC grade at the end of any semester have up to one year to complete the work for the course and receive a grade. The Registrar’s Office will convert all INC grades to an FIN at the end of the next semester if the INC is not resolved.

RESOLVING THE GRADE OF INC THROUGH MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS

The procedure outlined here is initiated when a student has received the grade of INC because of absence from a final examination.

All make-up final examinations given after the completion of the semester are processed and administered by the Office of the Registrar. The scheduled date for make-up examinations is published in the Undergraduate Academic Calendar on the College’s home page (www.jjay.cuny.edu). Students must submit applications at least two weeks prior to the examination date. Applications require the written authorization of the course instructor together with the required fee. Students are required to present their College I.D.s for admission to make-up examinations.

GRADE OF W (WITHDRAWAL)

The grade of W indicates withdrawal without penalty. It is assigned by the Office of the Registrar upon approval of an Application for Resignation filed by the deadline as indicated in the Undergraduate Academic Calendar (usually in the tenth week of classes). A grade of W is not computed in the grade point average. W grades may affect student eligibility for financial aid.

GRADE OF WA (ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL)

The grade of WA is assigned by the Office of the Registrar when a student fails to comply with the Proof of Immunization Policy of the College. The grade of WA is not computed in the grade point average. WA grades may affect student eligibility for financial aid.
GRADE OF WU (WITHDREW UNOFFICIALLY)
The grade of WU is assigned by the instructor when a student has ceased attending class and has not submitted an Application for Resignation. The grade is computed as a failure (0.0) in the grade point average, which may result in the adjustment of financial aid funds. Students who want to withdraw from a class are therefore advised to submit an official Application for Resignation online via Jay Stop (http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu) prior to the end of the tenth week of classes.

GRADE OF WN (NEVER ATTENDED)
The grade of WN is assigned by the instructor when a student is registered for a course but never attended. The grade is a non-penalty grade similar to a W but it will have an effect on the student’s financial aid for the semester.

GRADE OF PEN (PENDING)
The PEN grade is recorded when a faculty member suspects or determines that an academic integrity violation has taken place that warrants formal intervention. The faculty member submits a Faculty Report of Alleged Violation of Academic Integrity Policies to the Academic Integrity Officer of the College, who notifies the Registrar so that the Registrar can record a PEN grade to prevent withdrawal from the course by the student in question. A PEN grade is removed or changed when the applicable consultation, appeal, and/or adjudication processes are complete. In the event that the alleged violation is withdrawn in the student's favor, the student will have the right to withdraw from the course based on the date that the violation form was filed.

GRADE OF R (REPEAT)
This grade is assigned to students who have attended class regularly and completed course requirements but have not demonstrated sufficient progress to justify a passing grade. The grade is awarded only for remedial or developmental courses. This grade is not computed in the grade point average. Students who receive the grade of R must repeat the course in the very next semester of attendance.

PASS/FAIL OPTION
Upon completion of 60 credits, students with a grade point average of 2.0 and higher may take one course a semester under a Pass/Fail Option, for a total of four such courses. The Pass/Fail Option may be applied to all courses except courses satisfying the College’s general education requirements and courses in the student’s major. Application for the Pass/Fail Option must be made at the Jay Express Services Center before the conclusion of the second week of classes; in summer session, at the end of the first week of classes; and in winter session before the third class. Once granted, this option is irrevocable. Grades of P received for a Pass/Fail Option are not computed in the grade point average. Grades of F are computed as a zero in student grade point averages.

REMEDIAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES
The only grades authorized for the courses listed below are P, R, F, W, WU, and INC. However, at the discretion of certain academic departments, the grade of A may be given in place of the grade of P.

- English for Academic Purposes EAP 121 and 131
- English-W 100
- Mathematics 100
- Mathematics 103
- Communication Skills 102/SEEK Communication Skills 102

CHANGE OF FINAL GRADE
Application for a change of grade assigned by a member of the faculty may be made at any time within one year from the end of the semester in which the course was taken. This request may be made by either the student or the instructor. The procedures outlined below apply to the change of grades of A, A–, B+, B, B–, C+, C, C–, D+, D, D–, F, FIN, WU, R and P.

Application for Change of Final Grade
Students seeking a change of a final grade must file a Request for Change in Grade Form with the Office of the Registrar, which will forward the form to the appropriate instructor. If the requested change is approved, the faculty member enters the change on the form, has it countersigned by the department chairperson, and returns it to the Office of the Registrar, which will enter the change in the student’s record.
Faculty members who initiate such a change must file a Change of Grade Form, including the reason for the change, have the application countersigned by the department chairperson, and forward the completed form to the Office of the Registrar, which will process the change and notify the student.

Appeal for Change of Final Grade

In the event that the faculty member reaffirms the final grade, the student has the right to appeal to the Grade Appeals Committee of the relevant department. To initiate this procedure, the student must first appear at the Office of the Registrar to request this further review. The Office of the Registrar forwards the pertinent materials to the departmental Grade Appeals Committee and notifies the instructor of the action. A meeting is scheduled at a time convenient to all so that both parties may present their positions. The Grade Appeals Committee submits its decision and reasons for its judgment in writing to the Office of the Registrar. The decision of this committee is final.

Change of INC to Administrative FIN

The grade of FIN is assigned by the Office of the Registrar when an INC (Incomplete) remains unresolved at the end of the semester following the term in which the course was taken. Students have up to one year after the completion of the semester to have the INC/FIN changed.

Appeal by Student

The student should contact the instructor, or the department chair in the absence of the instructor, to appeal the grade of FIN resulting from an unresolved Incomplete. If both the instructor and the student agree on the course of action, the student completes the coursework, and a Change of Grade Form is filed with the Office of the Registrar. This process must be completed within one year after the last day of classes of the semester in which the Incomplete was received.

Students who have extraordinary circumstances may appeal the deadline in writing to the Dean of Undergraduate Studies or the Vice President for Enrollment Management. His or her decision is final.

Appeal by Faculty

An appeal instituted by a member of the faculty to change an administrative FIN must indicate that the work required to resolve the INC grade was in the instructor’s possession prior to the deadline date.

EXTRA WORK DURING THE SEMESTER

Any extra credit coursework opportunities during the semester for a student to improve his or her grade must be made available to all students at the same time. Furthermore, there is no obligation on the part of any instructor to offer extra credit work in any course. The term “extra credit work” refers to optional work that may be assigned by the instructor to all students in addition to the required work for the course that all students must complete. It is distinguished from substitute assignments or substitute work that may be assigned by the instructor to individual students, such as make-up assignments to accommodate emergencies or to accommodate the special circumstances of individual students.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA)

The grade point average is computed by multiplying the numerical value of grades A, A− B+, B, B−, C+, C, C−, D+, D, D−, F, FIN WU and WN with the number of credits of each course, which yields the number of quality points. The number of quality points is then divided by the total number of attempted credits to yield the grade point average. For example, the grade point average of a student who has attempted 30 credits with grades ranging from A to WU is calculated as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NUMBER OF CREDITS</th>
<th>GRADE</th>
<th>QUALITY POINTS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>A (4.0)</td>
<td>24.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>A− (3.7)</td>
<td>11.1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>B+ (3.3)</td>
<td>13.2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>B (3.0)</td>
<td>9.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>C+ (2.3)</td>
<td>6.9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>C (2.0)</td>
<td>16.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>D (1.0)</td>
<td>1.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>F (0.0)</td>
<td>0.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>WU (0.0)</td>
<td>0.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

30 81.2
The total number of quality points – 81.2 – divided by the total number of attempted credits – 30 – yields a grade point average of 2.70.

Repetition of Failed Courses and the Grade Point Average

Beginning in the Fall 1990 semester and in any semester thereafter, the grade of F, WU or WN is not computed in the grade point average when a student repeats the failed course and receives a grade of C– or better. The original F, WU or WN, however, remains on the student’s official transcript. The number of failing credits that can be omitted from the grade point average in this manner is limited to 16 for the duration of the student’s undergraduate enrollment in the institution.

Grade Point Average Required for Enrollment in Graduate Courses

Seniors with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher may, upon the recommendation of the director of the graduate program concerned and the approval of the Dean of Graduate Studies or the Registrar, enroll for a maximum number of 6 credits of graduate courses for undergraduate credit at no additional fee.

Only one 3-credit graduate course may be taken in a semester. These courses may not count toward the master’s degree if they have served to fulfill baccalaureate degree requirements.

Retention Standards

Grade Point Average Required for Continued Enrollment

Students must meet specific grade point average requirements at specific levels of credit to remain in good standing.

Academic Probation

Students with grade point averages that fall below the required minimum will be placed on academic probation. During this probationary period, students who make satisfactory academic progress will continue to maintain their academic standing with the College and their concurrent eligibility for financial aid.

Probation Students

Students should meet with their advisers several times during the semester. Advisers will support students in making good academic progress in their classes, prepare them for registration, and help students in planning their course of study. Students should contact the Academic Advisement Center (212.237.8120) for additional information.

Dismissal

The academic records of students who fail to meet the minimum retention standards are reviewed each semester by the Academic Review Committee, which determines whether there has been satisfactory progress toward meeting required standards. Students who, in the judgment of the committee, have not made adequate progress are dismissed from the College. Upon dismissal, a student may not enroll at John Jay College for at least one year. There is no presumption that students will be readmitted after one year.

Students who receive two Fs, FINS, WUs, Rs or WNs, or any combination thereof in remedial or developmental courses are not permitted to continue at the College. (For a list of these courses, see the Remedial and Developmental Courses section of this chapter.) Students may not appeal the denial of registration. Students may apply for readmission after completing the equivalent remedial or developmental course at a community college.

Students who do not pass the CUNY Assessment Tests (CAT) by the 60th credit may be barred from registering until they pass the CAT.

Reinstatement After Dismissal

Students who have been dismissed from the College because of academic failure may seek reinstatement after one year. The process for reinstatement is initiated by the submission of an application for readmission and payment of a $10.00 processing fee online through the Jay Stop at http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu. Deadline dates are available on the Academic Calendar on the College’s home page, www.jjay.cuny.edu. Deadlines are strictly enforced. Students are encouraged to reapply as early as possible. The application is reviewed by the Readmissions Committee, a decision is made and the student is notified in writing.

Students who are considered appropriate candidates are referred to a counselor (SEEK counselor for SEEK students). For more information see Chapter 5, Admission and Registration. A student ap-proven through this process is admitted to the College on academic probation and must follow the plan developed in the counseling interview, which is formalized as a signed agreement. Failure to meet the conditions of this agreement may result in permanent dismissal.

SECOND CHANCE POLICY FOR JUSTICE ACADEMY

Students who leave John Jay College either on academic probation or as the result of an academic dismissal, for reasons other than academic dishonesty, who then transfer to a Justice Academy Program at a CUNY community college, and complete at least 30 credits, earn a GPA of at least 2.50, and receive an associate degree from a CUNY Justice Academy partner, will have the grades of their prior coursework at John Jay College treated as if it were transfer credit, just as is the coursework that is being transferred from the Justice Academy community college. These students would, therefore, begin their second career at John Jay College with a clear GPA slate, that is, with a GPA of 0.00.

GRADUATION

Students are encouraged to use DegreeWorks, an online tool, to track their academic progress towards graduation. DegreeWorks is available through the CUNY Portal at www.cuny.edu.

REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for the associate degree must complete at least 60 credits and candidates for the baccalaureate degree must complete at least 120 credits to obtain a degree. All degree candidates must have completed all required courses, fulfilled the requirements of their majors, achieved at least a cumulative grade point average of C (2.00), and cleared all accounts with the College. Students are required to complete at least 30 credits at John Jay as well as 50 percent of their major. Students may NOT take more than 50 percent of the courses used to fulfill their degree requirements online.

Candidates for degrees are reminded that grades of INC assigned during the last semester of attendance in courses required for graduation will result in the postponement of graduation.

APPLICATION

Candidates must submit applications for their degrees on-line (visit the J Stop/My JJC) or in-person at the Jay Express Service Center by the date prescribed in the Undergraduate Academic Calendar (available on the College’s Home Page at www.jjay.cuny.edu.) Spring semester candidates must demonstrate the potential for satisfying the requirements of the degrees for which they apply. Lower seniors are encouraged to submit applications for their degrees at least one semester before they are expected to graduate.

COMMENCEMENT

Students who have filed for graduation and have two courses or less to complete their degree requirements at the end of the summer session following the annual spring commencement, as certified by the Registrar’s Office, may attend the commencement ceremony if both of the following conditions are met at the time the Office of the Registrar certifies the graduation list:

- The student has registered for and paid for the required course(s) during the summer session.
- The student has a minimum GPA of 2.00 (3.00 for graduate students).

Students who are prospective summer graduates would be listed as such in the graduation program.

DIPLOMAS

Students are advised via email to their John Jay College student email account to pick up their diplomas. Prior to picking up their diplomas, students must clear all outstanding obligations to the College, including exit interviews for loan programs. Outstanding obligations to the College will prevent students from receiving verification of their graduation.
The College recognizes its outstanding students in a variety of ways: placement on the Dean’s List, granting of general college honors and honors in the major, induction into honor societies and admission to special programs that enhance a student’s education by providing opportunities for faculty mentorship, advanced research and/or other individualized projects.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAMS

RONALD MCNAIR PROGRAM
DEPARTMENT OF AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES

Application required

This program aims to foster graduate education, especially in a doctoral program of study for first-generation, low-income college students from underrepresented groups (African-American, Hispanic, Native American, and Pacific Islander). To apply for this program, a student must be entering his or her junior year with a 3.0 grade point average (GPA) or better, come from a low-income background and be a first-generation college student or member of a group under-represented in graduate education. For an application, please call 212.237.8760.

HONORS PROGRAM

Application required

The John Jay College Honors Program seeks to provide cultural, social and academic opportunities to exceptionally motivated undergraduates. There are three entry points into the Honors Program:

- Entering Freshmen – admission is based upon the student’s high school average and combined Quantitative and Verbal SATI score
- Sophomores – 30 credits completed with a cumulative 3.3 grade point average
- Juniors – 60 credits completed with a cumulative 3.3 grade point average

Transfer students must meet the above mentioned criteria and submit official transcripts from previous institutions with the application. Eligible students will be invited to apply to the program. Students admitted to the program will complete 15-30 credits of honors coursework. Honors Program students write a senior thesis and are encouraged to present their honors research at a national conference. For an application, please call 212.237.8553.

ACADEMIC HONORS

DEAN’S LIST

Students are eligible for the Undergraduate Dean’s List if they have:

- Passed or been exempted from all three assessment exams (reading, writing and mathematics)
- Earned a 3.35 cumulative GPA and a 3.5 GPA calculated over the past academic year
- Had no grade of INC or WU during the past academic year
- Taken 18 credits during this period, none of which consisted of pass/fail coursework

The Undergraduate Dean’s List is based upon the credits and grade point average recorded by the Office of the Registrar at the conclusion of the spring term for the previous academic year, a period that includes the summer session(s), fall term and spring term. Designation for the Undergraduate Dean’s List is finalized on June 30 and published during the subsequent fall semester. For more information, please call 212.237.8553.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

LATIN HONORS

Baccalaureate students qualify for three levels of Latin Honors awarded at graduation:

- Summa cum laude (with highest distinction), awarded to students whose cumulative grade point average is at least 3.9
- Magna cum laude (with great distinction), awarded to students whose cumulative grade point average is at least 3.75
- Cum laude (with distinction), awarded to students whose cumulative grade point average is at least 3.5

This distinction will be noted on the student’s transcript.

To be eligible for graduation with honors, a student must complete at least 56 credits at the College. Students who entered the College with an associate degree qualify for these honors with a minimum of 52 credits earned at the College. All courses and earned grades obtained at John Jay and elsewhere enter into the computation of the GPA.

The eligibility of students who transfer into John Jay from other college(s) for such important academic recognition as Latin Honors (summa, magna, cum laude); valedictorian and salutatorian status; and other graduation awards shall include their cumulative GPA at their previous college(s), which shall be averaged in with the grades they have earned at John Jay.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR
To qualify for honors in the major, a student must have completed the credit requirements for the major and have earned at least a 3.5 cumulative grade point average in courses above the 100-level in the major. Credit for courses required as prerequisites for major courses applied to the major will not be calculated into the major cumulative grade point average. Students must have also earned at least a 3.2 overall cumulative grade point average. This honor will be noted on the student's transcript.

VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN
The valedictorian and salutatorian for commencement exercises are chosen from among the June baccalaureate candidates and the graduates of the previous August and February. The two students with the highest grade point averages are awarded these distinctions.

In the event of identical grade point averages, the students with the greatest number of credits earned at John Jay College (up to 120 credits) will be designated valedictorian and salutatorian. In the event that two students have identical grade point averages and have earned the same number of credits at the College (up to 120 credits), they will be declared co-valedictorians and no salutatorian will be designated. In the event that three or more students have identical grade point averages and have earned the same number of credits at the College (up to 120 credits), the valedictorian and salutatorian will be selected by the Committee on Undergraduate Honors, Prizes and Awards.

HONOR SOCIETIES
The following Honor Societies have chapters at John Jay College. For more information, please call 212.237.8553.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA: ETA PHI CHAPTER
National Criminal Justice Honor Society
In 2006, John Jay established a chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, the nationally recognized honor society for students in the criminal justice sciences. The honor society is open to those with a declared Criminal Justice major or minor. The society recognizes the achievement of academic excellence by undergraduates as well as graduate students of criminal justice. To become a member, students must have completed 40 credits at the College, with a minimum of 3.2 overall GPA and a 3.2 GPA in criminal justice courses. Students must also rank in the top 35 percent of their classes and have completed a minimum of four courses within the criminal justice curriculum.

CHI ALPHA EPSILON
National Honor Society for SEEK Students
John Jay College was the first CUNY college to establish chapters of the Chi Alpha Epsilon National Honor Society. The Alpha Xi and Alpha Xi Omega chapters of Chi Alpha Epsilon were established in October 2000. SEEK students may be elected to the corresponding chapter of the honor society when they have completed two semesters of full-time, non-developmental work with a 3.0 average GPA. For more information please contact the SEEK Department Director/Chair, Professor Nancy Velazquez-Torres, at ntorres@jjay.cuny.edu.

OMICRON DELTA EPSILON
International Honor Society in Economics
The Omicron Delta Epsilon chapter at John Jay College, Beta Phi, recognizes scholastic excellence in economics. Eligible applicants must have completed 12 credits of economics classes (courses with an ECO prefix) taken at John Jay, a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher, and a GPA of 3.0 or higher in economics courses.

For more information, please visit the Omicron Delta Epsilon website at www.omicrondeltaepsilon.org. For more information about the John Jay College chapter please contact the faculty advisor, Professor Catherine Mulder at cmulder@jjay.cuny.edu.

PHI ETA SIGMA
National Freshman Honor Society
As the oldest and largest national freshman honor society, PhiEta Sigma encourages and rewards academic excellence among first-year students in institutions of higher learning. Membership is open to individuals who have earned grade point averages of 3.5 or better during one or both semesters of their freshman year as full-time students, have passed or been exempted from all three placement exams, and have not been registered for any remedial or developmental courses during the freshman year.
PI ALPHA ALPHA

National Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration

Pi Alpha Alpha is the National Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration. Under the auspices of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), this honor society encourages and rewards scholarship and accomplishment among students and practitioners of public affairs and administration, promotes advancement of education and scholarship in the art and science of public affairs and administration, and fosters integrity and creative performance in the conduct of governmental and related public service operations.

PSI CHI

National Honor Society for Psychology

Selection for membership is based upon the student’s academic record in psychology (with a minimum of 12 credits), as well as the overall class standing. Membership is open to undergraduate and graduate students, as well as to faculty members in the Department of Psychology.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

International English Honor Society

Membership in Sigma Tau Delta provides opportunities for literary awards and competitions, publication, scholarships, and participation in the annual national conference held each spring semester. Sigma Tau Delta also provides a framework for organizing local service projects as well as social events.

Candidates for membership must have a minimum of two college courses in English language or literature beyond the usual requirements of first-year English composition. They must also have a minimum of a B or equivalent average in English. In general scholarship, students must rank at least in the highest 35 percent of their class, and must have completed at least three semesters or five quarters of college coursework. There is a one-time $37 membership fee.

For more information, visit the Sigma Tau Delta website at www.english.org. For information about the John Jay chapter, please contact the faculty sponsor, Professor Caroline Reitz at creitz@jjay.cuny.edu.

AWARDS

THE MALCOLM/KING LEADERSHIP AWARD

Department of African-American Studies

In honor of Dr. Martin Luther King and Malcolm X, John Jay College established the Malcolm/King Leadership Award. The award encourages graduate and undergraduate students majoring in Criminal Justice to pursue careers in the social sciences, to engage in social activism, to strive for academic excellence and to foster an awareness of the many social issues that affect the communities in which they live, work and attend school. To be eligible, undergraduate students must have completed 24 credits with a minimum grade point average of 3.0. Students must either be taking or have successfully completed three ethnic studies courses. In addition, a 350-500 word essay on a pre-selected topic is required. For more information, please call 212.237.8764.

GRADUATION AWARDS

To be eligible for graduation awards, students must complete at least 56 credits at John Jay College (52 credits for those who entered the College with an associate degree) with a minimum grade point average of 2.0. Note: some awards require a higher grade point average. Awards that support graduate studies must be used beginning no later than the fall semester of the fourth academic year following graduation.

SIMONE ACKERMAN FRENCH EXCELLENCE AWARD

This award is given to a senior with the highest GPA in first- and second-year French courses who will pursue the study of French. It is given in memory of Dr. Simone Ackerman, a scholar at John Jay College for seven years who promoted French and the French culture.

DOROTHY AND SOLOMON BOHIGIAN OPERATIONS RESEARCH AWARD

This award, established by Professor Emeritus Haig Bohigian to honor the memory of his parents, recognizes the graduating senior who has best demonstrated excellence and originality in Operations Research.
DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARDS

Application required

The John Jay College Committee on Undergraduate Honors, Prizes and Awards grants the Distinguished Service Awards each year to five graduating seniors who have made significant contributions of service to the College. Applicants must have a minimum grade point average of 2.0.

ALBERT ELIAS MEMORIAL AWARD

Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration

This award was established in memory of Professor Albert Elias by his family and the Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration. An expert in correctional studies, Professor Elias pioneered guided group interaction as an intervention to rehabilitate juvenile delinquents. The award is presented to the graduating correction officer with the highest cumulative grade point average.

