Title: Ethics for Counselors: Integrating Counseling and Psychology Standards

Authors: Silvia L. Mazzula & Pamela LiVecchi

Department: Psychology

This is the first textbook to integrate American Counseling Association (ACA) and American Psychological Association (APA) ethical standards for programs spanning both counseling and psychology. It provides a clear, comprehensive review of the codes of ethics of both organizations, distilling the essence of each to enable counselors and psychologists to understand and engage in ethical decision making. The text also clarifies legal requirements at state and federal levels, and facilitates critical thinking about the complex intersection of legal requirements and ethical codes in a way that is easily understandable.

Title: Royal Bastards: The Birth of Illegitimacy, 800 - 1230

Author: Sara McDougall

Department: French and History

Royal Bastards is the only dedicated history of illegitimate children in medieval Europe. It rethinks many long-held notions of medieval social, political, and legal history and challenges our ideas about the role of women and female lineage in medieval society. As the volume demonstrates, well into the twelfth century ideas of what made a child a legitimate heir had little to do with the validity of his or her parents' union according to the dictates of Christian marriage law; instead, a child's prospects depended on the social status, and above all the lineage, of both parents. The book seeks to reinstate the importance of canon and secular law in the eleventh to mid-twelfth centuries, both for illegitimate children and more broadly.
