STUDY ABROAD TO THE CARIBBEAN
SANTO DOMINGO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC
SUMMER 2013 (JUNE 1ST-JUNE 30TH)

Latin American Critical Geography
Instructors: Prof. Luis Barrios & Hernando Estevez

The program will take place in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. This program is designed to give students a comparative view of Latin America, through the lenses of crime, philosophy, culture, history, politics, religion, and language. This study abroad program combines rigorous academic study, practical on-site learning, seminars, and structured reflections that engage students in some of today's most urgent social, ethic, political, economic, and ecological matters.

Undergraduate Courses:
LLS 290-Special Topic—Latin American Cultural Geography (3 credits)
PHI 292-Special Topic—Philosophy of Crime & Punishment in the Caribbean (3 credits)

Graduate Course:
CRJ 769-Deviant Behavior (3 credits)

Information sessions have been scheduled during community hour
(1:40pm-2:50pm) in the North Hall 1303

Wednesday, February 20th    Thursday, February 28th    Wednesday, March 13th

Please call to reserve your seat by emailing arosa@jjay.cuny.edu

Application Deadline is March 18, 2013
Estimated total cost for undergraduate students: $3,668
Estimated total cost for graduate students: $3,378

Estimated costs include: airfare, visa, health insurance, breakfast and lunch (Monday to Friday Only), housing, in-state tuition & out of pocket expenses

For more information visit:
The Office Of International Studies & Programs in room 1102N, 212-484-1390 or contact the professors at:
Ibarrios@jjay.cuny.edu, hestevez@jjay.cuny.edu

Inquire about study abroad scholarships and financial aid