It is given to the graduating senior who is a member of the New York City Fire Department or who has the highest grade point average in the Fire Science major. The faculty of the Department of Public Management selects the award winner.

GRADUATING SCHOLAR AWARD

This award is presented to a graduating senior with the highest grade point average who entered John Jay College as a freshman. The recipient is verified by the Registrar.

RICHARD HENRY HOMMEL AWARD

Department of Communication and Theatre Arts

The Richard Henry Hommel Award was established by alumnus Richard W. Hommel in memory of his son. The award is given to a graduating senior who has made an outstanding contribution to theatrical performances at the College. The faculty of the Department of Communication and Theatre Arts selects the award winner.

HUMANITIES AND JUSTICE AWARD

This award is given to the graduating senior whose prospectus and senior thesis represent the highest standards of research in the study of justice as a humanistic discipline.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES AWARD

Department of Interdisciplinary Studies

Established by the faculty and alumni of the Department of Interdisciplinary Studies, this award is presented to a graduating senior who has demonstrated not only academic excellence but also the ability to integrate the department’s various disciplines into some common understanding of the human condition. The faculty and alumni of the department select the winner.

LAWRENCE J. KAPLAN HUMANITIES AWARD

Established by Professor Emeritus of Economics Lawrence J. Kaplan, the award is presented to a graduating senior who has shown excellence in the study of the humanities. Winners are nominated and selected by faculty members, with the participation of Professor Kaplan.

RUTH S. LEFKOWITZ MATHEMATICS PRIZE

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

This prize was established by Charles S. Lefkowitz in honor of his wife, Professor Emerita Ruth S. Lefkowitz and former chairperson of the Department of Mathematics. The award is presented to a graduating senior for outstanding academic performance in the Computer Information Systems major. The faculty of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science selects the award winner from nominees with the highest grade point averages in the Computer Information Systems major.
BERNARD LOCKE AWARD

Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology established this award in memory of Bernard Locke, professor of psychology and former dean of students. This award is presented to a graduating senior selected by a faculty committee of the Department of Psychology for outstanding achievement in psychology.

HOWARD MANN HUMANITARIAN AWARD

This award was established in memory of Dr. Howard Mann, scholar, counselor, educator, humanitarian, associate professor and dean of students (1971–79). The award is presented to a graduating senior who has unselfishly and voluntarily worked for the welfare of others. The Committee on Undergraduate Honors, Prizes and Awards selects the award winner.

JEROME METZNER AWARD

Department of Sciences

The Department of Sciences established this award in memory of Jerome Metzner, professor of biology. This award is given to the graduating senior who has demonstrated academic excellence in the Forensic Science major. The faculty of the Department of Sciences selects the annual winner.

ROBERT S. MORROW PRIZE

Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology established this award in memory of Professor Robert S. Morrow, the first coordinator of the Master of Arts in Forensic Psychology Program. The award is given to one or more graduating seniors who have demonstrated academic excellence in the Forensic Psychology major. The faculty of the Department of Psychology selects the award winner.

ARTHUR AND ELAINE NIEDERHOFFER UNDERGRADUATE PRIZE

This award is given to a promising senior in the Forensic Psychology or Criminal Justice major, who has a strong research interest and plans to attend graduate school.

ELAINE NOEL AWARD

Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology established this award in 1999 in memory of Elaine Noel who served as the department's secretary from 1980 to 1996. The award is given to the forensic psychology student with an excellent record in psychology who has made a special contribution to the John Jay College community.

OUTSTANDING GRADUATE IN ENGLISH

Department of English

This award, established by Professor Marny Tabb (2011), is given to an exemplary graduating senior in recognition of outstanding academic achievement and leadership in the English program.

POLICE FOUNDATION AWARD

Established by Tova Friedler in 2007, this award is given to the graduating senior who is a member of the uniform forces with the highest cumulative GPA.

LEONARD E. REISMAN MEDAL

This medal was established in honor of the first president of John Jay College of Criminal Justice. It is awarded to an outstanding member of the senior class for distinguished scholarship and exceptional service to the College. The applicant must have a minimum grade point average of 3.5.

DONALD AND LEAH RIDDLE SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Established in memory of John Jay College's second President and his wife Leah, this award is given to the graduating senior with the highest GPA in the Criminal Justice or Legal Studies major. Dr. and Mrs. Riddle believed strongly in the importance of critical and analytical course content for law enforcement officers. After succeeding the College's first President, Dr. Riddle introduced courses in languages and the humanities to the curriculum.

ARMANDO ROSARIO MEMORIAL AWARD

Established by the Auxiliary Police Benevolent Association (APBA) of the City of New York, this award is given in memory of Armando Rosario, one of five New York City Auxiliary Police officers to die in the line of duty. Honoring all who have given their lives, the award is presented to a graduating auxiliary police officer with a high scholastic average. The president of the APBA selects the award winner after a review of the candidate’s cumulative grade point average and assignment. An interview is required.

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE AWARD

This award is given to a graduating senior with academic honors who has played on a varsity team for at least two years.

SCHOLARSHIP AND SERVICE AWARD

The Scholarship and Service Award is given annually by John Jay College to a graduating senior with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 who has demonstrated scholarship and outstanding service to the College. The Committee on Undergraduate Honors, Prizes and Awards selects the award winner.

ANNE SCHREIBER MEMORIAL AWARD

Center for English Language Support

This award was established by Associate Registrar Emerita Jen-nie Gisses in memory of her sister Anne. It is given to a graduat-ing senior who has made marked progress in English as a second language. The director of the Center for English Language Support selects the award winner.

The Registrar’s Office identifies candidates and the faculty of the Department of Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration selects the award winner.

CHRISTOPHER WILLIAMS MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

This award was established in memory of Christopher Williams, a dedicated college admissions counselor, by his wife, Sara Scaldaferry. It is given to a graduating senior with the highest GPA, who is registered with the Office of Accessibility Services.
TUITION

Tuition rates for undergraduate students are established by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York. All fees and tuition charges listed in this bulletin and in any registration materials issued by the College are subject to change without prior notice by action of the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York.

In the event of any increase in fees or tuition charges, payments already made to the College will be treated as partial payment. Students will be notified of the additional amount due and the time and method of payment. Students who have not paid all fees and tuition by the time indicated will not be considered registered and will not be admitted to classes.

NOTE: BA/MA students are charged graduate tuition for credits taken after 120 credits. This additional tuition charge begins in the semester in which the student registers for the 120th credit.

NOTE: For the purposes of determining tuition charges, a student is considered a resident of the State of New York if the student has a principal place of abode in the State of New York for a period of at least 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the first day of classes for the semester with respect to which the residency determination is made. Such a student must state an intention to live permanently and maintain a principal place of abode in New York State. Residence in a dormitory, hotel, or other temporary housing facility does not in itself establish New York State residency. The College may require appropriate documentation to verify residency status.

TUITION REFUNDS

Students who drop courses during the refund period (first three weeks of the semester) will automatically be processed for refunds based on the date of the transaction. The date on which the application is filed is considered to be the official date of the transaction. Non-attendance in classes does not waive the tuition liability incurred at registration. Students should allow approximately eight weeks for refund checks to be processed and mailed.

Students should refer to the Academic Calendar on the College’s website for specific dates as well as the refund schedules for the Summer and Winter Sessions.
ADMINISTRATIVE CANCELLATIONS

Students are entitled to full refunds in the event that courses or registrations are canceled by the College.

OUTSTANDING DEBTS TO THE COLLEGE

Students with outstanding debts to the College may not register for a succeeding semester until the debts are cleared. Personal checks in payment of delinquent accounts will not be accepted during the registration period. Transcripts and diplomas shall not be released with outstanding liabilities with the College.

RETURNED CHECK POLICY

Checks returned unpaid to the College by a financial institution, no matter the amount or reason for the return, will automatically incur a $15 reprocessing fee in addition to the original obligation. The Bursar will attempt to notify the student or former student who submitted the returned check to provide information on making payment. Full payment must be made within two weeks of the date of the check being returned to the College. Failure to meet this deadline will result in an additional $15 Late Payment Service Fee and, in some cases, that account being turned over to the College’s collection attorneys for appropriate action. The Bursar will not accept checks in payment of tuition or fees—even if the student wishes to use someone else’s check—in cases where the student has previously given the College a check which has been returned by a bank. If the financial institution supplies a letter to the College admitting error on its part, the student will have his/her check writing privileges restored. A student who fails to pay tuition or other obligations will be denied access to his/her records and will be prevented from registering in the future.

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK POLICY ON WITHHOLDING STUDENT RECORDS

Students who are delinquent and/or in default in any of their financial accounts with the College, the University, or an appropriate state or federal agency for which the University acts as either a disbursing or certifying agent, and students who have not completed exit interviews as required by the Federal Perkins Loan Program, the Federal Family Education Loan Programs, the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program and the Nursing Student Loan Program, are not permitted to complete registration, or be issued a copy of their grade, a transcript of academic record, certificate or degree, nor are they to receive funds under the federal campus-based student assistance programs or the Federal Pell Grant Program unless the designated officer, in exceptional hardship cases and consistent with federal and state regulations, waives in writing the application of this regulation.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR STUDENTS IN THE MILITARY

The following policies apply to students who leave CUNY to fulfill military obligations.

1. Students called up to the reserves or drafted before the end of the semester:

   Grades. In order to obtain a grade, a student must attend 13 weeks (five weeks for summer session).

   Refunds. A student called up to the reserves or drafted or who does not attend for a sufficient time to qualify for a grade is entitled to a 100 percent refund of tuition and all other fees except application fees.

2. Students who volunteer (enlist) for the military:

   Grades. Same provision as for students called up to the reserves. In order to obtain a grade, a student must attend 13 weeks (five weeks for summer session).

   Refunds. The amount of the refund depends upon whether the withdrawal is before the fifth week of classes.

   Withdrawal before the beginning of the fifth calendar week (third calendar week for summer sessions): 100 percent refund of tuition and all other fees except application fees

   Withdrawal thereafter: 50 percent refund

3. Other Provisions for Military Service:

   - Resident Tuition Rates. These lower rates are applicable to all members of the armed services on full-time active duty and stationed in the State of New York, and to their spouses and their dependent children.

   - Re-enrollment of Veterans. Veterans who are returning students are given preferred treatment in the following ways:

     Veterans who were former students with unsatisfactory scholastic records may be readmitted with a probationary program.

     Veterans, upon their return, may register even after normal registration periods, without late fees.
Granting of college credit for military service and armed forces instructional courses.

Veterans returning too late to register may audit classes without charge.

- Late Admissions. Veterans with no previous college experience are permitted to file applications up to the date of registration, and are allowed to begin classes pending completion of their application and provision of supporting documents.

- Readmission Fee. Upon return from military service, a student will not be charged a readmission fee to register at the same college.

- Veterans Tuition Deferrals. Veterans are entitled to a one-time deferment of their tuition payment pending receipt of veterans’ benefits.

- New York State National Guard Tuition Waivers. Active members of the New York National Guard, who are legal residents of New York State and who do not have a baccalaureate degree, are eligible for a tuition waiver for undergraduate study.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

The City University of New York uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This application is available online at: http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/. The John Jay Federal ID number (002693) is needed to complete the application and ensure that all information is sent to John Jay electronically. New York State residents must click on the FAFSA confirmation page to link them to the TAP application online. Paper applications are not mailed to students.

Students will receive a reply when their application is processed. If there are problems with inconsistent data, insufficient data, Social Security number, citizenship, Immigration and Naturalization status, or Selected Service status, the student will be notified by a separate letter and must come to the Financial Aid Office to make any adjustments. If a student is selected for a process called verification, a letter will also be sent and proof of income must be furnished and a verification sheet must be completed. In most instances, a signed copy of the student’s and/or parent’s previous year’s Federal Income Tax Return is sufficient to complete the verification process.

GRANTS

APTS (AID FOR PART-TIME STUDY)

This New York State grant program is for part-time matriculated undergraduate students who meet income requirements and are New York State residents. In addition, an applicant must be a United States citizen, or have permanent resident or refugee status. Students must be enrolled for 6 to 11 credits. Students must make academic progress toward a degree in accordance with the NYS TAP/APTS program pursuit and academic progress requirements and must have exhausted TAP eligibility. Students who register for a full-time course load and later withdraw from one or more classes to become part-time are not eligible for this program.

FEDERAL SEOG (SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT)

The Federal SEOG program is for students who demonstrate exceptional financial need and are enrolled at least half-time. The awards can range from $200 to $400. To maintain eligibility, students must continue to make satisfactory academic progress and meet all the requirements for the Pell Grant.

FEDERAL WORK STUDY

Any full-time or part-time (at least 6 credits per semester) matriculated student who can demonstrate financial need may be eligible for a part-time job either on or off campus through this federal financial aid program. Students are limited to working 20 hours per week while the College is in session, but they may work up to 35 hours per week during vacation periods with permission of the Financial Aid Office. The hourly pay rate is $9 and is determined by the Financial Aid Office based on a combination of the job location (on or off campus), the description of the job, and the student’s year in college.

PERCY ELLIS SUTTON SEEK (SEARCH FOR EDUCATION, ELEVATION AND KNOWLEDGE) PROGRAM

This special program is for a limited number of New York State residents entering college for the first time who are in need of academic and economic support. Economic eligibility for the SEEK Program must be determined before a student enrolls for his or her first semester. Students who apply to the SEEK Program must also file for the Pell Grant and TAP. Students who show need under federal financial aid guidelines may be eligible for funds to cover the student activity fee and the cost of books. Students must be registered full-time. For information regarding academic criteria, see the SEEK Program information in Chapter 3.

FEDERAL PELL GRANT

The Federal PELL Grant is an entitlement program designed to help undergraduate matriculated students meet the cost of education. Eligibility and award amounts are based on financial need. Awards range from $277.50 to $2775.00 per semester, depending on cost of attendance and full- or part-time enrollment status. Students must apply each year and continue to make satisfactory academic progress in a degree program. Students must not owe repayment on any federal grants or be in default of a student loan.

TAP (TUITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM)

This New York State tuition grant program is available to full-time matriculated students who have been legal residents of New York State for at least one year. Awards, which range from $250 to the cost of tuition per semester, vary according to financial ability and may be used solely to pay the cost of tuition. Applicants applying as independent students must meet special requirements. Awards are granted for only eight semesters, SEEK students are eligible for ten semesters.
TAP requires a student to be registered for classes in his or her degree. Students are advised to use the Degree Works Program to find the required classes needed. Students may go to the Degree Works Program by going on www.cuny.edu, click Portal Log-in/Blakboard/eSIMS and then click Portal Log-in and then click Student Advisement/ Degree Audit.

VETERANS BENEFITS

MONTGOMERY G.I. BILL–ACTIVE DUTY (CHAPTER 30)

Under Chapter 30, individuals who entered military service on or after July 1, 1985 and had their basic military pay reduced by $100 per month for the first 12 months of service are generally eligible. Active duty for three years or two years active plus four years in the Selected Reserve or National Guard entitles an individual to $1473 per month basic benefits for 36 months or the equivalent in part-time training.

MONTGOMERY G.I. BILL – SELECTED RESERVE (CHAPTER 1606)

Under Chapter 1606, individuals who are satisfactorily participating in required training or who are fulfilling an obligated service of not less than six years in the Selected Reserve are eligible for benefits. Eligible reservists are entitled to $345 per month to a maximum of 36 months of educational assistance, or the equivalent in part-time training.

MONTGOMERY G.I. BILL – RESERVE EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (REAP) (CHAPTER 1607)

REAP was established as a part of the Ronald W. Reagan National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2005. It is a Department of Defense education benefit program designed to provide educational assistance to members of the Reserve components called or ordered to active duty in response to a war or national emergency (contingency operation) as declared by the President or Congress. This program makes certain that reservists who were activated for at least 90 days after September 11, 2001 are either eligible for education benefits or eligible for increased benefits.

MONTGOMERY G.I. BILL – SURVIVOR’S AND DEPENDENT’S EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (DEA) (CHAPTER 35)

DEA provides education benefits and training opportunities to eligible dependents of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled due to a service-related condition, or who died while on active duty or as a result of a service-related condition. The program offers up to 45 months of education benefits. These benefits may be used for degree and certificate programs, apprenticeship, and on-the-job training. A spouse may take a correspondence course. Remedial, deficiency, and refresher courses may be approved under certain circumstances by the Veterans Administration.

CHAPTER 33 (POST-9/11 G.I. BILL)

The Post-9/11 GI Bill is a new education benefit program for individuals who served on active duty on or after September 11, 2001.

TUITION BENEFITS FOR ACTIVE NEW YORK STATE NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS

This is a New York State tuition assistance program for active members of the New York Army National Guard, the New York Air National Guard and the New York Naval Militia. It provides tuition assistance for active members enrolled in a first-degree program of study. The award covers tuition after all other financial aid has been applied to the tuition charges. Students must apply for federal and state aid and file a DMNA 96-1 form, which can be obtained from their individual National Guard units. Continuation of the award will be dependent on good military standing, making satisfactory progress toward the degree and on maintaining good academic standing for financial aid purposes.

VETERANS TUITION AWARDS

Veterans Tuition Awards are available for state residents who served in Indochina between December 22, 1961 and March 7, 1975; in the Persian Gulf on or after August 2, 1990 and in Afghanistan during hostilities on or after September 11, 2001. Veterans are eligible to receive up to 98 percent of the tuition cost each semester at in-state, degree-granting institutions or approved vocational programs.

New York veterans must first complete both the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) applications.

Veterans must also complete the New York State Veterans Tuition Award Supplement or contact HESC. Be sure to print the WEB supplement Confirmation, sign it, and return it along with the required documentation according to the instructions.
Questions regarding eligible service or how to document service should be directed to the HESC Scholarship Unit at 888.697.4372.

Questions regarding Veterans Benefits may be directed to the Financial Aid Office.

LOANS

FEDERAL PERKINS LOAN

This is a low-interest (presently 5 percent) federal loan made available through the College to matriculated, continuing students enrolled at least half-time. Loans are awarded according to need, and repayment begins nine months after graduation or termination of college attendance.

WILLIAM D. FORD FEDERAL DIRECT LOAN PROGRAM (SUBSIDIZED)

A low-interest, need-based loan program that helps students meet the cost of education, the Direct Loan Program allows students to borrow money directly from the federal government. Students who are matriculated in degree-granting programs and are registered for at least 6 credits per semester are eligible. Students must begin repayment within six months after graduation or termination of college attendance, and there is a maximum of 10 to 30 years in which to pay the borrowed funds.

The actual interest rate and loan fee will be included in a disclosure statement the student will receive after the first disbursement of the loan.

WILLIAM D. FORD FEDERAL DIRECT LOAN PROGRAM (UNSUBSIDIZED)

These loans are available directly from the federal government to undergraduate students who need additional funds. The interest rate is fixed at 6.8 percent. Two repayment options for interest are available. Students may begin repayment while still attending school by paying the interest, with repayment of the principal deferred until after graduation or termination of attendance. Alternatively, interest may be deferred until after graduation or termination of attendance, in which case it will be added to the principal.

DIRECT PLUS (PARENT LOAN FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS)

These are loans parents may obtain to help pay the cost of education for their dependent undergraduate. The maximum that can be borrowed is equal to the cost of attendance minus any other financial aid received. Interest accrues while the student is in school. There is an origination fee of 4 percent of the loan principal that will be deducted proportionately from each loan disbursement. The interest rate is currently 7.9 percent. There is no grace period.

Application process: Students who wish to apply for a Direct Loan must first submit their FAFSA for the relevant year. New Direct Loan applicants must complete entrance counseling and sign a Master Promissory Note at www.studentloans.gov before turning in a Direct Loan application. The Federal Direct Loan application can be filed electronically through the CUNY Portal at www.cuny.edu. Students must login in order to submit the application.

ALTERNATIVE LOANS

These loans of last resort are private lender loans for students who may not be eligible for Federal Direct Student Loans or for students who are eligible and need additional funds to help meet additional educational expenses including tuition and housing. The amount that a student may borrow is limited to the “cost of attendance” as determined by federal approved standard budgets. All applicants are subject to credit review and/or may require a co-signer. Students who do not have eligible citizenship status for federal financial aid may borrow an Alternative Loan if they have a co-signer with eligible citizenship status. Interest is variable and may be as high as 18-21 percent. Students who are considering an Alternative Loan should first speak to a Financial Aid counselor.

Application process: Students who wish to apply for an Alternative Loan must also submit a FAFSA application prior to application for the loan.

SCHOLARSHIPS

John Jay College of Criminal Justice offers various scholarships and special opportunities to support our entering and continuing students. Institutional scholarships (those granted by the College) are generally based on strong academic work, community service and a commitment to public service. External scholarships and other special opportunities are available to further support student academic success. For the most current information concerning scholarships and other special opportunities, please visit: http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/scholarships.php.

NEW YORK STATE SCHOLARSHIPS FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

This program provides scholarship assistance to outstanding New York State high school graduates. Each year, 8,000 scholarships are awarded—up to 2,000 scholarships of $1,500, and 6,000 scholarships of $500—to top scholars from registered New York State high schools. Awards are based on student grades in certain Regents exams. Recipients can also receive other non-loan student aid, but the total cannot exceed the cost of attendance. To apply, students should see their high school guidance counselors.

PETER F. VALLONE ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

New York City high school graduates with a B average or higher who are accepted to CUNY may be eligible for this scholarship, which is funded by the New York City Council. The award is available to students who enroll full-time at any of the 17 undergraduate colleges at CUNY within a year of graduating from a public or private New York City high school. Awards vary depending on City Council funding and are renewable for the length of the degree program, as long as the student continues to meet eligibility criteria.

TUITIONPAY MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

1-866-267-CUNY or www.TuitionPay.com/cuny

The City University of New York and John Jay College have developed a monthly payment plan to help students finance their education. Under this plan, students pay their tuition in monthly installments. There is no interest, no finance charges, and only a low annual enrollment fee. Information is available at the Financial Aid Office, by phone or online.
ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS FOR FINANCIAL AID

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS FOR TAP

Students qualify for their TAP award each semester by enrolling as a full-time student. The student must be registered for at least 12 credits that are part of their individual major requirements at the College. Please use Degree Works at www.cuny.edu.

The academic guidelines are divided into two areas: Program Pursuit and Rate of Progress. Students must follow both sets of rules in order to receive a TAP award each semester.

