

When you open PowerPoint 2007, you will notice that it looks quite different from earlier versions. The same tools are all there, but they are arranged very differently and new features have been added. If you are already familiar with PowerPoint XP or 2003, it may take you a while to adjust to this new arrangement of functions.

Microsoft Office Button

The Microsoft Office Button performs many of the functions that were located in the File menu of older versions of PowerPoint. This button allows you to open a new presentation, open an existing presentation, contains the save and save as commands, print, send, or close.

Ribbon

The ribbon is the panel at the top portion of the document. It has seven tabs: Home, Insert, Design, Animations, Slide Show, Review and View. Each tab is divided into groups. The groups are logical collections of features designed to perform functions that you will utilize in developing or editing your PowerPoint slides.

Home: Clipboard, Slides, Font, Paragraph, Drawing, and Editing

Insert: Tables, Illustrations, Links, Text, and Media Clips

Design: Page Setup, Themes, Background

Animations: Preview, Animations, Transition to this Slide

Slide Show: Start Slide Show, Set Up, Monitors

Review: Proofing, Comments, Protect

View: Presentation Views, Show/Hide, Zoom, Window, Macros

Start a New Presentation

You can start a new presentation from a blank slide, a template, or an existing presentation. To create a new presentation from a blank slide:

1. Click on the Microsoft Office Button.
2. Click New on the menu that opens.
3. Choose an option in the New Presentation window.
4. Click on the Create button on the lower right hand side of the screen.

Outline View

As you begin working with PowerPoint, you'll notice a sidebar just left to your open slide. This is your outline view. It will show the order of the slides as well as an outline of content.

To modify your view – click on “Slides” or “Outline” to move back and forth. You may find yourself bouncing back and forth between views.

You may decide it is necessary to move some slides around. From the outline view, simply click and hold on the slide you'd like to move. While holding the click on the selected slide, drag your slide to its desired home.

Another great feature – you'll always know what slide you're working on by looking at your outline view. Right now, we're editing slide 3. We know this because it is highlighted in our Outline View sidebar.
