The painting above is by a famous Hungarian painter, Tivadar Csontvary Kosztka (1902) and it's titled “The Old Fisherman.” Just recently they found a so far hidden meaning of the painting. The answer is a mirror.

If you put one mirror exactly in the middle, on the left, you will see an old man resting in front of a calm sea and a mountain view – symbolizing God.

If you put one mirror exactly in the middle, on the right, there is the angry version of the same man, in front of an erupting volcano and a dark stormy sea – symbolizing the Devil.

This is a BATCHATA group that rented the wall on East Houston street in the Lower East Side to promote their music. This mural was created by “CHICO” Garcia.

This Mural is also about a Reggaeton group that resides in the Lower East Side. This mural has also become a memorial for the artist to the right who passed a few months ago after this mural was made. This mural was created by “CHICO” Garcia

This Mural was a surprise from a husband to his wife. This mural congratulates newlyweds and was also created by “CHICO.”

By Andrei Bondarau and Michael Quinones
Learning Community 11 English 101 & Art 111
Professors Patricia Licklider & Frank Gimpaya