PROGRAM PURSUIT

Program Pursuit requires all students to complete a certain number of courses each semester. A course is considered completed when a grade of A, A–, B+, B, B–, C+, C, C–, D+, D, D–, P (Passing) or F (Failing), is awarded at the end of the semester. Grades of W (Withdrawal), WU (Unofficial Withdrawal), WA (Administrative Withdrawal), WN (Withdrawal – Did not attend), FIN (Incomplete Changed to F) or INC (Incomplete) indicate that a course has not been completed.

Students enrolled for their first semester at the College must be enrolled for at least 3 credits and 12 equated hours to qualify for TAP. During their second semester at the College students must be enrolled for at least 6 credits and 12 equated hours to qualify for TAP. Students who are receiving a first- or second-semester TAP award must complete at least 50 percent (6 credits or the equivalent) of a full-time load in order to receive a TAP award for the next semester. Students who are receiving a third- or fourth-semester award must complete at least 75 percent (9 credits or the equivalent) of a full-time load in order to receive the next TAP payment. (Note: Students who have received four semesters of TAP awards as undergraduates must complete a minimum of 12 credits per semester in order to be eligible for the next TAP award.) Before withdrawing from any course, students should see a financial aid counselor in order to learn what effect the withdrawal will have on the next TAP award.

RATE OF PROGRESS

The Rate of Progress rules are in addition to the Program Pursuit rules. Students must follow both sets of rules in order to receive a TAP award each semester. Rate of Progress requires that a student earn (pass) a certain number of credits before receiving each TAP award. In addition, students must also maintain a certain grade point average (GPA).

There are academic standards that must be maintained for continued receipt of aid. At present, there are two sets of requirements, one for TAP (Tuition Assistance Program), and another for Title IV Aid, which includes Federal Pell, Federal Work Study, Federal Perkins Loan and Federal Direct Loans. The academic requirements for each award are as follows:

To receive each TAP payment:
- credits counted must meet degree requirements you are enrolled in
- you must have completed a specific number of credits in prior term
- you must meet a specific number of total credits
- you must maintain a minimum GPA

“C” AVERAGE REQUIREMENT

In addition, a student who has received four semesters of TAP payments must maintain a grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 or better. This requirement is in effect for each semester that a subsequent TAP payment is made.

CUNY’S TITLE IV - SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS REQUIREMENTS FOR TITLE IV FINANCIAL AID

The guidelines that follow were first published by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs on May 19, 1995 and have been subsequently revised to satisfy the requirements of the revised SAP regulations set forth in 34 CFR 668.34 which took effect July 1, 2011.

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

In order to be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree, for purposes of receipt of Title IV student financial assistance, an undergraduate student must meet the minimum standards specified below.

A. Minimum GPA – achieve at least the GPA required to meet the college’s minimum retention standard, or successfully appeal to be placed on academic probation; if enrolled in a program of more than two years, achieve at least a “C” average, or its equivalent, at the end of the second academic year, or have an academic standing consistent with the requirements for graduation.

<tr>
<td>13 – 24</td>
<td>1.75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>25 – upward</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. Maximum Time-frame – may not attempt more than 150% of the credits normally required for completion of the degree.

C. Pace of Progression

- for baccalaureate programs, accumulated (or earned) credits must be equal to or greater than [(0.75 x cumulative credits attempted) - 18];
- for associate degree programs, accumulated credits must be equal to or greater than [(0.875 x credits attempted) - 21].

All undergraduate students (whether aid recipients or not) will be measured against each of the three SAP components at the end of the spring term to determine eligibility for receipt of Title IV student financial assistance in the upcoming year.

Students who fail to meet the college’s minimum retention standard but successfully appeal to be placed on academic probation are considered to be meeting the qualitative standard of progress for receipt of Title IV student financial assistance.

FINANCIAL AID SUSPENSION

Undergraduate students who do not meet the minimum undergraduate standard and graduate students who do not meet the minimum graduate standard will be placed on financial aid suspension and lose their eligibility to participate in federal student aid programs. Students on financial aid suspension will remain ineligible for Title IV federal student assistance until they take actions that once again bring them into compliance with the appropriate progress standard.
RIGHT TO APPEAL

Students who have been placed on financial aid suspension may appeal through the normal institutional academic appeals process to retain eligibility for Title IV assistance. Students may appeal any component of the SAP standard they have not been able to meet including not meeting the minimum GPA and exceeding the maximum time-frame for program completion.

An appeal must be based upon mitigating circumstances resulting from events such as personal illness or injury, illness or death of a family member, loss of employment, or changes in the academic program. The student’s appeal must include: a) the reasons why the student failed to make SAP and b) what has changed in his or her situation that will allow the student to demonstrate SAP at the next evaluation.

The appeal may be granted if the school:

- Determines that the student will be able to meet the appropriate SAP standard by the end of the next payment period (semester); OR
- Develops an academic plan for the student that, if followed, will ensure that the student will be able to meet the appropriate SAP standard by a specific point in time.

Title IV appeals will be reviewed by a college committee, made up of representatives from Counseling, SEEK, Student Affairs, Financial Aid and Registrar’s Offices, who can make an accurate academic assessment of the student’s capability to meet the appropriate SAP standard by the next payment period/semester. If the committee determines that the student should be able to meet the SAP standards by the end of the next semester, the student may be placed on financial aid probation without an academic plan.

If the committee determines that the student will require more than one payment period to meet SAP, it may develop an individual academic plan that outlines a detailed strategy for the student to regain SAP eligibility within a certain probationary time-frame. The plan can be for one payment period/semester or longer. The academic plan should specify conditions that must be met for the period covered by the appeal such as: the specific coursework that must be taken, the minimum GPA that must be attained, and the number of credits that must be successfully completed.

FINANCIAL AID PROBATION

A student who has been granted an appeal will be placed on financial aid probation. Students in this status have their eligibility for Title IV program assistance reinstated for one payment period (semester). At the end of the probationary semester, the college will review the student’s academic progress to determine whether the student has met the appropriate SAP standard or has fulfilled the requirements specified in the student’s academic plan. A student who once again meets the appropriate progress standard after the probationary semester will continue to receive Title IV assistance until the next scheduled progress evaluation. Students who meet all the conditions of their academic plan at the end of the probationary semester will continue to receive Title IV assistance on a monitored, semester by semester basis until the next scheduled progress evaluation.

There is no limit on the number of times a student may follow the financial aid appeals procedure. Although a student may file only one appeal per payment period (semester), additional appeals to extend financial aid probation to subsequent semesters are allowed. As in the original appeal, the student would indicate the mitigating circumstances, the reasons why SAP was not achieved, and what has changed that will ensure the student will be able to meet SAP at the next evaluation. If a student fails to meet the conditions of an approved academic plan, he or she may submit an additional appeal to modify or adjust the plan for the subsequent payment period(s) documenting any unusual circumstances that prevented them from meeting the goals established by the original plan. The college may approve or decline the subsequent appeal and may create an updated plan based on the information submitted.

RE-ESTABLISHING ELIGIBILITY

Other than having eligibility restored through filing a successful appeal, a student on financial aid suspension may regain eligibility only by taking action that brings him or her into compliance with the appropriate progress standard. The mere passage of time is insufficient to restore Title IV eligibility to a student who has lost eligibility due to not meeting the SAP standard. Therefore, students may not re-establish eligibility solely by leaving the institution for at least one year because this action, by itself, would not bring the student into compliance for Title IV SAP.

Students who choose to remain enrolled without receiving Title IV aid may request a review of their academic record after any term in which they were on financial aid suspension to determine if they were able to re-attain the appropriate standard.

If a student is on financial aid suspension at the beginning of the academic year for not meeting one or more components of the school’s SAP standard, but meets them at some point later in the academic year, the student may regain Title IV eligibility as follows:

FEDERAL PELL GRANT/CAMPUS-BASED FUNDS

For Pell Grant and campus-based programs, the student regains eligibility retroactively to the beginning of the most recent payment period during which the student once again met the school’s satisfactory academic progress standards, unless the school’s satisfactory progress policy provides for reinstatement of eligibility at some later point.

FEDERAL DIRECT LOAN PROGRAMS

For Federal Direct program funds, the student regains eligibility for the entire period of enrollment. Again, this period generally coincides with the entire academic year, unless the school’s satisfactory academic progress policy provides for reinstatement of eligibility at some later point.

TREATMENT OF NON-STANDARD SITUATIONS

1. READMITTED STUDENTS

A student not making SAP cannot re-establish eligibility for Title IV program assistance by re-enrolling after a one year or longer period of non re-enrollment. Upon readmission after any period of non-enrollment, the student’s Title IV progress standing must be reevaluated for SAP under the standard as the record stood at the end of their last term of attendance. If the student has taken any action during the period of non-enrollment that would bring him or her into compliance with the progress standard (e.g., successfully completing transferable courses at another institution during the period of absence), this should also be factored into the reassessment. If the readmitted student has not taken any such action, or if the action taken is not sufficient to bring the student back into compliance with the progress standard, the student remains on financial aid suspension and must file a successful appeal to re-establish eligibility.

2. SECOND DEGREE STUDENTS

Students enrolling for a second baccalaureate, graduate or associate degree shall have their pace of progression status initialized for purposes of satisfactory academic progress measurement by using the number of credits determined to be acceptable toward the degree as both the students’ cumulative attempted credits and cumulative earned credits.

3. CHANGE OF MAJOR

Students who change majors within the same degree or certificate program must complete the degree within the maximum time-frame, unless the institution has allowed for such changes by establishing various time-frames for different programs leading to the degree or by individually re-evaluating the time-frame for these students.

4. CHANGE OF DEGREE

If a student changes his or her objective and begins pursuing a different degree or certificate, the institution may make the student subject to the maximum time-frame it establishes for the new objective without regard to time spent pursuing the previous degree or certificate. The institution also has the flexibility to develop a policy that is more restrictive and limits the student to an overall time-frame for the completion of his or her studies.

TITLE IV PACE OF PROGRESSION CHARTS

WITHDRAWALS AND THE RETURN OF TITLE IV FUNDS

As part of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998, Congress passed new provisions governing what happens to a student’s federal financial assistance if a student completely withdraws from school in any semester. The policy covers all federal loan programs, including Federal Perkins Loan and Federal Direct Loans, but does not affect Federal Work Study.
During the first 60 percent of the term, students earn Title IV funds in proportion to the time they are enrolled. If a student receives more aid than he/she earned, the unearned portion must be returned to the Department of Education. If a student receives less aid than the amount earned, he/she may be eligible for a late disbursement. The new law assumes that a student “earns” federal financial aid awards directly in proportion to the number of days of the term the student attends classes. If a student completely withdraws from school during a term, the school must calculate according to a specific formula the portion of the total scheduled financial assistance the student has earned and is therefore entitled to receive up to that point in time. If a student receives (or the College receives on the student’s behalf) more assistance than the student has earned, the unearned excess funds must be returned to the Department of Education. If, on the other hand, the student receives (or the College receives on the student’s behalf) less assistance than has been earned, the student may be able to receive those additional funds.

The portion of federal grants and loans a student is entitled to receive is calculated on a percentage basis by comparing the total number of days in the semester to the number of days the student completed before withdrawing from classes. For example, if a student completes 30 percent of the semester, the student earns 30 percent of the assistance the student was originally scheduled to receive. This means that 70 percent of the scheduled awards remain unearned and must be returned to the federal government.

Once a student has completed more than 60 percent of the semester, the student can be said to have earned all (100 percent) of the student's assistance. If a student completely withdraws (either officially or unofficially) before this point, the student may have to return any unearned federal funds that may have already been disbursed. If a student has received excess funds that must be returned, the College shares with the student the responsibility of returning those excess funds. The College portion of the excess funds to be returned is equal to the lesser of

- the entire amount of the excess funds, or
- the student's total tuition and fee charges multiplied by the percentage of unearned funds.

If the College is not required to return all the excess funds, the student must return the remaining amount. Any loan funds that a student must return must be repaid according to the terms of the student’s promissory note. If a student must return any grant funds, the law provides that the amount to be repaid be reduced by 50 percent. This means that the student only has to return half of any excess funds he/she receives.

Any amount that a student has to return is considered a federal grant overpayment. The student must either return that amount in full or make satisfactory arrangements with either the College or the Department of Education to repay the amount. The student must complete these arrangements within 45 days of the date of the College’s notifying him/her of the student’s overpayment status or risk losing eligibility for further federal financial assistance.
STUDENT SERVICES

THE JAY STOP
http://jstop.jjay.cuny.edu

The Jay Stop is the online student information website addressing all areas of student life at John Jay College. Quick links provide access to key information, including academic planning, campus activities and a host of special features.

COUNSELING
212.237.8111

Licensed professionals offer a range of psychological and counseling support services to meet the adjustment, mental health and developmental needs of students and others in the campus community. To help foster academic, personal and vocational development in students, a wide range of counseling, outreach, training, consultation and educational services are offered by staff and graduate externs. The office also supports the academic goals of the College through consultation with faculty, staff and campus organizations.

WOMEN’S CENTER
212.237.8184

The Women’s Center supports student success by providing invaluable links between student-centered research, peer networking, educational programming and clinical intervention. The center provides education, outreach and activist opportunities on women’s issues and gender justice. It also makes available direct services (crisis intervention, short-term and ongoing individual counseling, groups and referral services), educational programs (workshops, conferences, trainings), activities, and a safe space for women students and their allies. The center collaborates with groups inside and outside John Jay College to promote the physical, mental and sexual health of all students through activism and advocacy. It seeks to advance knowledge about gender equity and women’s issues, and the opportunities and barriers students can face on campus and in society.

CHILDREN’S CENTER
212.237.8311

The Children’s Center of John Jay College provides care during weekday classes for up to 55 children from six months through five years. The center is open during fall and spring semesters from 7:45 AM to 5:30 PM Monday through Thursday, when classes are in session. It is also open Fridays from 9:00 AM to 3:30 PM. (Hours are subject to change.) A summer program with shorter hours and days is also available.

The center offers an educational program where children learn about themselves in a warm, caring and comfortable environment. Children of undergraduate students have priority; graduate students and non-matriculated students are accommodated on a space-available basis. There is a modest fee per child per semester. Some fee subsidies are available and awarded based on family income. More information and applications may be obtained at the Children’s Center.

THE OFFICE OF COMMUNITY OUTREACH AND SERVICE-LEARNING
646.557.4820
communityoutreach@jjay.cuny.edu

The Office of Community Outreach and Service-Learning works to connect John Jay College students to their neighboring communities and cultivate an awareness of community needs. The office encourages students to become civically engaged, which can be in the form of individual volunteerism or organizational involvement. Student input is welcome.

Students, faculty and staff can become involved in their community by taking advantage of the numerous opportunities that the Office of Community Outreach provides. Recent projects have included Oxfam Hunger Banquets, an Open Mic Against Domestic Violence, NY Cares orientations, and the annual “Treats for Troops” Campaign, which enabled the office to send more than 110 boxes of donations to John Jay students and their loved ones deployed overseas. The office also maintains partnerships with organizations such as the Center for Court Innovation, New York Cares, Safe Horizon, Just Food, St. Paul the Apostle’s Soup Kitchen, and many others.

HEALTH SERVICES
212.237.8052

The College’s Health Services Center is designed exclusively to meet the healthcare needs of John Jay students. Through accessible, high quality, cost-effective health activities and services, the office provides the highest quality health information to facilitate the physical, emotional and social well-being of students.
The center is staffed by a health services director and a part-time nurse practitioner who ensures that students comply with New York State Public Health Laws for immunization of measles, mumps and rubella. In addition to primary women's health and nutritional care, the center also provides preventive healthcare, health education services, and promotes wellness initiatives throughout the campus. Where necessary, the Student Health Center makes referrals to low-cost medical centers/clinics, dispenses over-the-counter medications, and provides on-site health screenings, physicals, and prescription services.

MEDICAL EMERGENCIES
COLLEGE HEALTH CENTER
MONDAY–FRIDAY, 9:00 AM–5:00 PM
212.237.8052/8053

In a life-threatening emergency, dial 911 to reach New York City Emergency Medical Services.

For urgent medical needs when the center is closed, the Security Office should be notified (212.237.8888). An ambulance from Fast Care service of St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital will be provided. In the event of injury on campus or during off-campus activities, the incident must be reported to the Security Office (Haaren Hall, Room 530) and then to the College Health Center (North Hall, Room 1292). The health director will direct students as to how to file the necessary accident insurance claim.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC SAFETY
EMERGENCY SERVICES HOT LINE 212.237.8888

The Office of Public Safety responds to emergencies, and security and safety problems. With the exception of the BMW Building and the 54th Street Academic Annex, the security desks are staffed at all times.

The telephone numbers for the security desks are:

- Haaren Hall (899 Tenth Avenue): 212.237.8266
- North Hall (445 W. 59th Street): 212.237.8740
- BMW Building (555 W. 57th Street, 6th Floor): 212.237.8700
- Westport Building (500 W. 56th Street): 212.484.1120
- 54th Street Academic Annex (619 W. 54th Street): 646.557.4712

EMERGENCY CLOSING OF THE COLLEGE
212.237.8000
www.jjay.cuny.edu

Notice of college closings due to serious snowstorms or other emergencies are posted on the John Jay College website.

OFFICE OF ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES
212.237.8031

The Office of Accessibility Services at John Jay College of Criminal Justice is committed to compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and other relevant state and federal legislation.

The mission of the Office of Accessibility Services, a department of the Division of Student Development, is to ensure that students with disabilities have equal access to all college programs, services and activities. Its objective is to see that students with disabilities are provided with an impactful learning experience. Individuals are challenged to be independent, responsible, problem-solvers and self-advocates in charge of their own lives.

The Office of Accessibility Services offers a wide range of services, which includes but is not limited to: individual counseling, priority registration, orientation, special testing accommodations, readers, note takers, sign language interpreters, special adaptive equipment and other support services for students with disabilities.

The Office of Accessibility Services (OAS) is an agency-based voter registration site. Students will be offered the opportunity to register to vote. There is no obligation to register to vote and the student’s decision will have no affect on accommodations offered. For additional information or assistance, please contact the office.

OFFICE OF STUDENT RELATIONS
212.237.8871

The Office of Student Relations is committed to the values of student rights, equality and social justice.

Mission Statement

1) Investigate any student complaint regarding any aspect of student life

2) Serve as an information resource on college policy and procedure as well as students’ rights and responsibilities
3) Provide general guidance on where and to whom complaints and inquiries may be appropriately directed

Students should contact the Director of Student Relations if:

- They have a concern about any aspect of student life at the College
- They are unsure about the policies, rights, procedures, and responsibilities that apply to their situation
- They need someone to listen and assist with decision making
- They feel that their educational experience has been adversely affected by the conduct and behavior of another person

CENTER FOR CAREER AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT careers@jjay.cuny.edu www.jjay.cuny.edu/careers

212.237.8754

The mission of the Center for Career and Professional Development is to assist undergraduate students and all alumni in finding success in the career of their choosing through career exploration, skill development, practical experience attainment, and professional network building.

- Career advisement and graduate school planning assist students in thinking about their future interests, determining what interests they would like to pursue, and how to connect their academic major to career planning. Regular events such as alumni panels and skills workshops, combined with individual appointments with a career counselor, allow students an opportunity to explore potential career interests.

- Internship and cooperative education opportunities allow students to gain hands-on experience while developing career-specific skills. The office assists students in deciding when to do an internship, identifying potential sites, and developing on-the-job success strategies. Students may opt to enroll in a course to gain academic credit for their internship, or to pursue their internship independently. While most internships are unpaid, a growing number of employers are offering small stipends.

- Professional networking is a key strategy behind the successful job search and career success. Center staff assist students to build a career resources network by exposing them to alumni and professionals in their chosen field at career fairs, panels, workshops, and networking receptions.

OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE

212.237.8698

The Office of Student Life offers a wide array of cultural, educational, leadership and social activities to students, faculty and staff. Getting involved in John Jay’s student life is the quickest way for students to become a part of the College community, and to create their personal experiences. The office organizes programs and events, lectures, cultural presentations, leadership programs and social activities. These programs aim to enrich students’ experience and encourage them to develop their leadership abilities and express their talents. They allow students to build strong connections with peers that have diverse backgrounds and interests. These programs are supported by the student activity fee and managed by the Student Activities Association (Board of Directors) commonly referred to as the BOD.

PROGRAMMING

The Office of Student Life provides students with meaningful interactions outside of the classroom that connect students with their peers and with other members of the John Jay College community. These interactions help students to unify their educational experiences with their lived experiences, provoking critical thought and motivating them to develop a sound system of values. The Office of Student Life assists student organization in planning and organizing a wide range of activities, including free film series, parties, day trips, fairs and workshops. It coordinates lectures, social occasions, leadership programs and cultural presentations for student organizations and provides information about campus meetings and events.
STUDENT CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

The College has a number of student organizations which are supported by the Office of Student Life. John Jay’s student organizations show the diversity of our students and their interests. More than 45 student clubs and organizations offer educational, cultural, philanthropic, social and recreational opportunities through a variety of meetings, films, concerts and lectures.

Listed below are just a few of The College’s student organizations:

Academic clubs
Creative Writing, Economics Club, Debate Society, Forensic Science Society, International Criminal Justice, Law Society, Masters of Public Administration Student Association

Cultural clubs
African Students Association, Buddhism for Justice, Desi Club, Dominican Students Association, Haitian Students Society, Hillel, Latino Mix Organization, and Muslim Students Association

Media clubs
John Jay Sentinel, Theatrical Players and the John Jay Radio Club

Social clubs

Philanthropic clubs
Habitat for Humanity, Environmental Club, and Keep A Child Alive representing and supporting the John Jay student community. Composed of 24 members, the Student Council Executive Board includes the president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, and four representatives each from the graduate, senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes. The Student Council follows the Charter of the Student Government bylaws in fulfilling its responsibilities.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATION

The John Jay College Student Activities Association Board of Directors is composed of six students, three faculty members, three administrators and a chairperson appointed by the President of the College. The corporation is responsible for the management and supervision of the student activity fee.

ATHLETICS, RECREATION AND INTRAMURALS

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION
212.237.8399

Through the Department of Health and Physical Education, John Jay College offers undergraduate courses in physical fitness, health education, stress management and several courses addressing the physical fitness needs of law enforcement and public service students.

The Health and Physical Education minor provides coursework students may use to improve their personal health and physical fitness in conjunction with career preparation. It is designed to promote healthy lifestyle habits through the study and application of the wellness principles of nutrition, physical fitness and stress management, as well as the acquisition of physical activity skills.

DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS
212.237.8371

Under the nickname “Bloodhounds,” 13 intercollegiate teams currently represent John Jay College. Fall sports include men’s and women’s soccer, women’s volleyball, men’s and women’s cross country, and women’s tennis. Men’s and women’s varsity basketball, co-ed rifle and women’s swimming and diving comprise the winter sports. In the spring, sports include baseball, softball and men’s tennis.

The College is a Division III member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), adheres to all its rules, and is dedicated to the principles of fair play in athletic competition and equitable eligibility criteria for clubs and their governance are set forth in Section 9 of the Charter of the Student Government, available at www.jjay.cuny.edu under “Student Government” and in the Appendix of this bulletin.

Additional information and a complete listing of all student clubs are available in the Office of Student Life and on the Student Life webpage.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is responsible for disbursing Student Activities Fee funds, supporting the Essential Services like the Yearbook, and treatment of men and women. Bloodhound teams compete in the City University of New York Athletic Conference (CUNYAC), the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) and the Mid Atlantic Conference (MAC).

Full-time undergraduate students wishing to participate in intercollegiate athletics must be in good academic standing as defined by the College. For further information, please visit www.johnjayathletics.com.

RECREATION AND INTRAMURAL PROGRAMS
212.237.8420

The recreation and intramural activities provided by the Department of Athletics are an integral part of life at the College and are supported by student activity fees. The gymnasium, pool, racquetball court, jogging track, and outdoor tennis court are open many hours each week for free play. These facilities are also used for a variety of intramural competitions and leagues as well as bodybuilding, power lifting and triathlon contests. Programs include special clubs that are devoted to karate and judo.

The recreation and intramural programs are open to all members of the John Jay College student body upon presentation of a valid college ID card. Students may call the department for additional information, events schedules, and court reservations or online at www.johnjayathletics.com.

CARDIOVASCULAR FITNESS CENTER
212.237.8633

Students who wish to improve their physical fitness can avail themselves of the many programs that the Cardiovascular Fitness Center offers. Interested students follow an individually prescribed exercise program that is evaluated periodically. Medical clearance is required for participation. All forms and further information may be obtained from the Cardiovascular Fitness Center or online at www.johnjayathletics.com.

The Department of Health and Physical Education and the Department of Athletics strongly advise all students, faculty and staff interested in athletics, recreation, intramurals, or physical education courses to have a medical checkup prior to participation. Medical clearance is required for participation in intercollegiate athletics and the Cardiovascular Fitness Center.

THEATRE AND THE ARTS ARTS
212.237.8325/8698

The College offers a rich and diverse program in music and the visual arts. Concerts featuring renowned performers, exhibitions of paintings, drawings, sculpture, photography and mixed media shown in the College galleries are among the varied presentations.

In its afternoon concert series, the College has presented a diverse array of internationally known soloists, many of whom appear regularly with the Lincoln Center Chamber Music Society, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and the New York City Opera. Fine chamber music ensembles, such as the Annapolis Brass Quintet, the Western Wind Vocal Ensemble, and the Apollo Chamber Orchestra, are often major features of the concert series. Musical artists have included the late jazz innovators Teddy Wilson and Zoot Sims, the Cleftones of early Rock fame, gospel singer Pearl Williams-Jones and operatic performer Willard White.

The John Jay Gallery is committed to presenting bodies of work by artists from a wide array of cultural traditions. Some are emerging artists, others established. Shows are usually solo exhibitions, one month in length. Now open 12 months of the year, the Gallery devotes December and May to exhibitions by the College’s undergraduate studio art students. Among the artists who have presented in the John Jay Gallery are: Muhsana Ali, Cindy Ho, Anna Kuo, Despo Magoni, Richard K. Miller, Delilah Montoya, Annie Nash, Susan Newmark, Armand Ortiz, Sophie Rivera, Miriam Romais, Tara Sabharwal, Edwine Seymour, Chie Shiamura and Mary Ting.

For information on concerts and exhibitions, students may contact the Department of Art and Music and the Office of Student Life.

THEATRE
212.237.8363

John Jay College offers its students a variety of opportunities for participation in theatre and play production, as well as access to nearby Lincoln Center and Broadway productions.

A major departmental production is mounted each semester in the Gerald W. Lynch Theater, a state-of-the-art facility located in Haaren Hall. In addition to stage productions, performances of work often conceived and performed by students, and hosted by one or more clubs or college programs, are held each semester in alternative spaces at the College.
The Department of Communication and Theatre Arts presents a vibrant theatre program that dates back to the earliest days of the College. Many productions involve criminal justice themes, and have included major plays in the repertoire of world drama ranging from Greek tragedy to plays by contemporary playwrights, including: Oedipus Rex, The Merchant of Venice, Marat Sade, The Bald Soprano, Short Eyes, Equus, For Colored Girls . . . and Crimes of the Heart. Kafka’s The Trial and Sidney Kingsley’s Detective Story were recognized by major New York critics, while more recently, The Crucible and Macbeth drew large, enthusiastic crowds and glowing accolades from students and the community alike. Musicals like Godspell, Brecht’s Happy End, and Once Upon This Island have offered John Jay’s multi-talented students the opportunity to showcase their acting skills, as well as their instrumental and vocal talents. Reflecting the interdisciplinary nature of the College, departmental productions generally involve close collaboration with student clubs, the John Jay Players (the student theatrical group) and Women’s Studies.

In recent years, departmental productions have been featured in the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival, main stage productions have won praise from festival adjudicators, and student actors and technicians have been invited to perform and attend workshops at regional Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festivals.

For information on performances, students may contact the Department of Communication and Theatre Arts.

COLLEGE MISSION

John Jay College of Criminal Justice of The City University of New York is a four-year, liberal arts college dedicated to education, research and service in the fields of criminal justice, fire science and related areas of public safety and public service. It endows students with critical thinking and effective communication skills; the perspective and moral judgment that result from liberal studies; the capacity for personal and social growth and creative problem solving; the ability to navigate advanced technological systems, and the awareness of the diverse cultural, historical, economic and political forces that shape our society. The College is dedicated to fostering an academic environment that promotes scholarship and encourages research, especially in areas related to criminal justice. The breadth and diversity of scholarship at the College reflect our continuing commitment to innovative analyses, interdisciplinary approaches and global perspectives. The College offers a curriculum that balances the arts, sciences and humanities with professional studies. It serves the community by developing graduates with the intellectual acuity, moral commitment and professional competence to confront the challenges of crime, justice and public safety in a free society. It seeks to inspire students and faculty alike to the highest ideals of citizenship and public service.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

A recognized international leader in educating for justice, John Jay offers a rich liberal arts and professional studies curriculum to a diverse student body. John Jay, a senior college of The City University of New York, began in 1964 to educate New York City police officers; today, as one of the country’s leading educational institutions, it enrolls a diverse student body and advances research and education about justice as a broadly conceived subject that pervades almost every aspect of human existence.

The strength, reputation and vitality of the College are embodied in the commitment to academic excellence of the faculty, many of whom are prize winning authors, well-known creative artists, and recognized experts in their fields. They conduct critical research in areas such as violent behavior, DNA analysis, drug-abuse trends, gender discrimination, child aggression, sexual abuse, eyewitness reliability, immigration and international human rights.
GRADUATE AND UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC ORDER PURSUANT TO ARTICLE 129A OF THE EDUCATION LAW

The tradition of the University as a sanctuary of academic freedom and center of informed discussion is an honored one, to be guarded vigilantly. The basic significance of that sanctuary lies in the protection of intellectual freedom: the rights of professors to teach, of scholars to engage in the advancement of knowledge, of students to learn and to express their views free from external pressures or interference. These freedoms can flourish only in an atmosphere of mutual respect, civility, and trust among teachers and students, only when members of the University community are willing to accept self-restraint and reciprocity as the conditions upon which they share in its intellectual autonomy.

Academic freedom and the sanctuary of the University campus extend to all who share these aims and responsibilities. They cannot be invoked by those who would subordinate intellectual freedom to political ends, or who violate the norms of conduct established to protect that freedom. Against such offenders the University has the right, and indeed the obligation, to defend itself. We accordingly announce the following rules and regulations to be in effect at each of our colleges, which are to be administered in accordance with the requirements of due process as provided in Bylaws of The Board of Trustees.

With respect to enforcement of these rules and regulations, we note that the Bylaws of the Board provide that.

THE PRESIDENT, with respect to his educational unit, shall:
a. Have the affirmative responsibility of conserving and enhancing the educational standards of the college and schools under his jurisdiction
b. Be the adviser and executive agent of the Board and of his respective College Committee and as such shall have the immediate supervision with full discretionary power in carrying into effect the Bylaws, resolutions, and policies of the Board, the lawful resolutions of the several faculties
c. Exercise general superintendence over the concerns, officers, employees, and students of his or her educational unit

RULES

1. A member of the academic community shall not intentionally obstruct and/or forcibly prevent others from the exercise of their rights. Nor shall he interfere with the institution's educational processes or facilities, or the rights of those who wish to avail themselves of any of the institution's instructional, personal, administrative, recreational and community services.

2. Individuals are liable for failure to comply with lawful directions issued by representatives of the University /college when they are acting in their official capacities. Members of the academic community are required to show their identification cards when requested to do so by an official of the college.

3. Unauthorized occupancy of University/college facilities or blocking access to or from such areas is prohibited. Permission from appropriate college authorities must be obtained for removal, relocation and use of University/college equipment and/or supplies.

4. Theft from or damage to University/college premises or property, or theft or damage to University/college premises or property or theft or damage to property of any person on University/college premises is prohibited.

5. Each member of the academic community, or an invited guest has the right to advocate his position without having to fear abuse — physical, verbal, or otherwise — from others supporting conflicting points of view. Members of the academic community and other persons on the college grounds shall not use language or take actions reasonably likely to provoke or encourage physical violence by demonstrators, those demonstrated against, or spectators.

6. Action may be taken against any and all persons who have no legitimate reason for their presence on any campus within the University/college, or whose presence on any such campus obstructs and/or forcibly prevents others from the exercise of their rights, or interferes with the institution's educational processes or facilities, or the rights of those who wish to avail themselves of any of the institution's instructional, personal, administrative, recreational and community services.

7. Disorderly or indecent conduct on University/college-owned or controlled property is prohibited.

8. No individual shall have in his possession a rifle, shotgun, or firearm or knowingly have in his possession any other dangerous instruments or materials that can be used to inflict bodily harm on an individual or damage upon a building or the grounds of the University/college without written authorization of such educational institution. Nor shall any individual have in his or her possession any other instrument or material, which can be used and is intended to inflict bodily harm on an individual or damage upon a building or the grounds of the University/college.

9. Any action or situation, which recklessly or intentionally endangers mental or physical health or involves the forced consumption of liquor or drugs for the purpose of initiation into or affiliation with any organization is prohibited.

10. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of illegal drugs or other controlled substances by University students or employees on University/college premises, or as part of any University/college activities is prohibited. Employees of the University must also notify the College Personnel Director of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace not later than five (5) days after such conviction.

11. The unlawful possession, use, or distribution of alcohol by students or employees on University/college premises or as part of any University/college activities is prohibited.

PENALTIES

1. Any student engaging in any manner of conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1 to 11 shall be subject to the following range of sanctions as hereafter defined below: admonition, warning, censure, disciplinary probation, restitution, suspension, expulsion, ejection and/or arrest by the civil authorities.

2. Any tenured or non-tenured faculty member or classified or other member of the instructional or member of the classified staff engaged in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1 to 11 shall be subject to the following range of penalties: warning, censure, restitution, fine not exceeding those permitted by law or by the Bylaws of The City University of New York, or suspension with/without pay pending a hearing before an appropriate college authority, dismissal after a hearing, ejection, and/or arrest by the civil authorities, and, for engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rule 10, may, in the alternative, be required to participate satisfactorily in an appropriately licensed drug treatment or rehabilitation program. A tenured or non-tenured faculty member, or other member of the instructional staff, or member of the classified staff charged with engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1-11 shall be entitled to be treated in accordance with applicable provisions of the Education Law or the Civil Service Law, or the applicable collective bargaining agreement, or the Bylaws or written policies of The City University of New York.

3. Any visitor, licensee, or invitee engaging in any manner in conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1 to 11 shall be subject to ejection and/or arrest by the civil authorities.

4. Any organization, which authorizes the conduct prohibited under substantive Rules 1 to 11 shall have its permission to operate on campus rescinded.

Penalties 1 to 4 shall be in addition to any other penalty provided by law or by The City University Trustees.

SANCTIONS DEFINED

A. Admonition. An oral statement to the offender that he has violated University rules.

B. Warning. Notice to the offender, orally or in writing, that continuation or repetition of the wrongful conduct, within a period of time stated in the warning, may cause far more severe disciplinary action.

C. Censure. Written reprimand for violation of specified regulation, including the possibility of more severe disciplinary sanction in the event of conviction for the violation of any University regulation within a period stated in the letter of reprimand.

D. Disciplinary Probation. Exclusion from participation in privileges or extra-curricular University activities as set forth in the notice of disciplinary probation for a specified period of time.

E. Restitution. Reimbursement for damage to or misappropriation of property. Reimbursement may take the form of appropriate service to repair or otherwise compensate for damages.

F. Suspension. Exclusion from classes and other privileges as set forth in the notice of suspension for a definite period of time.

G. Expulsion. Termination of student status for an indefinite period. The conditions of readmission, if any is permitted, shall be stated in the order of expulsion.

H. Complaint to Civil Authorities.

I. Ejection.

NEW YORK STATE EDUCATION LAW
ARTICLE 5 SECTION 224—A

Students unable because of religious beliefs to attend classes on certain days:

1. No person shall be expelled or be refused admission as a student to an institution of higher education for the reason that he or she is unable, because of his or her religious beliefs, to register or attend classes or to participate in any examination, study or work requirements on a particular day or days.

2. Any student in an institution of higher education who is unable, because of his or her religious beliefs, to attend classes on a particular day or days shall, because of such absence on the particular day or days, be excused from any examination or any study or work requirements.

3. It shall be the responsibility of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to make available to each student who is absent from school, because of his or her religious beliefs, an equivalent opportunity to register for classes or make up any examination, study or work requirements which he or she may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the institution for making available to the said student such equivalent opportunity.

4. If registration, classes, examinations, study or work requirements are held on Friday after four o’clock post meridian or on Saturday, similar or makeup classes, examinations, study or work requirements shall be made available on other days, where it is possible and practicable to do so. No special fees shall be charged to the student for these classes, examinations, study or work requirements held on other days.

5. In effectuating the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to exercise the fullest measure of good faith. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to any student because of his or her availing himself or herself of the provisions of this section.

6. Any student who is aggrieved by the alleged failure of any faculty or administrative officials to comply in good faith with the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to maintain an action or proceeding in the supreme court of the county in which such institution of higher education is located for the enforcement of his or her rights under this section.

6-A. It shall be the responsibility of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to give written notice to students of their rights under this section, informing them that each student who is absent from school, because of his or her religious beliefs, must be given an equivalent opportunity to register for classes or make up any examination, study or work requirements, which he or she may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the institution for making available to such student such equivalent opportunity.

7. As used in this section, the term “institution of higher education” shall mean any institution of higher education, recognized and approved by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, which provides a course of study leading to the granting of a post-secondary degree or diploma. Such term shall not include any institution, which is operated, supervised or controlled by a church or by a religious or denominational organization whose educational programs are principally designed for the purpose of training ministers or other religious functionaries or for the purpose of propagating religious doctrines. As used in this section, the term “religious belief” shall mean beliefs associated with any corporation organized and operated exclusively for religious purposes, which is not disqualified for tax exemption under section 501 of the United States Code.

ACCESS TO STUDENT RECORDS
(FERPA POLICY)

Rights of access. Pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) and the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York Student Records Access Policy of April 1979, John Jay College students have “the right to inspect and review any and all official records, files, and data directly related” to them and to deny access by others without written consent of the student except under limited and specified circumstances. This right pertains to any present or former student but not to candidates for admission.

Procedures. A student who wishes to inspect and review his or her educational records may make the request to the Student Records Access Officer of the college or to the person in charge of the office who is the official custodian of the record in question, but a request pertaining to records in the custody of a teacher or counselor should be made directly to that teacher or counselor. Requests made to the Student Records Access Officer in the Office of the Registrar must be made by completing a request form. Requests for records in other locations may be oral or written. Requests will be granted or denied within fifteen days of receipt of the request.

If the request is granted, the student will be notified of the time and place where records may be inspected. If the request is denied or not responded to within fifteen days, the student may appeal. Additional information regarding the appeal procedure will be provided to the student if a request is denied.

A student may request an amendment of education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. In this case, the student should write to the college official who is responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record that is in question, and specify why it should be changed. If the College decides not to amend the record, the student will be notified of the decision and advised of his or her right to a hearing. When the student is notified, additional information will be provided regarding the hearing procedures.

Schools may disclose, without consent, directory information (student’s name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, class, year or date of expected graduation, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, height and weight of members of athletic teams, e-mail address, photograph, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, and the most recent educational agency or institution attended by the student) to persons having a legitimate interest in this information. A student may require that any or all of the information set forth above may not be released without the student’s prior written consent if the student completes a form that is available in the Office of the Registrar. A student’s education records, other than directory information stated above, shall be released without the student’s consent only to university officials — including trustees, college officials, faculty, and staff — with a legitimate educational interest. Upon request, the College may disclose education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

John Jay College's policies and procedures are the means by which policies of the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York are implemented. The complete texts of the revised Board of Higher Education policy as adopted April 23, 1979, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, are available for review in the Office of the Registrar, 4113 North Hall.

Policy on withholding student records. In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York on April 23, 1979, and amended on March 25, 1985, it was resolved that: “Students who are delinquent and/or in default in any of their financial accounts with the college, the University, or an appropriate State or Federal agency for which the University acts as either a disbursing or certifying agent, and students who have not completed exit interviews, as required by the National Direct Defense Student Loan (now Perkins Loan) Program and the Nursing Student Loan Program, are not to be permitted to complete a registration, or issued a copy of their grades, a financial aid transcript, a transcript of academic record, certificate or degree, nor are they to receive funds under the Federal campus-based student assistance programs or the Pell (Basic) Grant Program unless the designated officer, in exceptional hardship cases and consistent with Federal and State regulations, waives in writing the application of this regulation.”

The entire University policy on FERPA and the FERPA forms are available online at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/Guidelines-for-implementation-of-the-Student-Records-Access-FERPA.pdf and at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/FERPA_Forms.pdf.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION LAW NOTICE

Requests to inspect public records at the College should be made to the Records Access Officer Designee, Cheuk Lee, 212.237.8880. Public records are available for inspection and copying by appointment only at a location to be designated. You have a right to appeal a denial of a request for access to records to the CUNY General Counsel and Vice Chancellor for Legal Affairs. Copies of the CUNY Procedures for Public Access to Public Records Pursuant to Article 6 of the Public Officers Law and the appeal form are available at the reference desk of the library and on the college website at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/Procedures-for-Public-Access-to-Records.pdf.
STATEMENT OF NON-DISCRIMINATION

It is the policy of The City University of New York and John Jay College to recruit, employ, retain, promote, and provide benefits to employees and to admit and provide services for students without regard to race, color, creed, national origin, ethnicity, ancestry, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital status, legally registered domestic partnership status, disability, predisposing genetic characteristics, alienage, citizenship, military or veteran status, or status as a victim of domestic violence. Sexual harassment, a form of sex discrimination, is also prohibited.

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is committed to addressing discrimination complaints of all members of the College community promptly, consistently and fairly.

Ms. Silvia Montalban is the College’s Director of Compliance & Diversity. She functions as the Sexual Harassment Coordinator and Coordinator for Title IX, which prohibits sex discrimination in federally assisted education programs. She can be reached at smontalban@jjay.cuny.edu or at 646.557.4409. The University Policies and Procedures on Non-Discrimination and Sexual Harassment can be accessed at http://training.newmedialearning.com/psh/cuny/choice.htm.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment, a form of sex discrimination, is illegal under federal, state, and city laws.

Harassment of employees or students based upon sex is inconsistent and contrary to the City University of New York’s Non-Discrimination Policy as well as the Policy Against Sexual Harassment and will not be tolerated. John Jay College, a unit of The City University of New York, works to create a cooperative working and learning environment in which there is mutual respect for all students, faculty and staff. More information about sexual harassment prevention and training can be found at http://training.newmedialearning.com/psh/cuny/choice.htm.

In accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, “The Civil Rights Act” for the people with disabilities and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the College adheres to the law that states in part that: “No otherwise qualified individual ... shall, solely by reason of his/her disability, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal assistance.”

John Jay College offers programs and services to students and employees to ensure that individuals with disabilities are not excluded from academic programs, support services and any other activities sponsored by the College, solely on the basis of disability.

Danielle M. Officer is the Director of Accessibility Services. She can be reached at dofficer@jjay.cuny.edu or at 212.237.8185.

CUNY DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION PROCEDURE

The City University of New York, in compliance with Sections 503 and 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 ("Rehabilitation Act"), the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ("ADA"), New York State Executive Law §296, and the New York City Human Rights Law, provides qualified individuals with disabilities the opportunity to participate in programs, activities, or employment.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR IMPLEMENTATION

The President of each constituent college of The City University of New York, the Senior Vice Chancellor for the Central Office and the Dean of the Law School are responsible for the implementation of these procedures.

Each University unit has a 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator who has responsibility for coordinating efforts to ensure access and non-discrimination for individuals with disabilities.

The Human Resources Director along with supervisors of each constituent college of The City University of New York is responsible for making arrangements to provide reasonable accommodations to applicants for employment and current employees.

Each University unit has a Student Disabilities Services Coordinator who has responsibility for providing services and coordinating efforts to ensure access to programs and activities for students with disabilities.

PROCEDURES FOR REQUESTING AN ACCOMMODATION

Applicants for Employment

As part of a standard acknowledgment letter, individual applicants are to be instructed to contact the college’s Director of Human Resources if an accommodation is needed to participate in the application/interview process. The Human Resource Director will make arrangements with the appropriate individuals to provide a reasonable accommodation.

Current Employees

Upon initial hire, each employee is given the opportunity to self-identify as a person with a disability and to request a reasonable accommodation. The self-identification form is to be circulated annually by Human Resources to all current employees to permit the self-identification of employees who may have become disabled subsequent to initial hire.

An employee should make any initial request for accommodation to her/his immediate supervisor. Alternatively, an employee may direct her/his request to the Director of Human Resources at the site. In either case, consultation between the employee’s supervisor and the Director of Human Resources should take place to determine whether the requested accommodation, or an alternate accommodation, is appropriate and should be implemented.

