English Matters

May 2010

Editor, Prof. Al Coppola, English Department for the instruction and delight of students in our major and minor English Matters

Here in the English Department, we couldn't be prouder of the hard work put in by all formalities to the casual lunchtime chit turns stirring and poignant, and which offered a perfect bridge from the ceremonial braving. Editors Rachel Ramirez, Gustavo Linzen and Sifat Azad introduced Miriam San next issue of performances of four student authors, who gave us a preview of what to expect in the as it turned out

The high point of the afternoon, though, wasn't the free Qdoba burrito bar luncheon, Awards. Our own Prof. Bettina Carbonell, Program Coordinator for the Justice Studies chapter President, Katharina Rollins, for her exceptional service to the group, along into the honor society were vested with a red ceremonial sash, which they'll be wear-

Prof. Caroline Reitz joined Prof. Allison Pease, the English Major Advisor, to preside over the ceremony, which recognized the superior academic achievement of eight exceptional students. Awards were handed out for the outstanding papers in 200 acceptance. Prof. Perez at

English Major Awards

The ceremonies of May 3 showed us what our students are capable of. Eight seniors presented their final research papers to an audience of faculty, friends, and administrators. Those smiling faces in our banner picture? From left to right that's Erica Hahn, Elaine Pinzon, Jodel Jeremie, Vonyke Akers, Judith Leconte, Ilona Zeltser and Julissa Acosta. Those of Prof. JoEllen Delucia's senior seminar in Enlightenment Literature and the Law, caught on a camera. They are the members of Prof. JoEllen Delucia's senior seminar in Enlightenment Literature and the Law, caught on a camera.

As it turned out

And last but not least, a fond and hearty farewell!

English Major Awards

The June 2 recognized the superior academic achievement of eight exceptional students. Awards were handed out for the outstanding papers in 200 acceptance. Prof. Perez at

English Major Awards

The ceremonies of May 3 showed us what our students are capable of. Eight seniors presented their final research papers to an audience of faculty, friends, and administrators. Those smiling faces in our banner picture? From left to right that's Erica Hahn, Elaine Pinzon, Jodel Jeremie, Vonyke Akers, Judith Leconte, Ilona Zeltser and Julissa Acosta. Those of Prof. JoEllen Delucia's senior seminar in Enlightenment Literature and the Law, caught on a camera. They are the members of Prof. JoEllen Delucia's senior seminar in Enlightenment Literature and the Law, caught on a camera.

As it turned out

And last but not least, a fond and hearty farewell!

Departmental News

The English Department at John Jay College of Criminal Justice in New York City is one of the few departments in the country to attract students from all walks of life. Our mission is to provide a diverse, dynamic, and inclusive learning environment that prepares students for leadership roles in society. This includes our Internship Program, which has been a success this year, and bid farewell to our fifteen English B.A.s

To receive more information about the Internship Program, please visit our website at jjay.cuny.edu

Summer Internship Program Begins!

This summer will see the start of the John Jay English Department Internship Program. This program is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in different professional environments. This summer, we're placing a first round of interviews was completed May 14. To find out more, contact Paul Narkunas, who are directing the program New York City.

The program includes a variety of positions in different industries, including law enforcement, legal services, and education. Students will have the opportunity to work closely with professionals in their field of interest, gaining valuable experience and building their resumes. This is an excellent opportunity for students to gain practical work experience and to make connections in their chosen profession.

To apply for the program, students must have completed at least two years of college and have a minimum GPA of 3.0. They will be required to submit a resume, a cover letter, and a letter of recommendation from a faculty member or employer. The application deadline is June 1. For more information, please visit the John Jay College of Criminal Justice website at jjay.cuny.edu.

English Pioneer Award

The John Jay College of Criminal Justice honored its first class of graduating seniors with a John Jay English B.A. in 35 years. The ceremony also inducted 15 new students into Sigma Tau Delta, the national English honor society. The ceremony was attended by a large group of faculty, friends, and administrators, including President Jeremy Travis and English Major Advisor Prof. Allison Pease, who presented the awards.

The ceremony concluded with a special address by Prof. Andrew Majeske, who praised the achievements of the students and encouraged them to continue their education and professional development. The event was a fitting conclusion to a year of academic excellence and achievement for the John Jay English Department.

Summer Internship Program Begins!

This summer will see the start of the John Jay English Department Internship Program. This program is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in different professional environments. This summer, we're placing a first round of interviews was completed May 14. To find out more, contact Paul Narkunas, who are directing the program New York City.

The program includes a variety of positions in different industries, including law enforcement, legal services, and education. Students will have the opportunity to work closely with professionals in their field of interest, gaining valuable experience and building their resumes. This is an excellent opportunity for students to gain practical work experience and to make connections in their chosen profession.

To apply for the program, students must have completed at least two years of college and have a minimum GPA of 3.0. They will be required to submit a resume, a cover letter, and a letter of recommendation from a faculty member or employer. The application deadline is June 1. For more information, please visit the John Jay College of Criminal Justice website at jjay.cuny.edu.

Summer Internship Program Begins!

This summer will see the start of the John Jay English Department Internship Program. This program is designed to provide students with hands-on experience in different professional environments. This summer, we're placing a first round of interviews was completed May 14. To find out more, contact Paul Narkunas, who are directing the program New York City.

The program includes a variety of positions in different industries, including law enforcement, legal services, and education. Students will have the opportunity to work closely with professionals in their field of interest, gaining valuable experience and building their resumes. This is an excellent opportunity for students to gain practical work experience and to make connections in their chosen profession.

To apply for the program, students must have completed at least two years of college and have a minimum GPA of 3.0. They will be required to submit a resume, a cover letter, and a letter of recommendation from a faculty member or employer. The application deadline is June 1. For more information, please visit the John Jay College of Criminal Justice website at jjay.cuny.edu.