Appropriate supporting documentation should be provided to the Human Resources Director. If the proffered accommodation is acceptable to the employee, the Human Resources Director should inform the 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator of the nature of the accommodation.

When an accommodation is complex or requires college expenditures, the supervisor and the Human Resources Director are required to obtain the input of the 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator and/or other college officials. Such consultation shall be confidential, and limited to those officials whose input is necessary to the decision.

Employees may consult with the college’s 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator at any time to discuss and understand their rights under the Rehabilitation Act, the ADA and state and local legislation, and they are encouraged to do so.

Visitors

Brochures/flyers announcing specific public programs should include a statement identifying the person to contact if an accommodation is needed. The time frame, by which such a request must be made, e.g. forty-eight hours in advance, must be included in the statement. A visitor should make any initial request for accommodation to the individual designated on the flyer. The designee should consult with appropriate college officials to determine the feasibility of granting the requested accommodation. Such consultation shall be confidential, and limited to those officials whose input is necessary to the decision. If the proffered accommodation is acceptable to the visitor, the designee should inform the 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator of the nature of the accommodation.

Students

A student should make an initial request for accommodation to the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities, and provide appropriate supporting documentation. The Student Disabilities Services Coordinator may consult with appropriate college officials such as the instructor or provost to determine the appropriateness of the requested accommodation consistent with the program requirements. Such consultation shall be confidential, and limited to those officials whose input is necessary to the decision.

Students may consult with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities or the 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator at any time to discuss and understand their rights under the Rehabilitation Act, the ADA, and state and local legislation, and they are encouraged to do so.

Carrie Dehls is the Human Resources Benefits Coordinator. Employees may reach her at cdehls@jjay.cuny.edu or at 212.237.8504.
Danielle M. Officer is the Director of Accessibility Services. Students may reach her at dofficer@jjay.cuny.edu or at 212.237.8185. Silvia Montalban is the College’s 504/ADA Compliance Coordinator, She can be reached at smontalban@jjay.cuny.edu or at 646.557.4409. Additional information about this CUNY policy can be accessed at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/ohrm/policies-procedures/reasonable-accommodation.html.

TITLE IX

In accordance with the requirements of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and the implementing federal regulations, John Jay College firmly supports a policy of non-discrimination on the basis of sex in the operation of its educational programs and activities. Federal requirements for non-discrimination on the basis of sex include the College's personnel practices as well as admission to the programs and activities offered at the College. Ms. Silvia Montalban, Director of Compliance & Diversity, serves as the Title IX Coordinator. Under the direction of the President, she has responsibility for the monitoring of Title IX regulations and their implementation. Any questions regarding Title IX issues and/or complaints should be directed to Ms. Montalban at smontalban@jjay.cuny.edu or 646.557.4409.

ATHLETIC PROGRAM PARTICIPATION NOTICE

The College files an annual report with the U.S. Secretary of Education on intercollegiate athletics, which includes information on the participation of males and females on its teams, and the expenditures and revenues of those teams. Copies of the annual report on intercollegiate athletics are available at the reference desk of the library and the college website.

EQUITY IN ATHLETICS DISCLOSURE ACT

The Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act requires co-educational institutions of postsecondary education that participate in a Title IV, federal student financial assistance program, and have an intercollegiate athletic program, to prepare an annual report to the Department of Education on athletic participation, staffing, and revenues and expenses, by men's and women's teams. The Department will use this information in preparing its required report to the Congress on gender equity in intercollegiate athletics. Equity in athletics data is now available on the Web at: http://ope.ed.gov/athletics. This site provides data from thousands of colleges and universities in a convenient searchable form.

Additional information may be found on the college's Athletics webpage at http://www.johnjayathletics.com.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES CONCERNING SEXUAL ASSAULT, STALKING AND DOMESTIC AND INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE AGAINST STUDENTS

I. POLICY STATEMENT

The City University of New York seeks to create and maintain a safe environment in which all members of the University community—students, faculty and staff—can learn and work free from the fear of sexual assault and other forms of violence. The University's policies on Workplace Violence and Domestic Violence and the Workplace apply to all acts of violence that occur in the workplace or that may spill over into the workplace. The University's Sexual Harassment Policy prohibits many forms of unwelcome conduct, including but not limited to, physical conduct of a sexual nature. This policy is specifically directed towards sexual assault, domestic and intimate partner violence and stalking committed against students on and off-campus.

CUNY wants all victims of sexual assault, stalking and domestic and intimate partner violence to know that the University has professionals and law enforcement officers who are trained in the field to assist student victims in obtaining help, including immediate medical care, counseling and other essential services. If the alleged perpetrator is also a member of the CUNY community, the college will take prompt action to investigate, and, where appropriate, to discipline and sanction the alleged perpetrator. CUNY urges all victims to seek immediate help in accordance with the guidelines set forth in this policy with the assurance that all information received from a complaint will be handled as confidentially as possible.

In order to eliminate sexual assaults and other forms of violence perpetrated against students, and to create a safe college community, it is critical to provide an appropriate prevention education program and have trained professionals to provide vital supportive services.
Accordingly, CUNY is committed to the following goals:

- Providing clear and concise guidelines for students to follow in the event that they or someone they know have been the victim of a sexual assault, domestic/intimate partner violence, or stalking.
- Assisting victims of sexual assault or abuse in obtaining necessary medical care and counseling, whether on or off-campus.
- Providing the most informed and up-to-date education and information to its students about how to identify situations that involve sexual assault, domestic and intimate partner violence, or stalking, and ways to prevent these forms of violence.
- Educating and training all staff members, including counselors, public safety officers and student affairs staff and faculty, to assist victims of sexual assault, domestic/intimate partner violence, or stalking.
- Ensuring that disciplinary procedures are followed in the event that the alleged perpetrator is a CUNY student or employee.

II. PROCEDURES FOR REPORTING INCIDENTS OF SEXUAL ASSAULT AND OTHER FORMS OF VIOLENCE

Obtaining assistance after a student is sexually assaulted, stalked or is in an abusive relationship is extremely important and can involve different points of on-campus contact for students, faculty and staff, including the Public Safety Department, Women's/Men's Centers and Counseling Departments, and/or the Dean of Student Development/Student Affairs. Each provides different forms of assistance which together address many of the needs of survivors.

- Contact Law Enforcement Personnel Immediately

CUNY urges any student who has been the victim of a sexual assault or other act of violence or abuse, or any student or employee who has witnessed a sexual assault or other act of violence against a student, to immediately report the incident to the college Public Safety Department if the attack occurred on-campus, or to call 911 or go to the local NYPD precinct if the incident took place off-campus. Each college shall be provided with a list of emergency contact numbers as part of its orientation and training programs.

- Seek Immediate Medical Attention

It is critical that victims of a physical assault receive comprehensive medical attention as soon as possible. For a sexual assault in particular, immediate treatment and the preservation of evidence of the attack (i.e. retain the clothing worn during the attack and do not shower) is crucial to a criminal investigation. If a student believes that she/he may be the victim of date rape by being drugged, she/he should go directly to a hospital to receive a toxicology examination since such drugs only remain in a person's system for a short period of time. In all other circumstances, public safety and police personnel can assist the victim in obtaining medical care. Each college shall be provided with a list of local hospitals, some of which are designated as SAFE (Sexual Assault Forensic Examiner) hospitals that are specially equipped to handle sexual assaults and are trained to gather minute evidence from such assaults. Rape crisis advocates at emergency rooms are also trained to handle domestic violence. EMS will be directed to bring victims to a SAFE hospital at their request. Medical attention is critical not only to treat internal and external injuries and to combat the possibilities of sexually transmitted infections and/or pregnancy, but also to collect evidence that can be used against the alleged perpetrator. It is also vital to ongoing safety and recovery that victims receive emotional support and professional counseling as soon as possible after the attack.

- Seek On-Campus Assistance

CUNY encourages student victims to contact the Dean of Student Affairs/Student Development to obtain assistance in accessing medical and counseling services, or to make any necessary changes to the student's academic program or residential housing situation. Public Safety can assist victims getting to and from campus safely, filing a police report and obtaining an order of protection against the alleged perpetrator. Victims can also file a complaint with the College against an alleged perpetrator who is a student or employee of the University with the Dean of Student Affairs/Student Development and the Public Safety Office.

- Obtaining an On-Campus Advocate

Student victims of a sexual assault, stalking or domestic or intimate partner violence shall be provided with on-campus support in the form of an advocate from the Women’s/Men’s Center (if there is one on campus) or an appropriately trained counselor to assist them in handling the various aspects of their ordeal, such as: 1) explaining to victims their options of whether or not to report the incident to campus or law enforcement authorities; 2) providing guidance if they require medical attention; 3) providing guidance in obtaining crisis intervention and/or ongoing counseling services (or a referral to obtain the necessary services if such services are not available on campus); and 4) assisting victims throughout the College's disciplinary process if they choose to file a complaint against another student in connection with the incident.

• Handling Sexual Assault, Stalking and Domestic and Intimate Partner Violence Complaints On-Campus

The Colleges shall act promptly in response to information that a student has been sexually assaulted, or has been the victim of domestic or intimate partner violence or stalking by another member of the CUNY community. Upon receipt of a complaint, the College shall undertake an appropriate investigation. If it appears that there is sufficient evidence to warrant disciplinary charges against a student or staff member, such charges shall be brought pursuant to the appropriate University procedures or collective bargaining agreement. If the alleged perpetrator is a student and the matter is brought before a hearing, the victim and alleged perpetrator are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present and to be informed of the outcome of the proceedings. The victim is entitled to a report of the results of the proceeding at her/his request. If a student is found guilty of committing a sexual assault or other act of violence against another CUNY student or employee after a disciplinary hearing, the penalties may include suspension, expulsion from residence halls, or permanent dismissal from CUNY.

In addition, if during the course of the investigation and/or disciplinary process the alleged perpetrator, or anyone on his/her behalf, seeks to contact the victim so as to harass, intimidate, threaten or coerce the victim in any way, the College reserves the right to bring additional disciplinary action against the actor. Such conduct by any member of the CUNY community will not be tolerated.

• Confidentiality

The University recognizes that confidentiality is particularly important to victims of sex crimes, domestic and intimate partner violence and stalking. If the victim seeks counseling with a licensed professional and/or works with an advocate from the campus, those communications will be confidential. CUNY encourages victims in all circumstances to seek counseling in order to speak about her/his options and to begin the recovery period.

While complete confidentiality cannot be guaranteed, every effort will be made to maintain confidentiality on a “need to know” basis. Generally, the wishes of a victim not to report a sexual assault or incident of domestic/intimate partner violence or stalking to the police will prevail, though the College reserves the right to notify the police when it believes that such reporting is necessary for the protection of the College community. Such notification, however, will generally be done without divulging the victim’s identity and for the purpose of providing a campus-wide safety alert. In addition, the College must adhere to legal mandates such as Title IX, medical reporting laws, and the Campus Security Act. For example, CUNY is required to make an annual report documenting the occurrences of violent crimes on campus, including sexual assault. However, this report does not include any information identifying the individuals (including the victims) linked to these crimes.

III. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES CONCERNING SEXUAL ASSAULT AND OTHER FORMS OF VIOLENCE AGAINST STUDENTS

The President and Vice President for Student Affairs/Student Development of each college shall be responsible for implementing this policy in accordance with the most up-to-date information and resources pertaining to sexual assault, stalking and domestic/intimate partner violence education and prevention, and victim assistance. The following steps must be taken to implement this policy:

1. Publication: A copy of this policy shall be easily accessible on the CUNY website and on the website administered by each College. A summary shall also be incorporated into every College student handbook. In addition, copies of the policy and procedures shall be made available in student centers, residence halls, student affairs/student development offices, women's/men's centers, counseling centers, health clinics and public safety departments, and shall be distributed to all new students during orientations.

2. Prevention/Risk Reduction Education: Each College shall develop materials and programs to educate its students, faculty and staff on the nature, dynamics, common circumstances and effects of sexual assault, domestic/intimate partner violence and stalking, and the means to reduce their occurrence and prevent them. Prevention education should provide up-to-date and relevant information, such as education pertaining to bystander intervention, the importance of peer networks and the significance of fostering a community of responsibility.

Prevention education materials and programs shall be incorporated into campus orientation activities for all incoming undergraduate and graduate students (including transfers), and shall be made available to all student activity groups, clubs and athletic teams. In addition, all residence halls shall have a mandatory orientation on sexual assault, stalking and domestic/intimate partner violence prevention. Colleges are encouraged to assist in the organization of peer education groups and to provide resources to such groups so that the groups can provide training and outreach to other students throughout the academic year. Since the abuse of alcohol is frequently involved in occurrences of sexual assault and other forms of violence, it is important that the education program include education about the deleterious effects of alcohol abuse.

3. Professional Training: Each College shall provide periodic training relating to the prevention and handling of sexual assaults, stalking and domestic/intimate partner violence for all relevant personnel, including public safety officers, counselors, student affairs staff and residence hall assistants by experts trained in the field. Education and training shall also be made available to any interested faculty and staff member. Each campus must have at least one qualified staff or faculty member serve as a designated liaison and trainer.

4. Oversight by CUNY Central Administration: The University Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs shall monitor compliance with this policy at all of the campuses, shall review the policies and procedures on an annual basis, and shall make recommendations in the event that updates to prevention and education information are necessitated. In addition, the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs shall provide educational materials that may be needed to ensure full implementation of this policy on every campus. Liaisons will be identified from each campus who will receive standardized training in order to fulfill their responsibilities on their campuses. The policies, procedures and outreach materials and programs will be subject to a periodic process of assessment in order to maintain efficacy.

CUNY POLICY ON DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

The City University of New York (“CUNY”) is an institution committed to promoting the physical, intellectual, and social development of all individuals. As such, CUNY seeks to prevent the abuse of drugs and alcohol, which can adversely impact performance and threaten the health and safety of students, employees, their families, and the general public. CUNY complies with all federal, state, and local laws concerning the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol.

Federal law requires that CUNY adopt and implement a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and abuse of alcohol by students and employees. As part of its program, CUNY has adopted this policy, which sets forth (1) the standards of conduct that students and employees are expected to follow; (2) CUNY sanctions for the violation of this policy; and (3) responsibilities of the CUNY colleges/units in enforcing this policy. CUNY’s policy also (1) sets forth the procedures for disseminating the policy, as well as information about the health risks of illegal drug and alcohol use, criminal sanctions for such use, and available counseling, treatment, or rehabilitation programs, to students and employees; and (2) requires each college to conduct a biennial review of drug and alcohol use and prevention on its campus.

This policy applies to all CUNY students, employees and visitors when they are on CUNY property, including CUNY residence halls, as well as when they are engaged in any CUNY-sponsored activities off campus.

CUNY STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of drugs or alcohol by anyone, on CUNY property (including CUNY residence halls), in CUNY buses or vans, or at CUNY-sponsored activities, is prohibited. In addition, CUNY employees are prohibited from illegally providing drugs or alcohol to CUNY students. Finally, no student may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in any CUNY residence hall, regardless of whether the student is of lawful age, except for students living in the Graduate School and University Center’s graduate housing facilities who may lawfully possess and consume alcoholic beverages. For purposes of this policy, a CUNY residence hall means a residence hall owned and/or operated by CUNY, or operated by a private management company on CUNY’s behalf.

In order to make informed choices about the use of drugs and alcohol, CUNY students and employees are expected to familiarize themselves with the information provided by CUNY about the physiological, psychological, and social consequences of substance abuse.

CUNY SANCTIONS

Employees and students who violate this policy are subject to sanctions under University policies, procedures and collective bargaining agreements, as described below. Employees and students should be aware that, in addition to these CUNY sanctions, the University will contact appropriate law enforcement agencies if they believe that a violation of the policy should also be treated as a criminal matter.

STUDENTS

Students are expected to comply with the CUNY and college policies with respect to drugs and alcohol. Any student found in violation may be subject to disciplinary action under Article 15 of the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees, which may result in sanctions up to and including expulsion from the University.

In addition, any student who resides in a CUNY residence hall and who is found to have violated any CUNY or college policy with respect to drugs and alcohol may be subject to sanctions under the CUNY Residence Hall Disciplinary Procedures, up to and including expulsion from the residence hall.

In lieu of formal disciplinary action, CUNY may, in appropriate cases, seek to resolve the matter through an agreement pursuant to which the student must see a counselor or successfully participate in a drug and alcohol treatment program.

In accordance with the Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act (“FERPA”), CUNY may also choose—when appropriate—to contact parents or legal guardians of students who have violated the CUNY policy on drugs and alcohol.

EMPLOYEES

Any employee found to have violated this CUNY policy may be subject to disciplinary action, in accordance with the procedures set forth in applicable CUNY policies, rules, regulations, and collective bargaining agreements. Sanctions may include a reprimand, suspension without pay, or termination of employment. In lieu of formal disciplinary action, CUNY may, in appropriate cases, seek to resolve the matter through an agreement pursuant to which the employee must successfully participate in a drug or alcohol treatment program.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF CUNY COLLEGES/UNITS

Each college or unit of the University should make its best efforts to educate employees and students about this policy and the risks associated with the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illegal drugs and alcohol. The President of each college or unit may choose to ban alcohol at on-campus functions or at any particular function. This policy, together with information about the health risks of illegal drug and alcohol use, criminal sanctions for such use, and counseling, treatment, or rehabilitation programs available to employees or students, must be distributed annually to all employees and students. The Chief Student Affairs Officer shall be responsible for the distribution of this material to students, and the Director of Human Resources shall be responsible for the distribution of the material to employees.

The Vice President for Administration, or person performing the equivalent function at each college or unit of CUNY, shall be responsible for conducting a biennial review to determine the effectiveness of CUNY’s drug and alcohol program at its college or unit, and to ensure that sanctions for drug and alcohol violations are consistently enforced. Upon completion, the biennial review must be sent to the University’s Executive Vice Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer. This biennial review must include the number of drug and alcohol-related violations and fatalities that occur on the college’s campus or as part of the college’s activities, as well as the number and type of sanctions imposed as a result of drug and alcohol-related violations and fatalities that occur at the college as part of its activities.

TOBACCO FREE CUNY

Effective no later than September 4, 2012, the use of tobacco will be prohibited on all grounds and facilities under CUNY jurisdiction, including indoor locations and outdoor locations such as playing fields; entrances and exits to buildings; and parking lots.

This policy applies to all tobacco and tobacco products including chew tobacco and e-cigarettes.

Tobacco cessation resources on the CUNY campuses and across New York City can be accessed at http://cuny.edu/about/resources/healthycuny/tobaccofreeCUNY/CessationResources.html

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

Resolved, that the procedures for handling student complaints about faculty conduct in formal academic settings be adopted, effective February 1, 2007.

Explanation: Although the University and its Colleges have a variety of procedures for dealing with student-related issues, those procedures generally have not covered student complaints about faculty conduct in the classroom or other formal academic settings. The University respects the academic freedom of the faculty and will not interfere with it as it relates to the content or style of teaching activities. At the same time, however, the University recognizes its responsibility to establish procedures for addressing student complaints about faculty conduct that is not protected by academic freedom and not addressed in other procedures. The proposed procedures will accomplish this goal.

Procedures for Handling Student Complaints About Faculty Conduct in Academic Settings

I. Introduction. The University and its Colleges have a variety of procedures for dealing with student-related issues, including grade appeals, academic integrity violations, student discipline, disclosure of student records, student elections, sexual harassment complaints, disability accommodations, and discrimination. One area not generally covered by other procedures concerns student complaints about faculty conduct in the classroom or other formal academic settings. The University respects the academic freedom of the faculty and will not interfere with it as it relates to the content or style of teaching activities. Indeed, academic freedom is and should be of paramount importance. At the same time the University recognizes its responsibility to provide students with a procedure for addressing complaints about faculty treatment of students that are not protected by academic freedom and are not covered by other procedures. Examples might include incompetent or inefficient service, neglect of duty, physical or mental incapacity and conduct unbecoming a member of the staff.

II. Determination of Appropriate Procedure. If students have any question about the applicable procedure to follow for a particular complaint, they should consult with the chief student affairs officer. In particular, the chief student affairs officer should advise a student if some other procedure is applicable to the type of complaint the student has.

III. Informal Resolution. Students are encouraged to attempt to resolve complaints informally with the faculty member or to seek the assistance of the department chairperson or campus ombudsman to facilitate informal resolution.

IV. Formal Complaint. If the student does not pursue informal resolution, or if informal resolution is unsuccessful, the student may file a written complaint with the department chairperson or, if the chairperson is the subject of the complaint, with the academic dean or a senior faculty member designated by the college president. (This person will be referred to below as the Fact Finder.)

A. The complaint shall be filed within 30 calendar days of the alleged conduct unless there is good cause shown for delay, including but not limited to delay caused by an attempt at informal resolution. The complaint shall be as specific as possible in describing the conduct complained of.

B. The Fact Finder shall promptly send a copy to the faculty member about whom the complaint is made, along with a letter stating that the filing of the complaint does not imply that any wrongdoing has occurred and that a faculty member must not retaliate in any way against a student for having made a complaint. If either the student or the faculty member has reason to believe that the department chairperson may be biased or otherwise unable to deal with the complaint in a fair and objective manner, he or she may submit to the academic dean or the senior faculty member designated by the college president a written request stating the reasons for that belief; if the request appears to have merit, that person may, in his or her sole discretion, replace the department chairperson as the Fact Finder.

C. The Fact Finder shall meet with the complaining student and faculty member, either separately or together, to discuss the complaint and to try to resolve it. The Fact Finder may seek the assistance of the campus ombudsman or other appropriate person to facilitate informal resolution.

D. If resolution is not possible, and the Fact Finder concludes that the facts alleged by the student, taken as true and viewed in the light most favorable to the student, establish that the conduct complained of is clearly protected by academic freedom, he or she shall issue a written report dismissing the complaint and setting forth the reasons for dismissal and send a copy to the complaining student, the faculty member, the chief academic officer and the chief student affairs officer. Otherwise, the Fact Finder shall conduct an investigation. The Fact Finder shall separately interview the complaining student, the faculty member and other persons with relevant knowledge and information and shall also consult with the chief student affairs officer and, if appropriate, the college ombudsman. The Fact Finder shall not reveal the identity of the complaining student and the faculty member to others except to the extent necessary to conduct the investigation. If the Fact Finder believes it would be helpful, he or she may meet again with the student and faculty member after completing the investigation in an effort to resolve the matter. The complaining student and the faculty member shall have the right to have a representative (including a union representative, student government representative or attorney) present during the initial meeting, the interview and any post-investigation meeting.

E. At the end of the investigation, the Fact Finder shall issue a written report setting forth his or her findings and recommendations, with particular focus on whether the conduct in question is protected by academic freedom, and send a copy to the complaining student, the faculty member, the chief academic officer and the chief student affairs officer. In ordinary cases, it is expected that the investigation and written report should be completed within 30 calendar days of the date the complaint was filed.

V. Appeals Procedure. If either the student or the faculty member is not satisfied with the report of the Fact Finder, the student or faculty member may file a written appeal to the chief academic officer within 10 calendar days of receiving the report. The chief academic officer shall convene and serve as the chairperson of an Appeals Committee, which shall also include the chief student affairs officer, two faculty members elected annually by the faculty council or senate and one student elected annually by the student senate. The Appeals Committee shall review the findings and recommendations of the report, with particular focus on whether the conduct in question is protected by academic freedom. The Appeals Committee shall not conduct a new factual investigation or overturn any factual findings contained in the report unless they are clearly erroneous. If the Appeals Committee decides to reverse the Fact Finder in a case where there has not been an investigation because the Fact Finder erroneously found that the alleged conduct was protected by academic freedom, it may remand to the Fact Finder for further proceedings. The committee shall issue a written decision within 20 calendar days of receiving the appeal. A copy of the decision shall be sent to the student, the faculty member, the department chairperson and the president.

VI. Subsequent Action. Following the completion of these procedures, the appropriate college official shall decide the appropriate action, if any, to take. For example, the department chairperson may decide to place a report in the faculty member's personnel file or the president may bring disciplinary charges against the faculty member. Disciplinary charges may also be brought in extremely serious cases even though the college has not completed the entire investigative process described above; in that case, the bringing of disciplinary charges shall automatically suspend that process. Any action taken by a college must comply with the bylaws of the University and the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Professional Staff Congress.

VII. Campus Implementation. Each campus shall implement these procedures and shall distribute them widely to administrators, faculty members and students and post them on the college website.

CUNY POLICY ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic Dishonesty is prohibited in The City University of New York. Penalties include academic sanctions such as failing or otherwise reduced grades, and/or disciplinary sanctions, including suspension or expulsion.

DEFINITIONS AND EXAMPLES OF ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Cheating is the unauthorized use or attempted use of material, information, notes, study aids, devices or communication during an academic exercise. Examples include:

- Copying from another student during an examination or allowing another to copy your work
- Unauthorized collaboration on a take-home assignment or examination
- Using notes during a closed book examination
- Taking an examination for another student, or asking or allowing another student to take an examination for you
- Changing a graded exam and returning it for more credit
- Submitting substantial portions of the same paper to more than one course without consulting with each instructor
• Preparing answers or writing notes in a blue book (exam booklet) before an examination
• Allowing others to research and write assigned papers or do assigned projects, including use of commercial term paper services
• Giving assistance to acts of academic misconduct/dishonesty
• Fabricating data (all or in part)
• Submitting someone else’s work as your own
• Unauthorized use during an examination of any electronic devices such as cell phones, palm pilots, computers or other technologies to retrieve or send information

Plagiarism is the act of presenting another person’s ideas, research or writings as your own. Examples include:

• Copying another person’s actual words without the use of quotation marks and footnotes attributing the words to their source
• Presenting another person’s ideas or theories in your own words without acknowledging the source
• Failing to acknowledge collaborators on homework and laboratory assignments
• Internet plagiarism, including submitting downloaded papers or parts of term papers, paraphrasing or copying information from the internet without citing the source, or “cutting & pasting” from various sources without proper attribution.

Obtaining Unfair Advantage is any action taken by a student that gives that student an unfair advantage in his/her academic work over another student, or an action taken by a student through which a student attempts to gain an unfair advantage in his/her academic work over another student. Examples include:

• Stealing, reproducing, circulating or otherwise gaining advance access to examination materials
• Depriving other students of access to library materials by stealing, destroying, defacing, or concealing them
• Retaining, using or circulating examination materials, which clearly indicate that they should be returned at the end of the exam
• Intentionally obstructing or interfering with another student’s work

Falsification of Records and Official Documents

Examples of falsification include:

• Forging signatures of authorization
• Falsifying information on an official academic record
• Falsifying information on an official document such as a grade report, letter of permission, drop/add form, ID card or other college document.

More detailed information about the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity, which was revised and adopted by the Board of Trustees effective July 1, 2011, may be accessed at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/Academic_Integrity_Policy.pdf

FILE SHARING AND COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

FILE SHARING – WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

Peer-to-peer (P2P) file-sharing programs have become a popular way to exchange music, movies, games and software over the Internet. Academic applications of these programs are also expanding. P2P software, if installed and enabled on your computer, allows digital media to be downloaded or uploaded between your computer and any other computer that also has these programs installed and enabled, and is also connected to the Internet.

If you use P2P programs, we want you to be aware of certain personal risks, including the potential for both criminal and civil liability if you copy and distribute materials without permission of the copyright owner.

P2P File Sharing can Infringe Copyright

P2P file-sharing programs are not illegal. If you own the copyright in the music, movie, software or other file you want to share, if you have the permission of the copyright holder, or if the material is not covered by copyright, you can share the file. However, P2P programs are often used to distribute files without permission of the copyright holder and this is a violation of U.S. copyright law.

Under the copyright law, you could be fined between $750 and $150,000 for each work you infringe. In addition, an infringer of a work may also be liable for the attorney’s fees incurred by the copyright owner to enforce his or her rights. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505. Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense. For more information, see the U.S. Copyright Office website, especially their FAQs.

How can I tell if I need permission? Most music, software, movies, television shows and other media are covered by copyright. A good rule of thumb is to never download a media file without paying for it or getting permission unless it is offered as a free download on reputable site (such as iTunes weekly free song files), it is clearly labeled as a free download by the copyright holder (such as free downloads on a band’s official site), or you know the work is in the public domain. For more information about permission, take a look at the Office of General Counsel copyright permission page.

What about fair use? Some file sharing for academic purposes may be fair use. Downloading copyrighted files without permission to expand your personal media library is never fair use.

CUNY Policy Regarding P2P file Sharing

CUNY’s Computer Use Policy requires users of CUNY computer resources to comply with copyright law. If you use a P2P program on a CUNY computer, network or other resource to upload or download copyrighted material without permission, you may be in breach of the Policy. According to the Policy, "Users of CUNY computer resources should generally assume that material is copyrighted unless they know otherwise, and not copy, download or distribute copyrighted material without permission unless the use does not exceed fair use as defined by the federal Copyright Act of 1976."

The Policy also requires users of CUNY computer resources to engage in safe computing practices. P2P and file-sharing programs can introduce a serious security risk to your computer and other computers connected to the same network (e.g., CUNY) since they may result in files infected with computer viruses and spy-ware being downloaded to your computer and the network.

Violation of the Computer Use Policy may result in suspension or termination of your right of access to CUNY computer resources, disciplinary action by appropriate CUNY authorities, referral to law enforcement authorities for criminal prosecution, or other legal action, including action to recover civil damages and penalties. Violations will normally be handled through the university disciplinary procedures applicable to the relevant user. For example, alleged violations by students will normally be investigated, and any penalties or other discipline will normally be imposed, by the Office of Student Affairs.

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK POLICY ON ACCEPTABLE USE OF COMPUTER RESOURCES

Introduction

CUNY’s computer resources are dedicated to the support of the university's mission of education, research and public service. In furtherance of this mission, CUNY respects, upholds and endeavors to safeguard the principles of academic freedom, freedom of expression and freedom of inquiry.

CUNY recognizes that there is a concern among the university community that because information created, used, transmitted or stored in electronic form is by its nature susceptible to disclosure, invasion, loss, and similar risks, electronic communications and transactions will be particularly vulnerable to infringements of academic freedom.

CUNY’s commitment to the principles of academic freedom and freedom of expression includes electronic information. Therefore, whenever possible, CUNY will resolve doubts about the need to access CUNY computer resources in favor of a user’s privacy interest.

However, the use of CUNY computer resources, including for electronic transactions and communications, like the use of other university-provided resources and activities, is subject to the requirements of legal and ethical behavior. This policy is intended to support the free exchange of ideas among members of the CUNY community and between the CUNY community and other communities, while recognizing the responsibilities and limitations associated with such exchange.

Applicability

This policy applies to all users of CUNY computer resources, whether affiliated with CUNY or not, and whether accessing those resources on a CUNY campus or remotely.

This policy supersedes the CUNY policy titled “CUNY Computer User Responsibilities” and any college policies that are inconsistent with this policy.

Definitions

“CUNY Computer resources” refers to all computer and information technology hardware, software, data, access and other resources owned, operated, or contracted by CUNY. This includes, but is not limited to, personal computers, handheld devices, workstations, mainframes, minicomputers, servers, network facilities, databases, memory, and associated peripherals and software, and the applications they support, such as email and access to the internet. “E-mail” includes point-to-point messages, postings to newsgroups and listservs, and other electronic messages involving computers and computer networks.

Rules for Use of CUNY Computer Resources

1. Authorization. Users may not access a CUNY computer resource without authorization or use it for purposes beyond the scope of authorization. This includes attempting to circumvent CUNY computer resource system protection facilities by hacking, cracking or similar activities, accessing or using another person’s computer account, and allowing another person to access or use the user’s account. This provision shall not prevent a user from authorizing a colleague or clerical assistant to access information under the user’s account on the user’s behalf while away from a CUNY campus or because of a disability. CUNY computer resources may not be used to gain unauthorized access to another computer system within or outside of CUNY. Users are responsible for all actions performed from their computer account that they permitted or failed to prevent by taking ordinary security precautions.

2. Purpose. Use of CUNY computer resources is limited to activities relating to the performance by CUNY employees of their duties and responsibilities. For example, use of CUNY computer resources for private commercial or not-for-profit business purposes, for private advertising of products or services, or for any activity meant solely to foster personal gain, is prohibited. Similarly, use of CUNY computer resources for partisan political activity is also prohibited. Except with respect to CUNY employees other than faculty, where a supervisor has prohibited it in writing, incidental personal use of computer resources is permitted so long as such use does not interfere with CUNY operations, does not compromise the functioning of CUNY computer resources, does not interfere with the user’s employment or other obligations to CUNY, and is otherwise in compliance with this policy.

3. Compliance with Law. CUNY computer resources may not be used for any purpose or in any manner that violates CUNY rules, regulations or policies, or federal, state or local law. Users who engage in electronic communications with persons in other states or countries or on other systems or networks may also be subject to the laws of those other states and countries, and the rules and policies of those other systems and networks. Users are responsible for ascertaining, understanding, and complying with the laws, rules, policies, contracts, and licenses applicable to their particular use. Examples of applicable federal and state laws include the laws of libel, obscenity and child pornography, as well as the following:

   - Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act
   - Electronic Communications Privacy Act
   - Computer Fraud and Abuse Act
   - New York State Freedom of Information Law
   - New York State Law with respect to the confidentiality of library records

Examples of applicable CUNY rules and policies include the following:

   - Sexual Harassment Policy
   - Policy on Maintenance of Public Order
   - Web Site Privacy Policy
   - Gramm-Leach-Bliley Information Security Program
   - University Policy on Academic Integrity
   - Information Security policies

4. Licenses and Intellectual Property. Users of CUNY computer resources may use only legally obtained, licensed data or software and must comply with applicable licenses or other contracts, as well as copyright, trademark and other intellectual property laws. Much of what appears on the internet and/or is distributed via electronic communication is protected by copyright law, regardless of whether the copyright is expressly noted. Users of CUNY computer resources should generally assume that material is copyrighted unless they know otherwise, and not copy, download or distribute copyrighted material without permission unless the use does not exceed fair use as defined by the federal Copyright Act of 1976. Protected material may include, among other things, text, photographs, audio, video, graphic illustrations, and computer software.

5. False Identity and Harassment. Users of CUNY computer resources may not employ a false identity, mask the identity of an account or computer, or use computer resources to engage in abuse of others, such as sending harassing, obscene, threatening, abusive, deceptive, or anonymous messages within or outside CUNY.

6. Confidentiality. Users of CUNY computer resources may not invade the privacy of others by, among other things, viewing, copying, modifying or destroying data or programs belonging to or containing personal or confidential information about others, without explicit permission to do so. CUNY employees must take precautions to protect the confidentiality of personal or confidential information encountered in the performance of their duties or otherwise.

7. Integrity of Computer Resources. Users may not install, use or develop programs intended to infiltrate or damage a computer resource, or which could reasonably be expected to cause, directly or indirectly, excessive strain on any computing facility. This includes, but is not limited to, programs known as computer viruses, Trojan horses, and worms. Users should consult with the IT director at their college before installing any programs that they are not sure are safe.

8. Disruptive Activities. CUNY computer resources must not be used in a manner that could reasonably be expected to cause or does cause, directly or indirectly, unwarranted or unsolicited interference with the activity of other users. This provision explicitly prohibits chain letters, virus hoaxes or other intentional e-mail transmissions that disrupt normal e-mail service. Also prohibited are spamming, junk mail or other unsolicited mail that is not related to CUNY business and is sent without a reasonable expectation that the recipient would welcome receiving it, as well as the inclusion on e-mail lists of individuals who have not requested membership on the lists, other than the inclusion of members of the CUNY community on lists related to CUNY business. CUNY has the right to require users of CUNY computer resources to limit or refrain from other specific uses if, in the opinion of the IT director at the user's college, such use interferes with efficient operations of the system, subject to appeal to the President or, in the case of central office staff, to the Chancellor.

Further information about the CUNY Policy on Acceptable Use of Computer Resources may be accessed at http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/CIS/policies/ComputerUsePolicy.pdf.

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY STATEMENT
The City University of New York (the "University" or "CUNY") is committed to the prevention of workplace violence and will respond promptly to any threats and/or acts of violence.

Workplace Violence Policy
For purposes of this Policy, Workplace Violence is defined as any physical assault or acts of aggressive behavior occurring where an employee performs any work-related duty in the course of his or her employment, including but not limited to:

(i) An attempt or threat, whether verbal or physical, to inflict physical injury upon an employee;
(ii) Any intentional display of force that would give an employee reason to fear or expect bodily harm;
(iii) Intentional and wrongful physical contact with an employee without his or her consent that entails some injury; and
(iv) Stalking an employee in a manner that may cause the employee to fear for his or her physical safety and health when such stalking has arisen through and in the course of employment.

Workplace Violence presents a serious occupational safety hazard to CUNY and its employees. The University will respond promptly to threats and/or acts of violence. All employees are responsible for helping to create an environment of mutual respect and for assisting in maintaining a safe and secure work environment and will participate in the annual Workplace Violence Prevention Training Program. Individuals who violate this Policy may be removed from University property and are subject to disciplinary and/or personnel action up to and including termination, consistent with University policies, rules and collective bargaining agreements, and/or referral to law enforcement authorities for criminal prosecution.
Incidents involving Workplace Violence will be given the serious attention they deserve. Employees are responsible for reporting any incidents of Workplace Violence of which they become aware. The procedure for reporting incidents of suspected or alleged Workplace Violence can be found in the campus specific Workplace Violence Prevention Programs.

Complaints of sexual harassment are covered under the University’s Policy Against Sexual Harassment.

The University, at the request of an employee or student, or at its own discretion, may prohibit members of the public, including family members, from seeing an employee or student on University property unless necessary to transact University-related business. This policy particularly applies when an employee or student anticipates that an act of violence may result from an encounter with said individual(s).

Students are not directly covered by this Policy, but they should contact the Department of Public Safety to report concerns about workplace violence.

NOTICE OF ACCESS TO CAMPUS CRIME STATISTICS, THE CAMPUS SECURITY REPORT, AND INFORMATION ON REGISTERED SEX OFFENDERS

The College Advisory Committee on Campus Safety will provide upon request all campus crime statistics as reported to the U.S. Department of Education, as well as the annual campus security report. The campus security report includes: (1) the campus crime statistics for the most recent calendar year and the two preceding calendar years; (2) campus policies regarding procedures and facilities to report criminal actions or other emergencies on campus; (3) policies concerning the security of and access to campus facilities; (4) policies on campus law enforcement; (5) a description of campus programs to inform students and employees about campus security procedures and practices and to encourage students and employees to be responsible for their own security and the security of others; (6) campus crime prevention programs; (7) policy concerning the monitoring through the police of criminal activity at off-campus locations of student organizations officially recognized by the College; (8) policies on illegal drugs, alcohol and underage drinking; (9) where information provided by the state on registered sex offenders may be obtained (also, see below); and (10) policies to be followed when a sex offense occurs. This information is maintained pursuant to the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act.

If you wish to be mailed copies of the campus crime statistics and the annual campus security report, you should contact Isabelle Curro, Deputy Director of Public Safety at 212.237.8524 and copies will be mailed to you within 10 days. The U.S. Department of Education’s website address for campus crime statistics is: www.ed.gov/security/InstDetail.asp (then input the name of the school).

For additional information or to obtain the crime statistics report form, please contact Ryan Eustace, the Clery Compliance Officer, at reustace@jjay.cuny.edu or at 212.237.8521.

Information on Registered Sex Offenders

In accordance with the federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, registered sex offenders are now required to register the name and address of any college at which he or she is a student or employee. The New York State Division of Criminal Justice maintains a registry of convicted sex offenders and informs the College’s chief security officer of the presence on campus of a registered sex offender as a student or employee. You may contact the College’s chief security officer Isabelle Curro, Deputy Director of Public Safety, 212.237.8524, to obtain information about Level 2 or Level 3 registered sex offenders on campus. To obtain information about Level 3 offenders, you may contact the Division’s registry website at http://www.criminaljustice.ny.gov/nsor/ and then click on Search for “Level 3 Sex Offenders” or access the directory at the College’s public safety department or police department, local police precinct in which the offender resides or attends college, or the Division’s sex offender registry at 800.262.3357.
NEW YORK STATE DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS REGULATIONS OF THE COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

Part 53 of the New York State Education Rules and Regulations require that all degree-granting post secondary institutions make the following information available to currently enrolled and prospective students. Prospective students are defined as persons who have contacted the institution requesting information for the purpose of enrollment.

1. General Procedures for Dissemination of Information
The following information required by Part 53 shall be included in the catalog or bulletin of the institution and the following procedures must be followed:

A. When a catalog or bulletin is published less often than annually, a statement shall warn of the possibility of out-of-date information and provide the name and address or telephone number of the person or office to be contacted for the most recent information.

B. The information required by Part 53 shall be clearly and precisely described and any statistical displays shall be easy to read and understand.

C. Advertisements, brochures, or solicitations to prospective students shall clearly note the availability of more extensive information in the catalog or bulletin.

D. Where more than one catalog or bulletin is published for separate programs or schools, only information required by Part 53 that pertains to the individual programs or schools concerned need to be included. In this case, a statement shall be made to indicate that separate catalogs or bulletins are in use.

II. Financial Assistance Available to Students
A. The institution must provide the following information for every category of aid:

1. Application procedures, including a description of the forms and preparation instructions
2. Method of selection of recipients
3. Allocation of awards
4. Award schedule, and
5. Rights and responsibilities of recipients

B. Categories of aid include state, federal and local institutional programs. The institution must provide information to eligible students for each of the following.

8. Information regarding the availability of Federal Student Aid program funds for study abroad programs

INSTITUTIONAL COMPLAINT PROCESS

Section 494C(j) of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, provides that a student, faculty member, or any other person who believes he or she has been aggrieved by an institution of higher education has the right to file a written complaint.

In New York State, a complaint may be filed by any person with reason to believe that an institution has acted contrary to its published standards or conditions or that conditions at the institution appear to jeopardize the quality of the institution’s instructional programs or the general welfare of its students. Any person who believes that he or she has been aggrieved by an institution on or after May 4, 1994, may file a written complaint with the department within three years of the alleged incident.

How to File a Complaint
1. The person should first try to resolve the complaint directly with the institution by following the internal complaint procedures provided by the institution. An institution of higher education is required to publish its internal complaint procedure in a primary information document such as the catalog or student handbook. (The Department suggests that the complainant keep copies of all correspondence with the institution.)
2. If a person is unable to resolve the complaint with the institution or believes that the institution has not properly addressed the concerns, he or she may send a letter or telephone the Postsecondary Complaint Registry to request a complaint form. Please telephone 212.951.6493 or write to:
New York State Education Department
Postsecondary Complaint Registry
One Park Avenue, 6th Floor
New York, NY 10016
3. The Postsecondary Complaint Registry Form should be completed, signed, and sent to the above address. The completed form should indicate the resolution being sought and any efforts that have been made to resolve the complaint through the institution's internal complaint processes. Copies of all relevant documents should be included.

4. After receiving the completed form, the Department will notify the complainant of its receipt and make any necessary request for further information. When appropriate, the Department will also advise the institution that a complaint has been made and, when appropriate, the nature of the complaint. The complainant will also be notified of the name of the evaluator assigned to address the specific complaint. The evaluator may contact the complainant for additional information.

5. The Department will make every effort to address and resolve complaints within ninety days from receipt of the complaint form.

Complaint Resolution

Some complaints may fall within the jurisdiction of an agency or organization other than the State Education Department. These complaints will be referred to the entity with appropriate jurisdiction. When a complaint concerns a matter that falls solely within the jurisdiction of the institution of higher education, the complainant will be notified and the Department will refer the complaint to the institution in question and request that the matter receive a review and a response.

Upon conclusion of the Department's complaint review or upon a disposition of the complaint by referral to another agency or organization, or to the institution of higher education, the Department will issue a written notice to the complainant describing the resolution of the complaint. The complainant may contact the Department evaluator directly for follow-up information or for additional assistance.

Section 15.0. PREAMBLE.

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society. Student participation, responsibility, academic freedom, and due process are essential to the operation of the academic enterprise. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. Freedom to learn and to explore major social, political, and economic issues are necessary adjuncts to student academic freedom, as is freedom from discrimination based on racial, ethnic, religious, sex, political, and economic differentiations. Freedom to learn and freedom to teach are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The concomitant of this freedom is responsibility. If members of the academic community are to develop positively in their freedom; if these rights are to be secure, then students should exercise their freedom with responsibility.

Section 15.1. CONDUCT STANDARD DEFINED.

Each student enrolled or in attendance in any college, school or unit under the control of the board and every student organization, association, publication, club or chapter shall obey the laws of the city, state and nation, and the bylaws and resolutions of the board, and the policies, regulations, and orders of the college. The faculty and student body at each college shall share equally the responsibility and the power to establish, subject to the approval of the board, more detailed rules of conduct and regulations in conformity with the general requirement of this article. This regulatory power is limited by the right of students to the freedoms of speech, press, assembly and petition as applied to others in the academic community and to citizens generally.

Section 15.2. STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS.

a. Any group of students may form an organization, association, club or chapter by filing with the duly elected student government organization of the college or school at which they are enrolled or in attendance and with an officer to be designated by the faculty of the college or school at which they are enrolled or in attendance (1) the name and purposes of the organization, association, club or chapter, (2) the names and addresses of its president and secretary or other officers corresponding in function to president and secretary.

GRADUATE STUDENTS: ARTICLE XV OF THE CUNY BYLAWS (STUDENTS*)

* For graduate students at the Graduate Division, the President of the Graduate Division shall, insofar as practicable, establish procedures, consistent with this Article to implement the provisions thereof. The sections on student activity fees shall apply to the Graduate Division.
However, no group, organization or student publication with a program against the religion, race, ethnic origin or identification or sex of a particular group or which makes systematic attacks against the religion, race, ethnic origin or sex of a particular group shall receive support from any fees collected by the college or be permitted to organize or continue at any college or school. No organizations, military or semi-military in character, not connected with established college or school courses, shall be permitted without the authorization of the faculty and the duly elected student government and the board.

b. Extra-curricular activities at each college or school shall be regulated by the duly elected student government organization to insure the effective conduct of such college or school as an institution of higher learning and for the prevention of activities which are hereafter proscribed or which violate the standards of conduct of the character set forth in bylaw 15.1. Such powers shall include:

1. The power to charter or otherwise authorize teams (excluding intercollegiate athletics), publications, organizations, associations, clubs or chapters, and, when appropriate in the exercise of such regulatory power, the power to refuse, suspend or revoke any charter or other authorization for cause after hearing on notice.

2. The power to delegate responsibility for the effective implementation of its regulatory functions hereunder to any officer or committee which it may appoint. Any aggrieved student or group whose charter or other authorization has been refused, suspended or revoked may appeal such adverse action by such officer or committee of student government to the duly elected student government. On appeal an aggrieved student or group shall be entitled to a hearing following the due process procedures as set forth in section 15.3. Following such hearing the duly elected student government shall have the authority to set aside, decrease or confirm the adverse action.

c. Any person or organization affiliated with the college may file charges with the office of the Dean of Students alleging that a student publication has systematically attacked the religion, race, ethnic origin or sex of a particular group, or has otherwise contravened the laws of the city, state or nation, or any bylaw or resolution of the board, or any policy, regulation or order of the college, within a reasonable period of time after such occurrence. If the Dean of Students determines, after making such inquiries as he/she may deem appropriate, that the charges are substantial, he/she shall attempt to resolve the dispute. If resolution is not achieved, he/she shall promptly submit the charges to the faculty-student disciplinary committee for disposition in accordance with the due process procedures of section 15.3.

d. Each college shall establish a student elections review committee in consultation with the various student governments. The student elections review committee shall approve the election procedures and certify the results of elections for student governments, and student body referenda.

e. Student government elections shall be scheduled and conducted, and newly elected student governments shall take office, in accordance with policies of the board, and implementing regulations.

Information on the Student Disciplinary Procedures and the Student Senate may be accessed at http://www.lehman.edu/lehman/about/policies_pdf/ArticleXV_CUNYBylaws.pdf.

CHARTER OF THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT
JOHN JAY COLLEGE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE
THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Ratified September 20, 1978
Amended April 1, 2008

PREAMBLE
We, the members of the Student Government of John Jay College of Criminal Justice, shall have as our goals the broadening of educational opportunities available to John Jay students; the facilitation of voluntary activities on campus making an important contribution to the intellectual, cultural, and moral development of the student body; the representation of student interests in designated college-wide decision-making bodies; and the furtherance of the College’s special mission. All activities funded or otherwise supported shall contribute in a direct and significant way to a realization of these objectives.

ARTICLE I: TITLE
The title of the organization shall be the Student Government of John Jay College of Criminal Justice of the City University of New York.
ARTICLE II: MEMBERSHIP

All students in the undergraduate and graduate programs at John Jay College of Criminal Justice shall be constituents of the Student Government and shall have the right to participate in all elections and referenda held under the provisions of this Charter.

ARTICLE III: ORGANIZATION

Section 1 – Bodies of the Student Government

The bodies of the Student Government shall consist of:

A. A Student Council, which shall serve as the representative body within the Student Government, shall affect appointments of Judicial Board members and members of college-wide decision-making bodies and student committees, and shall approve budgets for student organizations under the approval of the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation.

B. A Judicial Board, which shall serve as chief interpreters of this Charter when called to do so, shall certify student Clubs, shall hear and decide all charges brought against executive officers and members of the Student Council, as shall be further provided for by this Charter, and which shall conduct all elections provided for in this Charter.

C. A faculty adviser to the Student Government, selected by the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation, who shall advise and assist the bodies of the Student Government in carrying out their functions.

D. Voluntary student organizations, hereafter designated as Clubs, which exist to further the purposes set forth in the Preamble of this Charter, and which shall be certified as meeting the standards specified in this Charter.

Section 2 – The Membership of the Student Council

A. The Student Council shall contain eight permanent committees contained in Article III, Section 7, paragraphs “B” through “N” and twenty class representatives drawn from and elected by the members of their respective classes. The class representatives shall be divided as follows: four drawn from the 2nd semester freshman class; four from the sophomore class; four from the junior class; four from the senior class; and four from the graduate students.

B. The Student Council shall also contain four executive officers: a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary. Each executive officer shall not simultaneously hold office as a class representative.

He or she shall possess all the powers, privileges, responsibilities and obligations of a class representative in addition to those special to his or her position.

C. All members of the Student Council must be students in good standing at the time of their election and maintain such standing throughout their term of office. All undergraduate class representatives and executive officers must have grade point averages of at least 2.5 at the time of their election. Graduate class representatives and executive officers that are graduate students must have grade point averages of at least 3.0 at the time of their election. Transfer students are also eligible to hold office, provided transcripts of their previous schools may be verified and the above grade point average requirements may be satisfied.

D. All members of the Student Council shall be required to faithfully attend meetings of the Student Council and of the committees to which they are assigned. Repeated non-attendance or lateness for meetings by elected members shall be considered valid grounds for impeachment and removal from the Student Council. Any members of the Student Council who absent themselves from more than one of the regular monthly meetings of the Student Council shall be suspended from office until such time as a majority of the Judicial Board and the Student Council shall vote to reinstate them.

E. Each class representative on the Student Council shall be expected to devote at least four hours per week to his or her official responsibilities during the fall and spring semesters. During at least one designated hour of this time per week, they shall be available at the Student Council offices for consultation with their student constituents.

Section 3 – Vacancies on the Student Council

A. Should the presidency of the Student Council become vacant, the vice president shall succeed to the office.

B. Should any of the other executive officer positions of the Student Council become vacant, the members of the Student Council shall elect a successor.

C. Any vacancy among the class representatives may be filled by a special election, should the Student Council so decide, provided that at least two months remain in the term of the vacated position. Any special election must be held within one month of the occurrence of the vacancy and shall be conducted according to the procedures governing elections and referenda found in Article V of this Charter.
D. Suspended executive officers or class representatives of the Student Council shall be deemed to have vacated their positions upon such a determination being made by a majority of the remaining qualified members of the Student Council, with the concurrence of the Judicial Board.

Section 4 – Powers of the Student Council

A. The Student Council shall appropriate all funds raised by student fees in accord with the purposes set forth in this Charter.

B. The Student Council may authorize programs and activities for the general benefit of the student body in accord with the purposes of the Student Government defined in this Charter.

C. The Student Council shall appoint by a majority vote the student members of all John Jay College bodies containing student representation. Appointment to these posts shall occur at the regular September meeting of the Student Council. Graduate and undergraduate students in good standing shall be eligible for these positions. The terms of these representatives shall expire with those of the members of the Student Council, and the Student Council shall be empowered to fill any mid-term vacancies that occur. All student representatives on these bodies shall be required to report periodically to the Student Council and to the permanent Committee on Student Representation on the fulfillment of their duties.

D. The Student Council shall have the power to confirm the nomination of any student to represent the student body at college, university or inter-collegiate meetings and events, including nationally-recognized student organization functions. These representatives shall be required to report back to the Student Council on the fulfillment of their duties.

E. The Student Council may study and debate any issue or problem pertaining to campus life and student activities. On the basis of such studying or debate, it may adopt such resolutions or make such recommendations to the administration of the College, the faculty, or the student body as it sees fit; provided that it shall not endorse any candidacies for positions on the Student Council.

F. Within the procedures and requirements established by this Charter, the Student Council may adopt such bylaws, rules and regulations, create such temporary committees or empower such agents as it deems fit to carry out its duties.

Section 5 – Procedures and Internal Structure of the Student Council

A. Within one month following the start of its term, an organizational meeting shall be convened by the faculty adviser. At this meeting, the executive officers and members of the Student Council shall be sworn. As soon thereafter as it is convenient, the Student Council shall meet to confirm the appointment of the members of its committees, and to schedule the remainder of the Student Council’s regular monthly meetings.

B. Once its organization has been completed, the Student Council shall hold at least one regular meeting every month until the expiration of its term. These regular monthly meetings shall be held at dates and times convenient for the executive officers and the members of the Student Council, as well as for the members of the student body. The times and dates of the regular monthly meetings may be changed by a vote of the Steering Committee of the Student Council, provided that at least one week’s notice is given of such changes.

C. Special meetings of the Student Council may be held upon the call of the Student Council president. They shall also be convened upon a documented petition of a majority of the members of the Student Council.

D. During its meetings the Student Council shall strictly adhere to its agenda as specified further in Section 7 of this Article. In the case of the regular monthly meetings, the agenda shall be established by the Student Council’s Steering Committee. Whenever possible the Steering Committee shall also establish the agenda for any special meetings called by the Student Council president. Should time not permit a special meeting of the Steering Committee, the president may establish the agenda. Special meetings convened as the result of a petition, shall be governed by the agenda contained in the petition.

E. Meetings of the Student Council shall be open in their entirety to all students, members of the faculty, members of the administration, and other interested individuals. The faculty adviser shall have the right to attend and address all meetings of the Student Council and its committees.

F. The date, time and place of all regular Student Council meetings shall be conspicuously advertised through the College media at least one week before the meeting takes place, and a schedule of all regular meetings shall be available to students at the Student Council’s office. Due notice of special meetings shall be given whenever possible.
G. Every individual serving on the Student Council, with the exception of the president, shall be qualified to cast one vote at Student Council meetings. Members of the Student Council under suspension shall not be considered qualified to vote. Proxy voting shall not be permitted on the Student Council or within any of its committees.

H. A quorum of the Student Council shall consist of the majority of all the members of the Student Council qualified to vote.

I. No resolution shall be passed by the Student Council unless it shall have received at least a majority of the votes of qualified members present and voting. However, should a resolution, or an amendment to a resolution, be vetoed by the Student Council president it must receive the affirmative votes of two-thirds of the qualified members of the Student Council to pass. Procedural motions, however, shall never require more than a simple majority to pass.

J. The Student Council president shall preside at Student Council meetings whenever present. In his or her absence, the vice president, treasurer, or secretary of the Student Council shall preside in that order of precedence. Should there be no qualified executive officer present, the Student Council may designate one of its other members to preside. The presiding officer shall not be allowed to vote at meetings of the Student Council except to break ties, provided that the president shall always be free to cast his veto. The presiding officers of all committees of the Student Council, however, shall have the right to vote.

K. Subject to the provisions of this Charter, and such rules as the Student Council may wish to provide for itself, parliamentary procedure at Student Council meetings shall be governed by Robert’s Rules of Order, newly revised.

Section 6 – The Powers and Duties of the Executive Officers and Committee Chairpersons of the Student Council

A. Service as an executive officer, or as the chairperson of a permanent committee of the Student Council, is a major responsibility. Executive officers are expected to devote at least ten hours per week to his or her official duties, and to monthly chair their respective committees. Sustained failure to meet these obligations shall be considered valid grounds for impeachment and removal from office. Committee chairpersons of the Committee on Clubs, the Committee on Graduate and Evening Services, and the Committee on Special Programs, are also expected to convene monthly meetings. Sustained failure of each to meet this obligation shall constitute sufficient grounds for suspension or replacement by the Student Council by a majority vote.

B. The president shall serve as chief executive of the Student Government, and the presiding officer of the Student Council. In addition to the powers granted to him or her elsewhere in this Charter, he or she shall serve as chairperson of the Student Council’s Steering Committee and of its permanent Committee on General Activities; nominate the members of all Student Council committees (except the Committee on Student Representation), study groups, and deputations (other than those involving student representation of college-wide decision-making bodies), subject to the consent of the Student Council; represent the student body when other provisions have not been made by the Student Council; and have responsibility for the management of the Student Council’s office. He or she shall also be ex-officio member of all committees of the Student Council. Also, as chief executive, the president has the power to exercise the role of any other executive officer in the event of a vacancy, or in the event that an existing executive officer has been delinquent in his or her duties and exigency in the exercising of those duties exists.

C. The vice president shall succeed to the office of the presidency should a vacancy occur, and shall serve as acting-president in the president’s absence. The vice president shall also serve as the chairperson of the Student Council’s permanent Committee on Student Representation, and shall nominate the members of this committee subject to the consent of the Student Council.

D. The treasurer shall serve as the responsible financial officer of the Student Council, and as the chairperson of the Student Council’s permanent Committee on the Budget. In addition, the treasurer shall serve as an ex-officio member of all permanent Student Council committees. The treasurer shall also disperse all properly appropriated funds and keep the books of account. At any time, the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation may direct that an audit be conducted of the books of the Student Council. The treasurer shall also be responsible for making a monthly report to the Student Council on the state of the Student Government’s finances.

E. The secretary shall keep the minutes of all meetings and provide for the maintenance and security of all Student Council records. The secretary shall call the roll of the Student Council, read minutes of preceding meetings, and handle all correspondence for the Student Council, with such exceptions as the Student Council may provide.
The secretary shall also serve as the chairperson of the permanent Committee on Essential Services.

Section 7 – Composition and Responsibility of the Student Council Committees

A. The major portion of the Student Council’s work shall be done in its committees. Faithful participation in the activities of his or her committee shall be an essential obligation of all members of the Student Council. Repeated failure to attend committee meetings, as deemed by the Student Council, for those elected members, shall constitute valid grounds for impeachment and removal from office. For those committee members that are appointed by the Student Council, any sustained failure of each to meet their obligation shall constitute sufficient grounds for suspension or replacement by the Student Council by a majority vote.

B. The members of the Student Council, both elected by the students and/or appointed by the members of Student Council, shall be organized into eight permanent committees: the Steering Committee, the Committee on Student Representation, the Committee on Clubs, the Committee on General Activities, the Committee on Graduate and Evening Services, the Committee on Special Programs, the Committee on Essential Services, and the Committee on the Budget. The Student Council may also create special temporary committees whose existence shall end whenever the Student Council shall so prescribe, or at the installation of a new Student Council. Each member of the Student Council shall serve on at least one permanent committee.

C. The Steering Committee, the highest permanent committee, shall consist of all the qualified members of the Student Council. A quorum of the Steering Committee shall consist of a majority of the Student Council’s executive officers and permanent committee chairpersons. Each member of the committee, including the chair, shall have one vote, and a simple majority of all qualified members present and voting shall be sufficient to pass any resolution. The provisions of Article III, Section 5, paragraph “A” of this Charter shall not apply to meetings of the Steering Committee. The Steering Committee shall hear reports from the chairpersons of the various Student Council committees on the progress of the Committee’s work. Whenever possible it shall establish the agenda of all Student Council meetings, except where meetings have been called through petition of the Student Council members. The agenda shall prescribe all the items of business to be considered by the Student Council, the time to be allocated for consideration of these items, the rules governing debate on them, and the number and nature of any motions and amendments that may be offered. These rules shall be strictly adhered to during Student Council deliberations unless the president of the Student Council secures permission of the Student Council that they be waived in whole or part. If the Steering Committee, for whatever reason, falls short of quorum at a meeting to formulate the agenda for a regular meeting, the president shall establish the agenda.

After the members of the Student Council shall have been sworn in, a regular schedule of monthly Steering Committee meetings shall be established. These meetings shall precede the regular monthly meetings of the Student Council by at least three business days. They shall be held at times convenient to the executive officers and chairpersons of the Student Council’s permanent committees. Failure on the part of an executive officer or chairperson to attend more than one of the regular monthly meetings of the Steering Committee shall result in the suspension of that individual from the Student Council.

The president may call special meetings of the Steering Committee, provided that due notice be given to all of the members of the Student Council.

D. At the time of its initial organization each permanent committee shall have a minimum membership of five qualified members. A simple majority of the committee’s qualified members shall constitute a quorum, provided that the Student Council president may grant written permission to any chairperson to transact the business of a committee in the absence of a quorum. Meetings of the Student Council and of the Steering Committee, however, shall always require the presence of a quorum.

E. Once appointed and confirmed, the chairpersons of all permanent committees shall serve throughout the full term of the Student Council to which they were elected or appointed, provided that they remain qualified members of the Student Council.

F. All permanent committees shall hold regular monthly meetings, according to a schedule adopted at the first meeting of the committee. This schedule may later be revised by the members of the committee, provided that due notice is given. Committee meetings shall be open in their entirety to all students, faculty members, and members of the administration who wish to attend.

G. In formulating the agenda of the Student Council, the Steering Committee shall give priority to resolutions considered by and reported out of the committees of the Student Council.
H. The permanent Committee on Student Representation shall study the qualifications of all students proposed for positions on the College Council Committees prescribed in the College’s Charter of Governance and its Bylaws. Any student in good standing may have his or her name placed before this Committee for consideration by any member of the Student Council.

Due notice shall be given to the student body of the availability of such positions, together with a description of their obligations and responsibilities. Only students nominated by the permanent Committee on Student Representation may be approved by the Student Council. Moreover, no student may be selected to fill more than one position. The seat of any student member of a College Council Committee shall be declared vacated whenever that student shall have been absent for more than one of its meetings, or for inactivity deemed as such by the Student Council. The terms of students holding these positions shall terminate with those of the members of the Student Council.

The permanent Committee on Student Representation shall monitor the attendance of students on the College Council Committees and college-wide decision-making bodies, and shall nominate students to fill vacancies as they occur. The Committee shall also require student members on college-wide decision-making bodies to report monthly, in writing, on their work, and to appear before the Student Council to explain their actions. The Committee may make recommendations to the student members of college-wide decision-making bodies, provided that it is always understood that such students remain free to make their own judgments. The Committee may also request that the Student Council take advisory positions on questions before college-wide decision-making bodies, or that the student body be polled on such matters.

The permanent Committee on Student Representation shall consist of the vice president, who shall chair, and four other members of the Student Council, at least three of who shall be graduate students, seniors, or juniors.

I. The permanent Committee on Clubs shall review the requests of all certified Clubs for Student Council funds, and shall recommend to the Student Council whether such funds shall be approved. The Committee shall ensure that all such requests are in accordance with the educational and cultural purposes of the College, benefit a significant number of students, are cost-effective, and are in conformance with the overall budgetary guidelines and ceilings approved by the Student Council. The Committee may also examine the constitutions of any Clubs requesting funds from the Student Council for the purpose of establishing their democratic character and conformance to the purposes of the College. Members of this Committee shall not simultaneously serve as executive officers of any Club. The president shall designate the chairperson and members of this Committee, subject to confirmation by the Student Council.

J. The permanent Committee on General Activities shall study and advise the Student Council on all proposals for the authorization of activities and events, within the purposes of this Charter, not falling within the prescribed jurisdictions of other committees or Clubs. It shall also study and advise the Student Council on all proposals for the revision of the Charter of the Student Government. The Committee shall be chaired by the president, and shall include a minimum of four other members of the Student Council.

K. The permanent Committee on Graduate and Evening Services shall study and advise the Student Council on all proposals of primary benefit to students in the graduate programs of the College, or in the evening sections of the undergraduate division. This Committee shall be composed of a minimum of five members, four of whom must be graduate students. The president shall designate the chairperson and members of this Committee, subject to the confirmation by the Student Council.

L. The permanent Committee on Special Programs shall study and advise the Student Council on all proposals of primary benefit to students in the Satellite Program of the College. This Committee shall be composed of a minimum of five members. The president shall designate the chairperson and members of this Committee, subject to the confirmation by the Student Council.

M. An essential service comprises an ongoing activity vital to the educational or cultural life of the College, which is designed to be accessible to a large number of students and involves an unusually large level of continuing expenditure. The permanent Committee on Essential Services shall study and advise the Council on the administration and performance of the student newspaper, radio station, yearbook, theatrical activities, as well as that of any other entity deemed by the Student Council and Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation as an essential service, provided that neither the Committee nor the Student Council shall intervene with the editorial freedom of these entities. The Committee shall be chaired by the secretary and include a minimum of four other members.
N. The permanent Committee on the Budget shall administer all budgetary matters as they relate to those funds appropriated and expended by the Student Government, as per Article III, Section 8 of this Charter and for the administrative processes and educational and cultural needs of the student body. The Committee shall be comprised of the treasurer, who shall chair, and a minimum of four other members.

O. The student delegation of the College Council shall consist of the four executive officers of the Student Council, two student representatives from the graduate class, two student representatives from the senior class, two student representatives from the junior class, two student representatives from the sophomore class, and one student elected at large. Selection of the above student representatives and the student elected at large shall be based on those who received the highest number of popular student votes in the annual elections as stipulated in Article V of this Charter. The delegation shall also consist of one representative from the freshman class nominated by the president from among the freshman class representatives. If any of the student representatives are unable to serve, the president shall nominate replacements with students of that particular vacated class, as well as nominate the replacement of the at-large delegate with a student that is not of the freshman class. The president shall also nominate two alternate delegates, both of whom that are not of the freshman class.

Section 8 – The Budgetary Process

A. At a time no later than the Student Council’s regular October and February meetings, it shall receive and consider recommendations from the Committee on the Budget on general budgetary guidelines based on anticipated revenues and projected expenditures. These shall include maximum allocations for the general categories of spending within the jurisdictions of the various Student Council committees. It may also include more specific ceilings for expenditure on particular programs or activities such as allocations for individual clubs. The Committee on the Budget may also recommend the establishment of reserve or contingency funds to be allocated later during the term of the Student Council among the various spending categories.

The Student Council must act on these recommendations before the end of October or February, as the case may be. Thereafter, the Committee on the Budget, through the treasurer, shall monitor the actual flow of monies collected, appropriated, obligated, and expended by the Student Government, submitting a monthly report to the Student Council on the same.

Within the overall guidelines adopted by the Student Council, the Committee on the Budget shall have direct responsibility for appropriating funds for the deferral of the legitimate expenses of the Student Government and its members. The treasurer shall be responsible for promptly distributing copies of the budgetary guidelines to all members of the Student Council and other interested parties, and shall similarly make available a monthly list of all Student Council revenues, appropriations, obligations and expenditures. The secretary shall be responsible for publicizing these reports.

B. The Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation may establish minima for expenditures on any activity or organization. Such minima are automatically to be considered an appropriated portion of the Student Government’s budget, and may be obligated and expended according to such procedures as the Board of Directors may authorize. When minima are established, the Board of Directors must promptly inform the Student Council of the same, specifying the levels and purposes of the funding involved.

The Student Council may appropriate funds for any purpose beyond the levels provided for in the minima.

C. Until the guidelines have been approved, no funds shall be appropriated by the Student Council for any purpose. After the approval of the guidelines, each committee of the Student Council shall have the responsibility for recommending to the Student Council the specific amount of funds to be appropriated for programs and activities in its area of jurisdiction. No resolution providing for the appropriation of funds shall come before the Student Council unless it has originated in the proper committee.

D. No resolution for appropriating funds which exceed the ceilings for club activities or for any other category of spending, established by the Committee on the Budget, shall be approved unless it receives an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the qualified members of the Student Council present and voting; nor may any amendment be added by the Student Council to any resolution for the appropriation of funds reported by any committee which acts to increase the amount of the appropriations contained therein. Amendments may be offered in Student Council, however, which decrease this amount, subject to the specifications of the agenda.

E. The treasurer shall be responsible for obligating and disbursing all monies duly appropriated by the Student Council, provided that no contracts shall be entered into by the Student Government without the written authorization of either the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation or the Dean of Students.
F. No monies may be disbursed by the treasurer until two full weeks have passed following their appropriation by the Student Council, provided that this requirement may be waived by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the Student Council and consent of the faculty adviser. During this two-week period the Student Council, if in session, may reconsider any such appropriation.

Section 9 – Student Clubs

A. Any student Club or organization is eligible for funding by the Student Council if its activities further the purposes established in the Preamble of this Charter, and if it has been certified as meeting the requirements established in this Charter by the Judicial Board.

B. No executive officer of any student Club may simultaneously serve as the executive officer of any other Club.

C. The eligibility of a Club, once established, may be reviewed at any time by the Judicial Board, upon the request of any executive officer of the Student Council, any five members of the Student Council, or twenty-five concerned students.

D. The establishment of eligibility shall not in itself entitle any Club to the use of student funds.

E. Any Club purchasing or using equipment financed by Student Council funds may be required by the Student Council to post surety for such equipment. The treasurer shall require all Clubs and agents of the Student Council to present receipts for all expenditures funded by the Student Council.

F. Any and all items or equipment purchased by Clubs with Student Council funds shall remain the property of the Student Activities Corporation.

G. All Clubs making contracts with outside agents must have them approved by the Student Activities Corporation or the Dean of Students.

Section 10 – The Judicial Board

A. The Judicial Board shall consist of five members, known as associate justices, three nominated by the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation, two nominated by the president of the Student Council, to be confirmed by both bodies. Members of the Judicial Board shall serve terms of no more than two continuous years, provided members do not experience a lapse in student enrollment and provided members remain in good academic standing. All members of the Judicial Board shall be students in good standing, with grade point averages of at least 2.5 as undergraduate students and grade point averages of at least 3.0 as graduate students, at the time of their appointment and maintain such standing throughout their term of office. No member of the Judicial Board may be a member or candidate for an elective position within the Student Government during the period of his or her service, nor may he or she serve as an executive officer of a student Club.

B. The Judicial Board shall elect a chief justice, who shall preside at its meetings and shall establish its agenda, subject to modification by the members of the Judicial Board.

C. Meetings of the Judicial Board shall be in their entirety open to all interested parties, provided that the Judicial Board may meet in executive session when deciding upon charges lodged against any executive officer or member of the Student Government under the impeachment provisions of this Charter. The faculty adviser shall have the right to attend and speak at all meetings of the Judicial Board.

D. The first meeting of the Judicial Board shall be convened by the faculty adviser, and the members of the Judicial Board shall be duly sworn. Thereafter, the Judicial Board shall meet monthly according to a regular schedule, in the same manner as the Student Council. Special meetings may also be called by the chief justice of the Judicial Board or upon petition of a majority of its members. Due public notice shall be given of all Judicial Board meetings whenever possible.

E. The Judicial Board shall keep minutes of all its meetings, which, after a reasonable time, shall be made available to all interested parties. The chief justice of the Judicial Board shall make provision that all records of the Judicial Board and copies of Club records be carefully preserved and made available upon request to all interested parties.

F. Each member of the Judicial Board shall have one vote, and unless otherwise provided for, all decisions of the Judicial Board shall be taken by a simple majority of the members, a quorum being present.

G. A quorum of the Judicial Board shall consist of a majority of its members.

H. Meetings of the Judicial Board shall be conducted according to Robert’s Rules of Order, newly revised, with the exception that the chief justice shall, in all matters, carry one vote.

I. Members of the Judicial Board shall disqualify themselves from voting on any matter bearing upon a student Club of which they are a member. Any member doing so, however, shall still be counted present for the purposes of making a quorum.

J. The Judicial Board may empower agents to assist in the performance of its administrative responsibilities.

K. Removal of any justice on the Judicial Board may be enacted by a vote of at least a majority of the qualifying members of the Student Council, subject to confirmation by the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation.

ARTICLE IV: IMPEACHMENT

Section 1 – Grounds for Impeachment

The following shall be considered grounds for the impeachment of any executive officer or member of the Student Council:

A. Serious misconduct, negligence or repeated inattention in carrying out official duties;

B. Misappropriation of funds;

C. Willful violation of the provisions of the Charter.

Section 2 – The Impeachment Process

Any executive officer or elected member of the Student Council may be impeached either upon the lodging of a petition with the chief justice of the Judicial Board, specifying charges and signed by five percent or more of the student body, or by means of a resolution passed by the members of the Student Council, at least two-thirds of the qualifying membership agreeing.

Section 3 – The Trial of Impeached Members of the Student Council

A. The trial of any impeached executive officer or elected member of the Student Council shall be conducted before the Judicial Board.

B. If the impeachment is by means of petition, the Judicial Board shall verify the signatures on the petition within one week of its submission.

C. Within three business days of this verification, or after the receipt of a duly passed Student Council resolution, the Judicial Board shall provide the accused with a copy of the verified documents, and after full consultation with all interested parties, set a date for an open hearing. This date shall be no later than two weeks after the receipt of the petition or resolution by the Judicial Board.

D. It shall be the duty of the chief justice of the Judicial Board to ensure that the student body is given adequate notice of this open hearing, and of the nature of the charges lodged against the impeached member of the Student Council.

E. The case against the impeached member shall be made either by the first signer of the petition or by the sponsor of the resolution, as the case may be, or by such agents as these parties may designate. The accused may defend himself or may designate an agent to conduct his defense.

F. Both the accuser and the accused shall have the right to call witnesses and to cross-examine witnesses called by the opposing party.

G. Following the conclusion of the open hearing, the Judicial Board shall meet in closed session to consider the evidence and reach a decision. This decision, together with any accompanying opinions, shall be made public within one week after the conclusion of the open hearing.

Section 4 – Conviction and Removal from Office of Members of the Student Council

Should four-fifths of the members of the Judicial Board find an impeached member of the Student Council guilty of any charges brought against him or her, he or she shall be considered convicted and removed from office. No student, once so convicted, shall again be eligible to hold any office or position within the Student Government. Should none of the charges be sustained by the Judicial Board, the impeached member shall be considered acquitted.

Section 5 – Suspension of Impeached Members of the Student Council

A. Should two-thirds of the elected members of the Student Council agree that the charges against another member are of sufficient gravity, they may vote to suspend that member from his duties for the duration of the impeachment process. In no case, however, shall such suspension be viewed as an indication of guilt of the impeached member. A suspended member shall immediately regain his or her powers upon acquittal by the Judicial Board.

B. In the event that the president is the subject of suspension or impeachment, the vice president shall serve as acting-president upon the disposition of the case.
ARTICLE V: ELECTIONS

Section 1 – Eligibility for Student Office

A. Only persons who are currently students in good standing at the College are eligible to hold office within the Student Government. Candidates for office must also meet the specific qualifications for the offices they seek as stipulated in Article III, Section 2, paragraph “C” of this Charter.

B. Any student wishing to become a candidate for freshman, sophomore, junior, senior, or graduate class representative on the Student Council must submit a nominating petition to the Judicial Board signed by at least 25 members of the student body. The petition must be submitted no later than six weeks prior to the election period.

Section 2 – Procedure for Electing Class Representatives

A. Elections shall be under the direct supervision and control of the Judicial Board and shall be conducted in conformance to the provisions of this Charter, in a fair, open and honest manner. No election guidelines or procedures drawn up by the Judicial Board shall go into operation until they have been approved by the Student Election Review Committee or the Dean of Students.

B. The period of holding elections for all class representatives shall be during the two or three weeks prior to the spring recess. The exact date and times of the elections shall be determined and announced by the Judicial Board no later than the end of February.

C. A newly-elected member of the Student Council shall begin his or her term at midnight on June 1 and complete it, if not removed, at midnight on May 31 of the following year.

D. All nominating petitions shall be reviewed and verified by the Judicial Board, in consultation with the Dean of Students. All currently enrolled students who qualify as candidates shall be so informed by the Judicial Board no later than four weeks prior to the beginning of the election period.

E. The guidelines and procedures governing regular Student Government elections shall be established and announced by the Judicial Board at approximately six weeks before the date of elections. The Judicial Board shall secure the cooperation of the Dean of Students in the carrying out of elections. It may also employ an independent ballot association to supervise the counting of the ballots.

F. The Judicial Board shall be responsible for informing the student body of the identities of candidates for positions within the Student Government. Student Government funds shall not be utilized to finance campaigns. Such activity shall disqualify such candidates.

G. The Judicial Board shall determine the design of the ballot and the nature of the information that candidates may choose to have placed on the ballot.

H. Special elections for the Student Council, as well as any referenda that the Student Council may authorize, shall also be under the supervision of the Judicial Board. These shall be conducted in a fair and open manner, according to such specific regulations as the Judicial Board shall determine.

Section 3 – The Election of Student Council Executive Officers

A. Students in good standing at the College shall be eligible to be elected executive officers of the Student Council if they have the requisite qualifications for the offices they seek as stipulated in Article III, Section 2, paragraph “C” of this Charter. These include a grade point average of at least 2.5 for undergraduate students, and at least 3.0 for graduate students, at the time of election.

B. The executive officers of the Student Council shall be elected at the same time and in the same manner as class representatives. Every student registered in John Jay College of Criminal Justice shall be eligible to vote in the election to fill each of the executive offices. The candidates for these positions receiving a plurality of the total vote shall be elected.

C. A newly-elected executive officer shall begin his or her term at midnight on June 1, and complete it, if not removed, at midnight on May 31, of the following year.

D. Eligible students may become candidates for executive office in the following manner:

1) Students wishing to become candidates for executive office must present a statement of support signed by at least seven members of the Student Council, or a nominating petition signed by at least one hundred and fifty registered students.

2) No student may sign a nominating petition or a statement of support for more than one candidate running for a single seat or position.
ARTICLE VI: ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR STUDENT CLUBS

Section 1 – Certification of Eligibility by the Judicial Board

A. Any new Club wishing to be certified as eligible for funding must first submit to the Judicial Board:

1) A statement of its purposes, said purposes being in accord with the mission of the College and purposes of the Student Government as defined in this Charter.

2) A constitution providing for the governance of the Club in an open and democratic manner.

3) A membership list containing the names of at least fifteen members of the student body, four of whom must be executive officers of the Club, all of whom with grade point averages of at least 2.5 as undergraduate students and/or grade point averages of at least 3.0 as graduate students.

4) A Club must have a faculty adviser.

B. The Judicial Board shall study and verify all material submitted to it by Clubs. It may require the executive officers or the faculty adviser of any Club to appear before it for the purpose of gathering additional information. Following the submission of the required materials, the Judicial Board shall determine whether a given Club is to be certified, and so inform the president of the Student Council. The Judicial Board may invoke this procedure with respect to continuing Clubs which have not undergone review for more than one year.

C. Any Club denied certification shall be provided in writing with the reasons for such action by the Judicial Board. It may resubmit an application for certification at any time thereafter.

D. If the Club has been denied certification, whether such denial is provided in writing or otherwise, it may lodge an appeal with the president of the Student Council. If the president determines that the appeal holds merit, he or she shall place it before the Student Council and shall request the executive officers of the Club in question and representatives of the Judicial Board to appear before the Student Council at its next meeting to give testimony in the case, provided the agenda has not already been established. If the agenda has already been established, the case shall be heard at the subsequent meeting. The Student Council may, on appeal, reverse a certification decision of the Judicial Board, provided that two-thirds of the qualified attending membership of the Student Council so agree.

E. All Clubs will be expected to hold at least three regular meetings per semester. At least one week’s notice shall be provided for all Club meetings, and attendance shall be open to all interested members of the student body. It shall be the responsibility of the executive officers of each Club to keep minutes of each meeting, indicating the members of the Club in attendance and all business transacted. These minutes, along with a signed statement from the Club’s faculty adviser attesting to their accuracy, shall be transmitted to the chief justice of the Judicial Board no later than one week following each meeting. Clubs shall also promptly submit to the Judicial Board all amendments to their constitutions.

F. At any time during the course of the academic year, any ten members of the Student Council or twenty-five concerned students may request that the Judicial Board reexamine the standing of any Club. Any Club found failing to conform to the requirements set forth in this Article may, after an open hearing, have its certification revoked. Clubs losing their certification may neither receive any further appropriations from the Student Council, nor draw upon any funds already appropriated. A Club, however, may appeal the loss of certification in the same manner as it might appeal an initial denial of certification. No Club may have its certification reexamined more than once during an academic year.

ARTICLE VII: INTERPRETATION OF THE CHARTER

A. Upon petition of one hundred students or ten members of the Student Council, or upon a motion by any executive officer of the Student Council, any question pertaining to the interpretation of any provision of this Charter may be submitted to the Judicial Board for interpretation.

B. In the event of such a submission, the Judicial Board must decide the question at its next meeting, provided that the Judicial Board shall also be free to decline to decide on the case. If the Judicial Board should accept the appeal, its chief justice may stay the disputed action of any Student Council executive officer or agent, or of the qualifying members of the Student Council, until the case shall have been decided.

ARTICLE VIII: AMENDMENTS

A. Any proposed amendment to this Charter must be introduced at a regular monthly meeting of the Student Council by a member of the Student Council or upon petition by one hundred members of the student body.
B. The Student Council may vote upon this amendment at its next regular monthly meeting, provided that due notice has been given to all members of the Student Council and the student body.

C. If two-thirds of the qualifying membership of the Student Council shall so agree, the amendment shall be submitted to the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation for approval.

D. Should the Board of Directors approve, the amendment shall be submitted to the full student body for ratification. Within three months of such action by the Student Council and the Board of Directors, a referendum shall be held.

E. An amendment shall be adopted if approved by fifty percent of the students voting in the said referendum.

ARTICLE IX: IMPLEMENTATION

A. Upon the institution of this Charter all existing constitutions, charters and bylaws governing the John Jay College Student Government are null and void. The constitutions of all voluntary student organizations associated with it shall be subject to review.

B. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, during the first two years of this Charter’s operation it may be amended by an affirmative vote of a simple majority of the qualified members of the Student Council and the approval of the Board of Directors of the Student Activities Corporation. The provisions of Article III, Section 5, paragraph “I” shall not apply to such votes.

100. Legislative Declaration.

It is essential to the maintenance of a democratic society that the public business be performed in an open and public manner and that the citizens of this state be fully aware of and able to observe the performance of public officials and attend and listen to the deliberations and decisions that go into the making of public policy. The people must be able to remain informed if they are to retain control over those who are their public servants. It is the only climate under which the commonwealth will prosper and enable the governmental process to operate for the benefit of those who created it.

101. Short Title. This article shall be known and may be cited as “Open Meetings Law.”

102. Definitions. As used in this article,

1. “Meeting” means the official convening of a public body for the purpose of conducting public business, including the use of videoconferencing for attendance and participation by members of the public body.

2. “Public body” means any entity, for which a quorum is required in order to conduct public business and which consists of two or more members, performing a governmental function for the state or for an agency or department thereof, or for a public corporation as defined in section 66 of the general construction law, or committee or subcommittee or other similar body of such public body.

3. “Executive session” means that portion of a meeting not open to the general public.

103. Open meetings and executive sessions.

1. Every meeting of a public body shall be open to the general public, except that an executive session of such body may be called and business transacted thereat in accordance with section 105 of this article.

2. Public bodies shall make or cause to be made all reasonable efforts to ensure that meetings are held in facilities that permit barrier-free physical access to the physically handicapped, as defined in subdivision 5 of the section 50 of the public buildings law.

3. A public body that uses videoconferencing to conduct its meetings shall provide an opportunity to attend, listen and observe at any site at which a member participates.
104. Public notice.

1. Public notice of the time and place of a meeting scheduled at least one week prior thereto shall be given to the news media and shall be conspicuously posted in one or more designated public locations at least seventy-two hours before such meeting.

2. Public notice of the time and place of every other meeting shall be given, to the extent practicable, to the news media and shall be conspicuously posted in one or more designated public locations at a reasonable time prior thereto.

3. The public notice provided for by this section shall not be construed to require publication as a legal notice.

4. If videoconferencing is used to conduct a meeting, the public notice for the meeting shall inform the public that videoconferencing will be used, identify the locations for the meeting, and state that the public has the right to attend the meeting at any of the locations.

105. Conduct of executive sessions.

1. Upon a majority vote of its total membership, taken in an open meeting pursuant to a motion identifying the general area or areas of the subject or subjects to be considered, a public body may conduct an executive session for the below enumerated purposes only, provided, however, that no action by formal vote shall be taken to appropriate public moneys:

   a. Matters, which will imperil the public safety if disclosed
   b. Any matter, which may disclose the identity of a law enforcement agent or informer
   c. Information relating to current or future investigation or prosecution of a criminal offense which would imperil effective law enforcement if disclosed
   d. Discussions regarding proposed, pending or current litigation
   e. Collective negotiations pursuant to article fourteen of the civil service law
   f. The medical, financial, credit or employment history of a particular person or corporation, or matters leading to the appointment, employment, promotion, demotion, discipline, suspension, dismissal or removal of a particular person or corporation
   g. The preparation, grading or administration of examinations
   h. The proposed acquisition, sale or lease of real property or the proposed acquisition of securities, or sale or exchange of securities held by such public body, but only when publicity would substantially affect the value thereof

2. Attendance at an executive session shall be permitted to any member of the public body and any other persons authorized by the public body.

106. Minutes.

1. Minutes shall be taken at all open meetings of a public body, which shall consist of a record or summary of all motions, proposals, resolutions and any other matter formally voted upon and the vote thereon.

2. Minutes shall be taken at executive sessions of any action that is taken by formal vote, which shall consist of a record or summary of the final determination of such action, and the date and vote thereon; provided, however, that such summary need not include any matter, which is not required to be made public by the freedom of information law as added by article six of this chapter.

3. Minutes of meetings of all public bodies shall be available to the public in accordance with the provisions of the freedom of information law within two weeks from the date of such meeting except that minutes taken pursuant to subdivision two hereof shall be available to the public within one week from the date of the executive session.

107. Enforcement.

1. Any aggrieved person shall have standing to enforce the provisions of this article against a public body by the commencement of a proceeding pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules, and/or an action for declaratory judgment and injunctive relief. In any such action or proceeding, the court shall have the power, in its discretion, upon good cause shown, to declare any action or part thereof taken in violation of this article void in whole or in part. An unintentional failure to fully comply with the notice provisions required by this article shall not alone be grounds for invalidating any action taken at a meeting of a public body. The provisions of this article shall not affect the validity of the authorization, acquisition, execution or disposition of a bond issue or notes.

2. In any proceeding brought pursuant to this section, costs and reasonable attorney fees may be awarded by the court, in its discretion, to the successful party.

3. The statute of limitations in an article seventy-eight proceeding with respect to an action taken at executive session shall commence to run from the date the minutes of such executive session have been made available to the public.
108. Exemptions.
Nothing contained in this article shall be construed as extending the provisions hereof to:
1. Judicial or quasi-judicial proceedings, except proceedings of the public service commission and zoning boards of appeals.
2. a. Deliberations of political committees, conferences and caucuses.
   b. For purposes of this section, the deliberations of political committees, conferences and caucuses means a private meeting of members of the senate or assembly of the state of New York, or of the legislative body of a county, city, town or village, who are members or adherents of the same political party, without regard to (i) the subject matter under discussion, including discussions of public business, (ii) the majority or minority status of such political committees, conferences and caucuses or (iii) whether such political committees, conferences and caucuses invite staff or guests to participate in their deliberations
3. Any matter made confidential by federal or state law

109. Committee on open government.
The committee on open government, created by paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section eighty-nine of this chapter, shall issue advisory opinions from time to time as, in its discretion, may be required to inform public bodies and persons of the interpretations of the provisions of the open meetings law.

110. Construction with other laws.
1. Any provision of a charter, administrative code, local law, ordinance, or rule or regulation affecting a public body, which is more restrictive with respect to public access than this article shall be deemed superseded hereby to the extent that such provision is more restrictive than this article.
2. Any provision of general, special or local law or charter, administrative code, ordinance, or rule or regulation less restrictive with respect to public access than this article shall not be deemed superseded hereby.
3. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, a public body may adopt provisions less restrictive with respect to public access than this article.

111. Severability.
If any provision of this article or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is adjudged invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction such judgment shall not affect or impair the validity of the other provisions of the article or the application thereof to other persons and circumstances. For further information, contact: Committee on Open Government, NYS Department of State, 41 State Street, Albany, NY 12231.
